GENERAL NOTICE No 167]

UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

THE following Regulations are published for general information at the request of the Inspector General of Communications, East Africa Expeditionary Force

PORT LANDING REGULATIONS FOR THE CONTROL AND LANDING OF PASSENGERS AND PRIVATE CARGO
 IN CONQUERED TERRITORY FROM VESSELS OTHER THAN HIS MAJESTY'S TRANSPORTS

- 1 These Regulations will be cited as the Port Landing Regulations, 1917
- 2 All cargo other than Military or Government stores, etc, arriving at or leaving ports in conquered territory in vessels other than Government transports or dhows, will be landed and shipped by and under the control of the Port Captain
- 3 The tariff of landing, etc, charges shall be those laid down in the Schedule hereto and Bills of Lading shall be endorsed accordingly and shall be due and payable by the ships, owners or agents prior to the vessel leaving port
- 4 Owners or Agents of a ship that purposes to call at a port shall as early as possible, give notice to the Port Captain at such Port of the expected date and time of arrival of the ship, and shall give particulars in such notice as to the nature and quantity of cargo and other matters of importance
- 5 Vessels will provide all necessary and usual gear for working cargoes
- 6 The landing of heavy weights cannot be guaranteed, all consignments should therefore be shipped in packages of such size and weight as will enable them to be man-handled. In the event of heavy or bulky consignments being required to be imported or exported, arrangements must be made with the Port Captain prior to the arrival of the vessel on which the said goods are, or are to be consigned, for handling of such goods

7 Should Military exigencies not allow of a ship or vessel entering a harbour, no responsibility for demurrage can be accepted, nor can claims for demurrage be entertained in respect to vessels detained in harbour under unavoidable circumstances

8 Movements and control of ships in harbour will be under the direction of, and subject to, regulations issued by the Chief Port Authority or Port Captain in a similar manner as in the case of His Majesty's Transports

9 No ship may break bulk until her cargo has been duly entered at the Customs House or special authority obtained from the Officer-in-Charge of Customs

10 All cargo landed by permission of the Officer-in-Charge of Customs into any temporary shed in the possession of the Port Authority shall be under Customs control and will be allowed storage, if space permits, for a period of 72 hours after the complete cargo has been landed and pending clearance through the Customs. Cargo not cleared within such period will be removed from such shed to the Customs sheds at the cost and risk of the consignees. Kerosine, petrol, inflammable oils and explosives will be stacked in open places assigned by the Customs Authorities

11 Should Military exigencies not allow of cargo being landed at a wharf or into a shed, cargo will be landed on to the beach set apart by the Customs Authority for that purpose above high water mark. No responsibility will be taken by the Port Authorities after the landing of such goods on to the said beach

12 No goods will be delivered to any consignee without the production by him of the necessary authority from the Officer-in-Charge of Customs

13 Importers or shippers or persons in charge of goods shall deliver where and when required landing, shipping, transshipping, or forwarding orders or warrants as the case may be, on the prescribed forms, which shall specify the respective marks and numbers of the packages, their number, description, and contents, with the weight and measurements of solids, and the number of gallons of liquid contained in each package, and the value thereof, when required, also the name of the ship and the port the goods are from or intended for, and there shall be separate landing, shipping, transshipping, or forwarding orders or warrants for each ship and for each separate consignee or shipper

Bills of Lading shall be produced for all cargo landed or to be landed before orders can be accepted or delivery made for any portion thereof, and no bills of lading will be accepted on which the authority from the shipper to the holder is not deduced by a complete and accurate chain of endorsement, and every bill of lading shall clearly show to whose order the goods are to be delivered. In all cases of informality in bills of lading, application in writing must be made for the goods, stating the circumstances and enclosing any documents which will show the title to the goods. In every case the applicant shall indemnify the Administration against loss or damage, by bond or otherwise, as the Administration may direct

Bills of Lading, freight notes, invoices, and other documents shall be available and must be produced to the Port Captain in respect of all cargo landed at a harbour, as and when required by the Port Captain

14 Should either weight or measurement appear to be incorrectly stated on an order or warrant, the Port Captain may test the same, and if found inaccurate the cost of weighing or measuring or both, with a minimum charge of Rs 2/- must be paid by the consignee or shipper, as the case may be, in addition to any penalty to which he may be liable

15 (1) The Administration will not be liable for any loss, delay, or non-delivery of goods occasioned by insufficient or erroneous marking

(2) When goods are insufficiently or erroneously marked, the Administration, notwithstanding that all dues and charges shall have been deposited or paid, may require from any person claiming such goods a special release order signed by the ship's agents, or an indemnification against any loss or damage the Administration may sustain by reason of the delivery to such person. The ordinary rent shall be charged against all goods remaining on the Administration's premises in consequence of such insufficient or erroneous marking

16 The delivery of goods to the Customs Sheds, Searcher's Office or other place appointed by the Customs Department, shall constitute delivery of such goods to the consignee, and the Administration will not be liable in respect of goods after they have been so delivered

17 In cases of emergency or for the purpose of securing the better safety of the harbour or the shipping therein the Port Captain may, whenever it may seem expedient to do so, destroy or otherwise dispose of dangerous goods within a harbour without compensation to the consignee

18 The Port Captain may with the consent of the Officer-in-Charge of Customs and after giving at least two hours notice to the owner or other person entitled to receive the goods, or, if the owner or consignee of the goods cannot be found, then without such notice, order the removal and if necessary, the destruction of any cargo or matter of an offensive nature which may be landed or placed upon wharves, jetties or quays or any other part of the Port Captain's premises in a harbour, such removal or destruction shall be at the expense of the consignee or other person concerned.

19 The Administration will not be liable for any loss or damage to goods for shipment until goods have been actually loaded on the Administration's lighters, nor will it be liable for delay in shipment or for non-shipment due to failure on the part of the shippers to comply with the Regulations or conditions in connection with the shipment of goods at any harbour

20 Smoking is prohibited within a harbour in any goods shed, warehouse, or in the proximity to any cargo or inflammable material, or in other places where notice boards prohibiting smoking are erected

21 All vessels arriving at the Port with any infectious disease on board shall before entering the harbour fly a yellow flag at the foremast head. They shall before allowing any person or cargo to be disembarked await the arrival of the Port Health Officer who may impose such restrictions and give such directions as he may deem necessary

22 No boats shall go alongside any vessel on arrival until such ship has been boarded by the Port Health Officer or his representative and pratique granted

23 The orders for the time being in force for transports with regard to the sale and consumption of liquor on transports in Port will apply pari passu to all private vessels

24 No person will be permitted to land from or board any vessel without a permit issued by the Base or Port Commandant at the Port in question

25 The right of clearing and delivering luggage from and to ships in harbour, when not affected by a passenger personally, is reserved to the Port Authorities or to such persons as the Port Authorities may specially appoint or license for the purpose,

26 No person shall interfere with or hinder any Officer of the Administration in the discharge of his duty

27 The Chief Port Authority is empowered to make such Rules hereunder from time to time as may be deemed necessary or desirable for the carrying out of the above Regulations

28 Save as otherwise in these Regulations provided, if any person commits a breach of any of the foregoing Regulations, or any Rules made thereunder, or causes or procures a breach thereof to be committed, such person shall be liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding Rs 1,000, or in default of payment to imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months or to both such fine and imprisonment
