THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 29 OF 1974

Parties —

Kenya Union of Journalists

and

E A Standard (Newspapers) Ltd and Nation Newspapers Ltd

INTERPRETATION APPLICATION RULING

The Court announced its award in the above dispute on 4th September, 1974, and the Claimants have moved the Court under section 10 (5) of the Trade Disputes Act and asked for the Court's interpretation of items 2, 4, 5, 6, 9, 12, 15, 16, 17 and 20

The parties were heard by the Court on 25th November, 1974, on this interpretation application

It is quite obvious that on most of these items the Claimants have attempted to ask the Court to re-examine its award with a view to improving it in favour of the Claimants

By far the most important matter raised by the Claimants is in connexion with the Court's award on wages and salaries and the housing allowance as a separate item which was rejected by the Court

The Claimants' main complaint is that the award is silent on the question of years of service when one journalist leaves one of the Respondents and joins the other. They complained that if such a thing happened then the engaging Respondent forced such a journalist to forfeit two years of his service by way of training although the journalist may be fully trained and further refused to offer such a person the salary which he merited for the years of service which he had put in as a journalist. In fact they have asked the Court to interpret its award to mean that years of service with either of the Respondents shall be considered to be common between them.

The Court is certain that the Claimants have not fully applied their minds to the implications of such an award which would indeed be creating a precedent in the country. In this case there are only two Respondents but if the award as demanded by the Claimants was to be extended to employers' organizations which have more than two member companies then it is quite easy to see how impractical and unworkable such an award would be. After careful consideration of all the Claimants' points the Court has come to the conclusion that it cannot support the Claimants' interpretation on this point. Surely it is up to a journalist who leaves one newspaper and wants to join the other to negotiate his entry point with the new employer when all his training and experience would no doubt be taken into consideration. The Court would strongly urge the new employer to give full credit of the past experience if any to such a journalist. In any case the Court rules that a reporter or a photographer who has completed the two-year training period with one of the Respondents shall not be required to enter the trainee scale on employment by the other Respondent.

The Claimants have also raised the point that there are some journalists, i.e. reporters and photographers, who have reached the length of the scale awarded which meant that such employees would not benefit from the Court award and would enable the Respondents to embark on mass demotions of such people.

The Respondents throughout this application made it clear that the Claimants had at no time met them in order to ascertain the Respondents' point of view and interpretation of the Court award. They maintained that the parties could have eliminated this application on certain items at their own level and on the remaining points they were of the view that the Claimants were asking the Court to review its award.

The Respondents pointed out that no specific grievance had come to their knowledge on this particular point, i.e. of journalists who had a service longer than the years of scale. They further clarified that many employees had earned merit increases and many more earned above the minimum rates awarded. Moreover no specific grievance had come to their knowledge on the question of job classification. The Court has made it amply clear in its award that the parties should embark on a joint job classification exercise with the assistance of an outside expert if necessary three months prior to the next revision of the collective agreement. The Court is confident that this exercise will go a long way in eliminating most of the Claimants' grievances in this regard.

The Court however, feels that the Claimants have a valid point as far as length of service is concerned in that some journalists may have a longer service than the eight-year scale awarded. The Court would accordingly like to clarify its award and it is to be interpreted to mean that any employee who has more than eight years of service either as a reporter or a photographer should also benefit by the increments awarded by the Court with effect from 1st April, 1974. This should also be the case in respect of those unionizable employees who are not merely reporters and photographers.

On the question of housing the Court when making its award had all the facts under consideration and the Claimants have produced no further evidence which would persuade the Court to alter its original award. The fact that one or two persons of one Respondent were offered a small housing allowance which the Respondents claimed was through an error in that they were given letters of appointment applicable to the printing industry does not mean that the Claimants are entitled to break away from the principle of consolidation of housing in the wages and salaries structure. In any case the Claimants are asking the Court to vary its award and this the Court must decline to do.

The other worthwhile submission made by the Claimants was under the item of medical expenses whereby the Claimants want the Court to show how their members would be compensated for injuries to the eyes or teeth received during the course of their duties if treatment for both eyes and teeth are excluded from the Court award.

The Court feels that this is a matter which is adequately covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act and the Court award should stand as it is.

On the item of gratuity and the remaining items which are not specifically mentioned in the ruling but which were raised by the Claimants during the hearing the Court is satisfied that it is no more than an attempt to persuade the Court to vary its award. The Court has repeatedly pointed out in the past that it is futile for the parties to seek a variation of the Court award through interpretation application. After all, the unions are at liberty to raise the demands which are rejected at one time during the next revision of the collective agreement when, circumstances permitting the Court might favourably consider their demands.

There is one point which is of general interest and which the Court feels needs to be drawn to the attention of the parties and that is on the question of training of journalists. This is indeed an important matter and although the Court has ruled that such an item is not negotiable between the parties, the Court does feel that the parties should get together at the highest level, that is, the management should meet the Claimants' national officers as distinct from the shopstewards of the individual Respondents, and examine this problem thoroughly.

From what the Court learnt it appears that there is no consultative council between the parties. This the Court feels is an important omission in the parties relationship. The Court accordingly strongly advises the parties to set up a National Consultative Committee where such important non-negotiable items like training and other matters of national importance in journalism and the welfare of journalists can be discussed. The management should hear the views of the national officials of the Claimants at such consultative meetings. The Court sincerely hopes that the parties see it fit to carry out the Court's wishes in this direction.

Parties —

Kabazi Cannery Ltd

and

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers

Issue in dispute — Redundancy

1 Kabazi Cannery Ltd shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on 18th November, 1974, and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 19th August, 1974, was received by the Court on 5th September, along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner in accordance with section 9 (9) (e) of the Trade Disputes Act

This dispute has arisen as a result of the Claimants' intention to reduce their work force by 89 employees out of a total of 172. The dispute is before the Court under section 9A (6) of the Trade Disputes Act which requires that all cases of redundancy shall be subject to the approval of the Industrial Court

The parties have had discussions at their own level and also with the assistance of a conciliator from the Ministry of Labour but the Respondents have resisted the Claimants' demand

In the collective agreement between the parties which is effective from 1st October, 1972, and is to remain in force for a period of three years the parties have a clause on redundancy with the following provisions —

- "(a) The Union shall be informed by the employer the reasons for and the extent of intended redundancy
- (b) The principle shall be adopted of 'last in first out' in the particular category of employees affected subject to all other factors such as skill, relative merit, ability and reliability being equal
- (c) The redundant employee will be entitled to the appropriate period of notice or pay in lieu
- (d) Pro-rata leave shall be paid to the employees affected and any other remuneration that he/she is entitled to
- (e) The company will pay severance pay of 10 days' wages for every completed year of service"

It seems that the Claimants have had ups and downs in their business as once in 1956-57 they decided to expand their tomato processing plant to 10,000 tons production capacity but in 1959 they closed down because of heavy production losses suffered in the intervening years. The factory remained closed from 1959 until 1963

The Court was told that the present shareholders took a long time to bring the factory to its present standard at substantial cost in capital investment and labour and today the main factory machinery is for the production of tomato paste and has a capacity for processing up to 12,000 tons of tomatoes per year

The Court is satisfied that the present application is mainly due to the fact that during the annual peak season last year the seasonal employees taken on to meet the requirements of the season covering the months of June, July, August and September, were given permanent terms of service. The Claimants took this step hoping that there would be enough raw materials to keep the factory at break even production level in the future

The Claimants stressed during the hearing that unfortunately two main factors combined to frustrate the Claimants' plans —

'1 Insufficient supply of tomatoes due to bad weather and/or complicated and inflated tomato growing techniques and costs

2 The shrinking of export markets mainly due to Uganda and Tanzania markets

These factors have combined and reduced monthly production from an estimated 25,000 cartons per month to 10,000 cartons per month average (average based on months other than peak season months)"

The Respondents have submitted that the dispute did not relate to redundancy but in fact had developed from the Claimants' original intention of laying off of 60 employees. In support thereof they referred to a letter dated 7th February, 1974, written by the Claimants' Production Manager to their General Secretary in which it was stated that they proposed to lay off 60 workers before 1st March, 1974

The Respondents drew the Court's attention to the fact that this letter was the only indication that they have received in accordance with the provisions of the clause on redundancy in their collective agreement and since it had not been varied at any time or withdrawn, the Court should uphold their submission that the Claimants' application to the Court was to lay off 60 workers but not to declare them along with another 29 workers redundant

The Court has perused the statistics regarding employment and production produced by the Claimants along with their monthly wage bill for the years 1971 to July, 1974, and there is no doubt that production in relation to employment has fallen, particularly from 1973 figures

The Court has also given due consideration to some of the following attempts which the Claimants had made since 1963 in conjunction with the Ministry of Agriculture with a view to increasing tomato supplies to the factory but without success —

- '(a) Encouragement of tomato co-operative farming in selected areas such as Vihiga, Machakos, Nyeri, Naivasha all of which failed
- (b) Free supply of seedlings and transport of produce from farms to the factory
- (c) Encouragement of employees to plant tomatoes on their plots for sale to the factory"

The Court while appreciating the Respondents' contention that the Claimants had failed or neglected to look for their supplies of tomatoes and also for new markets, is convinced that the Claimants are going through a rather difficult period which is mainly due to very poor weather conditions during the months of July and August

In cases of this nature the Court has to carry out a very difficult and delicate assessment of the whole situation because if the employer should end up in liquidation as a result of the heavy unproductive labour bill it has to bear, economic strain will not be restricted to employees who lose jobs but will affect the whole labour force. In the present case it would also have disastrous effects on the 5,000 smallholder farmers who depend on the Claimants for the sale of their farm products. There were some allegations made by the Respondents about poor relations at the Claimants' undertaking and some criticism against a particular officer but the Court is not inclined to go into such allegations in this dispute

The Court is intrigued at the manner at which an application which started off with a view to laying off 60 employees had now developed into an application seeking approval to declare 89 employees redundant

The Court has given careful consideration to all the submissions, written and verbal, and the documentary evidence that was produced during the hearing and has come to the conclusion that this application in the main is to lay off workers during certain months when the supply of raw materials diminishes to such an extent that they are a heavy burden to the Claimants. However, the Court is satisfied that to a certain extent some redundancies are justified

The Court awards that the Claimants are given permission to declare only 29 employees redundant and the remaining 60 can be laid off by the Claimants for a period of not more than four months in any one year

The Court directs the parties to take appropriate steps in accordance with their collective agreement to give effect to the Court award without any further delay

GAZETTE NOTICE No 133

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T M No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number
