GAZETTE NOTICE No. 5077

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 18 OF 1990

Parties:

Kenya Commercial Food and Allied Workers' Union
and
Commercial Bank of Africa Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Refusal by management to pay Mr. Michael M. Omusoga his rightful retirement benefit as follows:

1. One month's salary.
2. Pension as per 1970 Pension Scheme.
3. Provident Fund.

THE Kenya Commercial Food and Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Commercial Bank of Africa Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. This dispute was listed for mention on 1st March, 1990, when it was fixed for hearing on 4th May, 1990. On this date, the parties requested the court to give them time in order to explore the possibility of a settlement of the matter. The court therefore, listed the case for a further mention on 21st May, 1990; and, when the parties appeared in court, they pleaded with it to allow them more time so that they might consult the insurance company regarding the correct amount due and payable to the grievant.

The matter was then listed for yet a further mention on 11th June, 1990, when the parties informed the court that they had not met, but they would do so on 16th June, 1990. The matter was then listed for another mention on 21st June, 1990, and on this date the parties reported to the court that they had agreed that the amount of Sh. 14,240 which was contributed by the respondents and the grievant to the pension scheme between July 1970 and December 1983, purchased a pension for the latter worth Sh. 29,915. But the parties disagreed on the pension entitlement to the grievant for the period from January 1984 to June 1987, when he retired from the respondents' services. In the circumstances, the dispute was listed for yet another mention on 29th June, 1990, and the parties were finally heard on 30th July, 1990, to determine whether or not the contributions amounting to Sh. 13,260 for the period January 1984 to June, 1987, would have similarly purchased a pension for the grievant.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 21st August, 1989, and duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 5th February, 1990, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant was employed by the respondents as a watchman on 15th October, 1968, at a salary of Sh. 305 per month. He rose to the position of a caretaker at the time of his retirement in December 1987, and his monthly salary stood at Sh. 4,093, and a house allowance of Sh. 470. He served the respondents for a period of approximately 19½ years.

The grievant joined the respondents' staff pension scheme on 1st July, 1970, to which he contributed 5 per cent of his emoluments in accordance with rule 9 of the scheme. The respondents also contributed 5 per cent to the scheme on his behalf in terms of rule 12 thereof.

As has been alluded to hereinabove, the parties are in complete agreement that between July 1970 to December 1983, the grievant's and the respondents' contributions purchased for him a pension worth Sh. 29,915. However, the parties disagreed on the grievant's entitlement for the period January 1984 to June 1987.

The court notes that the grievant rendered continuous service to the respondents for approximately nineteen and a half (19½) years. He joined the staff retirement scheme on 1st July, 1970, and his "Normal Pension Date"—i.e. sixtieth birthday—fell due in December 1983. However, because of erroneous information which he furnished the respondents regarding his year of birth, the grievant exceeded his working life until December 1987, when he was retired and his entitlements were computed as stated hereinabove. He rejected them.

The court appreciates the forceful submissions which was put forward by the claimants' representative on behalf of the grievant, but a pension scheme, like this one in point, is not a collective agreement which can either be created, amended or modified by the industrial court. Pension schemes are normally tied to the retirement age of the employees, and they are operated strictly in accordance with the rules applicable thereto.

Rule 17 (a) of the respondents' staff retirement benefits scheme reads as follows:

"Late Retirement:

If a member remains in the permanent service of the employer after normal pension date he shall be paid:

- (a) Upon retirement a pension commencing from the date of actual retirement of such an amount as shall be determined by the insurance company having regard to the benefits to which he was entitled at normal pension date and the age then attained and payable as provided by the rules for pension commencing on normal pension date. . . ."

And rule 25 of the scheme states thus:

"Employers' decision final:

If any doubt arises in any particular case which of rules 16, 17, 18, 22, 23 and 24 shall apply the decision of the employer shall be final."

The court cannot override the provisions of the staff retirement benefits scheme.

In the circumstances, the court finds that the claimants have failed to prove their case on the balance of probabilities to warrant its interference with the respondents' computation of the grievant's entitlements, and their demand is accordingly rejected.

The court, however, upholds the respondents' offer of Sh. 55,479.75 and therefore awards that this amount should be paid to the grievant immediately.

Dated the 18th October, 1990.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 5078

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 39 OF 1990

Parties:

Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospital and Allied Workers
and
Association for the Physically Disabled of Kenya

Issues in Dispute:

1. General Wage Increases.
2. House Allowance.
3. Annual Leave and Leave Travelling Allowance.
4. Retirement/Terminal Benefits.

THE Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospitals and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Association of the Physically Disabled of Kenya shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 20th June and 20th July, 1990, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 15th February, 1989, and duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 7th March, 1990, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents, who have had a recognition agreement with the claimants since 29th April, 1981, are a charitable organization founded in 1958, and its main objective is to supplement Government efforts in the rehabilitation of the physically disabled in Kenya, especially young children. They engage a total of 130 employees, out of whom 117 are unionizable who are affected by this dispute. There are also 17 professional staff seconded to them by the Government. Apart from the headquarters here in Nairobi, the respondents have seven branches, namely, Busia, Kisumu, Kisii, Nakuru, Machakos, Embu and Coast, and nine mobile orthopaedic clinic services in the rural areas. The first five branches are run and managed by Government seconded staff, while Embu branch is run by a committee.

In addition to medical services, for example, physiotherapy, occupational therapy and corrective orthopaedic survey, which is performed free of charge, the respondents' other major and vital function include production of orthopaedic appliances (walking aids) which are made by the disabled artisans. They also run Masaku Primary School, which is a full boarding school with about 400 physically handicapped children. The teachers and physiotherapists to the school are seconded by the Government. In their Coast Branch, the respondents have ventured into income generating projects at Likoni Sheltered Furniture Workshop and lately at Bombolulu Tailoring and Jewellery Workshop. The ventures provide free vocational training in carpentry at Likoni and tailoring at Bombolulu to disabled children.

The respondents derived their funds from donors, both locally and overseas, in order to meet their rehabilitation, training and employment obligations to the disabled persons. However, this assistance has ceased in some cases and it would soon be discontinued or drastically reduced in others. For example, the Kenafric Charitable Foundation, which used to sponsor the respondents' limb corrective surgery scheme to the tune of Sh. 150,000, has since discontinued this assistance with effect from July, 1988. The Government has also been unable, since 1987, to give them the annual grants, amounting to Sh. 420,000 which they used to get through the Ministries of Health and Culture and Social Services. The Christoffel Blinden Mission of West Germany which has been giving major financial support to Port Reitz Polio Clinic Home have informed the respondents that they would not be in a position to help them as much as in the past. Another donor, whose five year contract with the respondents would end this year, is the Norwegian Development Agency (NORAD). Its financial assistance covered about half of the respondents' budget for the up-country branches. The agency also subsidized 39 per cent of the orthopaedic workshop, 35 per cent of the staff wages and paid full salaries of the executive officer, workshop manager and the accountant.

The respondents lamented the precarious financial situations in which they find themselves and, for this reason, requested the court to take into account in its award their plight so that they might not ruin the good work they have been doing for the physically handicapped people, especially children and also to avoid redundancies.

The claimants submitted their proposals to the respondents in April 1988, but after some negotiations the parties recorded a deadlock on the issues now before the court.

As this court has repeatedly stated before, one of the wages and fringe benefits determinants is the financial ability of the employer. The respondents have pleaded their inability to meet the claimants' demands on the ground that some of their sources of income have dried up, and the remaining have been reduced to a negligible fraction. The P.R.D. report supports the unhealthy financial position of the respondents due to their heavy reliance on donations which have since ceased or drastically reduced. The court regrets that the association has been left mainly in the hands of private individuals, non-governmental organizations and church bodies to carry the burden of financing and supporting these unfortunate members of our society.

All in all, however, and on careful consideration of the parties' submissions, the respondents 1989 reviewed budget and the P.R.D. report, the court awards as follows on each issue:

1. General Wage Increases

While the court sympathizes with the respondents' financial predicament, the fact remains that the handicapped and able-bodied employees should be entitled to the same remunerations for the same amount of work they perform. There should not be any discrimination against the disabled employees in this regard. Under this issue, the claimants have demanded 15 per cent wage increase, each year, or 30 per cent for the two years, against the respondents' offer of 6 per cent increase each year, or 12 per cent for the two year period. But, in accordance with the P.R.D. report, the employees are entitled to 6.7 per cent wage increase each year, or 13.4 per cent wage increase for the two-year period, in terms of the wages guidelines.

In the circumstances and after anxious consideration of the parties' positions vis-à-vis the permissible wage guidelines entitlement, the court has decided to slightly improve the respondents' offer of 6 per cent wage increase each year, or 12 per cent for the two years, by awarding a wage increase of 6.5 per cent to the employees with effect from 1st August, 1988. The court awards a similar wage increase of 6.5 per cent with effect from 1st August, 1989, i.e. on the wages as at 31st July, 1989. The court also directs the respondents to immediately adjust the wages of any employees which are still below the statutory minimum, with effect from 1st June, 1990.

2. House Allowance

On this issue, the claimants are demanding 20 per cent of the employees' actual salaries as house allowance for the employees on grade I to IV and 25 per cent for those employees on grades V to VI. The respondents have resisted this demand on the ground that the 15 per cent of the employees' actual salaries, which constituted house allowance, only applied to employees who were not housed by them. Furthermore, they have undertaken to hike the employees' house allowance by a similar percentage, based on the court's award under issue I hereinabove.

The court has assessed the seriousness of the respondents' submission that they are doing their best to alleviate the housing problem of their employees, and it is satisfied that they are moving in the right direction in order to achieve the objective of providing reasonable and adequate accommodation to their employees. Under the circumstances, and after taking into account its award on the general wages increases hereinabove and the respondents' shaky financial position, the court has decided that status quo should be maintained.

The claimants' demand on this issue is, therefore, rejected.

3. Annual Leave and Leave Travelling Allowance

- (i) The claimants demanded on this item that the current 23 working leave days should be increased to 30 working leave days to enable the employees devote some time on rural development at their home areas. The respondents are opposed to the demand because, in addition to 23 working leave days, the employees are entitled more than 11 public holidays in a year.

On serious consideration of the arguments advanced by both parties on this item, the court feels that the claimants' demand has no merit, and it is accordingly rejected.

- (ii) Under this item, the claimants have demanded Sh. 450 as leave travelling allowance against the respondents' increase of Sh. 50 on the current leave allowance of Sh. 200 i.e. an offer of Sh. 250.

The court finds that the claimants' demand of Sh. 450 is a bit on the higher side; and, for this reason, the court has decided to hike the respondents' offer of Sh. 250 by awarding that the present leave travelling allowance of Sh. 200 be increased to Sh. 300, payable to all the respondents' employees once a year when they proceeded on leave.

4. Retirement/Terminal Benefits

This is a new demand by the claimants, and in view of the fact that the respondents are a charitable organization with meagre resources or income, the court cannot see any justification for this issue being introduced at this stage. However, the parties are advised to get together at an early date with a view to finding satisfactory solution to this important issue.

Dated the 2nd October, 1990.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 5079

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 120.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
