1 The Kenya Union of Sugar Plantation Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Sugar Industry Group shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Kericho and Nairobi on the 29th day of April and the 2nd day of May 1969 respectively, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The President and Members of the Court, together with the Claimants' and Respondents' representatives, visited several sugar estates and factories on 22nd May 1969 and saw the workers' living conditions at Muhoroni, Chemelil and Miwani sugar estates. They also saw the workers at work at the Miwani Sugar Mills, the factories at Muhoroni and Chemelil had been closed for repairs

AWARD

The Respondents group is made up of the Chemelil Sugar Co., Bookers Agricultural Holdings Ltd (at Mumias) and the Kenya Sugar Employers' Union which has, within its membership of 40, two of the largest factories at Muhoroni and Miwani. The said Kenya Sugar Employers' Union had an agreement with the Claimants on terms and conditions relating to employees of their members effective for a period of 24 months from 1st May 1967

In October 1968 a dispute between the Kenya Sugar Employers' Union and the Claimants was brought before the Industrial Court, vide Cause No 43/68. At that time the parties, after discussion with the President of the Industrial Court, embarked on the formation of a sugar industry group to cover the whole country. As a result a recognition agreement was drawn and signed between the parties on 27th November 1968

The Claimants' demands, which involved radical changes in all the terms and conditions of workers in the sugar industry, were then discussed by the parties and deadlock having been reached at the Joint Industrial Council of the sugar industry and conciliation proceedings having failed to resolve the dispute, the matter came before the Industrial Court for adjudication on the aforesaid 17 issues

In its deliberations the Court had constantly before it the extremely important place that the sugar industry occupies in the economy of the country. The Court also took into consideration the Government objectives as laid down in the Revised Development Plan as far as the sugar industry was concerned. In fact when the President and Members of the Court toured the sugar estates at Muhoroni, Chemelil and Miwani, they were deeply impressed by the tremendous progress that had been made in this industry. It appears that the Government is rapidly achieving its targets as laid down in the Revised Development Plan

The Court has also taken into consideration the fact that the sugar industry is labour intensive and it should—

- (a) provide the greatest number of employment opportunities in the various areas where sugar schemes have been established, and
- (b) provide the maximum opportunities for farmers to grow and sell cane

The Court has given very careful consideration to the financial aspect of the industry as stressed by the Respondents in their submissions, particularly the following two paragraphs —

"It is also relevant that a major portion of the sugar industry is functioning with loan capital. The first two or three years are unproductive years and it would not be in the interests of the industry were a situation to arise that unjustified increases in the labour costs were to jeopardize the position vis-a-vis the repayment of loans and the obtaining of fresh capital which can have an adverse effect on the price of cane, limiting the amount of money channelled to settlement and co-operative cane producers

"The Mumias area has no valuable cash crop at the present moment and it is anticipated that some five thousand farmers will be supplying cane to the factory when it is established. Not only in that area but in Muhoroni, Chemelil and Miwani where some 20,000 acres will be diverted to cane growing by settlers and small holders. In addition, the Chemelil Sugar Co Ltd intends to employ 3,000 persons—an increase of just under 400 per cent on the current position. The Mumias scheme, if it is successful, will swell their employment opportunities over 2,000"

The Respondents argued that any award in any one section of the agricultural and plantation industry would have an effect on the others and bring about a negotiating spiral. This, to a considerable extent, is true but the fact nevertheless remains that the economics of each section of agricultural and plantation industry are very much different and are bound to vary from time to time

The Court has been influenced by the aforesaid factors in its award which appears hereinbelow on the various issues in dispute

Employment—In this age and date the Court cannot allow a system which smacks of indentured labour, or which can allow a person to exploit his fellow human beings. The Court feels that the system of getting workers through the so-called "labour contractors who by no means are sub-contractors, as they themselves do not engage any workers but get an agreed commission per head of labour supplied to an estate owner, must go. There is an elaborate system of employment bureaux throughout the country being operated by the Ministry of Labour and the employers should recruit their labour through them

On the question of casual labour the Court finds that the employers have the right to offer monthly or casual employment as indeed a worker has the right to work on casual or monthly terms. What is not right is that this system of casual employment should be abused. The Court has very carefully examined the policy document of the Federation of Kenya Employers and finds that it is a fair document and can form a basis for eliminating abuse of casual employment. The Court awards that the Claimants and the Employers should ensure in accordance with the said FKE directive that casual workers are not exploited at the various sugar estates. The local union official and the estate manager should see that the provisions of the document are being complied with

The Court does award, however, that if a worker has been offered work regularly as a casual for a period of three months, he should immediately be converted to monthly terms

Termination of Employment—The Court awards that the services of a worker who has worked for seven years or less shall be terminable with one month's notice by either side or pay in lieu thereof and in case of a worker with more than seven years' service there shall be a two-month notice or pay in lieu thereof from either side

Severance pay—The demand made by the Claimants was for the payment of severance pay in case of termination of services or redundancy involving a monthly worker. During negotiations, however, the Respondents made offers linking the payment of severance pay to redundancy. Presumably when the Respondents made their written submissions on this issue they reiterated their offers made during negotiations although they did not specifically state that they were related to redundancy

The Court is satisfied that there is a case for awarding severance pay on redundancy. The Court accordingly awards that a worker should be paid severance pay on redundancy at the rate of 14 days for every completed year of service

Hours of Work—The Court is of the view that time is not yet opportune in Kenya to start a reduction in the number of working hours. At present, emphasis should be on hard work and a reduction in the number of working hours will not actually reduce the number of hours worked but will only lead to more overtime work, thus adding to the overall cost of sugar production.

Overtime—The Court awards that—

- (1) in respect of any time worked in excess of the normal hours of work per day, the employee shall be paid at one-and-a-half times his normal rate of wages per hour,
- (2) in respect of any time worked on a Sunday or a public holiday to which the employee is entitled, he shall be paid at double his normal rate of wages per hour.

Sick Leave—The Court awards that after one month's continuous service, an employee shall be entitled to sick leave with full pay up to a maximum of 30 days with full pay, and thereafter to sick leave up to a maximum of 30 days with half pay, in each period of 12 months' continuous service, subject to the employee producing a certificate of incapacity covering each period of sick leave claimed, signed by a medical practitioner or person acting on his behalf in charge of a dispensary or medical aid centre.

Provided that an employee shall not be eligible for such leave in respect of any incapacity due to gross neglect on his own part.

Injury on Duty—The Court awards that a worker injured on duty should be entitled to sick pay as awarded hereinabove. This would be without prejudice to the worker's rights under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

Annual Leave—The Court awards that a worker shall get 18 working days' annual leave on completion of 12 months' consecutive service.

Leave Allowance—The Court makes a nil award but would like to state that where workers are at present being provided with transport by the employers to the nearest town, they should continue to do so.

Public Holidays—In Uganda and Tanzania the workers in the sugar industry are allowed all the gazetted holidays with full pay. In Kenya they are allowed only six as in the case of coffee, tea and sisal industries.

The Court has very carefully considered all aspects of this issue and its likely effect on the other sections of the plantation and agricultural industry and has come to the conclusion that the workers should be allowed the following seven public holidays with full pay—

- 1 New Year's day
- 2 Easter Monday
- 3 Labour day
- 4 Madaraka day
- 5 Kenyatta day
- 6 Republic day
- 7 Christmas day

Housing and Housing Allowance—The President and Members of the Court undertook an extensive tour of the sugar estates and visited several housing units and factories at Muhoroni, Chemelil and Miwani. The Court found that whereas in some estates the houses provided were of reasonably good standard, at other places some of the houses were shocking and should have been condemned. It is disgraceful for the employers concerned to house their employees in such conditions. It is apparent that the Government and County Council officers whose function it is to ensure that housing which is provided for workers on the estates is up to the statutory standard have failed to do their duty.

The Court directs that these officers should immediately visit these places and take the necessary action. In fact sanitary conditions in some of the places were of the worst kind and if urgent measures are not taken there is a grave danger of an outbreak of an epidemic. Unfortunately housing is such a problem in the agricultural industry that the Court cannot do much other than to draw the authorities' attention to the state of affairs it found.

Medical Treatment—The Court cannot at this stage make an award which would place the responsibility of medical treatment of a worker's family on an employer, more so in view of the fact that the Government is rapidly moving towards providing free medical treatment to everyone in the country.

The Court does, however, feel that the employers should provide free transport to workers' families to the nearest health centre, dispensary or hospital and so awards.

Shift Allowance—Nil award.

Wages—During the hearing the Court was informed that the parties had agreed that during the life of the Court's award they intended that a more rational wage structure should be evolved and that either job grading, classification or evaluation would be carried out to provide a new basis for negotiations when the agreement ended. In view of this the Court has decided to use the current job descriptions for its award.

The Court awards the following new rates—

Class A estates	3	80	4	30

Medical and teaching staff at Government rates for the area less 10 per cent for housing.

The Court would like to add that as Nyando Estate is a separate legal entity, it should be considered a Class "B" estate. The Claimants need have no fear that this would encourage the Respondents to separate their factories from their estates. The Court would not allow such a move if the intention would be for a Class "A" estate to come down to the rates of Class "B" estates.

The Court rules that Bookers Agricultural Holdings Ltd should be treated as a Class "B" estate. This is at their own request.

Maternity Leave—Nil award.

Uniform and Overall—The Court awards that uniforms should be provided for—

- (1) office messengers,
- (2) askaris at factories, office premises, stores, garages and in company housing estates, and
- (3) chaffeurs.

The Court further awards that those workers in factories and workshops whose clothes are exposed most of the time to moisture, dirt, oil and grease should be provided with overalls.

The Court also awards that tractor drivers should be provided with raincoats and night watchmen with overcoats.

The Court directs that all uniforms, overalls, raincoats and overcoats shall remain the property of the Respondents and shall not be worn off-duty. Misuse and misappropriation of uniforms or part thereof shall be the subject of disciplinary action.

Effective Date and Duration—The Court has decided that the effective date, as far as members of the Kenya Sugar Employers' Union are concerned, should be 1st May 1969 because they had an agreement with the Claimants effective from 1st May 1967 for 24 months. The Court is not prepared to break the existing agreement as it would be creating an undesirable precedent which in any case would be contrary to the parties' legal rights. As far as the other members of the Respondents' group are concerned, the Court rules that the effective date for them should be 1st January 1969.

The Court rules that this award should remain in force for a period of two years from 1st May 1969.

Given in Nairobi this 12th day of June 1969

GAZETTE NOTICE No 1815

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T M No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

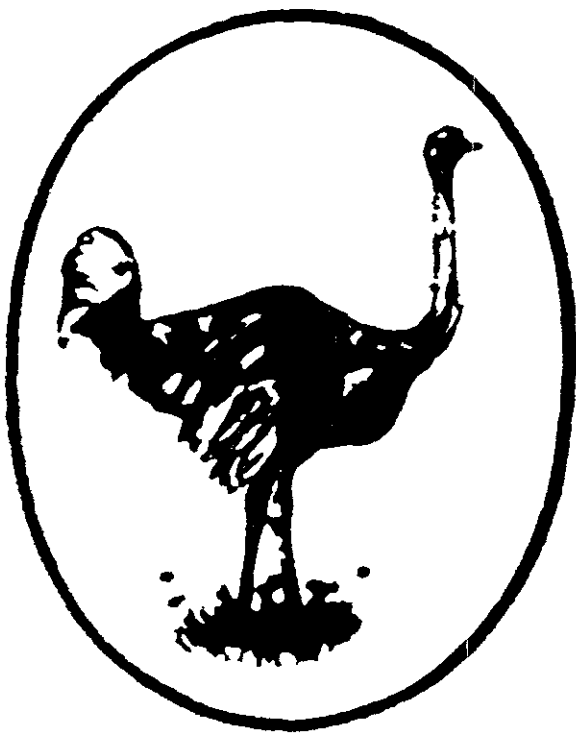

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Offices, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
