1. Post title.—ELECTRICAL ENGINEER for railway diesel-electric locomotive maintenance.

Duration.—One year, with possibility of extension.

Date required.—February, 1986, or as soon as possible thereafter.

Duty station.—Ho Chi Minh City (Chi Hoa Railway Workshop and Dian Training facility).

Duties.—The expert will be assigned to the general department of Vietnam railways (fifth company) in Ho Chi Minh City. He will provide technical advice to the workshop manager and workshop personnel on matters relating to repair and maintenance of the electrical components of general-electric type 900 h.p. diesel-electric locomotives. In particular, he/she will:

(1) Advise on the implementation (based on the recommendations in report of Rail India Technical and Economic Services Ltd.) of a locomotive repair and preventative maintenance programme (covering electrical components) in co-operation with engineers and mechanics of the Chi Hoa Workshop.

(2) Provide advice and organize on-the-job training programmes on locomotive repair and preventative maintenance procedures (electrical components), as described in the project documents.

(3) Monitor the scheduling of locomotive repair and maintenance.

(4) Provide advice on development of on-the-job training programme in re-winding and reconditioning of electric generators and traction motors (this programme may be carried out in another country).

(5) Provide advice on preparation of detailed layout of buildings for laboratory and training rooms at Dian and Chi Hoa Workshop, and assist in supervision of construction of such facilities.

(6) Certify delivery and installation of, and advise in the use of spare parts and materials provided under trust fund project VII/84/X01 "rehabilitation of diesel locomotives".

(7) Monitor the delivery of instruments and equipment for training purposes provided under this project, and prepare equipment requisitions for this purpose.

(8) Develop on-the-job training programmes, develop various syllabi for training courses, and assist in providing such training as described in project document.

(9) In agreement with the management of the Chi Hoa Workshop, recommend requirements for short-term specialized consultancies.

(10) Undertake other relevant tasks, on request by government counterpart or by United Nations.

(11) Prepare a final report setting out the findings of his mission and recommendations on further actions which might be taken.

Qualifications.—Electrical engineer with university qualifications and extensive experience to senior level in repair and maintenance of diesel-electrical locomotives (of similar type to those used by Vietnam Railways).

Languages.—English or French.

Background information.—The immediate objective of the project is to train a number of electrical and mechanical technicians employed at the Chi Hoa locomotive workshops of the fifth company of Vietnam railways in Ho Chi Minh City. The training programme will cover servicing and preventive maintenance procedures, so that a sufficient number of locotives of the fifth company can be kept in reliable full-time operation to meet current traffic demands. Prior to the implementation of the programme, it will be necessary to provide certain workshop tools and instruments and training equipment.

The geographic features of Vietnam make the country especially dependent on the railway system. For longer distances such as those between cities and major provincial centres, railways provide the cheapest and most efficient form of transport. They carry raw materials and semi-processed products from the north to the south (phosphate, cement, coal, steel products), as well as agricultural products and general commodities from south to north (rice, fish and fish products and manufactured goods). They also play an important social role in reuniting families separated after so many years of war, and they serve an essential function in time of emergency by carrying foodstuff.

For motive power, the fifth company has 45 general electric 900 h.p. diesel locomotives (of which 10 to 12 are in operation), 6 Plymouth and 10 Alstom 850 h.p. locomotives (the latter two types are now essentially out of service). Also, it is expected that a number of locomotives of Indian manufacture will be delivered in the near future. The company has its main workshop in Ho Chi Minh City (the Chi Hoa Workshop), where this project will be located.

The fifth company has a vocational training school at Dien, that was established in 1977. The school is housed in modest buildings, with a covered area of about 3,000 sq. m. of workshops for basic training in machining, welding, carpentry and forging. The school is inadequately provided with teaching equipment and aids and other facilities. There is also a training classroom at the Chi Hoa Workshop.

The mechanical and electrical technicians are given training for a short duration of about two weeks before each test for promotion is due. However, there are no good training aids, models or "regular on the job" training programmes. Some of the experienced workers who had received training during the 60's when the diesel locomotives were received are handling most of the maintenance jobs, with the younger workers seeking their guidance. The number of such experienced and trained workers is few and, therefore, had little time for providing useful training.

There is, therefore, an acute scarcity of mechanical and electrical skills. The younger workers who have been inducted in the past few years are unable to handle complex jobs requiring a high level of skill. In the specialized sections for maintenance of different assemblies, there is generally one experienced worker who is assisted by the other workers who are seeking instructions from the experienced hands from time to time. Most of the staff have had no opportunity to gain experience of working in a well organized preventive maintenance system. Moreover there is a serious shortage of essential measuring instruments and tools, most of the staff are not aware of their use. This project has been therefore designed to help redress these problems by providing training programmes covering the repair and maintenance of the locomotives, including some training aids for this purpose.

Essentially, the training programme and equipment and materials for this purpose, recommended during the preparatory phase of this project by Rail India Technical and Economic Services Ltd. make up the project described in this document. Items of equipment and material recommended, also during the preparatory phase for the repair of the locomotives themselves will be supplied by a separate parallel project to be implemented by the United Nations and to be funded under trust fund arrangements by the Government of Sweden.

2. Post title.—URBAN PLANNER/EXPERT ARCHITECTURAL PLANNER.

Duration.—One year, with possibility of extension.

Date required.—May, 1986.

Duty station.—Riyadh, with travels within the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia as required.

Duties.—Under the supervision of the chief technical adviser and in co-operation with other experts and counterparts, the expert will:

- (1) Assist in developing urban design criteria, development of planning concepts, preparation of various urban design plans, cityscape, architectural and space relations and detailed layout plans.

- (2) Undertake visits to planning and development department(s), review the work of the consultant in relation to agreement requirements, attend steering committee meetings, technical and co-ordination committees meetings and participate in presentations.

- (3) Assist in research for the formulation of comprehensive policies for regional, urban and rural development.

- (4) Prepare manuals on urban design aspects.

- (5) Assist in the training of Saudi counterparts.

- (6) Undertake any other work assigned to him relating to his area of specialization.

- (7) Prepare a final report setting out the findings of his mission and his recommendations to the government on further actions which might be taken.

Qualifications.—University degree in architecture, or engineering or city planning and an advanced degree in urban design and considerable practical experience in the preparation and implementation of urban design projects in developing countries especially Arab and Islamic countries.

Languages.—English and Arabic desirable.

Background information.—The project duration is synchronized with the period of the national fourth five-year development plan which lays heavy emphasis on manpower development and institution building. The project is expected through training programmes and strengthening of ministry of municipal and rural affairs' institutional capabilities, to create a machinery capable of preparing and implementing regional and local development plans, establish and support planning and surveying information systems, provide technical advice and promote planning awareness in the kingdom. It will contribute towards realization of equitable spatial distribution of socio-economic development, enhancing of productive capacities in appropriate locations, creating wider access to public services and facilities in these locations with a view to maximize benefits of development. It will also assist in developing data base required for the continuation of planning and development activities.

In fulfilling these tasks, the project will interact with other concerned ministries and agencies as well as related United Nations assisted projects in the kingdom, such as the centre for training and applied research in community development in Diriyah, Road Network Development and Maintenance (D.T.C.D.), Assistance in Agricultural Development (FAO) and Data Statistical Centre and Educational Documentation (UNESCO).

The project's objectives and outputs include—

- (a) formulation of spatial development policies at national, regional and local levels;
- (b) preparation of comprehensive development plans for the various regions of the kingdom as well as for urban and rural growth centres;
- (c) establishment and support of information systems;
- (d) provision of technical advice and promotion of planning awareness in addition to the basic objectives aiming at institutions building and training. The project document has therefore called for creation of a wide base of expertise in various fields and specializations working as an integrated team in collaboration with the deputy ministry of town planning with its seven departments, the planning and programming department and regional municipalities.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 107

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 115 OF 1983

Parties:

Tailors and Textile Workers Union
and Sunflag Spinning Mills Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Jacob Simiyu Walubengo.

THE Tailors and Textile Workers Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Sunflag Spinning Mills Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 26th March, 11th September, and 21st November, 1985, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions the claimants called Walubengo and Joseph Mbindyo as their witnesses while the respondents called S. Nambiar.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 5th April, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 15th December, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour.

Jacob Simiyu Walubengo was employed by the respondents in March, 1979, as a cloth inspector. In October, 1979 he was promoted to headman made in-charge of the respondents mending section of their factory at Pate Road in the Industrial Area, Nairobi. Mr. Walubengo was summarily dismissed on 6th February, 1982, for alleged gross misconduct originating from a mysterious loss of a complete roll of cloth, worth KSh. 2,100.

The claimants accused the respondents of having dismissed their member before properly investigating the loss of the roll. The claimants further told the court that their member was not responsible for the mending store as the keys were kept by the factory manager.

Giving evidence in court Mr. Walubengo stated that his duties included receiving of rolls from the factory, supervision of mending personnel and putting them in the store. Mr. Walubengo stated that other details concerning the rolls were written by cloth inspector in the factory. Mr. Walubengo said on 5th February, 1982, he and Mr. Mbindyo were called by the factory manager and all went to Kitui Road stores where they were shown a Saurer roll which was alleged to have been among the 59 Picanol rolls which were sent there from the mending section that morning. Mr. Walubengo stated that he denied having put the Saurer roll in the consignment of 59 Picanol rolls. He further stated that the factory manager and a store clerk, Joseph Mbindyo dispatched the rolls to Kitui Road so they were to blame too. Mr. Walubengo stated that he was detained in the store that afternoon awaiting police to arrest him but they did not come. The following morning Mr. Walubengo was dismissed.

The other claimants' witness Joseph Mbindyo told the court that he used to prepare delivery notes for goods from Pate Road factory to Kitui Road plant. He got details of the rolls from a packing list which was prepared by Mr. Walubengo who was in-charge of the mending section. Mr. Mbindyo said he used to count the number of rolls but did not check the type of cloth inside the tubing. Mr. Mbindyo stated that on the morning of 5th February, 1982, he prepared a delivery note for 59 Picanol rolls which were to be transferred to Kitui Road plant. He got the particulars of the rolls from a packing list which was prepared by Mr. Walubengo. Mr. Mbindyo said that he and the factory manager supervised the loading of the 59 rolls onto a lorry. Mr. Mbindyo further stated that at about 12 noon he was informed by the factory manager that one out of the 59 rolls was a Saurer roll and that he and Mr. Walubengo were required at Kitui Road plant. They went there at 2 p.m. They were shown a Saurer roll which they were told was among the 59 rolls which they had dispatched that morning.

The respondent's witness S. Nambiar told the court that Mr. Walubengo's duties included receiving of rolls after manufacture and supplying them to mending personnel. After mending supervised measuring of lengths and re-rolling after which they were put in polythene tubings, and then taken to the mending store where Mr. Walubengo was in-charge. Mr. Nambiar told the court that he received the keys for the mending store from Mr. Walubengo for safe keeping when the work was finished in the evening and he handed them over to him in the morning. Mr. Walubengo prepared a packing list of all the rolls he received. Mr. Nambiar stated that he telephoned Kitui Road plant for a lorry to collect the previous days rolls after Mr. Walubengo's report that they were ready. The lorry stopped at the gate and he himself Mr. Mbindyo and Mr. Walubengo counted the number of rolls as they were put on the lorry. On the day in question there was a consignment of 59 Picanol rolls which were sent to Kitui Road in the morning. Mr. Nambiar stated that at about 12 noon he received a telephone call from a director at Kitui Road who stated that the consignment contained 58 Picanol rolls and one Saurer roll. Mr. Nambiar told the court that the company had introduced Saurer machines which produced two rolls only as samples. The first Saurer roll was taken to Kitui Road but the second one was in the mending section store. He specifically instructed Mr. Walubengo to keep it in the store until further notice. Before proceeding to Kitui Road that afternoon, he checked the store and found that the Saurer roll was not there. He took both Mr. Mbindyo and Mr. Walubengo to Kitui Road plant at 2 p.m. where they were shown the Saurer roll. Mr. Walubengo denied having included it in the Picanol consignment. The matter was then referred to the personnel manager. Mr. Walubengo was asked to see the personnel manager the following morning but he refused to go there. Mr. Nambiar added that they had lost several rolls previously due to theft.

The court has carefully considered all the facts of this dispute and finds that the respondents were justified in losing confidence in Mr. Walubengo as their employee and they should have given him a normal termination but not dismiss him summarily. The court accordingly awards that Mr. Walubengo's summary dismissal be reduced to normal termination in accordance with the parties collective agreement and he should be paid all his lawful dues.

Given at Nairobi the 3rd December, 1985.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 108

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Offices, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
