After the words "any wall" in sub-rule (c) of Rule 1 of the Principal Rules the following sub-rule (d) shall be added —

(d) To remove or reconstruct any portion of a building which abuts on a street and which stands within the regular line of such street

The following shall be added as sub-section 2 to Rule 1 of the Principal Rules —

1 (2) Every notice of intention to carry out any building or work as provided in sub-section (c) shall be accompanied by a Building Survey fee of Rs 3/- and any notice given under sub-section (c) shall be deemed not to have been given until such Building Survey fee has been paid

3 For the purposes of the Principal Rules the expression "To erect a building" means newly to erect a building, to re-erect any building the masonry of which is pulled down or turned down to the plinth, to re-erect any frame building so far pulled down as to leave only the frame thereof, to convert into a dwelling house any building not originally intended for human habitation, to convert into more than one dwelling house a building originally constructed as one dwelling house, the conversion of two or more buildings originally constructed as separate dwelling houses into a greater or less number of dwelling houses than the original number for which they were constructed, the reconversion into a dwelling house of any building which has been discontinued as and appropriated for any purpose other than that of a dwelling house, the conversion of a dwelling house into any other building not intended for human habitation, the roofing or covering over of an open space between walls or buildings

The width of the piers may nevertheless be reduced if the projection is proportionately increased, the horizontal sectional area not being diminished, but the projection of any such pier shall in no case exceed one-third of its width.

19 Nothing contained in these rules shall prevent the erection of concrete, brick or stone walls of lesser thickness if supported by steelwork or other adequate supports or of concrete walls of lesser thickness provided that they are sufficiently reinforced to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Conservancy.

20 CROSS WALLS.—The thickness of every cross wall shall be at least two thirds the thickness prescribed by these Rules for an external wall or party wall of the same height and length and belonging to the same class of building but, subject to Rule 18 (k) shall in no case be less than six inches or in the case of a brick wall $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches.

In interpreting this Rule, if a building situated on a corner plot so as to abut upon more than one street, the height of the building shall be regulated by the widest of such streets so far as such building will abut or abuts upon such widest street, and also so far as it will abut or abuts upon any narrower street to a distance of 40 feet from such widest street, and the building shall be deemed to front upon such widest street, and the back of such building shall be deemed to be the side thereof which lies to the rear of and parallel or most nearly parallel with its frontage.

For the purposes of this Rule, a building shall be held to have a frontage or back upon a street if a line drawn at right angles to the frontage or back line of such building from any point thereon so as not to pass through or over such building but in the opposite direction would if produced towards such street cross the same without passing over any plot or sub-plot except that upon which such building stands

25 A dwelling house shall not be so erected added to or altered that more than two thirds of the plot or sub-plot on which it stands shall be built over, and no erection of any kind whatever shall be so erected, added to or altered upon any plot or sub plot upon which such a dwelling house stands, that more than two thirds of such plot or sub plot shall be built over

26 Where the only open space upon which any room shall abut is an internal open space or courtyard such internal space shall have an area equal to not less than one-eighth of the aggregate floor area of all the rooms in any one storey abutting thereon, and shall be kept free from all erections and open to the sky and open to access from a public way by a passage which shall be at least 4 feet in width along its entire length and the solum of which shall also be kept free from all erections whatever And all buildings abutting on an internal open space shall be so erected that a line drawn from the guttering of the roof at any point to any point on the base of a wall opposite shall form an angle of not more than 45 degrees with the ground

27 Every person who shall erect a new domestic building shall construct in the wall of each storey of such building which shall immediately front or abut on such open spaces as, in pursuance of the Rules in that behalf shall be provided in connection with such building, a sufficient number of suitable windows, in such a manner and in such a position that each of such windows shall afford effectual means of ventilation by direct communication with the external air

28 Every person who shall construct a new domestic building shall so construct every floor of a room therein as to be effectually protected against damp

29 Every person who shall erect a new domestic building shall construct in every habitable room of such building one glazed window, at the least, opening directly into the external air Such person shall cause the total area of such window, or, if there be more than one, of the several windows, clear of the frames to be equal at the least to one-eighth of the floor area of such room Such person shall also construct every such window so that one half at the least may be opened, and so that the opening may extend in every case to the top of the window

Provided that a window in a wall situated upon or within 6 feet of any boundary of the plot or sub-plot upon which the building stands shall not be deemed to open upon the external air, unless the space on the other side of such boundary shall for a distance of at least 6 feet from such window measured at right angles from any part thereof, be space which shall be proved to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Conservancy to be reserved as an open space

30 Every person who shall erect a new building shall cause every habitable room of such building which is without a fire-place and a flue, to be provided with adequate means of ventilation to the satisfaction of the Medical Officer of Health

31 Every person who shall erect a new domestic building shall so construct every room which shall be situated in the lowest storey of such building, and shall be provided with a boarded floor, that there shall be for the purpose of ventilation between the under side of every joist on which such floor may be laid and the upper surface of the ground or of the asphalt or concrete with which such ground is covered a clear space of nine inches at the least in every part, and he shall cause such space to be thoroughly ventilated by means of suitable and sufficient ventilators to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Conservancy

32 Every person who shall erect a new building shall cause such building to be provided with means of ventilation which shall be adequate in the opinion of the Medical Officer of Health
