THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 23 OF 1975

Parties —

Kenya Management Staff Association
and
African Safari Airways Limited

Issue in dispute — Termination of services of Miss Peggy Mueke

1 The Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and African Safari Airways Ltd shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on 18th and 19th June, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The Claimants called Miss Mueke to give evidence on oath during the hearing

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th March, 1975, was received by the Court on 24th April, along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner

Miss Peggy Mueke was engaged by the Respondents as an air hostess with effect from 15th August, 1970, at a monthly salary of Sh 700. Prior to that she had worked for the East African Airways in a similar position but resigned from their employment in January, 1970

In her letter of appointment it is provided that her services could be terminated after the probationary period with one month's notice on either side or the equivalent salary in lieu

She was confirmed in her appointment and apparently continued to perform her services satisfactorily until 12th September, 1973, when she is alleged to have left the airport without the Captain's permission and had gone home to take a bath. There was, however, no allegation of any financial loss having been suffered by the Respondents as a result of this incident as the flight in any case had been delayed. She was served with a letter of warning on 14th September, 1973

In October, 1973, her salary was increased to Sh 2,200 p.m. having been once previously increased to Sh 900 p.m. The Court was informed that she received this big increase along with all the other air hostesses employed by the Respondents as they had switched over to bigger jet planes which necessitated catering for a greater number of passengers hence increased work load and responsibilities on the air hostesses

On 29th August, 1974, it is alleged that when the Respondents' flight was about to take off Miss Mueke had feigned illness and the Captain had to switch off one engine leaving two other engines running for a period of about 15 minutes with the result that the Respondents suffered a financial loss in the region of Sh 14,000

On 4th September, 1974, she was notified that her services with the Respondents will terminate with effect from 31st October, 1974

Miss Mueke sought the assistance of her brother-in-law, then an Assistant Commissioner of Police at Nyeri, with a view to getting her job back who approached the Respondents and was given an explanation of the circumstances leading to her termination. She then approached the Director of Kenyanization of Personnel Bureau alleging that the Respondents had dismissed a Kenyan and had retained in employment other hostesses who were non-Kenyans. Here again she met with no success and the Court notes that Miss Mueke's job has since been taken over by another Kenyan of African origin

Thereafter the Claimants came into the picture and on their own admission which they made in Court, Miss Mueke joined them after her services had been terminated by the Respondents and further that they had no recognition and collective agreement with the Respondents

The Claimants having reported a dispute to the Ministry of Labour on 30th October, 1974, an Investigator was appointed and on 5th February, 1975, the Chief Industrial Relations Officer forwarded his findings and recommendations to the parties in which he recommended that Miss Mueke should be reinstated without loss of salary or other benefits or she be paid six months' salary for loss of earnings plus other terminal benefits as provided in her letter of appointment

The Court notes with regret that the Investigator mixed up the facts of the dispute and the Court therefore intends to completely disregard the findings of the Investigator and the Chief Industrial Relations Officer's recommendations based on such findings

Before proceeding further in the matter the Court would like to draw the Claimants' attention to rules 2 and 3 (a) of their registered constitution Rule 2 clearly states that the Claimants' organization is there mainly to regulate and improve relations between its members and their employers Rule 3 (a) provides that membership of the Association shall be open to all persons over the age of 16 years employed by any company, organization, institution or corporation which is registered, incorporated or practising in Kenya who perform managerial, professional, executive, administrative or disciplinary supervisory or inspectorial, representational duties and foremen no longer qualified for membership of any of the existing trade unions Moreover section 29 (1) of the Trade Unions Act stipulates that all officers and members of every trade union (not being an association of trade unions) shall be persons actually engaged or employed in an industry or occupation with which the union is directly concerned

From the foregoing and on the Claimants' own admission that Miss Mueke had joined them after her services were terminated, the Court feels duty bound to comment that it has great doubts as to the propriety of the Claimants claiming to represent and appear on behalf of a person who was not a member of their union at the time of her dismissal The Court hopes that the Claimants will see it fit to conduct themselves within their own constitution and within the relevant statutory provisions

Having said that, the Court finds in the present case that notwithstanding the fact that Miss Mueke can by no means be deemed to be a member of management, the Respondents having signed the Notification of Dispute Form "A" leave the Court with no alternative but to process the dispute in the normal manner

The Court must therefore act on the assumption that the Respondents have agreed and subjected themselves to an inquiry by the Industrial Court to determine whether or not they were justified on grounds of misconduct to terminate the services of Miss Mueke

The Court was quite impressed by the evidence of Miss Mueke and although the Respondents' spokesman alleged that all that glitters is not gold the Court is satisfied on the balance of probabilities and the evidence which was produced during the hearing that the Respondents were wrong to take such a drastic action against Miss Mueke on mere assumption that she was feigning illness without any corroborative evidence from a doctor showing that she was malingering

The only medical evidence produced was a certificate from Dr J R Copper who is the Respondents' doctor for their employees and he has stated that Miss Mueke attended his surgery for a professional consultation at 12 30 p m on 29th August, 1974 The Respondents gave an account of how Miss Mueke behaved after she left the plane to show that outwardly she appeared to be in no pain or in need of any medical assistance The Court is not inclined to accept or act on such suspicions Miss Mueke told the Court that she had acute pain in the stomach but put up a brave face and when she left the plane none of the Respondents' other employees assisted her and as the Respondents recognized only Dr J R Copper she saw him at the earliest he could see her which was at 12 30 p m The doctor later arranged to have her X-rayed

Miss Mueke had served the Respondents for four years and during this time the only complaints against her are the two aforesaid incidents of 12th September, 1973 and 29th August, 1974 The Respondents did not put forward any other incidents or any other warning regarding her work performance during this period

After a careful consideration of all the submissions the Court is satisfied that the Respondents had no justification for terminating Miss Mueke's services for the incident of 29th August, 1974

The Court has repeatedly made its position clear in relation to the parties' contractual obligations on the termination of the employees' services and the Court's right to satisfy itself whether or not an employee deserved termination The Court does not intend to go into that all over again in this dispute

The Court is satisfied that in terms of industrial relations Miss Mueke has suffered a wrongful termination and the Court awards that she should be paid three months salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that she has suffered This includes the one month's notice to which she is entitled in any case
