DISEASES OF ANIMALS ACTS, 1894 AND 1896.IMPORTATION OF DOGS INTO GREAT BRITAIN.

On and after the 1st day of January, 1902, the landing in Great Britain of dogs from abroad will only be permitted subject to the provisions of the Importation of Dogs Order of 1901, which in effect requires that after the 15th of March next every imported dog shall be detained and isolated at the expense of its owner upon premises in the occupation or under the control of a Veterinary Surgeon for a period of six calendar months from the date of landing.

Until the 15th of March next dogs will be allowed to land upon conditions substantially the same as at present.

The disease of Rabies having ceased to exist both in Great Britain and in Ireland, it has become of the utmost importance that the most effective steps should be taken to prevent its re-introduction from abroad, and the Board have felt it incumbent upon them, in the interests of dog owners in this country, to amend their regulations in the manner above described, and to warn persons who may propose to travel that after the above mentioned date the isolation and detention of dogs on the private premises of their owners can no longer be sanctioned.

By the Dogs (Landing from Ireland) Revocation Order of 1901, the restrictions on the movement of dogs between Ireland and Great Britain have been removed.

Reuter's Telegrams.

FEBRUARY 1ST.—The "Daily Telegraph" understands that Lansdowne has replied to the Dutch communication stating that it is unserviceable even as a basis on which to open negotiations owing to the absence of any authority and lack of tangible proposals.

Bruce Hamilton has made 320 captures in January including many important Boer leaders, in addition to killed and wounded.

Broderick in introducing the supplementary estimate for the army in South Africa said that on the 1st of January it numbered 237,000 and the Block house system had produced the best results. The rebels in the colony had practically been dispersed and the Orange River and Transvaal colonies largely cleared of the enemy. The Railways were perfectly safe and there remained three large bodies of 2,000 each, under De Wet, Botha and De la Rey to be dealt with, Kitchener's policy is to keep them together by Block houses and eventually fight them.

FEBRUARY 3RD.—210 Japanese troops under the command of a Major left Aomori on the 23rd to practise marching in the snow. They lost their way the cold being intense and finally on the 25th all perished except one. The army estimates have been passed by 159 votes to 56.

One of the satisfactory features of the situation in the Transvaal is the increasing popularity among the Burgers of the "National Scouts". Nearly 300 during the last week have joined while many others have enrolled themselves in the Intelligence Department.

China has paid the first instalment amounting to 1,820,000 Taels for the war indemnity.

Roberts	Conservative	5,231 votes
Vaile	Liberal	4,119 "

The report on the supplementary army estimate has been adopted by 226 votes to 64.

FEBRUARY 5TH.—1,000 Maoris have volunteered for garrison or any other duty in any part of the Empire, 5,000 are available if needed.

The "Times" correspondent at Brussels states that the fate of the sugar conference depends on the attempts of the Delegates to obtain a reduction on the surtax among the Powers interested including France to uniform rate of 5 Francs.

Sir Charles Eliot has been Gazetted, Consul-General for Zanzibar and the East Africa Protectorate.

Lord Lansdowne in his reply summarises the Dutch proposal viz: granting a safe conduct to the Boer Delegates to enable them to confer with the Boer leaders in South Africa. The Delegates then to return to Europe furnished with the necessary Powers to enable them to conclude peace with Great Britain, when Holland might be instrumental in placing the Boer and British Plenipotentiaries in communication with one another. The British Government while entirely appreciating the humane motives of the Dutch Government state that they must adhere to their decision to accept no intervention from any Foreign Power; that it is evident that the best and quickest means to arrange a settlement must be direct communications between Lord Kitchener and the Boer leaders in South Africa. The Government have also decided that should any negotiations such as the Dutch Government propose take place, it must be in Africa not in Europe.

Lord Kitchener's weekly returns show 225 Boers killed, wounded or captured.

A supply train in the Cradock district was held up by the Boers last Saturday and burnt.

FEBRUARY 6TH.—The Newspapers agree that Lord Lansdowne's reply was the only one possible, the Dutch note being foredoomed to failure.

The Berlin Newspapers announce that the Prince of Wales's visit and the exchange of views between him, the Emperor, and Count von Buelow has resulted in a complete settlement of the Chamberlain-Buelow incident.

Lord Kitchener reports that Byng attacked Wessels near Reitz and recaptured Firmu's 2 guns; also De Wet's last ponpom. 11 Boers were killed, and 27 captured. Our casualties were slight. 52 other captures are also advised.

H. M. S. "Amphitrite" bound homeward is ashore in Suez Bay.

In the House of Commons Sir Campbell Bannerman's amendment to refer the Procedure rules to a select Committee has been defeated by 250 votes to 160, and Mr. Balfour's motion that the rules should be taken into consideration has been adopted without division.

Commandant Marais was captured on the 31st ulto. Commandant Lane at present a prisoner at St. Helena has offered his services in the British with a Commando.

H. M. S. "Amphitrite" has floated. It has been decided to replace the civilian and clerical Establishments in the military branches of the War Office, by qualified retired officers and ex-soldiers. This change will come into force as posts fall vacant and preference will be given to those wounded or affected in health through active service.

The arrival of the Arch-Duke Franz Ferdinand at St. Petersburg has evoked articles of most marked cordiality in the official and unofficial organs of both countries. The unanimity of the Austro-Hungarian Press including even the Polish organs is most remarkable and is largely attributable to the change in feeling towards Germany due to the new tariff and the Wreschen scandal.

Government intend communicating their correspondence with the Dutch Government to the Boer Delegates.

The National Victoria Memorial Fund now amounts to £189,000.

A fire is raging at Paterson in New Jersey. Already 26 blocks of buildings have been destroyed including many public offices, the entire business section and the lighting system, the town being illuminated now by flames. The inhabitants are panic-struck and hundreds are homeless.

A huge enthusiastic mass meeting has been held at Cape Town to protest against the Continental standards at which the Mayor presided. Resolutions declaring that the foul calumnies against our troops are unjustified, expressing conviction that the troops have maintained the highest traditions of the British army, and approving of the manner in which the Imperial Government have conducted the campaign were carried by acclamation.

FEBRUARY 11TH.—Lord Kitchener telegraphing from Wolvehoek on the 9th instant states that after several days' operations, East of Libenbergvlei, the whole force on the night of the 5th moving from different directions formed a continuous line of intrenched men. The whole line advanced at dawn on them when De Wet was within the enclosure. He however realized the position, ordered his men to disperse and seek safety. The operations resulted in 283 Boers being killed, wounded, and taken prisoners.

Lord Onslow speaking in the House stated that careful inquiry showed that Weihaiwei is only capable of fortification at great expense, also that the idea of fortifying Kweiling with a large garrison had been abandoned but that it was an extremely useful place for small arm and naval gun practice and that it might be used as a military and naval sanatorium.

The Boers rushed a detachment of 100 men at Calvinia during the night. 3 officers, 7 men were killed and 17 wounded.

Von Donop has captured 2 laagers in the Western Transvaal.

FEBRUARY 13TH.—Lord Lansdowne and Baron Hayashi, signed on the 30th of last month a five years agreement terminable at a year's notice on either side. In its preamble it declares that Great Britain and Japan being actuated solely with the desire to maintain the status quo and general peace, being specially interested in maintaining the independence and integrity of China and Corea, securing to all nations equal opportunities of trade, have drawn up and signed this agreement consisting of six Articles, which provide that should either country be threatened by aggressive action of another power, or by other disturbances it is lawful for either to take such measures as are indispensable for the safeguard of its interests. In such a case the contracting parties will maintain strict neutrality, should either become involved in war with one other power, but in the event of either of the contracting parties being opposed by more than one hostile power, the other shall come to her assistance.

The Marquis of Dufferin is dead.

Lord Lansdowne in his instructions to the new Commissioner for Uganda dated the 28th ultimo, urges that efforts should be made to develop the trade of the country. Settlers he says however must rely on their own efforts and not on any pecuniary support from Government. He adds that the military reorganization has thoroughly secured the Protectorate against disturbances.

Wreckage belonging to H. M. S. "Condor" has been found on the Coast of Vancouver thus rendering her loss a certainty.

FEBRUARY 14TH.—De Wet in breaking through the block house line was subjected to a terrific fire. Two hundred men accompanied him of which only thirty succeeded in crossing. NOTES.

ARABUKO FOREST.

The following report by Mr. Herbert Stone, F.L.S., one of the Imperial Institute expert-referees on timber, on certain samples of wood from the Arabuko Forest near Malindi is of a very satisfactory nature and indicates the possibility of a valuable addition to the exports of this Protectorate.

No. 1. M'Gambo is a deep red wood streaked with darker lines. It is about as hard as maple and weighs 63.9 lbs. per cubic foot. I imagine that it is difficult to work, as pieces tend to rip out when planing with the grain, but it works very smoothly across it. It is a passable furniture wood and its comparative softness and lightness is in its favour.

No. 2. M'Rihi.—The wood is closely allied to the foregoing and certainly belongs to the same genus. It is, however, a far more beautiful wood, being of a rich red colour, with a fine grain and a smooth, even surface. There is no doubt whatever that this will fetch a good price. It will work well in any direction, especially across the grain, and will polish superbly. It is rather harder than maple and weighs 57½ lb. per cubic foot, which is not excessive for the purposes for which it would be employed.

No. 3. Bamba-Kafi.—A tree belonging to the Leguminosae and nearly allied to Copaifera. The timber is good for any kind of furniture, though it does not possess the beauty of most of the other members of this series. It has a very strong superficial resemblance to teak. From the sample, one gets the impression that the grain is irregular and rips out when planing but that it would finish well. It is about as hard as teak and weighs 59 lb. per cubic foot. It would probably find a sale if it has any qualities such as durability and strength to supplement its somewhat poor colour.

No. 4. M'Pingu.—A very fine specimen of African ebony and undoubtedly a Diospyros. It has a finer grain than most ebonyes and will be accepted without doubt as the equal of any on the market. Presuming that the specimen is a fair sample I should say that it is a better class of ebony than the Niger ebony, as there is not the least shade of brown or grey in it, the whole being uniformly as black as pitch. Weight 68.2 lb. per cubic foot. In all other respects it has the well-known qualities of the genus.

No. 5. M'Bebeda.—This is from a tree belonging to the same natural order as No. 3. In appearance it resembles sabicu, but is richer and darker in colour and would make a fine furniture wood. It is as hard as boxwood and heavy, being 64.1 lb. per cubic foot. It would probably be a little troublesome to get smooth, as the grain is soft in bands here and there, but it would finish excellently. I am of the opinion that it would be readily accepted here and command a good price.

(The rest of the report will appear in the next issue.)

ZEBRAS.

The Baron Bronsart von Sheblendorff's experiments in capturing and taming wild Zebra having proved a success he is now in a position to supply these animals at rates as quoted below, within nine months of the receipt of orders. The Zebra is quite tamable, has an extremely powerful chest with full muscular development and strong tethers; above all it is immune to the tse-tse fly and epidemics generally; in character it much resembles that of the horse, which varies according to the individuals.

Prices, according to points, character, age, sex and degree of training, as follows:

Tamed Zebras, but not broken in	Rs. 200 to 300
Zebras tamed and broken in as per order	„ 400 to 600

Photographs taken at "Trakehnen," Zebra breeding farm near Mbuguni (Kilimanjaro) can be viewed on demand.
