GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3505

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 56 OF 1980

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers and
Bank of India

Issue in dispute:

Underpayment of Tito Karandini.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Bank of India shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 30th September, and 1st October 1980, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The Claimants called the following witnesses:

T. Karandini.
Shem Ogala.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 19th April, 1980, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 8th August together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Karandini started working for the Respondents on 5th February, 1960, as a messenger and in November 1970, he was transferred to Nairobi where he is presently working in the same position.

It is not disputed that in April 1977, he worked in the despatch department and performed the following duties:

- "(a) Sorting out letters.
- (b) Attending to customers who otherwise come to collect letters from the bank.
- (c) Entering letters in the mail register book.
- (d) Entering letters in the delivery book.
- (e) Franking statement envelopes at end of each month."

He worked in the despatch department up to 18th July, 1978. He did not ask for any acting allowance for doing this work but asked for promotion. This was confirmed by Mr. Karandini in evidence who added that the manager told him if he wanted promotion he should go back to Uganda. He also stated that he claimed to have been underpaid and that the messenger who did the job prior to him in this section was promoted to be a head messenger and the other one was promoted to a clerical post. Mr. Karandini's salary at the time was between Sh. 700 and Sh. 800 p.m.

The Claimants' other witness, Mr. Ogola, who is the chairman of the Central Staff Committee and is the joint secretary of the Joint Negotiating Council (J.N.C.) for the banking industry while giving evidence stated that the jobs which were performed by Mr. Karandini in the Respondents despatch department are clerical and that in no other bank in Kenya the messengers are required to do this work.

He also confirmed that there was no clause in the collective agreement between the parties whereby it was provided that a messenger could act as a clerk and be paid acting allowance. He added this was the reason why the claim was for compensation and not acting allowance. He also confirmed that the previous person who had worked in that place was a head messenger and the head messenger's salary at the time was Sh. 762 p.m. This witness stated that he had discussed the matter with the manager who had promised that they would work out a reasonable figure to give as compensation to Mr. Karandini or to promote him after consulting Kenya Bankers Employers' Association.

The Claimants have demanded that Mr. Karandini be paid an acting allowance based on the difference of his salary and the minimum of clerical salary at that time which was Sh. 1,119 p.m.

The Respondents on the other hand called this claim frivolous and vexatious as they maintained that it was not the Court's function to define professions and responsibilities. They pointed out that the Claimants had waited for over 15 months before raising any objection to the nature of duties being performed by Mr. Karandini which confirmed that the whole idea of acting allowance was an afterthought.

The Respondents emphasized that the duties which were performed by Mr. Karandini were those of a messenger and had been performed by his predecessor who was also a messenger. They therefore rejected any idea of elevating him to a clerical status and asked the Court to reject the claim in its entirety.

On the evidence that was presented to the Court and keeping in view the evidence of Mr. Ogola who is the chairman of the Central Staff Committee and the joint secretary of the J.N.C. of the banking industry the Court finds that Mr. Karandini performed duties to a certain extent only of those being done by clerks in other banks. Unfortunately there is no provision in the collective agreement whereby a messenger performing clerical duties can claim acting allowance. In the Respondents' bank, however, it is quite clear that of the two of Mr. Karandini's predecessors one was a head messenger and the other promoted to a clerical job. The Court is convinced that the reason why Mr. Karandini did not make any claim in respect of the extra duties he was performing for nearly 15 months was because he expected to win a promotion to clerical grades and when this was not forthcoming he asked the Claimants to ask for compensation on his behalf.

The Court cannot allow the Claimants' demand that he should be paid the difference between his salary and that of the clerical grade but at the same time the Court feels that Mr. Karandini is certainly entitled to some remuneration for performing extra duties which were not strictly those of a messenger. After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that Mr. Karandini should be paid a sum of Sh. 1,545 for the extra duties he performed in the Respondents' despatch department between April 1977 to 18th July, 1978.
