GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1974

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 21 of 1980

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and Kisumu General Engineering Employers' Group
INTERPRETATION APPLICATION RULING

The Court announced its award in the above dispute on 10th July, 1980 and granted wage increases to employees in the various grades by stating that rates for the various grades should go up as follows:

Grade 1 and 2.—Sh. 40 per month.

Other grades.—Sh. 45 per month.

The Court further stated:

"Since the statutory minimum rates have been revised and are effective from 1st June, 1980 the Court awards that those categories as mentioned in the parties grades which are affected by the Legal Order should be revised with effect from 1st June, 1980 to comply with the statutory rates. These along with those which are above the statutory rates are to continue in force till the end of the year when the collective agreement will expire."

Subsequent to the Court award the parties entered into a collective agreement and in Clause (c) of Part I included the following:

"Since the statutory minimum rates have been revised and are effective from 1st June, 1980 it is agreed that those categories as mentioned in the parties grades which are affected by Legal Notice No. 72 of 1980 should be revised with effect from 1st June, 1980 to comply with the statutory rates".

Grades 3, 4 and 5 in this agreement specify in each case that all artisans with a grade 3, 2 or 1 trade test certificate or in the employer's opinion with the equivalent experience would get the rates specified for them.

The Claimants have complained that the Respondents have not adjusted the salaries of the various employees who were affected by the aforesaid Legal Notice who did not have the trade test certificates but in the employer's opinion had the equivalent experience. As a result with effect from 1st June, 1980 they had suffered the following loss:

"Grade	From Sh.	To Sh.	Loss of Sh.
II	529	550	21 per month
III	561	678	117 per month
IV	586	753	167 per month
V	640	905	265 per month"

The Respondents on the other hand while admitting that those employees with the relevant trade test certificates ought to have been brought up to the new legal minimum rates with effect from 1st June, 1980 resisted the Claimants' interpretation that those without the relevant certificates should also have been brought up to these new grades. For this they relied on the words used in the Court award "that those categories as mentioned in the parties' grades which are affected by the Legal Order should be revised with effect from 1st June, 1980 to comply with the statutory rates".

The Court has carefully considered the parties' arguments on this point and finds that the Claimants' interpretation is correct because if the Respondents' interpretation was accepted then it would result in a situation where those employees who were earning the same rates as the graded artisans because in the employer's opinion they had the equivalent experience up to 31st May, 1980 would get a lesser rate with effect from 1st June, 1980. This would be grossly unfair and improper.

The Court intended all employees in the various categories to benefit by the Legal Order. A situation where up to a certain date an employer thinks that a certain employee has the equivalent experience of a graded artisan and the next day the thinks differently because the legal rates for the trade tested artisans have gone up would be untenable and can only lead to unnecessary friction at the work place.

The Court was aware of the difficulties that would be experienced in the implementation of the Court award and it was for this very reason that the Court had included the following para in its award:

"The Court would like to request the Ministry of Labour to ensure that all the 19 firms or those of them who are still in business when negotiations commenced should comply with the Court award."

The Court would now like to direct the Provincial Labour Officer, Nyanza Province, to ensure that the workers are granted all the arrears that are due to them without any further delay. As it is, the matter has been delayed because of the leadership struggle in the Claimants' union.

The Claimants had also raised some points in connection with negotiations that are taking place in revising the aforesaid collective agreement. The Court would like to make it clear that any ruling by the Court on such negotiations would not be proper because it cannot form part of this interpretation application. The parties are aware of what steps to take in the event of there being a deadlock during negotiations and the Court would not like to make any further comment on this matter.
