THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 66 OF 1974

Parties

Kenya Electrical Trades Workers' Union
and
Penrose and Marsh Ltd

Issues in dispute

- 1 Victimization and suspension of Messrs M Bandi and J Luvitta without pay
- 2 Management refusal to observe the wages clause of the agreement negotiated between the Union and the Electrical Contractors Group of F K E of which the employer is a member

1 The Kenya Electrical Trades Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Penrose & Marsh Ltd, shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 13th day of January, 1975 and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 29th September, 1974, was received by the Court on 28th October, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner

In view of the fact that the Claimants had made totally inadequate and insufficient written submissions on Issue No 2 the Court declined to proceed with the hearing on that issue and the parties were directed that they should try to resolve this matter outside the Court failing which it may be referred back to the Court as a fresh dispute

Messrs M Bandi and J Luvitta used to work for the Respondents as electrical winders. Mr Bandi was dismissed as from 30th April, 1974, and Mr Luvitta on 25th April, 1974.

On 2nd August, 1973, the Claimants had recruited the Respondents' employees into their membership and Mr Bandi was one of them. The Claimants allege that one Mr Owiro was nominated as the workers' shopsteward but the Respondents sacked him and as Mr Bandi was an assistant shopsteward he became the acting shopsteward after the dismissal of Mr Owiro. From then on he received several warnings.

One interesting development was that on 10th December, 1973, the Federation of Kenya Employers, acting on behalf of the Respondents, informed the Claimants that the Respondents had agreed to join the Electrical Contractors Group and that the FKE would be acting on their behalf in future.

In the collective agreement between the Claimants and the Electrical Contractors Group there is a clause on warnings and suspension which reads as follows —

"The employer may give any employee up to three warnings in one single year as disciplinary action on any serious offence other than gross misconduct. The employer may further suspend an employee with or without pay under the following conditions—

- (i) employee charged by police may be suspended during period of trial (this will not apply in cases of minor traffic offences),
- (ii) in the event of an employee committing a gross misconduct he may be suspended without pay as last measure for a period not exceeding 14 days.

Notwithstanding action mentioned in paragraphs 16 and 17, the employer will discuss with the union local shopsteward before taking any action."

Mr Luvitta wrote a letter on 30th January, 1974, to the Respondents complaining that although he was a foreman he had not received his annual increment and further that his remuneration was poor. On 31st January, the Respondents replied to him stating the reasons why he had not been given an increment at the end of the first year of service which was as follows —

"You were engaged by this company as a Foreman/Winder in May, 1972, but during the period you have held this position the company have had to issue several verbal warnings with regard to reporting on duty under the influence of drink, loss of tools from the workshop for which you are responsible, and the loss, due to carelessness, of several sets of keys to the workshop. It has also been noticed that you have been absent and late for work frequently in the last few months."

Subsequently warning letters were served on Mr Luvitta on 19th March, 17th April, 1974, and then at the end of April his services were terminated as stated hereinabove.

The Claimants have submitted that Mr Bandi was dismissed because of his union activities and Mr Luvitta because he joined the union on 19th April, 1974. The Claimants stated that they had arranged a meeting with the Respondents on 18th April, 1974, at 10.30 a.m. to discuss the matter of the implementation of the Electrical Employers Group collective agreement but no representative of the Respondents met them. It was on this occasion that Mr Bandi met the union officials and on 24th April, 1974, he was served with a warning letter.

The Claimants denied the allegation that Mr Luvitta was ever found drunk on duty and asked the Respondents to produce the necessary certificate to prove it. They asked the Court to award the reinstatement of both workers without loss of benefits.

The Respondents submitted that these two employees had not been dismissed because of their union activities or union membership but purely and simply because of their performance and continual late arrival on duty and a few other factors.

In the case of Mr Bandi they referred to several warnings including those which have been served on him prior to 22nd September when the recognition agreement between the parties was signed and two since then—on 29th September, 1973, and 24th April, 1974. The letter of 29th September, clearly alleges that he had continued to arrive late for work and also had left work before time and had made false entries on his time sheets on these occasions by claiming eight hours being worked. He was informed that this was the third and final warning letter and the next offence would result in instant dismissal.

In the case of Mr Luvitta their submission was that since he was a foreman the union could not represent him and they referred to the two letters of warning served on him on 19th March, 1973, and 17th April, 1974, culminating in his letter of dismissal dated 25th April, 1974, which was to take effect from 30th April. His letter of dismissal clearly gave the reasons which were that he was being continually on duty under the influence of drink and despite two previous warnings he had continued to report late on duty.

The Respondents produced clock cards in respect of both the employees in order to prove their submissions regarding their late arrivals on duty and their absenteeism.

The Court notes that neither Mr Bandi nor Mr Luvitta bothered to attend the hearing of the dispute and the Claimants' representative informed the Court that both of them had been informed of the hearing date. The Claimants' representative could not confirm or deny whether these two persons had secured other employment.

The Court finds that the manner in which the Claimants case was put forward in this dispute falls far short of the usual standard and it left much to be desired. The Court would like to impress on the unions that in cases where they are challenging the termination of services of their members it is imperative that such persons who are involved in the dispute should be either in Court or be nearby to enable the Court to ascertain from them any important points that it may wish to do.

The Court has carefully considered the submissions made by the parties and finds that the Claimants have failed to prove their allegations of victimization of these two persons on account of their union activities and union membership. On the other hand the Respondents have produced satisfactory evidence to show that the real reasons of termination of their services were as claimed by them and stated in the earlier part of the award. The Court accordingly rejects the Claimants' demands.

GAZETTE NOTICE No 477

THE TRADE MARKS ACT (Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

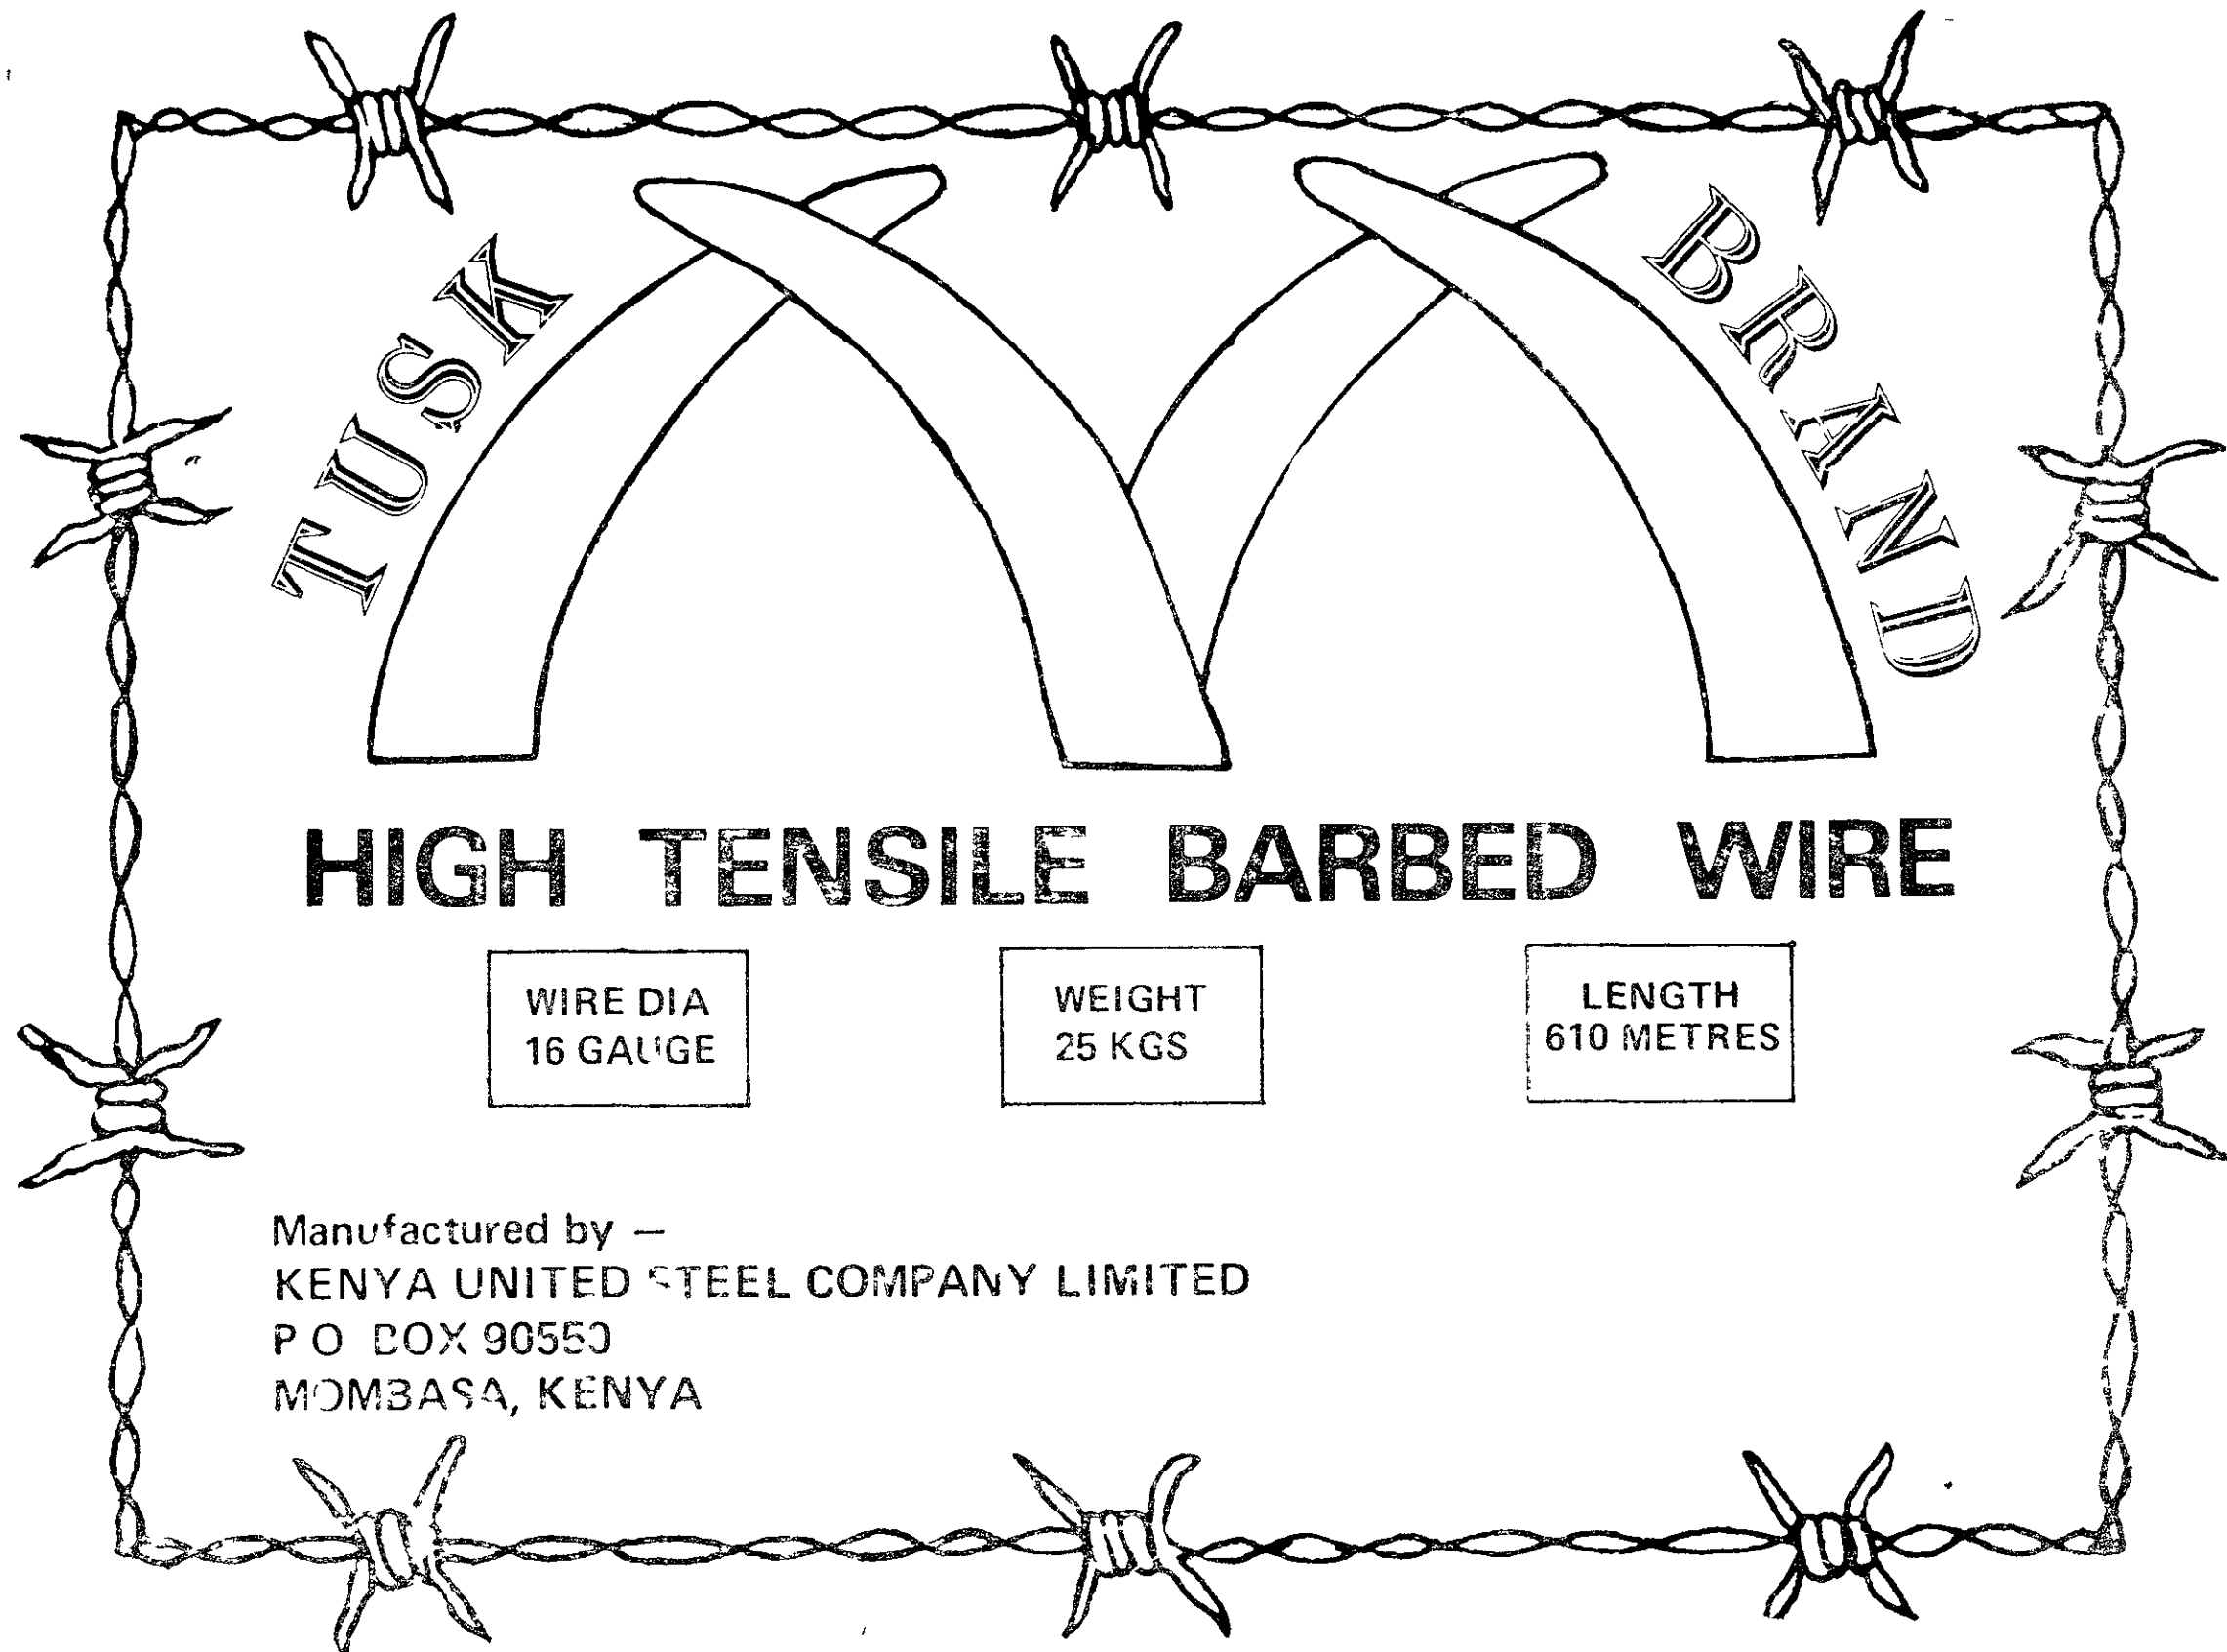

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.

INDEX TO MANUFACTURERS AND PRODUCTS

THIRD EDITION 1972

PUBLISHED BY MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

This edition illustrates the pace of progress and industrial advancement which Kenya has made since independence in 1963

Besides underlining the record of industrial progress in recent years, the Index aims at bringing to the notice of buyers within Africa and overseas the diversity of products available in Kenya and the scope for mutually profitable business opportunities that exist. The Index, therefore, is a standard book of reference on what Kenya can produce and make and should, therefore, be useful to businessmen and students for the valuable information that it contains
