THE WILDLIFE CONSERVATION AND MANAGEMENT ACT

(Cap. 376)

ILRI KAPITI WILDLIFE CONSERVANCY – CONSERVATION
MANAGEMENT PLAN, 2022–2026

IN EXERCISE of the powers conferred by section 44 (3) of the Wildlife Conservation and Management Act, 2013, the Cabinet Secretary for Tourism and Wildlife gazettes the Plan in the Schedule hereto:

SCHEDULE

The ILRI Kapiti Wildlife Conservancy–Conservation Management Plan 2022-2026 (hereinafter referred to as “the Plan”) defines the goals, objectives, and actions that ILRI (The International Livestock Research Institute) Kapiti Conservancy (hereinafter referred to as “the Conservancy”) has designed to address livestock research, environmental and climate change research, integrated rangeland management for research, wildlife research, grazing management for livestock and wildlife, intensive rangeland management, hay and fodder management, wildlife management, tourism development, partnerships, and operations management and security.

The Conservancy’s goals, management programmes and plan implementation strategy are summarized in the following sections.

1. OVERALL GOAL

The central goal of land management activities at the conservancy is to conduct research on livestock production and the environment in rangelands, including research on livestock grazing and fodder production; animal health, welfare, genetics and productivity, and the interactions of livestock production practices with environmental quality in terms of conservation of biodiversity, livestock-wildlife coexistence, measurement of greenhouse gas emissions, and the dynamics and resilience of rangeland ecosystems.

2. MANAGEMENT GOALS

- (a) Quality rangeland habitats: To provide and maintain high-quality rangeland habitats in the conservancy for environmental and conservation research and for conservation of biodiversity.
- (b) Restoration of habitats: To improve the quality of rangeland habitats as appropriate through restoration of portions of the rangeland, including through restorative livestock grazing, targeted livestock grazing, and intensive restoration efforts such as reduction or removal of encroaching shrubs and management of natural regeneration.
- (c) Habitat connectivity: To provide and maintain connectivity for key wildlife species with other parcels of park and non-park lands in the area. The conservancy strives to increase large-scale connectivity and resilience of rangeland ecosystems beyond the scale of the Athi-Kapiti Plains ecosystem.

3. LAND USES AND ZONES

The primary land use in the conservancy is to undertake research on livestock production and the environment in rangelands. The secondary land use is conservation of carnivore species and migratory wildlife species, as well as the rangeland ecosystems. The mixed-use zone is used for operational facilities, agricultural crop research and forage research.

4. MANAGEMENT PROGRAMMES

The plan has ten management programmes that address research and conservation in the conservancy. These programmes are summarised in the following sections.

4.1 Livestock Research

The main objective of the Livestock Research programme is to ensure facilitation of research on animal health, genetics, feed and forages to improve livestock health and productivity in Kenya and globally. The research contributes to the preservation and improvement of the quality of genetics in important breeds indigenous to Kenya.

4.2 Environmental and Climate Change Research

The Environmental and Climate Change Research programme’s goal is to estimate greenhouse gas emissions at continental scale for policy and programmatic use by national governments and civil societies. The programme also seeks to determine the impact of the grazing management system on soil fertility and carbon flux as well as testing the effectiveness of different techniques for rangeland restoration.

4.3 Integrated Rangeland Management for Research

The integrated management of rangelands is conducted mainly for the purpose of research on livestock production and the environment in rangelands. It includes livestock grazing management, intensive rangeland restoration, haymaking and fodder cultivation, and wildlife management. The programme also seeks to conserve biodiversity within the conservancy and the greater Athi-Kapiti Plains ecosystem.

4.4 Wildlife Research

The Wildlife Research programme goals are to; provide an understanding of zoonotic disease transmission through identification of pathogens and pathogen hotspots, establish research on microbiomes in various wildlife species and their potential role in disease resistance, assess the antimicrobial resistance at the wildlife-livestock ecosystem interface and evaluate the role of waterholes in transmission of pathogens between livestock and wildlife.

4.5 Grazing Management for Livestock and Wildlife

The purpose of the Grazing Management for Livestock and Wildlife programme is to ensure that appropriate stocking for healthy livestock and wildlife and the conservation of rangelands is carried out so as to prevent degradation of the ecosystem. To achieve this purpose, the programme will focus on improving pasture and controlling invasive and unwanted species.

4.6 Intensive Rangeland Management

The overall goal of the Intensive Rangeland Management programme is to test the effectiveness of different techniques for rangeland restoration. This will be achieved through mapping of areas affected by unwanted species, conducting manual clearing, prescribed burning, use of herbicides and targeted browsing.

4.7 Hay and Fodder Management

The Hay and Fodder Management programme’s primary objective is to establish fodder stock for drought periods through setting up new haymaking zones and conducting fodder research. The second objective focuses on providing quality fodder to the local community by establishing larger areas to cultivate fodder species for harvesting and sale.

4.8 Wildlife Management

The Wildlife Management programme’s aim is to promote the free movement of wildlife and to reduce human-wildlife conflicts through monitoring and tracking wildlife movements. To achieve this aim, wildlife migratory routes will be established on ILRI Kapiti wildlife conservancy and the wider Athi-Kapiti Plains ecosystem. Wildlife population monitoring will also be undertaken to inform management actions.

4.9 Partnerships

The Partnerships programme seeks to develop positive and collaborative relations with neighbouring properties surrounding the conservancy to allow free movement of wildlife between these properties. The programme also aims at strengthening relationships with the wider local community and engaging them in collaborative efforts thus providing employment opportunities. The programme focuses on providing grazing leases for pastoralists during severe droughts thus playing a role in enabling pastoral communities to preserve their livestock. The partnership programme also seeks to promote productive interactions with stakeholders within the greater Machakos and Nairobi through provision of high-quality breeding stock to increase sustainable livestock production in the regions.

4.10 Operations Management and Security

The Operations Management and Security programme aims at providing an enabling environment for research and management activities in the conservancy. The conservancy will collaborate with Kenya Wildlife Service (KWS) to train its scouts in security operations. Key research areas that require special security operations include protection of areas where research activities take place, wildlife monitoring, protection of wildlife from poaching and documentation of wildlife-human conflicts to facilitate compensation for losses.

5. PLAN IMPLEMENTATION, MONITORING AND EVALUATION

The conservancy will report regularly on the progress of the plan implementation. ILRI scientists will report on the progress and outcomes of their research projects regularly and publish their findings in scientific journals. The conservancy management will hold monitoring and evaluation meetings annually to establish the progress made according to the targets as set in the implementation matrix. The review process will be carried out to include lessons learnt during the preceding year and planning on action points to achieve better outcomes. An annual compliance report will be prepared by the Kapiti Plains Estate Limited Board and submitted to KWS.

The Plan is deposited at the offices of the Director-General, Kenya Wildlife Service along Langata Road and the Managing Director, ILRI Kapiti Wildlife Conservancy whose addresses are provided below:

THE WILDLIFE CONSERVATION AND MANAGEMENT ACT

(Cap. 376)

LOLLDAIGA WILDLIFE CONSERVANCY MANAGEMENT PLAN, 2024-2033

IN EXERCISE of the powers conferred by section 44 (3) of the Wildlife Conservation and Management Act, 2013, the Cabinet Secretary for Tourism and Wildlife gazettes the Plan in the Schedule hereto:

Lolldaiga Wildlife Conservancy Management Plan 2024-2033 (hereinafter referred to as “the Plan”) defines the vision, outcomes, and actions that Lolldaiga Wildlife Conservancy (hereinafter referred to as “the Conservancy”) has designed to address conservation, community partnership and outreach, and sustainability and operation issues in the Conservancy and the greater conservation landscape.

The Conservancy’s vision, zoning, management programmes, foundations for success, and monitoring and evaluation framework are summarised in the following sections.

1. VISION

The specific aims of the Lolldaiga Wildlife Conservancy Management Plan 2024-2033 are to achieve the conservancy’s vision which is “Intact connected habitats that protect healthy wildlife populations and maintain functional ecological processes, supporting sustainable development and improved wellbeing for local communities, and ensuring conservation is the preferred land use”. The plan provides the desired outcomes, management actions, and prescriptions through which the Conservancy will achieve its vision.

2. LOLLDAIGA WILDLIFE CONSERVANCY ZONING

The Conservancy’s zoning is mainly based on the nature and distribution of natural resources, the current level and type of use, and the expected future uses. It defines allowed and prohibited activities in different zones, minimising land use conflicts in the Conservancy. It establishes two major land use zones that aim to achieve the Conservancy’s wildlife conservation, tourism, livestock production, and community development objectives. These zones are:

- (a) Conservation and Tourism Zone (Public Access); and
- (b) Conservation, Tourism and Livestock Grazing Zone.

3. MANAGEMENT PROGRAMMES

The plan has three management programmes: Conservation Programme, Community Partnership and Outreach Programme, and Sustainability and Operations Programme.

3.1 Conservation Programme

The Conservation Programme has two expected outcomes. First, it aims to maintain ecologically functional and connected habitats as the foundations of wildlife recovery, maintaining ecological processes that provide ecosystem services for all. Second, it seeks to maintain healthy wildlife populations of species known to occur or have occurred in the landscape, including protected and restored populations of endangered species where required. These outcomes will be achieved through the implementation of management themes focusing on habitat management, species management, and research and monitoring. The subthemes of the habitat management theme focus on livestock management, water management, fire management, alien invasive species removal, environmental management, and habitat restoration. The species management theme aims to restore and maintain wildlife diversity by managing threats as far as possible. This theme focuses on the following four subthemes: threatened species, species reintroductions, veterinary interventions, and human-wildlife conflict management. The Research and Monitoring theme is intended to provide specific information necessary to ensure that the Conservancy’s biodiversity objectives are realized.

3.2 Community Partnership and Outreach Programme

The Community Partnership and Outreach Programme aims to achieve two key outcomes i.e. Uplifted Communities, and Enhanced Support. The programme outcomes will be achieved through the implementation of two themes, Community Development and Conservation Value, that seek to foster trusting and supportive conservancy-community relationships. Through these two themes, the Conservancy will assist the neighbouring communities in the establishment of effective community governance structures, and improve human well-being and job creation for local community members to engender support for the conservancy and create social relevance. It will also create opportunities and initiatives that bring communities and political leaders into the Conservancy to create conservation awareness and gain support for the conservation agenda.

3.3 Sustainability and Operations Programme

The Sustainability and Operations Programme supports the delivery of the Conservation and Community Partnership and Outreach programmes. The desired outcome from the implementation of this programme is an effectively managed and sustainably resourced conservancy that uses scientific best practices to deliver measurable and meaningful conservation and social outcomes. This outcome will be achieved through the implementation of management themes focusing on attaining Conservancy sustainability, and maintaining effective human resources and administration, infrastructure and logistics, and security.

4. FOUNDATIONS FOR SUCCESS

To achieve and sustain conservation and social outcomes outlined in this management plan, three management themes, effective management, good governance, and sustainable financing will underpin the Conservancy’s management. Without these, the conservancy will not have the capabilities to achieve impact in an accountable manner. Effective governance and management structures enable increased investment in the conservancy and provide the necessary accountability to the Conservancy’s stakeholders.

5. MONITORING AND EVALUATION FRAMEWORK

A Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) approach has been provided to assess management performance. The defined vision and outcomes under this management plan are core components of the M&E approach. Indicators help managers measure quantifiable progress towards each outcome. This measurement is done by defining time-specific targets and using data on indicators to monitor if these targets are being met. If targets are being met, then managers evaluate that the outcome is being achieved. If targets are not being met, then managers evaluate that the outcome is not being achieved, necessitating an adaptive response to implement revised approaches to meet targets.

The Plan is deposited at the offices of the Director-General, Kenya Wildlife Service along Langata Road and the Chief Executive Officer, Lolldaiga Wildlife Conservancy whose addresses are provided below:

IN EXERCISE of the powers conferred by section 44 (3) of the Wildlife Conservation and Management Act, 2013, the Cabinet Secretary for Tourism and Wildlife gazettes the Plan in the Schedule hereto:

SCHEDULE

The Shimba Hills Ecosystem Management Plan 2023–2033 (hereinafter referred to as “the Plan”) defines the goals, objectives, and actions that stakeholders aim to achieve in the Shimba Hills Ecosystem (hereinafter referred to as “the Ecosystem”) in the next 10 years.

The Ecosystem comprises Shimba Hills National Reserve/Shimba Hills Forest Reserve, Mkongani North Forest Reserve, Mkongani West Forest Reserve, Mwaluganje Forest Reserve and Mwaluganje Elephant Sanctuary. The Plan is formulated in accordance with the existing legal and regulatory frameworks that include the Wildlife Conservation and Management Act, 2013, the National Forest Policy 2015, Forest Conservation and Management Act, 2016, the Sessional Paper No 01 of 2020 on Wildlife Policy and the Environmental Management and Co-ordination Act, 2015.

The Plan is a living document that will undergo to periodic reviews to adapt to emerging issues and new insights. It addresses forest and wildlife conservation, tourism development, research and education, community development and administration issues in the Ecosystem through the following key management interventions–

- (a) implementing the zoning scheme as outlined in the Plan; and
- (b) implementing the management actions described under the seven management programmes.

The zoning scheme and management programmes are summarised in the following section:

1. LAND USES AND ZONES

The primary land uses in Shimba Hills Ecosystem are biodiversity conservation and tourism. To achieve the Ecosystem’s management objectives, a land use zoning plan consisting of six zones has been developed. The land use zones are: Tourism Use Zone, Biodiversity Conservation Zone (indigenous forest), Plantation Zone, Cultural Use Zone, Intervention Zone and Subsistence Use Zone.

2. MANAGEMENT PROGRAMMES

The Plan consists of seven management programmes designed to address the major management issues in the Ecosystem. These programmes are summarised in the following sections.

2.1 Forest Conservation and Management Programme

The overall goal of the Forest Conservation and Management Programme is to conserve and protect the SHE natural forest and its rich biodiversity for sustainable supply of ecosystem goods and services. This will be accomplished by implementing management objectives that prioritize sustainable management and utilization of forest resources while safeguarding all forest areas and reverting 910.7ha of exotic plantation areas to natural forest.

2.2 Wildlife Conservation and Management Programme

The primary purpose of the Wildlife Conservation and Management Programme is to ensure that the ecological components and processes of the Shimba Hills Ecosystem are understood, restored and conserved, and threats to the area’s key ecological features are reduced. To realize this objective, the SHE stakeholders will strive to ensure that ecosystem connectivity is maintained, SHE habitats are rehabilitated and restored, viable populations of threatened and endangered wildlife species are maintained, understanding of ecological components and processes is improved and human-wildlife coexistence is promoted and conflicts minimized.

2.3 Tourism Development and Management Programme

The Tourism Development and Management Programme aims to ensure that Shimba Hills Ecosystem offers memorable tourist experiences based on the unique biodiversity, scenic and cultural values in the area. The programme seeks to ensure that product development and diversification align with modern and evolving customer demands, investment regulations and control conform with the overall ecosystem plan and national standards, infrastructure developments promote tourism beyond the national reserve and marketing of tourism products is promoted at the ecosystem level.

2.4 Water Resources Conservation and Management Programme

The purpose of the Water Resources Conservation and Management Programme is to ensure that water resources in the SHE are conserved and sustainably managed to meet domestic, agricultural and commercial needs of Kwale County and its environs. To achieve this, SHE stakeholders will strive to ensure that water catchment areas are restored, conserved and sustainably managed and water abstraction from rivers is regulated and controlled. The key management objectives to be implemented focus on: enhancing sustainable water management and restoring natural flow regimes, and controlling and regulating water resource use.

2.5 Community Participation and Development Programme

The main purpose of the Community Participation and Development Programme is to enhance community participation in conservation management and sustainable use of natural resources and livelihoods improvement. The programme also aims at ensuring that communities are actively participating in conservation and management of natural resources in SHE, increased community awareness of the value of SHE’s natural resources, negative human-wildlife interactions are minimized, communities are receiving tangible benefits from conservation of natural resources, there is enhanced agroforestry practices and restoration of degraded farmlands, and communities adopt efficient and sustainable energy practices.

2.6 Shimba Hills Ecosystem Operations and Security Programme

The aim of the Shimba Hills Ecosystem Operations and Security Programme is to ensure that SHE’s operational systems and structures effectively and efficiently support the implementation and achievement of all SHE management programmes’ objectives. To fulfil this purpose, Shimba Hills Ecosystem stakeholders will endeavour to ensure that institutional collaboration is formalised and strengthened through MOUs, capacity, performance and motivation of SHE staff is improved, SHE natural resources and visitors are safeguarded and infrastructure to support SHE management is improved.

2.7 Research and Education Management Programme

The Research and Education Management Programme aims at conducting conservation related research that will generate knowledge on the ecosystem, support education, conservation actions and management interventions. The programme also aims at ensuring that critical habitats and their elements are well documented, conserved and restored, threatened, endangered and endemic species are conserved, managed, and monitored based on sound scientific knowledge, ecological elements and processes to support adaptive management are understood and effects of climate change on ecosystem and species dynamics are understood.

3. PLAN IMPLEMENTATION, MONITORING AND EVALUATION

The plan’s implementation, monitoring and evaluation will be undertaken by the Ecosystem’s stakeholders through a Plan Implementation Committee comprising of representatives from Shimba Hills Conservation Forest Association, Mwaluganje Elephant Sanctuary, Kenya Wildlife Service, Kenya Forest Service, County Government of Kwale, National Environment Management Authority, Water Resource Users Associations, National Government Administration Officers and coopted members from key stakeholder institutions.
