MEMORANDUM OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

This Bill will repeal and replace the Business Names Registration Ordinance (Cap 289), and will amend the law relating to the registration of business names in order to bring it into line with present legislation on this subject in the United Kingdom. The principal respects in which this Bill will amend the existing law are set out hereunder.

The definition of 'minor' will provide that, irrespective of the race of the person, for the purposes of the Ordinance, a person will remain a minor until he has attained the age of twenty-one years. While this will conflict with the provisions of the Age of Majority Ordinance (Cap 10) with respect to non Africans who are not Europeans since that Ordinance provides that such persons attain their majority at the age of eighteen years, it is considered that for the purposes of this Ordinance uniformity in this respect is desirable (Clause 2).

Clauses 8 and 9 will increase the periods respectively allowed for initial registrations and for registration of changes in particulars from fourteen to twenty-eight days.

At present the law only requires that the certificate of registration issued to a person under the Ordinance shall be exhibited at the principal place of his business. It is considered that when a firm carries on business at more than one place a copy of the certificate should be exhibited at each place of business. Clause 14 (5) will provide for this.

The law does not now contain any provision enabling the Registrar to remove from the register the name of any firm which has, by reason of the happening of some event, ceased to be under any obligation to register under the Ordinance Clause 15 (5) of the Bill will amend the law in this respect

Section 16 of the existing Ordinance empowers the Registrar to refuse registration where a business name is calculated to deceive the public into believing that the business is owned or controlled by British subjects Clause 17 of the Bill will amend the law so as to enable registration to be refused where the name is likely to mislead the public as to the nationality (whether British or not), race or religion of the proprietor of the business Clause 17 also effects two other important amendments to the law Under the existing Ordinance there is nothing to prevent the registration of a business name identical with one already in use Paragraph (d) of sub-clause (1) of clause 17 will empower the Registrar to refuse registration of any name which is either identical with or so nearly resembles an existing registered business name as to be likely to mislead the public This provision necessitated the other important amendment, namely, to enable a person intending to adopt a business name to find out in advance whether such a name may be registered, and to prohibit the registration by any other person of that name during a reasonable period necessary for the making of such inquiries Sub-clause (3) of clause 17 will provide for this

At present the law requires the name of the proprietor or partners, as the case may be, of any business to be shown in all trade circulars, trade catalogues, show-cards and business letters It is considered that the inclusion of these particulars in trade catalogues or show-cards serves no useful purpose Clause 23 will make the necessary amendment

A new provision has been made rendering equally guilty of an offence committed by a firm or individual any manager or other person concerned in the management of the business of that firm or individual, unless he shows that the offence was committed without his knowledge or consent This clause is considered necessary in order to provide against the proprietor of a business pleading that the offence was committed or authorized by the manager As stated above, however, the manager is protected if he can show that the offence was either committed without his knowledge or was committed without his consent (Clause 24 (2))

It is not possible to say whether there will be any additional expenditure of public moneys if the provisions of this Bill become law

TENDERS FOR THE MILLING OF PLANTATION
THINNINGS OF CYPRESS AND OTHER SPECIES IN THE THOMSON'S FALLS DISTRICTTENDERS are invited for permission to convert plantation
thinnings in the Marmanet Forest Reserve, Thomson's Falls

The period of the licence will be for five years. During this period it is estimated that approximately 2,600 tons of round logs will become available. While every effort has been made to estimate the yield of thinnings correctly no guarantee of quantity or quality can be given. Payment will be made on the actual quantity of logs supplied. Only trees marked by the Forest Department will be felled.

The basis of the tender will be a royalty per cubic foot of round timber (true) measure. Tenderers must state the royalty which they are prepared to pay. All trees felled will be measured by the Forest Department by true measure over bark and payment will be made on these measurements. Logs will be measured down to a diameter of 5 in over bark. If the licensee wishes to buy material below this diameter, he may do so by special arrangement. Otherwise this material will remain the property of the Forest Department.

All thinnings marked shall be felled and removed systematically from plantations in accordance with the directions of the Conservator of Forests or his representative, excepting as detailed in the next paragraph. Failure to fell and remove thinnings within a reasonable period may result in the cancellation of the licence.

The Conservator reserves the right to have any marked trees felled and trimmed by Forest Department labour, and to charge the licensee with the actual cost of doing this work, plus 20 per cent supervision charges.

The site, layout and equipment of the mill used in converting these thinnings shall be to the satisfaction of the Conservator.

Applicants may be called upon by the Conservator to install milling equipment embodying a minimum loss in conversion, e.g. gang, band or other such saws to minimize loss in kerf.

Applicants will be required to submit to the Conservator monthly returns of input and sawn output on prescribed forms.

The licence may be cancelled for any breach of the licence conditions or of the Forest Ordinance or if, in the opinion of the Conservator, the mill is not being operated diligently and efficiently, consideration being given to market conditions at the time.

Tenderers may inspect the area by arrangement with the Divisional Forest Officer, P O Thomson's Falls. He will inform them where the plantations are situated and may provide guides.

The successful tenderer will be required to provide satisfactory evidence regarding his financial resources and capability to undertake the work.

Previous to the result of the tender being announced correspondence or interviews should be conducted through the Divisional Forest Officer, P O Thomson's Falls. Only Tenderers should not approach the Nairobi head office of the Forest Department over this matter.

All marked trees must be felled at ground level. Failure to observe this clause will, at the discretion of the Conservator, result in the licensee being charged double royalty on the estimated amount of timber which has been wasted.

Trees must be felled and extracted in such a way as not to cause unnecessary damage to standing trees. Unreasonable damage caused during felling and extraction operations may at the discretion of the Conservator be assessed and charged for.

The licensee will be required to maintain any forest roads used by him, and to hand them back to the Forest Department at the conclusion of the term of the licence in at least as fair a condition as they were when he started to use them.

Tender, clearly marked "Cypress Milling" on the cover, should reach the Divisional Forest Officer, Thomson's Falls, not later than noon on 18th June, 1951.

The highest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.
