GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3493

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

APPEAL No. 1 OF 1976

Parties:—

Kenya Management Staff Association (Appellants)

Minister for Labour

This is an application for leave to appeal filed by the Appellants against an Order of the Minister for Labour (hereinafter referred to as the Minister) rejecting the report of a trade dispute made by the Appellants on 13th August, 1975, regarding the termination of services of A. G. Wahinya.

The Minister's rejection of the trade dispute was conveyed to the Appellants on 29th January, 1976. In this letter the Chief Industrial Relations Officer acting under the delegation of the powers and duties of the Minister to him by L.N. 172 of 1966 referred the Appellants to his earlier letter dated 28th October, 1975, in which he had written as follows—

"Having consulted the Tripartite Committee under section 5 (1) of the Act I regret that the reported trade dispute has been rejected under section 5 (1) (b) of the Act. The reasons for such action is that Wahinya's appointment is covered by the collective agreement between the Kenya Chemical Workers' Union and Colgate Palmolive (E.A.) Ltd. and your Association is therefore not the appropriate Union to represent him."

The Appellants have appealed to the Court under subsection (3) of section 5 of the Trade Disputes Act which reads as follows—

"An appeal against a refusal by the Minister to accept the report of a trade dispute under paragraph (aa) of subsection (1) of this section shall lie to the Industrial Court at the instance of any party to that dispute, and section 23 of this Act shall apply to any such appeal as if the Minister's refusal were an order made by the Minister under Part IV of this Act."

The Minister's representative the Chief Industrial Relation Officer (C.I.R.O.) has taken up a preliminary point of law in opposing this application. He has argued that a trade union can only appeal to the Industrial Court under section 5 subsection (3) when the Minister refuses to accept the report of a trade dispute under subsection (aa) of section 5 (1) which section reads as follows—

"5 (1) The Minister shall consider any trade dispute reported to him and shall consult a Tripartite Committee and, after such consultation, may take any or more of the following steps as seem to him expedient for promoting a settlement—

(aa) refuse to accept the report of the trade dispute where the Minister is of the opinion that any matter in dispute is barred from negotiation under the terms of a recognition agreement or collective agreement in force between any of the parties to the dispute;"

He maintained that since the Minister had rejected the report of the trade dispute under section 5 (1) (b) the Appellants had no right to appeal to the Industrial Court against such rejection. He argued that it was a fundamental point of law because if the legal position as pointed out on behalf of the Minister was rejected then it would mean that the parties to trade disputes could appeal to the Industrial Court even in those cases where the Minister decides to accept such disputes.

The Appellants replied to the legal submission by stating that the Minister's advisers had adopted an inconsistent approach to the interpretation of section 5 of the Trade Disputes Act. They pointed out that the person involved in the trade dispute, one A. G. Wahinya, had been their member since August, 1974, when his employers, Colgate Palmolive E.A. Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as Colgate Palmolive) had started forwarding to them the union dues on behalf of eleven of their employees. They maintained that the collective agreement between the Kenya Chemical Workers' Union (hereinafter referred to as the Chemical Union) and Colgate Palmolive did not cover or apply to the post held by Wahinya.

The Appellants submitted that they were at a loss to understand why the Minister had rejected to accept their report of the dispute as Wahinya was not a member of the Chemical Union and was not covered by the collective agreement which that union had with Colgate Palmolive.

The Appellants drew the Court's attention to another trade dispute which they had reported to the Minister on 20th November, 1975, in respect of termination of services of J. E. Mwiu although Mwiu's name also appeared in the check-off list dated August 1974 just below the name of A. Wahinya.

The Appellants pleaded with the Court, that if their application was rejected they would be left with no remedy and would slowly be destroyed as a trade union.

The C.I.R.O. most emphatically denied allegations that a group of the Minister's advisers were out to destroy the Appellants and asserted that the Appellants were being considerably helped by the Minister in processing the disputes raised by them.

Regarding the allegation that the Ministry's stand on section 5 was inconsistent the C.I.R.O. submitted that Wahinya's case had been duly processed in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Disputes Act consisting of a representative of the Minister, who is the chairman, and two other members appointed by the Minister, one representing employers and the other representing the employees, i.e. F.K.E. and COTU (K). Further the decision of the Tripartite Committee in rejecting the dispute of Wahinya under section 5 (1) (b) had been a unanimous decision as it was felt that notwithstanding the fact that Wahinya may have been a member of the Appellants the fact remained that as he did not perform any managerial functions he fell in the category of unionizable employees of Colgate Palmolive in respect of whom the Chemical Union enjoyed a recognition agreement and in respect of whom there was a current collective agreement in force between the Chemical Union and Colgate Palmolive. In the case of J. E. Mwiu the Tripartite Committee was satisfied that he rightly fell within the purview of the Appellants and the Tripartite Committee had therefore accepted the report of a trade dispute in respect of him by the Appellants.

The Court had notified the representatives of the Chemical Union and Colgate Palmolive also to be present during the hearing of this application and although they had forwarded their written submissions on the appeal to the Court they contributed very little to the legal argument except that the Chemical Union while agreeing with the legal argument put forward by the C.I.R.O. stated that they had no objection to the substantive appeal being heard so that they could get an opportunity of clearing the air once and for all.

The Court finds that the C.I.R.O.'s legal submission on behalf of the Minister in opposing this leave to appeal has considerable merit and although the Appellants have put forward their difficulties they have really not been able to satisfy the Court that they have a right of appeal when the Minister rejects the report of a trade dispute under section 5 (1) (b) of the Trade Disputes Act.

Under section 5 of the Trade Disputes Act the parties are given the right of appeal against refusal by the Minister to accept a report of the trade dispute under paragraph (aa) only of subsection (1) of section 5 of the Trade Disputes Act and in this case when the appeal is allowed then section 23 of the Trade Disputes Act applies to any such appeal as if the Minister's refusal were an order made by the Minister under Part IV of the Act.

Under section 5 subsection (1) the Minister when considering any trade dispute reported to him after consultation with the Tripartite Committee may take any one or more of the steps as seem to him expedient for promoting a settlement which steps are enumerated in subsections (a), (aa), (b), (c), (d), (e), and (f). The parties are, however, if aggrieved allowed an appeal to the Industrial Court only where the Minister refuses to accept the report of the trade dispute under subsection (aa) of section 5 (1). No appeal is permitted under any of the other subsections.

The Court finds that the Appellants' application for leave to appeal in this dispute is totally misconceived and the Court accordingly rejects it. The Court further finds that there is no substance in the Appellants' allegation that the Minister's advisers are inconsistent in their interpretation of section 5 of the Trade Disputes Act.

The Court is not inclined in view of the legal objection raised by the C.I.R.O. to go into the other merits of this appeal as requested by the Chemical Union.

Dated this 22nd day of November, 1976.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.

The undermentioned applications are proceeding in the name BELTON'S, a company duly registered in Kenya. General Merchants of P.O. Box 11948, Nairobi.
