The demands which formed the basis for the current dispute were submitted by the Claimants to the Respondents on 4th May 1966. Meetings were held between the negotiating committees of the Parties on 31st May 1966, 2nd June 1966, 6th June 1966, and 14th June 1966. During these meetings agreement was reached on some items and the eight items which were left unresolved by the Parties were referred to the Industrial Court in accordance with the Trade Disputes Act 1965. The Parties signed the notification of dispute form to the Industrial Court on 14th June 1966.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANTS

4. (1) Effective Date of Agreement.—The Claimants submitted that through an oversight they had not given the appropriate notice as required in the clauses mentioned hereinabove on 1st April 1966. This notice was not, however, given until 4th May 1966, but as this was only a technical slip and as the award had expired on 31st March 1966, the effective date of the new agreement which would incorporate the Court's award on the issues in dispute, should be 1st April 1966. The Claimants further submitted that, during negotiations they had offered to accept 1st May 1966, as the new effective date of the agreement, but as the Respondents had insisted on the effective date being 1st June 1966, agreement could not be reached on this issue. The Claimants, therefore, requested the Court to fix the award for 12 months' duration as from 1st May 1966.

(2) Period of Annual Leave.—The Claimants had demanded one calendar month excluding gazetted public holidays by way of annual paid leave and submitted that as most of their members were Africans they had to maintain two homes, one in the town and the other one in the reserves and, therefore, they needed a longer period of leave. The Claimants argued that this practice would continue until the workers became fully urbanized. The Claimants stated that when their members were on leave had to do a lot of work such as maintenance of buildings and looking after shambas, etc. The Claimants maintained that even one calendar month's annual leave was not adequate. The Claimants drew the Court's attention to various industries like Banks, Cinemas, Naumann Gepp, etc., which they claimed were granting longer annual leave than 21 days per year.

(3) Leave (Travelling) Allowance.—The Claimants submitted that the present leave allowances were as follows:—

Non-Clerical

With up to Sh. 300 p.m.—an allowance of Sh. 75.
With Sh. 300 and above—an allowance of Sh. 100.

Clerical and others

With up to Sh. 650 p.m.—an allowance of Sh. 100.
With Sh. 650 and above—an allowance of Sh. 150.

The Claimants had sought the following new rates:—

Employees with less than Sh. 650—an allowance of Sh. 150.
Employees with Sh. 650 and above—an allowance of Sh. 400.

The Claimants argued that it was wrong to put the clerical and non-clerical employees whose wages or salaries were between Sh. 300 and Sh. 650 on the same level. They requested the Court to award a higher leave allowance in respect of clerical staff and maintained that, the leave allowance should not be treated simply as a sum of money to meet the actual cost of the employee's expenses to and from his home but it should be treated as an ex gratia payment to supplement the employee's travelling and general leave expenses due to the low wages paid by the Respondents.

(4) Safari Allowance.—The Claimants stated that during the hearing of Clause No. 14 of 1965, they had demanded a total of Sh. 36 for the whole day and night and had considered this to be a reasonable allowance, but the Court had awarded the following rates:—

- (a) for any period of duty exceeding six hours but less than ten hours—Sh. 10.
- (b) for any period of duty exceeding ten hours and not including an overnight stop—Sh. 15.
- (c) for any period of duty exceeding 12 hours and including an overnight stop—Sh. 30.

In addition to this, provision had been made for reasonable expenses in excess of these amounts to be met by the Respondents on production of supporting receipts. The Claimants now demanded an amount of Sh. 40 for safaris involving an overnight stop, as the prices of food in certain eating houses had gone up considerably. The Claimants stated that in this industry salesmen had a risky and heavy duty and were mostly involved in safaris. The Claimants were, therefore, convinced that their demand was reasonable. They however, agreed with the principle that turnboys and truck helpers should receive a lesser amount as and when required to accompany a salesman.

(5) Overtime and Working Hours.—The Claimants pointed out that, the question of overtime was not in dispute as agreement on rates, etc., had been reached during negotiations; but the question of working hours per week did, however, arise to the extent that it had a bearing on overtime. The Claimants submitted that in the pharmaceutical industry the maximum working hours per week were 42½, although in actual fact, these hours varied from company to company from 34½ to 42½ hours per week. These were due to the requirements of individual companies on account of conditions peculiar to their own trade. In these circumstances the Claimants requested that, because overtime payment had a bearing on the total number of working hours per week, some unification on the question of this issue should be made. At the present time, the majority of the employees affected, worked much less than 42½ hours. They were, however, at times required to work the full 42½ hours per week without overtime payment for work done over and above the normal working hours which in many cases were less than 42½. The Claimants, therefore, demanded that employees should be entitled to overtime payment after having worked 40 hours per week, as this would remove a big injustice that was being suffered by the workers at present.

(6) Probationary Period.—The Claimants stated that during negotiations the period of probation had been agreed upon, but the present agreement provided that an employee on probation should receive only 80 per cent of the rate for the job for which he was employed. This also applied to employees who had previous experience. The Claimants submitted that it was wrong to inflict double punishment on employees on probation as they were liable to be dismissed on 24 hours' notice. The Claimants, therefore, demanded that employees on probation should enjoy the full rate for the job as during the probation period their services could easily be terminated.

(7) Acting Allowance.—The Claimants stated that, it had already been agreed and established by the Parties that, whenever an employee acted in a category higher than his own, he should be given an acting allowance for that category. The Claimants demanded that an employee who so acted for a period of ten days or more should qualify for such an acting allowance. The Claimants contended that, an employee could be absent from work for reasons other than going on annual leave and that it was unfair for a person to act in a higher category entailing a reasonable difference in pay for ten days without proportionate acting allowance. The Claimants, therefore, requested the Court to uphold their demand for a qualifying period of ten days only.

(8) General Wage Increase.—The Claimants submitted that, they had demanded a wage increase for every member at the rate of 25 per cent for Grades A, B and C and 30 per cent for Grades D to G. During negotiations this issue had not been properly gone into as the Parties could not agree on the principle on which to grant an increase. The Claimants had wanted an overall increase for every worker and the Respondents had offered to discuss an increase on the basis of an increase on the minimum rates only.

The Claimants submitted that, wages at present were on a very low level and the cost of living had gone up considerably. The Claimants stated that the Respondents were prepared to accept that, the cost of living had gone up to a small extent, but were not prepared to accept that their present wages and salaries did not constitute a living wage. The Claimants argued that the Respondents' members were doing extremely good business and were making big profits and, therefore, there was no reason why an increase in wages demanded by the Claimants should not be granted. The Claimants were fighting for social justice for their members and drew the Court's attention to the various agreements which they had negotiated with other industries in which the minimum wages had gone up to Sh. 334, Sh. 365 and Sh. 410 per month. They cited firms like Tobacco, Brewery, K.P.C.U. and Banks in support of their arguments.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

5. The Respondents submitted that, their attitude to the Claimants' demands and subsequent negotiations had been to a large extent conditioned by events over the last 15 months during which time there had hardly been any peace in this industry. The Respondents drew the Court's attention to the minutes of the various Negotiating Committee meetings and submitted that the current level of wages and fringe benefits was extremely reasonable and in line with the current trend in the country. The Respondents stated that the only figure which supported the Claimants' case was the Middle Income Index of Consumer Prices which at September 1965, stood at 101.3 and in June 1966, reached the figure of 105.8. This showed an upward movement of 4 points only. The Respondents stated that, the Court would see that this movement had been interpreted with considerable liberality as they had offered to Grades A, B and C an increase of Sh. 20 per month and the remaining categories Sh. 15 per month. The Respondents had rejected at all stages the Claimants' demands for a significant wage on top of employees' current levels. The Respondents submitted that any increase on an overall basis would be retrogressive and should not be permitted to upset a rationalized wage structure.

In addition to the aforesaid the Respondents submitted that, the present economic position of the country did not justify any unrealistic increase. There were 461 employees involved in this dispute and any wage increase to them would have considerable impact on the economy of the country. The Respondents drew the Court's attention to the Government's statements in the Revised Development Plan on the question of industrial priorities and on the danger of capital being substituted for labour. The Respondents submitted that the Plan emphasized that the urban wages should be kept down.

The Respondents stated that, they had always been conscious of the need to keep prices of pharmaceutical products down and for these reasons had tended to absorb wage increases, but this practice could not be pursued much longer. Overseas suppliers were willing to dump their products on the local market; further restrictions on the interterritorial trading again threatened local operations with the inevitable result that, the size of the production unit was reduced at the same time as it lifted the cost of production.

The Respondents strongly submitted to the Court that, in the context of the safari allowance there must be a constant comparison of the cost of the sales force against its productivity, and if increased emoluments and benefits (which made up the net cost of the employee) were not sufficiently balanced by an increased sales effort, then clearly the individual organization would look to its entire unit to establish whether continued operations were economic. Some of the Respondents' members had reduced their sales staff as a result of the safari allowance awarded in Cause No. 14 of 1965, and others had trimmed their operations or reduced the crewing of their sales vehicles from two men to one. In these circumstances the Respondents requested the Court to reduce the safari allowance as awarded in Cause No. 14 of 1965, to a more realistic figure. Further they requested the Court to accept their offer on wage increases as mentioned hereinabove.

On all the other issues the Respondents submitted that, the Claimants had made no case whatsoever for disturbing the present level awarded by the Court in the previous dispute. As far as the other issues which had not been before the Court were concerned, the Parties had themselves agreed upon extremely reasonable benefits. The Respondents, therefore, requested the Court to make a nil award in respect of these as well.

AWARD

6. The Court has very carefully considered the submissions made by the Parties and arguments put forward by them before coming to its decision.

(1) Effective Date of Agreement.—In this dispute the Court has very carefully considered the question of extending the expiry period of its award beyond one year, but is not prepared to go beyond a period of 18 months just now. The Court awards the effective date to be 1st June 1966, and fixes its duration at 18 months from that date.

The possibility of the Court making awards for longer periods than 18 months, with provision for upward adjustment depending upon the movement in the cost of living indices, should not be ruled out in a case where a strong plea is made for such an award and the Court feels that the circumstances warrant it.

(2) Period of Annual Leave.—Nil award.

(3) Leave (Travelling) Allowance.—Nil award.

(4) Safari Allowance.—The Court is satisfied that the provision under safari allowance should be varied to the following extent and it so awards:—

Where an employee is required to perform work away from his principal place of employment he shall be entitled to be paid subsistence allowance as follows:—

(a) for any such period of duty exceeding six hours but less than ten hours:

An employee earning Sh. 360 or less—Sh. 7.

An employee earning more than Sh. 360—Sh. 10.

(b) for any such period of duty exceeding ten hours and not including an overnight stop:

An employee earning Sh. 360 or less—Sh. 12.

An employee earning more than Sh. 360—Sh. 15.

(c) for any such period of duty exceeding 12 hours and including an overnight stop:

An employee earning Sh. 360 or less—Sh. 22.

An employee earning more than Sh. 360—Sh. 30.

(5) Overtime and Working Hours.—The Court rules that the interpretation in Cause No. 14 of 1965, on this issue should stand.

(6) Probationary Period.—The Court awards that all employees on probation should get the full rate for the job on which they are engaged.

(7) Acting Allowance.—The Court awards that an acting allowance shall be paid to an employee on the expiry of 21 days' work by such employee in his acting capacity in the higher grade.

(8) General Wage Increase.—The Court awards the following new rates for the various grades:—

	Sh. per month
Grade "A" .. .. .	1,050
Grade "B" .. .. .	890
Grade "C" .. .. .	630
Grade "D" .. .. .	500
Grade "E" .. .. .	400
Grade "F" .. .. .	360
	410
	480

Grade "G":

(All categories)—an increase of Sh. 25 per month.

Any employee who does not benefit from the above increases and has not received any merit increment since January 1966, shall get an increase of Sh. 20 per month.

Given in Nairobi this 27th day of August 1966.

President.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3324

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
