GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 4058

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT OF KENYA AT NAIROBI

CAUSE NO. 17 OF 2003

KENYA CHEMICAL AND ALLIED WORKERS UNION—(Claimant)

AND

COSMO PLASTIC LIMITED—(Respondent)

Issue in dispute:

DISMISSAL OF WILLIAM OKITE

The Kenya Chemical and Allied Workers Union, represented by W. D. Ogutu, shall hereinafter be referred to as "the Claimants" and Messrs. Cosmo Plastic Limited, represented by L. W. Kariuki of the Federation of Kenya Employers shall hereinafter be referred to as "the Respondents" and Mr. William Okite shall hereinafter be referred to as "the grievant".

The parties were heard in Court on 10th March, 17th May, and on 4th June, 2004. They relied on their written memoranda, the appendices therein, their oral opening submissions and written final submissions.

AWARD

This dispute was referred to the Court by the Minister for Labour pursuant to the provisions of section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act, Cap 234. The statutory certificates by way of Form G from the Labour Commissioner and Form H from the Minister for Labour, have been received by the Court, and therefore the Court has jurisdiction to deal with all matters connected with the trade dispute between the parties.

It is the case of the Claimants that William Okite, the grievant, who had been employed by the Respondents as a maintenance fitter Grade II in 1991, was wrongfully dismissed on 18th December, 1997. According to the dismissal letter dated 18th December, 1997, the grievant was dismissed for reasons:

That the grievant on 11th December, 1997 was found in possession of the Respondent company's property, namely, some plastic paper bags, without authority;

That the grievant on being accosted by the Respondents Personnel Manager on the issue of the plastic bags was unco-operative, was rude and used threatening behaviour, which amounted to gross misconduct;

That prior to that incident of 11th December, 1997, the grievant had been caught by his immediate superior, Mr. Kurup with some company tools, which the grievant had allegedly stolen.

The grievant through the Claimants denied the allegations in the dismissal letter. The Claimants in arguing that the dismissal was wrongful asserted that the grievant was dismissed without being heard, and that, this was in breach of one of the cardinal rules of natural justice. The grievant in his Claimants' Memorandum and in Court averred that on the material day, he was carrying in his bag some documents related to a Co-operative Sacco he was leading, and not any stolen property. He asserted that on being searched at the offices of the Personnel Manager where he had allowed himself to be body searched, no incriminating company property was found on him and that it was one of the Securicor guards who brought certain plastic papers with the claim that the grievant had thrown them away on his way from the exit gate where he had been stopped to the office of the Personnel Manager. The grievant asserted that he co-operated with the Securicor Guards and with the Personnel Manager, and was not rude as alleged. He denied the allegations of stealing the Company property; of gross misconduct and even the one of having stolen company tools on a previous occasion.

The Claimant on behalf of the grievant therefore prayed to the Court to:

(a) Re-instate the grievant to his job with full benefits;

(b) In the alternative, to pay him 12 month's salary as compensation for loss of employment;

(c) Pay him full benefits and entitlements in accordance with the current Collective Bargaining Agreement (the CBA).

The Respondents asserted that the grievant was properly and lawfully dismissed in that he had been caught red handed in a clear case of stealing. The Respondents in their defense, and/or reply to the Claimants case asserted that the grievant was unco-operative when the request to search him was made by the Personnel Officer. It was their plea that the Claimants' case be rejected, the demands thereon be dismissed.

The Respondents relied on the provision of section 17 (g) of the Employment Act, Cap 226, which essentially empowers an employer to instantly dismiss an employee in the event of the "employee committing or on reasonable and sufficient grounds being suspected of having committed a criminal offence against or to the substantial detriment of his employer or his employer's property." Further, section 17 (d) of the same Employment Act lists another ground when an employer may similarly dismiss an employee and is relevant to this case. As provided in section 17 (a); (b); (c) or (d) If an employee uses abusive insulting language, or behaves in a manner insulting to his employer or to a person placed in authority over him by his employer.

In the letter of appointment which the Respondents issued to the grievant on employment in clause No. 14, the grievant was informed by his employer that he would be liable for instant dismissal with loss of all benefits in the event of commission of a crime, possession of company property without authority, gross misconduct etc. The legal right of the employer to dismiss the employee is therefore properly grounded on the law, and there is no dispute in that regard. The issue for determination in this dispute is whether the grievant was caught stealing, or was in possession of company property without authority, and whether his behaviour towards his immediate superior, Ms Rose Kaiganaine, the Personnel Manager could amount to gross misconduct.

The Court has carefully considered the case for the Claimants and the defence raised by the Respondents. It is not in dispute that the grievant was dismissed by the Respondents on 18th December, 1997. It is also common ground that an employer can lawfully dismiss an employee on the instances mentioned above.

Both sides called witnesses in support of their cases. The witnesses did not add anything new to the written memoranda, or the oral submissions. The grievant merely re-stated what the Claimants has been saying all along, that is his dismissal was wrongful and unjustified because he did not do the acts alleged by the Respondents. The witness called by the Respondents wanted to reinforce that the grievant has stolen the plastic paper bags. It should be noted that Mr. Soferio Chibole Omwanda, the witness called by the Respondents did not produce the alleged plastic paper bags. He stated categorically that he did not see the grievant remove the said plastic paper bags from his own bag and throw them away. This is contrary to what was stated in the Respondents' reply statement, that the Respondents would produce the alleged plastic paper bags in Court as exhibits.

This case was reported to the Minister for Labour as provided for in section 5(1) of the Trade Disputes Act, and pursuant to section 5(1) and section 7 of the Act, an investigation was carried out for the Minister. The Ministers findings was that the investigations carried out by the Respondents were deficient in that the plastic paper bags were not identified by having quantity and value established; that police intervention was not sought to facilitate proof of criminal guilt; and most crucial that the grievant was dismissed without being accorded an opportunity of being heard. It has been argued on behalf of the Respondents that it is not mandatory to involve police intervention where there is suspicion that an employee has committed an offence. However, section 17 of the Employment Act provides that an employee is not precluded from disputing the allegations made. section 75 of the Constitution of Kenya provides that no person will be deprived of any property without recourse to due process of law. Any legal provision, which does not conform to the constitutional provision, is void. Such interpretation of the legal provision of the employment Act by the Respondents is therefore flawed because it would not be tenable to brand an employee a thief, and thus deprive him of his reputation and the benefits and entitlement of his employment without following due process of law. The protection given to the citizen by the Constitution would be rendered meaningless.

The Court also notes that the Personnel Manager was not called to establish the alleged gross misconduct by the grievant. Mere statement that the grievant as an employee was guilty of gross misconduct should not be sufficient ground to lay a reason for his instant dismissal. Such dismissal is a drastic measure by an employer and should be established before a Court of Law. The Court further recognizes the cardinal requirement that an employee is not precluded from disputing the allegations giving rise to summary (instant) dismissal. This requirement is recognized as one of cardinal principles of natural justice: that is, no person should be condemned unheard. The action of the Respondents in dismissing the grievant summarily, without according him the opportunity of answering the allegations against him was in breach of this cardinal principle of natural justice.

The Court having regard to all the circumstances of this case concludes that the Claimants has established the case of unlawful and wrongful dismissal of the grievant by the Respondents. The Court agrees with the recommendation by the Minister that the dismissal be reduced to normal termination. This is because the employer (Respondents) had lost the confidence of the grievant as an employee, and therefore any re-instatement would be futile.

The Court notes that the grievant was wrong in carrying co-operative sacco documents to the premises of his employer, during working time, and was not giving his employer full attention. He is therefore not entitled to 12 months salary as compensation for loss of employment as demanded. The Court gives him 2 months salary as compensation. He should also be paid the full terminal dues as provided for normal termination in accordance with the CBA of the parties as at the time he was terminated, to be calculated by the parties, and in the event they do not agree to be calculated by the Registrar of this Court in conjunction with the Economic Planning Division (EPD) of the Ministry of Labour.

The Court so awards.

Dated the 17th June, 2004.

JUSTICE I. E. K. MUKUNYA,
Judge.

M. A. WARRAKAH,
Members.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 4059

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT OF KENYA AT NAIROBI

CAUSE NO. 18 OF 2004

KENYA PLANTATION AND AGRICULTURAL WORKERS UNION—(Claimants)

VERSUS

KENYA TEA DEVELOPMENT AGENCY—(Respondents)

Issues in Dispute:

Wages, Housing and Gratuity.

Francis Waweru, Deputy Secretary-General for the Claimants (herinafter called the Union).

L.W. Kariuki, Principal Executive Officer for the Respondent (hereinafter called the Agency).

AWARD

The Notification of Disputes, Form 'A' dated 14th August, 2003, together with the Statutory Certificates from the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour under section 14 (7) and 9 (e) of the Trade Disputes Act, Cap. 234, laws of Kenya (which is hereinafter referred to as the Act), were received by the Court on 1st March, 2004 and the dispute was listed for Mention on 25th March, 2004 at 10.00 a.m. On this occasion, Anthony Githinji appeared for the Claimants and L. W. Kariuki appeared for the Respondents. The Court directed that the Claimants submit or file their respective written memorandum or statements on or before 8th April, 2004 and the Respondents to file and serve the Claimants on or before 23rd April, 2004, and the dispute was fixed for Hearing on 27th May, 2004 at 2.30 p.m. On this occasion the case could not proceed because the Presiding Judge had been called to testify or give evidence to the Commission Tribunal Inquiry into the conduct of Justice Waki of the Court of Appeal. The case was, therefore, fixed for Hearing on 29th June, 2004 at 2.30 p.m. After several adjournments the matter was finally heard on 21st October, 22nd and 23rd November, 2004.

The Kenya Tea Development Agency Limited (which is hereinafter referred to as the Respondents) is a tea manufacture and development agency which is currently owned by 53 factory companies under its management. This is an increase from the 45 company factories as at the year 2001. The core business of the Company is Tea Production Processing and Marketing, Human Resource Management and Critical Support Services. About 62% of the total tea production in the Republic of Kenya is attributed to the small-holder growers, represented by the Kenya Tea Development Agency.

The parties have a valid recognition agreement and have negotiated several Collective Bargaining Agreements, the last one of which was effective for a two year period from 1st January, 1999 to 31st December, 2000.

The present dispute arose when the parties embarked a review or revision of their latest collective agreement for the period 1st January,

2001 to 31st December, 2002. They met at their own level and agreed on all other issues, but recorded a deadlock now before the Court for consideration and determination on three issues namely:

Wages; Housing and Gratuity.

In its analysis for the relevant period under consideration in this dispute, the Economic Planning Division (which is hereinafter referred to as the EPD) dealt with or analysed diligently the three (3) issues.

On employment and labour cost trends, the EPD report shows that the total number of employees went down during the period under review. The number of unionisable employees decreased from 673 in 1999 to 652 in 2000, a drop of 3.1% and then to a further 267 in 2001 or 59% in percentage terms. For the management staff, there was a nominal increase from 752 in 1999 to 755 in the year 2000 and then a drop of 2.5% in 2001, with the number going down to 736. Thus the total management and unionisable staff decreased from 1425 in 1999 to 1407 during 2000 and then to a further 1003 during the year 2001. These are decreases of 1.3% and 28.7% respectively. The labour costs for the Unionisable staff increased from KSh. 138 million in 1999 to KSh. 165.9 million during the year 2000, an increase of 20.2% but then dropped to KSh. 120.6 million during the year 2001, a decline of 27.3%. For the management staff, the total labour costs increased nominally from KSh. 339.8 million in 1999 to KSh. 373.6 million during the year 2001, an increase of 9.2%. This means therefore, that the unionisable staff levels were on a downward trend at the tea factory companies during the period under review. For the unionisable staff there were nominal decreases from 8515 in 1999 to 8470 during 2000 and then to a further 8304 during the year 2001. These are declines of 0.5% in 2000 and 2.0% in 2001. Casual employees initially went down from 5352 to 4825 before rising to 5947 during the same period. This is a decline of 9.8% during the year 2000, followed by a rise of 23.3% during the year 2001. Thus, the total unionisable and casual staff strength was lowest during the year 2000, when it stood at 13,295 and was highest during the year 2001 when it stood at a total of 14,251. This means that on the other hand, the labour cost and the numerical strength of the unionisable employees are reduced and are saddled with increased workload and on the other hand, the labour cost of the management staff has gone up.

Turning to the total labour costs trends, the E.P.D. report shows that there was a decline from KSh. 1,145 billion in 1999 to KSh. 1,061 billion during the year 2001, an increase of 33.7%. The unionisable employees labour costs went down from KShs. 878.2 million in 1999 to KSh. 825.7 million in the year 2000, a decline of 6% followed by a rise to KSh. 1,044 billion in 2001, an increase of 26.5%. The casual staff labour costs decreased by 11.7% for KSh. 266.9 million in 1999 to KSh. 235.6 million in 2000 and then went up to KSh. 374.6 million in 2001, an increase of 59%.

Hence in general, the E.P.D. report clearly demonstrates that the Respondent is able to meet the demands by the Union. But since the dispute covers past period and payment will obviously be made in arrears, there may, therefore, be need for reason to prevail in making this award.

Furthermore, a new collective agreement for 1st January, 2003 to 31st December, 2004, which may require additional funds is due for negotiations by the parties. In the circumstances, caution must be exercised, especially bearing in mind that the EPD report or analysis covers only eighteen (18) of the fifty three (53) Tea Factory Companies of the Respondent. The Court must caution with itself with regard to the attitude of the thirty five (35) Tea Factory Companies who refused to respond or give back the questionnaire or returns of their operations; through the Respondent to the E.P.D. for analysis especially bearing in mind that it is now left for speculation that maybe they recorded higher profit margin than the eighteen (18) Tea Factory Companies who gave their returns to the E.P.D.

Both the parties i.e. Mr. Francis Waweru, the Deputy General Secretary of the Union/Claimants and Mr. L.W. Kariuki, Principal Executive Officer appeared for the Respondent. They filed in Court two Memorandums of Claim dated 13/4/04 and 12/10/04 and Reply dated 11/5/04 and 18/11/04 respectively by consent. They relied on them heavily in their final submissions to the Court.

With the foregoing observation in the E.P.D. report, I now proceed to consider "seriatim" the three (3) issues namely; Wages, Housing and Gratuity before me and award accordingly:

Wages:

Francis Waweru, appearing for the Claimants/Union demanded a wage increase for the different categories of the employees from Grade A to E between 32% to 40%; to cover for a two year period from 1st January, 2001 to 31st December, 2002.

In support of the demand, Mr. Waweru submitted that the lower management staff got a wage increase of between 167% to 276% whereas the unionisable staff got 5%. He submitted that this 5% was not negotiated by the Claimants/Union and whereas it is procedural that you compensate the lowest paid employee with a higher percentage and those earning higher wages with a lower wage compensation. He further argued that the Respondent had no genuine reason for not increasing the wages in line with the Claimants/Union demand which the Respondent can comfortably accommodate the 32% to 40% wage increase for the different categories of the lowest paid employees. He further pointed out that the demand of between 32% to 40% wage increase for the two years period is far too small to be compared to the percentage of wage increment of between 165% to 276% that was given to the non-unionisable employees; which caused over half number of employees to be retrenched. Mr. Waweru referred the Court to annexture marked C. App. 36, which demonstrated the salary structure for senior staff as a result of the restructuring and conversion carried out in 2001–2002. He argued that C. App. 36 spoke loudly that it was the cause of all those employees who lost their jobs in the process and yet the Respondents was offering 0% or was offering nothing at all; making a mockery of the Collective Bargaining Agreement. He prayed that they be paid arrears for the period the employees were in the employment of the Respondents during the period of the Collective Bargaining Agreement which is a subject of this dispute.

Mr. Waweru asserted that, the Respondents has demonstrated that he is a bad employer by tactically delaying the negotiations and to have retrenched only the employees without consulting the Claimants/Union; and offering nothing or 0% for the period 1st January, 2001 to 31st December, 2002. He prayed that the court order the Respondent to pay the 32% to 40% wage increase so demanded by the Claimants for the two year period stated.

In reply, Mr. L.W. Kariuki for the Respondent submitted that E.P.D. report was clear and reflected the correct position of the Respondent notwithstanding that all the documents by the fifty three (53) K.T.D.A. Limited managed tea factory companies were not handed over to the E.P.D. for analysis. He asserted that the E.P.D. officers did not disclose that they had any difficulty in getting the report.

Mr. Kariuki argued that the Respondent was limited over the years to the paltry Government increases awarded under the Public Enterprises Sector annual increases (see R. App. 9), that the Claimants have enjoyed huge salary adjustments over the years while the Management staff received less than the cost of living index. In the circumstances, Mr. Kariuki stated that the end result of this imbalance was the Claimants' wages catching up with the Junior management salaries, a situation which created problems for the Respondents and the Factory Companies as it had the effect of eroding management authority. He further stated that, the new salary structure introduced when the Respondents was privitised took this fact into consideration and tried to create a stop gap between junior management and the Claimants; and this is the practise in the private sector to which the Respondents now belongs.

Mr. Kariuki prayed that the Court should not award any wage increase as this will distort the salary structure in the tea sub-sector; whereas the Claimants wages are wage above the wages paid by the other employers in the sub-sector e.g. K.T.G.A. Being a private Company now, the Respondents' wages will be used as a precedent in any future negotiations to force other agricultural companies to hike wages in line with the Respondents and the Factory Companies. He referred the Court to R.App.1 (3) (4) (15) (6) and (7) i.e. New Salary Scales – 2002, salary for senior staff before restructuring and a list of staff who got less than 10% increase during 2002 restructuring programme.

Mr. Kariuki strongly denied the alleged percentage increase of Management staff salaries of between 167% and 276%. He stated that the Claimants only took basic pay leaving out all other emoluments which were part and parcel of pay package and compared it with the consolidated package that was slightly enhanced at the time of privitisation of the Respondent Company. He urged the Court to reject the Union's demand for a wage increase of between 32% to 40% for the period of 1st January, 2001 to 31st December, 2002 and that the Respondent's offer of Nil (0) award be accepted because the Respondents are not in a position financially to pay anything to the Claimants.

In his final submission, Mr. Waweru for the Union urged that the award of this period under review 1st January, 2001 to 31st December, 2002 that the Court shall deliver should not be extended to those employees of the Respondents who are not members of the Claimants. He stated that although the freedom of association is enshrined in the Constitution, it limits the extension to which one can enjoy the rights of others. He relied on the judgement of the High Court of Kenya at Nairobi HCCC No. 1398 of 2002 delivered by my brother G.P. Mbito J., at page 3 quote.

"……. I entirely agree, as the benefits were reached under a collective agreement they were intended for the members and not for non-members or those who have ceased to be members. I must accordingly grant prayer (a) and (b) of the Plaint as prayed. I also hereby order the employer to stop extending benefits negotiated for the Plaintiffs' members to the defendants."

This court disagrees with this view, because the "closed shop" system, is a delicate subject as it touches upon individual's right of freedom of association as enshrined under Article 80 of the Kenya Constitution, and any award in favour of closed shop would be tantamount to an interference with the employee's constitutional right. Clause 2 (a) of Part B. 111 of the Industrial Relations Charter states that management will discourage the practice of interfering with the rights of employees to enroll or continue as Union members. Under Article 80 of the Kenya Constitution, it is emphasized that:-

"except with his own consent no person shall be hindered in the enjoyment of freedom of assembly and association, that is to say this right to assemble freely as associate with other persons and in particular to form or to belong to trade Unions or other associations for the protection of his interest."

Therefore, if the Court Award is withheld from non-union members, it would be tantamount to victimization of certain employees for not joining the Union and an interference with an individual's constitutional right to freedom of association (Article 80 of the Kenya Constitution).

However, the members who shall become beneficiaries of this award must impress upon other employees to ensure they become unionisable members so as to create stability in this sensitive and important sector.

However, the members who shall become beneficiaries of this award must impress upon other employees to ensure they become unionisable members so as to create stability in this sensitive and important sector.

With the foregoing discussion in view and supported by Article 80 of the Kenya Constitution, the request by the Union that the benefits arising out of this Award should not be extended to those employees namely "joy riders" who are not members of the Union is hereby denied.

This Court in adverting to wage differential, notes that the E.P.D. was unable to determine the permissible level of compensation due to the lack of all the performance report for the fifty three (53) K.T.D.A. Limited, managed tea factory companies. Only eighteen (18) tea factory companies performance report were received by the E.P.D. It was the Respondent's duty to ensure that all the fifty three (53) K.T.D.A. Limited managed tea factory companies submitted in their performance report for analysis by the E.P.D. If it was in the opinion of the Respondent to submit only 18 performance reports for analysis by the E.P.D. due to the voluminous nature of accounts, and or less the same for their operations and size, then that view with respect, is wrong and the Court disagrees with it. All the fifty-three (53) managed tea factory companies should have submitted their performance report for analysis to the E.P.D.

In Cause No. 28 of 1997, Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers Vs. Kenya Wine Agencies Limited and International Distillers Kenya Limited, at page 17, it was observed as follows:

"The fixation of wage structure is, therefore, amongst most difficult tasks that industrial adjudication has to tackle. On the one hand, not only the demands of social justice but also the claims of national economy require that attempts should be made to secure the employees a fair share of the income which they help to produce; on the other hand, care has to be taken that the attempt at fair distribution does not tend to dry up the source of the income itself because of unreasonable inroads on the profits of the company might drive capital away from fruitful employment and even affect prejudicially capital formation itself."

In another precedent case in Cause No. 50 of 1997 at page 13, it was observed as follows:-

"Therefore, the inter-relationship between the employees' efforts and the company's achievement of its corporate goals must not be overlooked. No company can hope to progress without the effective efforts of its employees and good remuneration contributes greatly towards that achievement.

On the other hand, employees cannot obtain financial rewards and job satisfaction unless the company achieves its objectives. The reconciliation of these opposing interests in the workplace constitutes a challenge to the modern management."

The Court agrees that the Tea Industry is a very sensitive industry. But according to the E.P.D. report at page 13, 6.2, Financial Performance of K.T.D.A. Limited managed tea factory companies, 6.2.1 – The Tea Factory Companies make their own separate Audited Accounts, but the Respondents stated that despite lower selling prices, increased tea volumes meant that Gross Turnover for the then 45 member Tea Factories rose from KSh. 24.3 billion to KSh. 25.2 billion in 2000/2001, a modest increase of 3.7%. Payment to farmers was KSh. 17 billion in 1999/2000 and KSh. 17.2 billion in 2000/2001 representing 70% of the net sales value realised. The Court agrees with this view of the E.P.D. report which places hope and portrays good picture for the future Tea Industry. It is therefore, difficult for the court to agree that the Respondents cannot offer any wage increase but 0%, or nothing, at all for the process of reviewing the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the period 1st January, 2002 to 31st December, 2002.

Milton L. Rock in his book "Handbook of Wage and Salary Administration, Chapter 17, page 44, the dilemma is summed up as follows:

"If pay take a disproportionate share of profits, employees may be content with their gains temporarily, but the imbalance can lead to the failure of the Company. Similarly, low pay rates allow higher company profits temporarily, but do not attract or retain competent personnel. The result is performance mediocrity and its possible consequences, Company instability and deterioration"

On careful observations of the submissions of the parties, the Court would like to state at this juncture that, the offer of 0% by the Respondents is due to the retrenchment exercise and or privatization process from a Government Corporation Authority to an Agency (Company Limited). The Respondents (K.T.D.A.) must show why such a huge expenditure has been apportioned for the retrenchment exercise considering that the employees who were not retrenched are also entitled to a share of the profit or surplus in recognition of their contribution towards the production. It is no doubt open to the Respondents (K.T.D.A.) to fix any amount they think just and reasonable for the retrenchment exercise and or the privatization process but they chose to ignore the claim of their employees and cut off such a big slice from the amount of profit to pay off the retrenched staff so as to leave nothing for the employees, then certainly the remaining employees would have a legitimate grievance. In a nutshell therefore, the offer of 0% by the Respondents is not acceptable if the Court is to promote industrial peace. The offer of 0% is in bad faith and in bad taste for any meaningful negotiations. Furthermore, bearing in mind that the undue delay should be blamed largely on the Respondents (K.T.D.A.) due to the retrenchment exercise and or privatization process which took a very long period and or, was taking place during the period of reviewing the agreement for the years 1st January, 2001 to 31st December, 2002.

In Cause No. 6 of 1998, the Court awarded a wage increase of 21% for the first year and a further 23% for the second year or 44% for the two years period. The Court has taken into consideration the huge amount paid by the Respondents for the retrenchment exercise and or the privatization process during the delayed period of reviewing the Collective Agreement in question and therefore finds the demand of the Union for 32% to 40% wage increase exorbitant.

Keeping in view the aforementioned observations and taking into consideration the parties respective submissions, the demand and offer, the E.P.D. unsatisfactory report on wage increases demand analysis by the parties herein and the well settled Industrial Relations principles on this matter, the Court Orders and Award a wage increase across the board as follows:

Grade A—16% for the year 2001 and 16% for the year 2002 which totals 32% for the two (2) years;

Grade B—15% for the year 2001 and 15% for the year 2002 which totals 30% for the two (2) years;

Grade C—14% for the year 2001 and 14% for the year 2002 which totals 28% for the two (2) years;

Grade D—13% for the year 2001 and 13% for the year 2002 which totals 26% for the two (2) years;

Grade E—12% for the year 2001 and 12% for the year 2002 which totals 24% for the two (2) years;

Housing:

Francis Waweru for the Claimant submitted that the employer should provide reasonable housing accommodation for her employees at or near the place of employment or shall pay the employee such sufficient sum of the house allowance in addition to his/her wages as will enable such employee to obtain reasonable accommodation.

Secondly, he prayed that all employees who are not yet provided with the house by the Respondents be accorded 30% of the basic pay in addition to the employee's salary as house allowance.

Mr. Waweru further urged the Court to allow all employees housed by the Respondents not to pay house rent, and further that any employee occupying his own house should be entitled to owner-occupier allowance of 15% of the current market value of the employee's house.

Mr. L.W. Kariuki for the Respondent strongly objected saying the Respondent cannot afford to pay 30% of the basic pay as house allowance for those employees who are not provided with a house. He stated that the General Order provides for a house allowance of 15% of basic wages; whereas the Respondents is currently paying between 19% - 29% of basic wage as house allowance; Ref. R.App.18, and that the Respondents has been over-generous on house allowance to their staff compared to other companies in the agricultural sector.

Mr. Kariuki strongly argued that the Union's demand that employees housed by the Respondents should not be required to pay house rent is scandalous because the Respondents have never collected any rent from any employee and, therefore the demand is made in bad faith.

Mr. Kariuki further stated that the Respondents had a policy of owner-occupier allowance – Re.R.App.19 and like other organizations including the Government of Kenya, the Respondents abolished this policy due to prohibitive expenses and possible abuse. He submitted that the house allowance is generous and above the labour guidelines and that employees preferred availing themselves of the house allowance and further that the Claimants never raised any objection when the owner occupier policy was withdrawn and or abolished.

The E.P.D. report at page 9, paragraph 5.2.6. shows that the house allowance bill rose marginally from KSh. 15.9 million in 1999 to KShs. 16.4 million during the year 2000 or 3.4% and then dropped to KSh. 9.6 million during the year 2001, a decline of 41.6%. For the management staff, there was a slight decrease from KSh. 102.2 million to KSh. 101.5 million in the year 2000 and further decline to KSh. 83.4 million during the year 2001 or 0.7% and 17.8% respectively in percentage terms. The overall total house allowance bill thus decreased from KShs. 118.1 million during 1999/2000 to KSh. 93 million during the years 2001/2002.

At page 9 paragraph 5.2.8 the E.P.D. report states that the Respondents are already paying on average above the 15% of the basic pay that is the statutory minimum. This range from 17% to 20% of the basic pay with an average of 23%.

In Court's humble view, house Allowance is a very important element of an employee's working life, particularly now when the rates of house rents have appreciably gone up. In Cause No. 96 of 2000: Kenya Union of Commercial, Food and Allied Workers vs. Queensway Properties Limited at page 11 it states that:

"It is a fact that decent and reasonable living accommodation is scarce and unaffordable, particularly in urban areas and the landlords have also not been slow in exploiting the situation to the disadvantage of the public, especially employees of low income wage or earning."

Section 9 of the Employment Act, Cap. 226, Laws of Kenya provides inter alia, that:

"Every employer shall at all times at his own expense provide reasonable housing accommodation to each of his employees either at or near to the place of employment or shall pay to the employee such sufficient sum, as rent, in addition to his wages or salary, as will enable the employee obtain reasonable accommodation....."

On careful consideration of the submissions of the parties on this issue together with the E.P.D. report, which state that the Respondents are already paying on average above the 15% of the basic pay that is statutory minimum and whereas this range from 17% to 29% of the basic pay has an average of 23% and keeping in view Wage Guideline 2 (ii) and (iv) and the above legal obligations imposed upon every employer, the court is of the opinion that the Union's demand of 30% increase on the basic salary is unreasonable. And with regards to an employee occupying his own house and be paid owner-occupier, the Court agrees with the submissions of Mr. Kariuki that the Respondents went out of this owner-occupier allowance policy many years ago and Union has never raised any objection since, nor it is not reflected in any Collective Bargaining Agreement between the years 1999 – 2000.

With the foregoing discussion in view, the demand for an increase from 29% to 30% of the basic pay as house allowance is rejected and the Court Orders that the "status quo" maintained.

Gratuity:

The Union demands as follows:

(a) Gratuity shall be paid to an employee who resigns, retires or is terminated from his/her services by the Agency other than from gross misconduct on the basis of thirty five days pay for each completed year of service.

(b) Payment will be calculated on the basis of the current basic salary of the employee at the time of resignation, termination or retirement.

The Respondents' position is that:

(a) Gratuity shall be paid to an employee on termination of his/her services by the Agency for any reason other than gross misconduct on the basis of 35 days pay for each completed year of service in excess of seven (7) years continuous service with the Agency.

(b) Payment will be calculated on the basis of the current salary of the employee at the time of termination of his/her services, resignation or retirement.

Mr. Waweru for the Union strongly object to the current provision which provide the works "in excess of five (5) years service". He stated that the current provision meant that the number of years served must be reduced by five (5) years when working out the benefits of an employee. He, therefore, urged the Court to bear in mind that at the time of reconciliation stage, the Claimants proposed to have seven (7) years qualifying period and leave the thirty five (35) days per every completed year of service. He further stated that what the current provision needed was the insertion of "the qualifying period" and that the words "in excess of five (5) years" be removed saying that setting the qualifying period will give a lasting solution.

Mr. Waweru prayed to the Court to take judicial notice that the employees of the Respondents have suffered a lot by going for two years without salary review.

Mr. L.W. Kariuki for the Respondents strongly opposed the demand by submitting on a comparative schedule showing the analysis of Gratuity offered to employees of various companies (Ref. R.App.20). He submitted that the schedule demonstrate that the Respondents have the most generous Gratuity clause in the agricultural sector and the employees of the Respondents also enjoy a generous Provident Fund at 10% of the basic wage (Ref. R.App.21).

In support of his opposition to the Gratuity demand by the Union, Mr. Kariuki stated that, the Respondents contributes to NSSF as well as the generous severance pay of 25 days for every completed year of service and that all these benefits form part of the end of service package and must be considered together. He further submitted that it takes at least 5 years for an employee to gain the necessary experience before the Respondents start to enjoy the benefits of his experience and in the circumstances the Claimants demand for the removal of the phrase "in excess of five (5) continuous years of service" has no merit and should be rejected by this Court.

The E.P.D. report has established that the total Gratuity payment during the year 1999 was KSh. 28.8 million rising to KSh. 39.7 million during the year 2000 and then to KSh. 57.6 million in the year 2001. (Ref. Page 12 paragraph 5.3.6.). Unfortunately, the E.P.D. report does not show the difference of calculations in financial implications of a qualifying period for Gratuity benefit of service between ....., "in excess of five (5) years continuous service" and "..... in excess of seven (7) years continuous service" with the Agency.

However, on careful consideration of the demand, the Court is of the view that in the absence of proper computation of figures, by the E.P.D. report it may be unreasonable to alter the present terms of the Gratuity Clause. The Court Orders that the "status quo" of the Gratuity Clause be maintained.

With the foregoing observations, the Court awards on each issue above.

Both members of the Court are in agreement with the foregoing Award.
