THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 49 OF 1967

Parties:—

Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union
and

Siriba Training College

Interpretation Application: Ruling

The Claimants have asked the Court to interpret its award as far as it relates to the deduction of salary of Mr. S. O. Tenga.

They stated that on 6th May 1969, the Respondents had asked for a refund of a sum of Sh. 4,353 from Mr. Tenga which they claimed was an overpayment to him. Subsequently, Mr. Tenga's services were terminated on 20th June 1969, and he was paid one month's salary in lieu of notice. The Claimants asked the Court to endorse their interpretation of the award that although Mr. Tenga was to be retained as a clerk from 1st January 1967, he was not to suffer any reduction in salary and that therefore the Respondents had gone against the Court award in having reduced his salary to £574.7 p.a.

The Respondents stated that they interpreted the Court's award to mean that Mr. Tenga should revert to salary scale £506.8 to £717 p.a. in accordance with Establishment Circular No. 18 of 1961. They pointed out that if the Court had ruled that Mr. Tenga be on the salary scale of £670 to £820 p.a., they would not have allowed Mr. Tenga to continue in employment and his services would have been terminated immediately.

On the question of the refund which they have demanded from Mr. Tenga they stated that they have complied with the Court's award and not asked him to refund any money which he had received up to December 1966.

The Court has carefully gone through the points put forward by the parties and is very surprised to note that the Respondents, after the Court award was announced on 14th May 1968, reduced Mr. Tenga's salary to £551.14 p.a. This is quite contrary to the Court award where it is clearly stated that Mr. Tenga's services would be deemed to continue as a clerk with effect from 1st January 1967, and that he would suffer no reduction in salary due to the change in his designation. In other words, from 1st January 1967, Mr. Tenga was designated a clerk but continued to retain the salary he was drawing as at 1st January 1967, which is £700 p.a. It should be noted that this salary is within the scale of £506.8 to £717. The Court can see no contradiction in this as the next higher scale is from £670 to £820 p.a. The fact that Mr. Tenga was paid £700 p.a. after the Court award does not mean that he was to be considered on the salary scale of £670 to £820 p.a. It is quite clear that £700 p.a. is within the scale of £506.8 to £717 p.a. It follows that Mr. Tenga's salary could not have gone beyond £717 p.a. The parties are therefore directed to settle Mr. Tenga's salary demands in accordance with the above interpretation.

Dated this 6th day of February 1970.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 464

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 45 OF 1969

Parties:—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and Grain Milling Group of Companies (Unga Ltd., Maida Ltd. and Proctor & Allan Ltd.)

Issues in dispute:—

1. Hours of work.
2. Leave travelling allowance.
3. Maternity benefits.
4. House allowance.
5. Provision of transport for night shift workers.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Grain Milling Group shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 6th and 7th day of January 1970, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. In 1967 the parties signed a three-year wage agreement with effect from 1st August 1967, with the result that wage rates are not subject to further amendment before 1st August 1970, although other terms of service were due for review on 1st February 1969.

On 14th January 1969, the Claimants forwarded their proposals for revising terms and conditions of employment other than wages to the Respondents. This resulted in an exchange of correspondence between the parties and was followed by Joint Industrial Council meetings during which many items were disposed of. The Respondents had all along maintained that in their opinion their terms of employment were all well in line with those in operation elsewhere in the Kenya industry. The Claimants however pressed their demands in respect of the issues in dispute. The Respondents were unable to make concessions on any of these items and declared the existence of a trade dispute and notified the Permanent Secretary for Labour of it on 19th February 1969.

At the conciliation stage differences arose between the parties as to the items which were in dispute as the Claimants had notified the Ministry of Labour that there were eight items in dispute two of which—retirement age and transport for night shift workers—had not been reported by the Respondents. For some reason or the other—because of the unavailability of the Claimants or the Respondents or the conciliator, conciliation proceedings did not begin until the end of August. The parties embarked on further negotiations with the assistance of the conciliator and the warnings issue was settled.

On 10th September a new conciliator was appointed but the parties continued direct negotiations. Unfortunately no settlement was possible and on 14th October the conciliator stepped in but his efforts also failed and the parties decided to refer the issues in dispute to the Industrial Court for adjudication.

During the hearing the parties put forward very full and lengthy arguments in respect of their submissions. The Respondents mainly relied on economic arguments and made a strong plea that the Court should make a nil award on all the demands made by the Claimants as they strongly maintained that the benefits which they had granted to their employees on these items compared very favourably with the prevailing level in the country.

The Claimants on the other hand maintained that the level of fringe benefits in dispute was much inferior than that to be found in the food processing industry in the country and asked the Court to increase them considerably.

In this dispute the Court finds itself in considerable difficulty because it is being asked to make an award on fringe benefits although the wage revision is due to take place on 1st August 1970. The Industrial Court when arriving at a decision either on wages or on fringe benefits has to consider all benefits in cash or in kind which are granted to workers. The Court has to consider the total cost to employers of their workers. In this case the Court is being asked to make an award granting substantial increases on the matters in dispute and at the same time the parties conceded that in 4-6 months' time they would be embarking on wage negotiations. This state of affairs where the Court is being asked to rule in isolation on fringe benefits is most unsatisfactory. The Court feels that the terms and conditions of employment including wages of workers should be revised at one and the same time so that the parties and the Court will know precisely the increased cost which is being passed over to the employers when increases in wages and improvements in fringe benefits are made.

The Court has very carefully considered the various aspects of this dispute and has come to the conclusion that it would not be in the interests of the parties themselves, particularly the Claimants, for the Court to make an award on the issues in dispute because if the Court made an award granting increases in these fringe benefits or made a nil award on these items.

wage negotiations would be seriously prejudiced. The Court is not prepared to create such a situation because by far the most important item to a worker is his wage packet.

After a careful consideration the Court has come to the conclusion that the demand by the Claimants on the issue of hours of work should be rejected at this stage and accordingly the Court makes a nil award on this issue. On the other items the Court has decided to defer making any decision and directs that the parties should renegotiate on these matters along with the wages issue. The Court can see no reason why the parties should not embark on these negotiations within the next four months so that there is ample time to finalize a new agreement before the expiry date of the wage agreement.

At this stage the Court would like to rule, in order to clear the way for the parties to start negotiations on the issue of "provision of transport for night shift workers", that this item is negotiable between the parties. The Court cannot see any reason why this item should fall within the management prerogative. The negotiable items are broad enough to render this issue negotiable.

The Court would like to clarify that in case any of these issues remain unsettled then they should come before the Court as a fresh dispute but the Court hopes that by having gone through their respective arguments at length during these proceedings the parties will be better able to appreciate each other's position and will be able to settle not only these items but also the important issue of wages in their future negotiations.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 479

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
