CAUSE No. 10 OF 1980

Parties:

Kenya Management Staff Association
and Agip Kenya Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Stephen M. Mutungi.

1. The Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Agip Kenya Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 29th April, 18th and 19th June and 2nd and 3rd September, 1980 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Claimants.—S. M. Mutungi.

Respondents:

P. N. Gathara.

G. F. Thiongo.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 29th November, 1979 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 26th February, 1980 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Mutungi started working for the Respondents on 6th March, 1967 as a junior clerk and worked with them until 22nd December, 1977. His letter of termination was handed to him on 6th January, 1978 when he reported on duty after leave during which time he got married. At termination his salary had risen to K.Sh. 2,163 p.m.

The Claimants reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour on his behalf and the Ministry's findings and recommendation were conveyed to the parties on 2nd August, in the following terms:

"Mr. Mutungi worked for the company for more than 10 years during which time he was promoted to a senior grade due to his performance and hard work.

The stocktaking, when Mr. Mutungi was acting as supervisor and the revelation of a missing gas cooker was rejected by the police investigations who would not find his involvement in the loss.

He was later promoted on 24th February, 1976 to management level and his salary raised to K.Sh. 2,163 p.m. The depot manager who signed the order knew of these continued irregularities made during the supply of products to the customers but there does not seem to have been any corrective measure taken to stop the practice.

While Mr. Mutungi is accused of a serious offence which could have landed him in court of law no evidence has been produced beyond doubt that he in fact took part in the alleged transactions. Suspicion of conspiracy alone would not suffice and this is probably the reason why court action did not materialize.

The acceptance by the two workers of their dues does not prove Mr. Mutungi guilty in this instance. I find the dismissal wrongful.

After careful consideration of the facts contained in the case it is recommended that he should be paid four months salary as compensation for loss of earnings plus all his terminal benefits and his full gratuity."

The Claimants demanded a sum of K.Sh. 37,203/60 from the Respondents made up as follows:

	K.Sh. cts.
"Four months salary as compensation for loss of earnings (2,163 x 4) ..	8,652.00
One month's salary in lieu of notice ..	2,163.00
16 days leave for 1967/1977 .. ..	1,153.60
One month's salary for December, 1977 ..	2,163.00
Gratuity for 10 years .. ..	21,630.00
Gratuity for eight months in addition ..	1,442.00
	37,203.60"

The Respondents rejected the findings and the above claim and the dispute is now before the Court.

There is no doubt that one of the Respondents' cash customers, Gichamu Service Station, came to their town office and placed an order on 10th November, 1977, for the supply of 2,273 litres of kerosene. The proprietor of this service station paid K.Sh. 3,211.70 at the cash office. After this, in accordance with the laid down procedure, this order was conveyed through the telephone to the Respondents' depot where it was received by the clerk assigned to this duty. As a result of this the depot manager prepared the loading order for 6,819 litres of super petrol. All the other documentation having been completed 6,819 litres of super petrol were delivered to Gichamu Service Station by E.A. Overland Transport Co. Ltd. and the Court is satisfied that this service station received this load of super petrol as they signed the relevant delivery order for it.

The same depot manager, P. N. Gathara, later on when the relevant documents were forwarded to the depot from the head office discovered the grave irregularity in that the customer had ordered and paid for 2,273 litres of kerosene and had ended up by receiving 6,819 litres of super petrol. These facts are not disputed. They are properly established. The Court has now to decide to what extent, if at all, Mr. Mutungi was responsible for this fraud. Mr. Mutungi while giving evidence stated that on 10th November, 1977 he had followed the laid down procedure and conveyed to the depot clerk, Mr. Ogola, the order for Kerosene from Gichamu Service Station and on 14th November he had applied for three days' leave to prepare for his wedding and that when he resumed duty on 17th November, his immediate superior told him that there had been a wrong delivery to Gichamu Service Station. To this Mr. Mutungi told him that unless he saw the invoices he could not say anything. He was later called to the office of the personnel officer, Mr. Njiri, from where he along with Ogola and another person were taken to the CID offices where he saw the documents concerning this delivery. No action was taken against him but the personnel officer told him to go until he heard from the Respondents. Mr. Mutungi told the Court that his leave was to start on 20th November so he had to go to his wedding without any money. He called back on 6th January when he was to resume duty and found a letter waiting for him terminating his services. He said he felt very bad and went to tell the bad news to his wife.

The Respondents have pleaded that Mr. Mutungi was part of a conspiracy to defraud them but they could not with certainty say how wide the conspiracy was and who were the other people involved in it along with Mr. Mutungi. They also submitted in their memo a handwritten statement by one B. G. Ngua in which he has implicated Mr. Mutungi. The Court, however, does not intend to take any notice of what is contained in the statement of this person as he was not called to give evidence and was not subjected to cross-examination by the Claimants. Neither is this statement on oath.

The Respondents have, however, in addition to the above pointed out that when Mr. Mutungi had received the invoice from the depot for 6,819 litres of super which had been supplied on the kerosene order he had not raised any queries although it was his duty to check the orders received and deliveries made. He just entered this in the statement of Gichamu Service Station. The Court has seen this statement and there is a debit entry in respect of 6,819 litres of super supplied to this Service Station on 10th November invoice No. 8624 for K.Sh. 18,636.30. There is, however, another entry just on top of this entry dated 11th November showing a credit entry of K.Sh. 3,211.70. This fact in itself with a later entry appearing first would have been very significant had it not been for the fact that later on in the same statement there are other similar entries without following the sequence of dates. So the Court gives Mr. Mutungi the benefit of doubt on this point because probably due to some procedure such mixed up entries occur frequently in statements.

There is one very significant fact that emerged during the evidence of the various witnesses and that is that the Respondents auditor when he carried out his investigations into this affair had gone to the depot and had seen the particular order that was received in the depot on the phone for Gichamu Service Station in respect of their order for 2,273 litres of kerosene. The auditor told the Court that that order was for 6,819 litres of super petrol. There is no dispute that Mr. Ogola, the clerk who took that order disappeared from duty and that the order book was at the depot. Surprisingly the whole of the order book which the Court was told was a big volume disappeared and the depot manager, Mr. Gathara, could offer no explanation as to who was responsible for the disappearance of this important piece of evidence in this dispute. The fact, however, remains that it was Mr. Gathara who issued the loading order in his own handwriting and approved the release of 6,819 litres of super petrol from the depot to be delivered to Gichamu Service Station. It is precisely for this reason that the Claimants have strongly alleged that the "big fish" meaning Mr. Gathara, had swallowed the "small fish", Mr. Mutungi.

In the absence of any criminal offence having been committed by Mr. Mutungi since he was released by the CID after questioning the Respondents have pointed out that the entry of K.Sh. 18,636.50 which was made in Gichamu Service Station's account by Mr. Mutungi without verifying was a very grave irregularity because without any authority from the sales branch in the town no order can move out from the depot. They insisted that Mr. Mutungi should have drawn the cashier's attention to this irregularity and therefore he could not be absolved of the conspiracy to defraud the Respondents.

The Court notes that Ogola who was the clerk at the depot who received orders on the phone from the head office had disappeared and that another clerk, Mr. Munga, at the head office who according to the Respondents was remotely involved in this conspiracy because he had at one stage handled K.Sh. 3,000 was dismissed and apparently he accepted his dismissal.

The Court was told that the Respondents recovered through their advocates a certain amount of money from Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Ngua in connexion with the money they owed to the Respondents. The Claimants pointed out that this money which the Respondents recovered has nothing to do with the incident that led to Mr. Mutungi's dismissal but was an entirely different matter.

As stated earlier the Court is satisfied that an irregularity took place involving Gichamu Service Station who received 6,819 litres of super petrol instead of 2,273 of kerosene for which they paid K.Sh. 3,211.70 on 10th November, 1977. The Court, however, finds that there are certain important points which have remained unexplained as far as the Respondents' case is concerned. For instance why did the depot manager personally prepare the loading order in respect of 6,819 litres of super when it was ordinarily the job of another clerk? This job is normally done by the invoicing clerk who after preparing the loading order gives the loading order together with the record book (containing orders received on the telephone) to the depot manager who checks and signs the order and then authorizes physical loading. The depot manager, Mr. Gathara, while giving evidence explained that he had decided to prepare the loading orders because of the queries he had received from customers who complained that they had not received products for which they had paid. Had it not been for the subsequent loss of the order book in which the orders were recorded when received on the phone subsequent to the disappearance of Ogola the Court might have accepted the depot manager's explanation to be reasonable but the disappearance of the order book has made the Court wonder why the depot manager had to write the loading order in respect of this particular order. This raises a considerable amount of doubt as to who were the persons trying to defraud the Respondents. The Court notes that Mr. Gathara has now retired from the Respondents' employment.

As far as Mutungi's involvement in this conspiracy is concerned he wrote the order at the head office for 2,273 litres of kerosene. He maintained that he dictated the proper order to Ogola who made a false entry in the record book containing orders received through the telephone.

The Court has very carefully considered all the evidence that has been produced in this case and the submissions made by the parties and has decided to give Mr. Mutungi the benefit of doubt—but only just. The Court feels that the Respondents' allegation that Mr. Mutungi did not verify the entries warranted a severe warning rather than dismissal. The Court accordingly finds that Mr. Mutungi has suffered a wrongful dismissal. The Court, however, must take into account one fact before assessing the compensation to be awarded to him and that is that he told blatant lies under cross-examination in the beginning when in an answer to a question he said that he had worked for Barclays Bank, Meru branch for two days only whereas later on when confronted with documentary evidence he had to admit that he had worked for the bank for two years. The Court takes a very serious note of this attempt on his part to tell such blatant lies. It is lucky for him that he was caught out in the beginning of the cross-examination and apparently he was more cautious in his subsequent evidence. The Court, however, cannot condone this behaviour.

Under all the circumstances of this dispute the Court finds that the compensation of four months' salary recommended by the Ministry of Labour is not justified and the Court awards that Mr. Mutungi should be paid only one month's salary by way of compensation in addition to one month's salary in lieu notice. The Court further finds that in terms of his contract of employment he is entitled to gratuity only for the service rendered after 1st March, 1976 at the rate of one month's remuneration for each completed year of service. So under gratuity he is entitled to only one month's salary and not K.Sh. 23,072 as claimed by the claimants.

The Court accordingly awards that the Respondents should pay Mr. Mutungi his salary for December, 1977, one month's pay in lieu of notice and one month's salary by way of compensation and for any pending leave which he had earned together with one month's salary by way of gratuity. Apart from this all the other claims made on his behalf are rejected.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3218

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under Rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
