THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 41 OF 1975

Parties —

Kenya Quarry and Mine Workers' Union

and

Concrete Quarry Group of F K E

Issue in dispute — Deduction of house allowance provided to employees

1 The Kenya Quarry and Mine Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Concrete Quarry Group shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 12th day of September, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form 'A' dated 25th June, 1975, was received by the Court on 15th July, along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner

In this dispute there is a certain amount of confusion on the part of the Claimants in that in their written and verbal submissions they have not clarified whether or not permanent and/or casual employees are affected by the issue in dispute

The Respondents have based their written submissions entirely on the premise that the issue in dispute relates to casual employees who have been provided houses by the Respondents. They maintain that they are under no obligation to do so under the collective agreement hence they are entitled to charge rents for these premises. They further aver that this arrangement is entirely outside the collective agreement and is strictly a private arrangement between these persons and those members of the Respondents who had excess accommodation to offer it to them on rental basis

The current collective agreement between the parties is very clear and reads as follows under clause 17 —

Housing accommodation

Housing accommodation shall be provided to permanent employees only. Two single employees will share one room. Married employee living with his family will not share one room with another employee

Permanent employees who are not provided with accommodation by the employer will be given a housing allowance of Sh 50 "

The way the aforesaid clause is worded lends credence to the approach taken by the Respondents in this dispute because there is no doubt that permanent employees have to be provided with housing accommodation by the Respondents. There is no question of any deduction of rent from their dues, further those permanent employees who are not provided with accommodation are entitled to a housing allowance of Sh 50 p m

The Claimants have, however, utilized this dispute for airing their grievances on the standard of housing accommodation provided by the Respondents' members and have argued that the so-called housing accommodation was of sub-human standard and in some cases was no more than scrap buses and that it was not worth Sh 50 p m

The Claimants have further alleged that contrary to the provisions of the collective agreement the Respondents have housed more than two employees in one room and they provided the list in respect of one member of the Respondents in support of their allegation. The Court, however, is not sure if this list is in respect of permanent or casual employees

The Claimants demand is, and there certainly appears to be some confusion therein, as follows —

- (i) They want the Court to order the Respondents to immediately stop any deductions from the employees wages until such time as they have built hygienic up-to-date houses with the necessary sanitary facilities
- (ii) The Court should order the Respondents to refund all the money which they alleged has been deducted illegally
- (iii) The Court should order the Respondents where the so-called accommodation is shared by two people to deduct only Sh 25 per person and not to claim from each occupant a housing allowance of Sh 50 p m, thus in some cases getting Sh 250 for such poor accommodation. They further asked for refunds on this basis

The Court finds that this case in the main is on an alleged breach of a collective agreement by the Respondents. The Court has therefore to decide whether or not the Respondents are in breach of their obligations.

Regarding the standard of housing accommodation which came under heavy criticism from the Claimants the Court has come to the conclusion that the proper authorities to decide that are the Medical Officer of Health of Nairobi City Council and the Provincial Labour Officer, Nairobi. The Court has noted that the Respondents stated that the health authorities do visit the accommodation periodically and have certified the accommodation to be in accordance with the required standards. The Court would, however, like this accommodation to be scrutinized once again and the Court therefore directs the Chief Industrial Relations Officer to arrange for the aforesaid officers to go and visit the housing accommodation provided to the employees by the Respondents and if there be any shortcomings therein, the Respondents should be asked forthwith to improve them.

In the event of there being an adverse report from these officers on the standard of housing the Claimants will be at liberty to move the Court again by way of a fresh dispute regarding any further complaints they may have.

The Court is satisfied that in the main the Claimants have pressed this dispute on behalf of casual employees who the Court finds are not entitled to any housing accommodation or payment of housing allowance in lieu thereof. The casual employees are paid daily rates which are consolidated to cover housing and other fringe benefits. If the Claimants have any query on these rates then they should report such breaches to the Provincial Labour Officer, Nairobi, as indeed they should also report any cases of permanent employees who are housed contrary to the provisions of the collective agreement, like more than two single employees being forced to share one room.

The Court cannot assist the Claimants in respect of casual employees and the housing accommodation which they occupy in terms of the collective agreement. This is entirely a private arrangement between these workers and those members of the Respondents who have housed them and if these casual employees have any complaints then they should go before another forum and not bring them to the Industrial Court.

The Court feels that it can do no more than what it has directed in the award hereinabove in order to assist the Claimants in their complaints. The Court expects that the health authorities in conjunction with the Provincial Labour Officer should be able to secure proper accommodation for permanent employees in accordance with the statutory standards.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T M No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
