THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO 65 OF 1974

Parties -

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers
and

Insurance Employers Group of F K E

Issue in dispute -

Wage increase

1 The Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Insurance Employers Group of F K E shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on 8th and 23rd January, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form 'A' dated 26th September, 1974, was received by the Court on 23rd October along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner

The dispute before the Court has arisen because the Claimants are demanding a 20 per cent salary increase to offset the rising cost of living The Claimants had forwarded a general circular to all the employers in their industry following a letter written by the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour, to the Secretary General, COTU, on 25th February, 1974, copies of which letter were sent to the Treasury, Office of the President and the Federation of Kenya Employers The Claimants asked the employers in this circular to reopen negotiations on wage/salary clauses in view of the recent increases in the cost of living The Respondents also received this circular but informed the Claimants that in their current agreement there was a wage reopener clause after 30 months from 1st January, 1973 Further more the Industrial Court had given an award on 24th September, 1973, after taking into account the substantial increases which took place between April and September, 1973 The Respondents therefore refused to enter into any negotiations with the Claimants other than as provided for in the current collective agreement

The historical background leading up to this dispute has a great bearing on it The parties appeared before the Court vide Cause No 27/73 which was registered by the Court on 14th June, 1973 The hearing was concluded on 10th August and the award was announced on 24th September, 1973

Thereafter the parties drew up a collective agreement and signed it on 29th September, 1973 This agreement was subsequently registered by the Court in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Disputes Act on 23rd November, 1973, after the Minister for Labour and the Court were satisfied that it was in conformity with the Guidelines as they stood at that time

For the purposes of record it should be clarified that the Guidelines were issued to the Industrial Court on 29th August, 1973, in accordance with section 9, subsection 10, of the Trade Disputes Act On 25th February, 1974, because of the representations made by COTU on behalf of the workers in Kenya, the Permanent Secretary wrote the aforesaid letter to COTU However on 20th March, 1974, the Minister for Finance issued Clarifications and Amendments to the Guidelines on 29th August, 1973 In paragraph 3 the Minister directed the Court as follows—

"Guideline (x) suggests that the level of remuneration of any one section of workers should not be reviewed more often than once every twenty four months Whilst the Court should continue to adhere to the principle that remuneration clauses should be binding for at least two years, it should not object to arrangements, whereby the parties voluntarily agree to review the agreement after one year provided that the revision conforms with Guideline (iv) "

During the hearing the Claimants relied strongly on the assumption that because the original Guidelines were not clear on whether or not the workers were entitled to cost of living increases in addition to their share in the increase in the national economy the Court did not take into account the cost of living and they were therefore entitled to pursue their demand of 20 per cent salary increase in accordance with the aforesaid letter from the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour

The Respondents on the other hand rejected this submission and maintained that the Claimants were attempting to break a voluntarily negotiated collective agreement before its expiry date and further they, the Claimants, were asking the Court to disregard the Court's own award which it had made on 24th September, 1973

The Court feels that this dispute has raised some very important fundamental points which go to the root of industrial relations in Kenya. For this reason this dispute has acquired great importance and the Court would like to clarify the position for the benefit of the parties in future.

To begin with the Court would like to dispel the idea which the Claimants' leaders may still have that the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour's letter dated 25th February, 1974, was still operative. The fact is that it has been superseded by the Clarifications and Amendments to the Guidelines issued by the Minister for Finance and Planning on 20th March, 1974, the relevant part of which has been quoted hereinabove. The Permanent Secretary himself subscribes to this view as is clear from the letter dated 27th March 1974 which the Claimants themselves produced to the Court.

The other point is how often are the unions going to be allowed to put forward demands for wage/salary increases in view of the rising cost of living. Are we going to revise agreements every few months when there is an increase in the cost of living index? The answer is surely no as otherwise there will be no end to these disputes for any given period of time and the employers will never know with any certainty where they stand in relation to wage and salary demands. Surely the employers too are entitled to know precisely how and when they are likely to meet demands from the unions for wage and salary increases so that they can plan finances accordingly.

One other important point which cropped up during the hearing is the position of workers in these circumstances who are entitled to yearly increments in a fairly long agreement. The Court in its award in Cause No 27/73 on which the parties' collective agreement is based, made the award on the various categories as follows —

“Subordinate Grade £350 by £40 to £590
Special Subordinate Grade £470 by £40 to £710
Clerical Grade II £661.25 by £40.25 to £1,104

(i) Provided that no employee shall get an increase less than Sh 40 per month for the first year from the agreed effective date.

(ii) Where the calculation of salary based on this increase of Sh 40 falls between two incremental stages he will enter the scale at the next higher incremental stage.

Clerical Grade I £885 by £50 to £1,585

(i) Provided that no employee shall get an increase of less than Sh 50 per month for the first year from the agreed effective date.

(ii) Where the calculation of salary based on this increase of Sh 50 falls between two incremental stages he will enter the scale at the next higher incremental stage.

Senior Clerical £1,320 by £60 to £2,220

(i) Provided that no employee shall get an increase of less than Sh 60 per month for the first year from the agreed effective date.

(ii) Where the calculation of salary based on this increase of Sh 60 falls between two incremental stages he will enter the scale at the next higher incremental stage.

The Claimants stated that the increments awarded by the Court were not automatic in that some workers had been denied these increments but the Respondents rejected this contention and made it quite clear that they had interpreted the Court award to mean that these increments were not merit increases and therefore could not be stopped.

The fact of the matter is that all the workers had received their annual increments in January, 1975.

The Court places a great importance on the wage reopener clause to which both the parties are agreed. The collective agreement is of five years' duration effective from 1st January, 1973, but clause 16 clearly stipulates that the wage and salary clause can be reopened after 30 months from that date. This means that the reopener clause shall become operative from the middle of this year. The Court is of the view that it is not too long a wait for the workers who, after the Court award, had also been granted the annual wage increments. Negotiations can be expected to commence in April this year so that they can be satisfactorily concluded to coincide with the new effective date of the salary increases if any.

The Court would like to add that the Claimants have in fact acted with great prudence and foresight in embodying the reopener clause in the five-year agreement. The reopener clause is intended to cater for exactly the same contingency as the Claimants put forward in this dispute in respect of their 20 per cent increase.

The analysis carried out by the Employment Promotion Division states as follows in its paragraph 3 —

“Since the current agreement became effective from 1st January, 1973, in respect of South British Insurance Ltd, Kenya National Assurance Co Ltd, the Old Mutual, and from 1st November 1972 for Norwich Union Fire Insurance and 1st September, 1973, for Phoenix the Wage Earner's Cost of Living Index has increased by 29.7, 30.6 and 16.2 per cent respectively up to November, 1974, excluding the effect of indirect taxes. The wage increases which have been paid under the current agreement at the same time amount to an average of 16.15, 30, 33.4, 29 and 29 up to 1st January, 1975, respectively for the above mentioned companies or a total average of 27.5 per cent.”

After a careful consideration of all the submissions the Court rejects the Claimants' demand for a 20 per cent salary increase and directs the parties that they should stick to the provisions in their collective agreement which has a reopener clause after 30 months from 1st January, 1973.

Parties —

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and

James Warren & Company (Africa) Ltd

Issue in dispute — Wage increases

1 The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and James Warren and Company (Africa) Ltd shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 20th day of January, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form “A” dated 8th October, 1974, was received by the Court on 6th November along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties have a valid agreement in force which was signed on 24th October, 1973, and which came into effect on 1st October, 1973, to run for two years, i.e. up to 30th September, 1975. In this agreement the parties have set out wage rates for job categories for groups 1 to 8 and in addition it is stipulated that every employee shall receive a wage increase on top of his monthly salary as follows —

	Sh
Groups 1-3	60
Groups 4-8	80

This agreement was forwarded to the Court for registration as required under the Trade Disputes Act and the Court registered it on 23rd November, 1973, after satisfying itself that the agreement was in conformity with the Guidelines as they stood at the time—the relevant entry being RCA 5/73.

On 3rd May, 1974, the Claimants approached the Respondents for a review of the wages because of the galloping inflation which had seriously eroded the workers' earnings. The Claimants further pointed out that at the time the aforesaid agreement was concluded the housing element formed the major part of the wage increases granted. The cost of living factor had, however, not been taken into consideration.

The Respondents rejected this demand on the ground that when the aforesaid agreement was concluded the increases in the cost of living had already become apparent and were therefore included in the discussion which resulted in the agreement as executed.

The dispute is now before the Court and the Claimants have asked for an award of 20 per cent wage increase with effect from 1st June, 1974, to compensate the workers for the cost of living increases

The Claimants pointed out that the Respondents were one of those few employers who still believed and paid a starvation wage to their employees and whereas most of the employers in their industry had granted wage and salary increases to compensate the workers for the rising cost of living the Respondents had refused to do so. The Claimants relied on the COTU representations to the Government for a general wage increase to all the workers in the country and the subsequent developments that took place ending up with a letter from the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour, to COTU in which it was stated that the individual unions should approach the various employers for re-opening wage and salary clauses

The analysis carried out by the Employment Promotion Division shows that from 1st October, 1973, the cost of living index has increased by 15.5 per cent up to November, 1974. Wage increases which had been paid under the current agreement at the same time amount to an average of 19 per cent ranging between 10.1 and 24.3 per cent for different categories of employees

The Court would like to emphasize that the Guidelines are quite clear and specific in that it is suggested that the level of remuneration should not be reviewed more often than once every two years. The Amendments to the Guidelines issued on 20th March, 1974, after the Permanent Secretary's aforesaid letter enable the Court to review revisions of collective agreements after one year only if such a revision is voluntary on the part of the parties and the increases contemplated do not exceed the cost of living increases. At this stage the Court is not inclined to go deeply into the other submissions made by the parties on the issues in dispute because as the matter stands now the Court has come to the conclusion that the Claimants should wait till the expiry of the current collective agreement before they can ask for increases in wages and salaries both by way of compensation for loss of money value and increase in rates for the grades.

The Court has made it abundantly clear that a proper system has to be maintained if the industrial relations are to remain on the same smooth footing as in the past in Kenya. One prerequisite for this is that the parties should honour the collective agreements which they have freely and voluntarily negotiated and which have further been registered by the Court after they were found to be in conformity with the Guidelines issued by the Minister for Finance and Planning to the Industrial Court. It is only a matter of time, in fact three to five months, before the Claimants can embark on negotiations for revising the current agreement and they will no doubt take care that the workers are adequately compensated by way of wage increases within the Guidelines for restoring their purchasing power.

For the foregoing reasons the Court rejects the Claimants' demand.

AWARD

3 Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 25th September, 1974 was received by the Court on 15th November, along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner

The parties had signed a collective agreement on terms and conditions of employment which came into effect on 1st February, 1972. The collective agreement was to run for a period of 24 months and the date of the latest revision of wages was 1st February, 1973

The current position, i.e. in terms of the aforesaid collective agreement regarding minimum rates for the various grades is as follows —

Minimum rates	No of employees	Current rates of existing employees	Minimum grade rates as from 1-2-72	Minimum grade rates as from 1-2-73	Per cent increase as from 1-2-73
Grade III Unskilled workers—

C Head Manufacturer, Storeman	Nil	—	500	550	10
D Charge hand	1	630	580	630	9
E Copy typist	Nil	—	650	700	8

The analysis carried out by the Employment Promotion Division shows that from 1st February, 1973 to December, 1974 the cost of living has gone up by 29 per cent

During the hearing when the parties appeared before the Court to elaborate their written submissions they asked for a short adjournment to consider the possibility of settling the dispute among themselves in view of the latest Amendments to the Guidelines issued to the Court by the Minister for Finance and Planning. The adjournment was granted and the parties then recorded the following arrangement —

- (i) The Respondents to award 10 per cent wage compensation to all existing employees for 12 months on the rates for the grades from 1st February, 1974 to 31st January, 1975
- (ii) The agreement shall come into effect on 1st February, 1975, and will remain in force for a period of 24 months from that date
- (iii) Wage increases from 1st February, 1975, for the next 24 months shall be determined by the Court to ensure that they fall within the Guidelines "

The Court has taken into consideration all the submissions made by the parties and the Guidelines with all the amendments thereto before formulating the wage increases as requested by the parties

The Court notes that the maximum percentage to which the lowest paid employees are entitled to compensation under the Guidelines of 31st January, 1975, is 29 per cent. This maximum would apply only in the case of workers earning less than Sh 250 p.m. Above that wage level, the rate of compensation should decline uniformly up to Sh 2,000 p.m. where it becomes zero

The Court has paid particular attention to the Respondents' competitive position as put forward in their submission and the loss of their Uganda market and reduction in their trade with Tanzania and Ethiopia

Issue Nos 1 and 3

The Court awards the following wage increases to all employees in the various grades as specified hereunder —

Grade	No of employees	Current rates as at 1-2-73	With effect from 1-2-75	With effect from 1-2-76

Over the years the Claimants and the Kenya Association of Building & Civil Engineering Contractors (hereinafter referred to as the Association) of the Federation of Kenya Employers have embarked on negotiations which then form the basis of the Regulation of Wages Order in the Building and Construction Industry

The latest Order being the Regulation of Wages (Building and Construction Industry) 1974, came into operation on 13th December, 1974

The Respondents joined the Association in October, 1974 but prior to that they had recognized the Claimants in November, 1973, and thereafter the parties had held negotiations on a collective agreement with the result that in October, 1974, they had agreed on all the items except the three in dispute

The important feature of this agreement is that the parties have agreed on the basic minimum monthly rate for a labourer at Sh 335—Sh 1/75 per hour. This is 26 cents more than the statutory rate prescribed in the aforesaid latest Order of 1974

In April, 1974, the Respondents granted wage increases to their employees which totalled an average wage increase of 19.8 per cent ranging between 11 and 89.9 per cent. The Court, however, accepts that these were in fact adjustments made by the Respondents to bring the rates of their employees up to the statutory rates prevailing at the time. They can therefore not strictly be construed as being wage increases

In addition the Respondents granted merit increments amounting to an average of 2.6 per cent of the present total monthly wage bill to 17 out of 66 unionizable employees with effect from 1st November, 1974

The Claimants demand the various minimum rates for all the categories specified in the Regulation of Wages Order starting for some of the groups at Sh 550 going up to a maximum of Sh 1,600 per month. Full details of their demands appear in Appendix 3 of their submission

The Claimants further demand a house allowance of Sh 120 per month for those employees who are not provided with free and reasonable housing accommodation by the Respondents

Finally the Claimants asked the Court to award the effective date to be 1st April, 1974, for a duration of 24 months which they had agreed with the Respondents. They pointed out however that during conciliation they had suggested 1st June, 1974, to be effective date as against which the employers had proposed 1st September, 1974

The Respondents supplied all the relevant information to the Court regarding the adjustments made in April, 1974, and the merit increases granted by them

They submitted that although they were not members of the Association they were closely allied to the building and civil engineering industry. They pointed out that the agreement which they had reached under conciliation on basic conditions of service very closely followed the agreement between the Association and the Claimants

For the aforesaid reasons the Respondents asked the Court to award that as they were now a member of the Association which has an agreement now adopted as Wages Regulation Order, the basic minimum for them should be exactly similar to those contained in the agreement and the latest Wages Regulation Order

On housing allowance they submitted that the statutory house allowance should be awarded, this being Sh 40 if free housing accommodation is not provided

On effective date they suggested 13th December, 1974

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that the Respondents should pay 13 cents more than the basic minimum wage rates per hour specified in the First Schedule to the Regulation of Wages (Building and Construction Industry) Order, 1974, for all the categories specified in column 1 for the first year and a further 13 cents increase for the second year

The Court further awards that those employees who are already in receipt of an hourly rate which is more than the statutory rate plus 13 cents per hour will not benefit from this award in the first year and the same condition will apply for the second year for those in receipt of the statutory rate plus 26 cents

The Court further directs that those employees who are below the statutory hourly rate plus 13 cents shall be brought up to the rate as awarded by the Court

2 Housing allowance or free housing accommodation

The Court awards that those employees who are not provided with free and reasonable housing accommodation by the Respondents shall be entitled to, in addition to their basic wages, a house allowance at the rate of Sh 40 per month

3 Effective date of the agreement

The Court awards that the effective date of the agreement shall be 13th December, 1974

Given in Nairobi this 3rd day of March, 1975
