THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 1 OF 1964

Parties:—

Kenya Petroleum Oil Workers' Union
and
East African Oil Refineries Limited.

Terms of Reference:—

- (a) Job classification and grading.
- (b) Union's demand for an overall increase of Sh. 80 per month for both operatives and staff employees.
- (c) Shift differential:
  - 2nd shift—1½ times the rate for 1st shift.
  - 3rd shift—double the rate for the 1st shift.
- (d) An allowance of Sh. 80 per month for employees working in hot, noisy, greasy and high places.
- (e) Demand by the Union that the commencement date be 1st September 1963.

1. The matters were referred to the Industrial Court for settlement in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Disputes Act (No. 9 of 1964).

The parties were heard in Mombasa on 10th and 11th August and the Court visited the Refinery with all the parties present on 12th August 1964.

GENERAL BACKGROUND

2. The East African Oil Refineries Limited (hereinafter called the Company) is the first of its kind in East Africa and it is claimed that extremely modern techniques have been used in its construction and operation. Its sole function is the manufacture from crude oil of liquified petroleum gas, motor gasoline, aviation turbine fuel, etc., etc. The Company employs a total of 111 staff and 159 operative employees and the Kenya Petroleum Oil Workers' Union (hereinafter called the Union) has been recognized as the sole bargaining agent for all operatives and a certain number of staff employees.

3. Because of the lack, in this Country, of skills required for refinery operation most of the operatives were recruited at various times since 1961. The Company's educational requirements were as follows:—

- (a) K.P.E. standard with two years training at a trade school, or
- (b) Two years secondary education after K.P.E., or
- (c) Senior Cambridge School Certificate.

After recruitment the trainees were given specific instruction to enable them to perform the duties involved in the day to day work of refinery operation and maintenance. The overall training cost the Company approximately £200,000.

4. The Union and the Oil Companies in Kenya have entered into an agreement on matters governing negotiations and grievance procedures through the medium of a Joint Industrial Council. The parties to this agreement are, all the marketing companies and the B.P. Shell Petroleum Development Company of Kenya Ltd. The agreement was signed on 26th July 1962.

5. The Company started functioning on 1st September 1963 and gave regular letters of appointment to all their trainees, changing their status from apprentices to employees earning salaries. The refinery was formally opened by the Prime Minister on 21st February 1964.

6. On 16th January 1964 the Union wrote to the Company requesting recognition and negotiations on terms and conditions of service for all employees coming within the purview of the Union. Before replying officially to this letter the Company informed the Union that because of the preparations involved in the official opening of the refinery by the Prime Minister a meeting with the Union on these subjects could not be held until after the opening ceremony. The Union agreed to this request. On 29th January 1964 the Company wrote to the Union according recognition and the Union replied proposing certain amendments and stated in their letter of 3rd February 1964—"that immediately after the official opening of the refinery on 21st February both parties agree to enter into negotiations about terms and conditions of service".

7. The Tripartite Agreement was signed on 10th February 1964 between the Government, the Federation of Kenya Employers and the Kenya Federation of Labour in an effort to introduce measures for the immediate relief of unemployment in the Country. The operative date for various undertakings in the Agreement being 23rd January 1964.

8. On 6th March 1964 the Union wrote to the Company setting out its demands in detail and suggesting that negotiations should start on 2nd April 1964. The Company replied, saying that it could not discuss the terms and conditions of service for the following two reasons:—

- (a) Under the recently signed Tripartite Agreement, to which the Union was a party, no wage claim could be considered which was presented after 23rd January 1964.

(b) As the Company expected to join the Joint Industrial Council shortly it considered it more appropriate to discuss any additional terms and conditions of service which might be introduced in the Company at the same time as the existing J.I.C. agreement was reviewed.

9. The Company indicated on 25th March 1964 to the Union that it would be prepared to enter into a formal agreement to abide by the terms and conditions of the joint industrial contract. This step, the Company stated, was in line with the wish expressed by the Union that the Company should abide by the recognition agreement between the Union and the Oil Industry. The Union, however, made the reservation to the effect that the aforesaid J.I.C. agreement would apply to those jobs only which were common to both the Marketing Companies and the Refinery. The parties then had several meetings lasting over three days but no progress was made as job classification had not been done. On 30th April 1964 the Company forwarded the proposed job classification to the Union but refused to discuss the matter further for the aforesaid two reasons. These job summaries are attached to the Company's memorandum at Appendix K. In their letter the Company also suggested that the commencement date of the terms and conditions of service should be 29th January 1964 and not 1st September 1963. The Company's stand on job classification was rigid and it was not prepared to consider the Union's suggestion that a third party should undertake the exercise as it maintained that there was no one competent enough in refinery work in the Country.

10. Deadlock having arisen on job classification and due to the Company's refusal to negotiate with the Union outside the J.I.C. no progress could be made on the other items which the Union considered peculiar to the refinery as distinct from the Marketing Companies. On 4th June 1964 the Union threatened strike action if no voluntary settlement was reached. The dispute was then referred to the Ministry of Labour and in due course came before the Industrial Court.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE UNION

11. (a) The Union submits that the Refinery is not a party to the J.I.C. and had not been integrated into the agreement dated 26th July 1962 between the Union and the Marketing Companies and the B.P. Shell Petroleum Development Company of Kenya, therefore the dispute with the Refinery cannot be placed before the Joint Industrial Council, although it is prepared to accept the J.I.C.'s decisions as far as jobs common to the Refinery and the Marketing Companies are concerned.

(b) The Union submits that its negotiations were exempted from the Tripartite Agreement by the Ministerial Committee on unemployment relief as a formal demand had been made by the Union as far back as 16th January 1964 and reiterated on 3rd February 1964 although the detailed demands were not submitted until 6th March 1964. In these circumstances it is argued that the demands should be ruled to have been made before the Tripartite Agreement was signed and came into force. This is borne out by the Ministerial Committee's permission to the Union to go ahead in its negotiations.

(c) Job classification and grading.—The Union submits that the Company's job classification is not satisfactory and is more or less a blue print of the job classification of the Marketing Companies. The Union states that all the necessary factors like education, skill, experience, versatility, responsibility, physical requirement, environment and supervision have not been adequately considered by the Company. It is further contended that the jobs in the refinery carry more responsibility and the minimum qualifications required of the employees is higher than in the Marketing Companies. Furthermore the refinery employees had to work on and operate most highly mechanized and modern plant, hence a greater responsibility devolved upon refinery employees. In brief the Union has suggested a fifth category carrying a salary of Sh. 1,400 per month and have upgraded by one the Company's grades for the various jobs. In very few jobs there is agreement.

(d) Overall increase of Sh. 80 per month for both operatives and staff employees.—The Union states that whenever it negotiates the merit increment tends to disappear and that as the standard of living has to be raised and as the cost of living is high, there is a great deal of room for further increases in salaries.

(e) Shift differential.—The Union states that throughout the World shift differential is recognized and is paid to employees to compensate for hardship during those hours and for family inconvenience caused to employees by working during such odd hours. Further, as the employee's social life was upset it should be compensated.

(f) An allowance of Sh. 80 per month for employees working in hot, noisy, greasy and high places.—The Union stresses that like shift money this kind of payment is also recognized to compensate for the work performed under abnormal conditions.

(g) Commencement date to be 1st September 1963.—The Union's submission on this item is that it is only logical that the commencement date should be the one from which the status of the employees changed from trainees to regular employees.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE COMPANY

12. (a) The Company states that by concept and intent of the Joint Industrial Council for the Oil Industry and by virtue of its functions as an integral part of that industry it is logical that the Company should be a member of that Council. Further that the Company is already a member of the Joint Industrial Council and has applied the terms and conditions of service negotiated by the Council for the Oil Industry. The Company therefore maintains that the Union's demands are matters which should properly be discussed through the bargaining machinery of the J.I.C. and is in keeping with the terms of the Tripartite Agreement.

(b) The Company maintains that it is subject to the provisions of the Tripartite Agreement and has in fact fulfilled its obligations under this Agreement. Further the Union was misinterpreting the Ministerial Committee's ruling on the question of negotiations between the Company and the Union.

(c) Job classification and grading.—The Company states that its job classification was produced keeping in mind the fact that the sole purpose of any job evaluation exercise is to establish the relationship of jobs, one to another, between the most senior and the most junior positions in an organization. Job evaluation cannot and does not establish the money values of such jobs, which are dictated by circumstances quite distinct from whatever factors or bases are used in the evaluation exercise. The rates of pay are determined by, (a) the law of supply and demand, which sets the market or going rate for the job, and (b) the adaptation of the market rate to the particular circumstances of the organization, bearing in mind the relative position of each job as determined by evaluation. The Company sees and realizes that it is as much in its own interest as in the interest of any other party to maintain an equitable and defensible job structure, it, therefore, submits that the Company is in the best position to determine the relative positions of its own jobs the one to another. The Company states that the job classification as produced, (a) establishes a proper relationship between all jobs as they are being performed now and as the Company envisages they will be performed in the future, and (b) the wage rates which have been applied to these jobs are produced on the basis of comparison with the rest of the Oil Industry, and (c) establishes wage rates for those jobs which are not comparable to any others in the Oil Industry by evaluating their group level and applying the rates paid in the Oil Industry to other comparable jobs within that group.

(d) Overall increase of Sh. 80 per month for both operatives and staff employees.—The Company states that any increase would be contrary to the terms of the Tripartite Agreement and is debarred by the terms and conditions of the J.I.C. agreement to which the Company is a party by application. Without prejudice to the foregoing the Company states that its rates are already among the highest in the Country.

(e) Shift differential.—The Company states that the Marketing Companies pay Sh. 30 per month by way of shift premia for a 45-hour week and the B.P. Shell Petroleum Development Company pays Sh. 41/60 per month for a 48-hour week. The Company pays its employees Sh. 30 per month by way of shift premia for a 45-hour week and the Union has advanced no reasons for any increase.

(f) An allowance of Sh. 80 per month for employees working in hot, noisy, greasy and high places.—The Company states that it has taken these factors into consideration when evaluating the various jobs. These items are, therefore, part of the criteria which establishes the job position in the overall job structure. In these circumstances it was not reasonable to expect extra money for these factors.

(g) Commencement date to be 1st September 1963.—The Company states that the date of commencement should be the date on which the Union was accorded recognition, 29th January 1964.

AWARD

13. Before making an award on the five issues before the Court it is necessary to dispose of the two points which have been raised by the Company, submitting that by virtue of these, negotiations with the Union are barred.

The two points are:—

(a) The matters in dispute should have been referred in the first place to the Joint Industrial Council created by the eight Oil Marketing Companies and B.P. Shell Petroleum Development Company in agreement with the Kenya Petroleum Oil Workers' Union before being brought to the Court.

(b) Does the Tripartite Agreement bar negotiation on terms and conditions of employment between the Union and the employer because the detailed demands were received by the Company on 6th March 1964.

The position of the parties in relation to the J.I.C. referred to above will be dealt with first.

The agreement creating the J.I.C. was signed on 26th July 1962 and is between the Oil Marketing Companies plus B.P. Shell Petroleum Development Company and the Union. The Company is not a party to it and could not have been a party to it as the Company was not in existence then. The Company states that sometime in April 1964 it joined the J.I.C., but it is not shown how the Company could have become a party to this agreement without the concurrence of the Union. The Union's consent was never sought and the agreement creating the J.I.C. remains unamended and the Company has not been integrated into it. It is quite clear that the intention of the parties was that the Company should become a member of the J.I.C. but no effective step was taken until April 1964, and even then the Union does not appear to have been consulted. The Company should have started in September 1963 if not earlier, with an application to the Joint Secretaries for admission to the J.I.C. as there is no provision in the agreement dated 26th July 1962 to extend its scope (clauses 2 and 3 refer to this matter). If, as it appears, it was the avowed intention of the Company to pay the agreed rates, then the Company should have started early on to get this agreed with the Union and to get proper entry to the J.I.C. Denial of negotiation was unjustified whilst the Company was not a member of the J.I.C. and the implementation of the agreed rates in the industry indicates the employers' intention. In view of the agreement regarding terms and conditions of service between the parties to the J.I.C. it was an error on the part of the Company to delay application to join the J.I.C. It is found that the agreement of the J.I.C. does not as yet apply to the parties to this dispute. The Court strongly recommends that immediate steps be taken by the parties to amend the agreement dated 26th July 1962 so as to include the East African Oil Refineries Limited as an additional party to that agreement.

(2) The Tripartite Agreement was signed on 10th February 1964 and the Company was in existence and on stream with effect from December 1963. The Company agreed that it is a member of the Federation of Kenya Employers which signed the Tripartite Agreement on behalf of its members and employers generally in Kenya. In fact the Company has already engaged the extra percentage required under the Agreement. The Company knew that negotiations were imminent after receipt of the letter from the Union on 16th January 1964. The Union was accorded recognition by the Company on 29th January 1964, but by agreement, negotiation was postponed until after the official opening of the plant. In these circumstances, although the detailed demands were submitted on 6th March 1964 it is found that these negotiations fall under clause (d) (iv) of the Tripartite Agreement and these should be processed through the normal machinery of the Industrial Relations Charter.

The two points having been disposed of, the award of the Court, after careful consideration of all the points urged by the parties, on the issues in dispute is as follows:—

Job classification and grading.—As the Union was at no time consulted on job classification and grading the Court rules that both the parties should get together at a very early date for this exercise and the Courts expects that the proper medium for this should be the Joint Industrial Council for the Oil Industry.

Overall increase of Sh. 80 per month for both operatives and staff employees.—The Court makes no award in this respect as it is closely linked to the first issue and no case was made for such an increase.

Shift differential.—The Court finds that the payment of Sh. 30 per month by way of shift premia is adequate and should continue but makes no further award.

An allowance of Sh. 80 per month for employees working in hot, noisy, greasy and high places.—The Court finds that no case was made out on this issue and makes no award.

Commencement date to be 1st September 1963.—The Court finds that the effective date for the implementation of the new grades is 1st September 1963 and awards accordingly.

Made in Nairobi this 22nd day of August 1964.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 2 OF 1964

Parties:

Kenya Local Government Workers' Union
and
County Council of Nyeri

Terms of Reference:

- (a) Salaries of skilled and unskilled staff.
- (b) Housing allowance.
- (c) Travelling allowance.
- (d) Adjustment of salaries for Veterinary staff.
- (e) Protective clothing.
- (f) adjustment of salaries for Area Council workers.
- (g) Refund of Provident Fund.
- (h) General wage increase of 50 per cent.

1. The matters were referred to the Industrial Court for settlement in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Disputes Act (No. 9 of 1964).

The parties were heard in Nairobi on 20th and 21st August 1964 and were subsequently invited to address the Court on articles 233 and 234 of the Kenya Constitution on Friday, 4th September 1964.

GENERAL BACKGROUND

2. The County Council of Nyeri was formally established on 25th October 1963 as the successor to the African District Council. The Constitution of the Joint Staff Committee was signed on 20th July 1963 at a meeting of that Committee at Ruringu (Min. 6/63). From that time on the parties held discussions on varying the terms and conditions of employment of Council's employees.

The Union based its case on the fact that in certain cases the items in dispute have been recommended by the Joint Staff Committee for acceptance by the Council and subsequently ratified by the Council but never implemented. The Union further stated that, in their opinion, any item discussed by the Joint Staff Committee and recommended to the Council for ratification should not then be referred by the Council to any other Committee upon which the Union had no representation; if this was possible then that Committee could turn down the recommendations of the Joint Staff Committee without the Union being able to defend itself.

The Council defended its position by stating that it had been formed on 25th October 1963 and could not inherit the decisions of any previous body. But this argument is without merit. It stated that financially the Council was working in the "red" and could not carry any further increase in expenditure by improving wages or other benefits to its employees. The estimates of expenditure had been presented to the Ministry of Local Government but had not been approved and that until this was done there was no provision to meet other than day to day expenses of the Council. It went on to say that the collection of Graduated Personal Tax had proved difficult and that by the end of July 1964 only 50 per cent of the estimated revenue had been collected. A further loss of revenue, which had not been anticipated, was the 4 per cent coffee cess which should have produced approximately £16,000 in the year, but as this had not been approved by the Ministry of Agriculture it resulted in a loss to the Council.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS BY THE UNION

3. (a) Salaries of skilled and unskilled staff.—The Union drew attention to Min. 7/63 (d) of a meeting of the Joint Staff Committees on 20th July 1963 wherein it was resolved to recommend to Council that there be a differential in pay for skilled and unskilled labour. The Union then referred to Min. 35/63 of a meeting of the Joint Staff Committee held on 30th November 1963 and pointed out that this matter had still not gone to the Council despite the recommendations of 20th July 1963. The Union went on to say that when this matter did get before the Council at its special meeting held on 22nd January 1964, the matter was referred back to the Staff Committee to make classifications, notwithstanding the fact that on 20th July 1963 the Joint Staff Committee had discussed this matter and resolved that Heads of Departments should supply to skilled workers letters of appointment showing the point in the scale at which they enter employment and the ceiling to which they can arise.

(b) Housing allowance.—The Union drew attention to Min. 9/63 of the meeting of the Joint Staff Committee held on 20th July 1963 in which it is resolved that the Council be recommended to provide houses for its employees or where this is not possible that a reasonable allowance be paid. This matter was raised again at a meeting of the Joint Staff Committee on 23rd November 1963 and the Union points out that the Minutes of that meeting were ratified by the Council on 4th and 5th December 1963, but the implementation had not been effected.

(c) Travelling allowance.—The Union explained that similarly the Joint Staff Committee resolved on 23rd November 1963 to recommend certain scales to Council to be paid to employees using their own transport. The ratification of the minutes of the Committee appears as Item 6 in Minute 43/63 of the meeting of the Council on 4th and 5th December 1963 but implementation had not been effected.

(d) Adjustment of salaries for Veterinary staff.—The Union pointed out that on 23rd November 1963 the Joint Staff Committee had discussed this item under Minute No. 30/63, and had resolved that the adjustments should be made to the salaries of these employees by the end of November 1963. Ratification of this resolution appears in Item 6 of Minute 43/63 of the meeting of the Council on 4th and 5th December 1963. However, in spite of earlier ratification the matter was discussed again at the special meeting of the Council on 22nd January 1964 when the Council resolved that it would consider the adjustment of salaries to Veterinary staff after interviewing the Senior Livestock Officer.

(e) Protective clothing.—The Union explained that under this heading they included uniforms and drew attention to the Joint Staff Committee meeting of 20th July 1963 at which it had been resolved to recommend to Council that those employees who perform dirty duties, i.e. sweepers and those who do dangerous work, should be issued with protective clothes for the safety of their health. This resolution was ratified by the Council in Item 6 of Minute 43/63 at its meeting on 4th and 5th December 1963 but nothing had been done to implement the decision.

(f) Adjustment of salaries for Area Council workers.—The Union stated that these workers are employees of the Council and that as such should be paid in accordance with the scales for Council staff and by reference to the resolution of the Joint Staff Committee meeting held on 30th November 1963. Minute 36/63, the Council had been recommended to bring the salaries of all Area Council workers up to the minimum of the Flemming Salaries Report. However, the Council had rejected this resolution at its meeting on 4th and 5th December 1963, Item 3 of Min. 43/63.

(g) Refund of Provident Fund.—The Union states that the Council has agreed in Min. 5/64 at its Special Meeting of the Council on 22nd January 1964 to refund to contributors who wish to withdraw from the Fund their own contributions, but that this has not been implemented. The Union went on to support its contention that the Council referred items agreed upon to Committees where the Union is not represented by drawing attention to Item 4 of Minute 43/63 of the meeting of the Council on 4th and 5th December 1963 at which the Council had referred this matter to the Finance Committee in which the Union had no voice. The Union maintained that if the Council wished to obtain the advice of the Chief Finance Officer it should get this advice at the Council meetings which are attended by that Officer.

(h) General wage increase of 50 per cent.—The Union supported its claim for this increase by drawing attention to Item (b) of Min. 7/63 of the meeting of the Joint Staff Committee. This matter was discussed further at the meeting of the same Committee on 23rd November 1963 and yet again on 30th November 1963. On this occasion the Chairman had ordered a vote because the Council had made an offer of 20 per cent and the Staff side stood by its original demand of 50 per cent. The result of the vote showed that the Joint Staff Committee supported the demand for 50 per cent as no vote was cast for an increase of 20 per cent and five votes were cast for the increase of 50 per cent. However, despite this support in the Joint Staff Committee the Council had, at its meeting on 4th and 5th December 1963 referred the matter to the Finance Committee in which the Union was not represented so could not argue its case.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS BY THE COUNCIL

4. (a) Salaries of skilled and unskilled workers.—The Council countered the allegations of the Union by saying that a differential already existed in the pay of skilled and unskilled employees and that this is given in Appendix "A" of the Staff Regulations. The Council had already graded its staff and employees were paid in accordance with the scales appropriate to their grade.

(b) Housing allowance.—The Council drew attention to Staff Regulation 29 and said that housing allowances were subject to the approval of the Staff Committee, not the Joint Staff Committee, but that this was a formality and that allowances were paid upon application by the employee.

(c) Travelling allowance.—The Council said that the question of mileage allowances is laid down in Staff Regulation No. 28 and only those persons authorized by the Council to use their own transport on Council business are entitled to draw the allowance. The persons so authorized are laid down and appear at Appendix "F" of the Staff Regulations.

(d) Adjustment of salaries for Veterinary Staff.—The Council said that as in item (a) of the issues in dispute there are salary scales laid down for Veterinary staff. The Council sets out its terms of service in all advertisements for this type of employee and the Staff Committee decides when interviewing applicants at what point in the scale the applicant shall start. The Council went on to say that there were automatic increments in the scales but where special merit had been achieved by attending Courses of Instruction then the applicant must apply for additional increments.

(e) Protective clothing.—The Council quoted Staff Regulation 51 which said that uniforms are provided by the Council and, at the discretion of Council, officers or servants may be required to wear uniforms. The Council said that it felt this Regulation was adequate and could not go beyond the provisions laid down.

(f) Adjustment of salaries for Area Council workers.—The Council maintained that these people are not employees of the Council, they are part-time workers who help in distributing milk to children. The Sh. 20 they are paid is not a salary but an allowance. Area Councils have already told the Council that these women are no longer required and that their services will be terminated.

(g) Refund of Provident Fund.—The Council has already agreed to refund the employees' contribution plus interest from the Provident Fund but resists most strongly any suggestion that this should be replaced by a non-contributory Pension Scheme. The Council just could not afford such a scheme and must dismiss absolutely any such suggestion.

(h) General wage increase of 50 per cent.—The Council stated that it had already agreed to consider its existing salary scales in the light of the Pratt Salaries Commission recommendations as and when the Kenya Government implements it but in view of the serious financial position of the Council it cannot afford any increases in salaries.

The Council called Mr. H. C. Sealey the Principal Finance Officer of the Ministry of Local Government to give evidence of the financial position of the Council. It was stated that the Council had a general fund of £36,000 and had presented estimates of expenditure of £320,000 which his Ministry had been unable to approve. Since then a supplementary estimate of £6,000 had been presented and this also had been turned down. The loss of the coffee cess had been a severe blow to the Council and the difficulties in collecting Graduated Personal Tax were a continuous embarrassment. In reply to a question by the Court it was stated that a 50 per cent wage increase would cost the Council between £17,000 and £18,000 and that the only way any increase could be met would be by curtailing some of the services. It was stated that in this financial year the Council could be expected to have a debit balance of £53,000 and it was not known whether, in fact, any of this would be met by a grant from Central Government.

AWARD OF THE COURT

5. Before making an award on the eight issues before the Court it is necessary to deal with two matters which have been raised. The first was mentioned by the Council in summing up and concerns the Council's obligations under the Tripartite Agreement. The Council fulfilled its obligation by taking on 15 per cent additional staff, but now, according to the Council's spokesman has applied for permission to dismiss this 15 per cent and quotes Appendix "D" of its memorandum in support. The Court feels that the Council should have considered its financial position when engaging this additional percentage, the Council has known for a long time that it faces a serious deficit and before increasing this deficit the question of its ability to retain the additional employees should have been considered. However, whether or not the Council is given permission to dismiss these additional employees does not rest with this Court and the Court is in no way influenced by this factor.

The second matter deals with the Constitution of Kenya, and in particular refers to articles 233 and 234. The parties were invited specially to address the Court on these two articles. It is surprising that when the opportunity was given the parties made so little use of their chance. The parties expressed ignorance of the provisions of these two articles which were read out in Court.

This ignorance is indefensible as the Ministry of Local Government sent out a circular letter Ref. 1350/99 dated 2nd May 1964 to all Civil Secretaries, all Clerks to County Councils and all Town Clerks, drawing their attention to article 234 of the Constitution and, indeed quoting the whole of the article. This letter further draws the attention of the addressees to Gazette Notice 821 of 17th March 1964 which nominates the members of the Local Government Staff Commission and goes on to say that the Commission has held its first meeting. The letter ends by urging local authorities to take advantage of the services of the Commission as in this way it will be possible to maintain fairly uniform standards and at the same time to project a national outlook and importance for local government career.

In view of the forgoing, the award of the Court is as follows:—

All the issues in dispute are stated by the parties in their signed declaration on Form "A" notifying this Court of their failure to reach agreement to have been through the channels of negotiation. By their own admission the parties have not used the special facilities provided by the Constitution of Kenya and the Court awards that the parties shall apply to the Local Government Staff Commission for arbitration of their dispute in accordance with article 234 (d).

Made in Nairobi this 12th day of September 1964.
