2. The Parties were heard in Nairobi on the 12th day of July 1966, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

GENERAL BACKGROUND

3. The Respondents recognized the Claimants in 1963 and the present dispute stems from negotiations carried out between the Parties when the Claimants forwarded their demands on 22 items to the Respondents on 13th January 1966, suggesting various amendments and additions to the existing agreement on wages and general terms of service. This agreement had been signed by the Parties on 16th January 1965, with effect from 1st January 1964, for a period of 12 months.

The first Negotiating Committee meeting took place on 7th March 1966, during which agreement was reached on 10 issues leaving 12 in dispute.

The Claimants then reported the existence of a dispute to the Ministry of Labour and a conciliator was appointed. The conciliation meeting took place on 6th June 1966, and the Parties failed to resolve their differences on the aforesaid 12 issues. It was decided to refer the matter to the Industrial Court and the Parties signed the notification of dispute form on 8th June 1966, in accordance with the Trade Disputes Act 1965. During the hearing the Claimants conceded that the Appendix "A" attached to this form had not been agreed between the Parties and only reflected their demands on the issue of job classification.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANTS

4. (1) Wages and Job Classification.—The Claimants submitted that the Respondents had approached negotiations with a fixed mind of offering a wage increase of Sh. 5 only and did not budge from this either during negotiations or conciliation. The Claimants stated that they had demanded a minimum of Sh. 380 on the basis of the following job grading:—

- Grade 1.—Sh. 580 per calendar month
Drivers, Machine Operators.
- Grade II.—Sh. 460 per calendar month
Asst. M/Operators, Packers, Fillers, Labellers.
- Grade III.—Sh. 380 per calendar month
General Labourers and other lowest type of worker.

The Claimants submitted that they were fully justified in putting forward the aforesaid demands as it was their major aim to raise the standard of living of their members; cost of living had gone up considerably, and workers, being the major factor in any production, were entitled to enjoy profits. The Claimants followed this up by giving details of the cost of living increase, education expenses, increased taxes and submitted, that all these extra expenses left the workers with no alternative but to press for high wages. The Claimants requested the Court to take into account the fact that their present remuneration did not allow them to make both ends meet.

(2) Acting Allowance.—The Claimants submitted that this demand was linked with their demand of job classification and if the Court accepted the latter then they asked for the following new provision:—

"That an employee who is temporarily appointed to any acting capacity, shall receive such rate of pay, where such acting capacity carries a higher rate of pay than the job in which he/she is normally employed, and shall revert to his former rate of pay immediately on reverting to his former job."

The Claimants submitted that this was a normal clause and the Court should award it.

(3) Normal Working Hours.—The Claimants submitted that at present the employees worked 43 hours per week, but the wages they received were low. They requested the Court to reduce this to 40 hours per week exclusive of the meal breaks on the condition that if an employee was required to work in excess of such hours then he should be paid the appropriate overtime rates.

(4) Annual Paid Leave.—The Claimants demanded the following new provision in place of the present three calendar weeks' annual paid leave on completion of 12 months' service:—

- "(a) An employee who had completed one year or more but less than three years' continuous service with the Company, should be entitled to 24 working days' paid leave, after the completion of every 12 months' continuous service.
- (b) An employee with three years and more continuous service should be entitled to 30 working days' paid leave after the completion of every 12 months' continuous service.
- (c) In the event of Gazetted Public Holidays falling within the leave period such public holidays should be added to the leave entitlement.
- (d) The date of an employee's leave should normally fall after the completion of every 12 months' service from his/her date of engagement."

The Claimants submitted that this would bring the leave entitlement in line with the current practice in the country.

(5) Safari Allowance.—The Claimants demanded a safari allowance of Sh. 40 to pay for lodging, meals, etc., for any employee, who was absent from his normal place of work on Respondents' business and submitted that this was a normal practice.

(6) Termination of Employment.—The Claimants submitted that the present arrangement whereby the Respondents could terminate their employees' services by giving them one month's notice or payment of one month's wages in lieu, was most unsatisfactory, as this did not provide adequate security of service to the employees. The Claimants requested the Court to award the following new provision under this issue:—

- "(i) After completion of probationary period as specified under clause 14 and over but less than three years' service—two months' notice or two months' pay in lieu of such notice.
- (ii) On completion of three years' service and over with the Company—three months' notice or three months' pay in lieu of such notice.
- (iii) An employee who is guilty of an offence other than of gross misconduct or other lawful cause for dismissal may be given a warning in writing which shall be recorded in his/her history record card and which he/she shall be required to sign. The signature or initial of an employee on the history record card shall not mean that an employee pleading guilty of the offence recorded against such employee, but simply to confirm that it has been recorded during an employee's presence or with his/her knowledge, the employee shall be free to make an appeal against such warning in accordance with the procedure laid down by the recognition agreement between the Company and the Union. An employee who receives three such warnings may be liable to summary dismissal if the offence or other lawful cause of which he/she is deemed to be guilty is repeated, provided that all such warnings erased from the history record card of an employee after a period of 12 months from the date of last such warning. The Union shall be advised of a second warning being given to an employee."

(An extract from the Claimants' memorandum).

(7) Maternity Leave.—The Claimants requested the Court to grant female employees paid maternity leave up to six weeks and further unpaid maternity leave for a period of six weeks. The Claimants also asked the Court to rule that female employees on maternity leave should not lose continuity of their service.

(8) Uniforms and Overalls.—The Claimants demanded the following clause to replace the existing provision under this issue:—

"An employee who is required to wear a uniform or overall by nature of his/her work or in accordance with the provisions of the Factories Act, shall be issued with two pairs of uniforms or overalls free of charge by the Company. Such uniforms or overalls shall be replaced with new two pairs immediately after a period of 12 months. The Company shall be responsible for laundering such uniforms and overalls and that where the laundering is impracticable, the Company shall supply such employees with reasonable washing materials."

The Claimants submitted that this was a very fair and reasonable request and, therefore, it should be granted.

(9) Gratuity Payments.—The Claimants submitted that although the present arrangement under this issue was reasonable, they were not happy due to the fact that employees with long service were not entitled to the rate of pay for each completed year to which they were entitled by virtue of the length of their service. The present arrangement provided as follows:—

- (a) An employee with one to five years—one week's pay for each year.
- (b) An employee with six to 13 years—two weeks' pay for each year in excess of five years plus (a).
- (c) An employee with over 13 years—three weeks' pay for each year in excess of 13 plus (a) and (b).

The Claimants demanded the following new provisions to replace the aforesaid:—

- (a) On completion of one year up to five years' service, an employee of the Company should be paid a gratuity of one month's pay for each completed year of service.
- (b) An employee who had completed five years' service but less than 11 years, should be paid a gratuity of one and a half months' pay for each completed year of service.
- (c) An employee who had completed 11 years and over with the Company should be paid a gratuity of two months' pay for each completed year of service, all payments should be made at the employee's basic rate of pay in the final month of such service.

(10) Leave Allowance.—The Claimants submitted that at present employees did not get any leave allowance and requested the Court to award Sh. 100 leave allowance for employees in Grades 1 and 2 and Sh. 70 for employees in Grade 3. The Claimants argued that as the wages were extremely low, the Respondents should subsidize them by paying such fringe benefits.

(11) Medical Treatment.—The Claimants submitted that at present the following arrangement was in force:—

- "(i) An employee injured as a result of an accident falling within the terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act, shall be paid full pay for the period of temporary incapacity.
- (ii) Medical treatment shall be provided for employees in the manner set out in the Employment of Persons (Medical Treatment) Rules 1964."

As against this they requested the Court to award as follows:—

"The Company undertakes to pay the cost of such medical treatment and medical expenses in accordance with the provisions prescribed by the Law of Kenya relative to Employment of Persons Medical Treatment Rules. The payment of medical expenses will be paid for all employees of the Company, provided that such illnesses are those covered by the Act."

(12) Effective Date and Duration of the Court Award.—The Claimants blamed the Respondents for the delay in negotiations and requested the Court to make its award effective from 1st January 1966, and to fix its duration for a period of 12 months from that date.

The Claimants submitted various agreements which they had negotiated with other firms in support of their aforesaid demands.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

5. (1) Wages and Job Classification.—The Respondents submitted detailed agreements, which the Claimants had recently secured with three firms, either through direct negotiation or under an Industrial Court award, and pointed out that all these firms were of the same standing as the Respondents, in that they employed about nine or ten workers. The Respondents maintained that the present wage level, with a minimum of Sh. 205 per month for their employees, was well above the wage rates to be found in these three firms. In these circumstances they requested the Court to disregard the agreements submitted by the Claimants for the purpose of comparison because they related to firms, which employed workers in excess of 25 and went up to 500, as these comparisons would be unfair. The Respondents submitted that there was no need of job classification as all the employees did the same work. They requested the Court to accept their offer of Sh. 5 on the present wages, as it was a very reasonable offer, taking all the circumstances into account.

(2) Acting Allowance.—The Respondents submitted that if the Court accepted their submission on rejecting the job classification then this issue must also fail.

(3) Normal Working Hours.—The Respondents submitted that the Claimants had made no case whatsoever for the reduction in the working hours and the Court should, therefore, reject this demand.

(4) Annual Paid Leave.—The Respondents stated that the present provision of 21 consecutive days' leave was generous and was in line with the majority of the employers in the country and, therefore, should not be varied.

(5) Safari Allowance.—The Respondents stated that no employee was required to go on safari and, therefore, any award under this issue would be of academic interest only. They requested the Court to reject the Claimants' demand on this issue.

(6) Termination of Employment.—The Respondents submitted that they accepted the fact that the employees should have security regarding their service, but requested the Court to keep in mind, before making any award, that the employees should also, in return, honour their obligations and should not leave the service without giving appropriate notice.

(7) Maternity Leave.—The Respondents requested the Court to reject this demand as there was only one female employee and she was unmarried. The Respondents requested the Court not to make awards, whose value would only be academic.

(8) Uniforms and Overalls.—The Respondents drew the Court's attention to the following agreement which existed at present:—

"(i) Uniforms.—An employee who is required to wear uniforms shall be provided with two sets per annum. The Company shall be responsible for laundering such uniforms, but where this is impracticable then suitable washing materials shall be supplied to the employees.

(ii) Protective Clothing.—Protective clothing and equipment shall be supplied in accordance with the Factories Act."

The Respondents submitted that this was perfectly reasonable and should not be varied.

(9) Gratuity Payments.—The Respondents submitted that the Claimants had not made out any exceptional circumstances justifying the amendment to the present generous provisions under this head. They requested the Court to reject this demand.

(10) Leave Allowance.—The Respondents strongly argued that no new fringe benefits should be introduced as the trend was to move towards a clean wage. If any benefit had to be given to the employees it should be by way of increase in their wages.

(11) Medical Treatment.—The Respondents submitted that under this issue the Claimants' demand appeared to be acceptable and requested the Court, if it thought it fit, to make an award accordingly.

(12) Effective Date and Duration of the Court Award.—The Respondents submitted that there was absolutely no case for back-dating the Court award to 1st January 1966, and requested the Court to make its award effective from the time it was published. The Respondents agreed that the award should be of 12 months' duration.

The Respondents stated that they appreciated the aspirations of the workers but submitted that the Claimants should be realistic in their approach during negotiations and subsequent proceedings.

AWARD

6. The Court has very carefully considered the various submissions and arguments put forward by the Parties in coming to its findings.

(1) Wages and Job Classification.—The Court awards that all employees shall get an increase of Sh. 30 per month with effect from 1st June 1966.

Job Classification.—Nil award.

(2) Acting Allowance.—Nil award.

(3) Normal Working Hours.—Nil award.

(4) Annual Paid Leave.—The Court awards 21 consecutive days' paid leave provided that if a gazetted public holiday falls within this period then an extra day or days shall be added to the leave period.

(5) Safari Allowance.—The Court awards that an employee who is absent from his normal place of work on Respondents' business shall be granted a safari allowance to cover lodgings, meals and expenses appropriate to the employee's employment with the Respondents where such expenses are incurred.

(6) Termination of Employment.—The Court awards that the existing agreement as far as employees on probation are concerned is not varied but thereafter the following provisions shall apply:—

- (i) On completion of the probationary period as specified in the negotiated agreement between the Parties after three months and over but less than five years' service, one month's notice or one month's pay in lieu of such notice.
- (ii) On completion of five years' service and over with the Company—two months' notice or two months' pay in lieu of such notice.
- (iii) An employee who is guilty of an offence other than gross misconduct or other lawful cause of dismissal may be given written warning which shall be entered in the employee's employment record card and shall remain valid for a period of 12 months from the date of issue. If, within the 12 months' period, the employee commits a similar or any other offence which does not warrant dismissal, he will be further warned in writing in his employment record card, and the two warnings shall remain valid for a period of 12 months from the date of the second warning. If, within this 12 months' period the employee commits a further offence which does not warrant dismissal, he will be issued with a final letter of warning which will make him liable to summary dismissal for any other offence which he may commit thereafter. A final letter of warning will remain valid for a period of one year from the date of issue. A copy of the final warning shall be sent to the General Secretary of the Union.

(7) Maternity Leave.—Nil award.

(8) Uniforms and Overalls.—The Court makes a nil award under this issue as the present provision is fair and reasonable.

(9) Gratuity Payments.—The Court finds no exceptional circumstances to vary the existing agreement and, therefore, makes a nil award.

(10) Leave Allowance.—Nil award.

(11) Medical Treatment.—As the present provision is fair and reasonable, the Court makes a nil award under this issue.

(12) Effective Date and Duration of the Court Award.—This award shall be with effect from 1st June 1966, and shall remain in force for a period of 12 months from that date.
