THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE No 64 OF 1974

Parties —

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and

Mamujee Brothers Ltd, Mombasa
Doshi & Co Ltd, Mombasa

Issues in dispute —

- 1 Wages
- 2 Leave travelling allowance
- 3 Housing allowance
- 4 Effective date
- 5 Duration

1 The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Mamujee Brothers Ltd, and Doshi and Co Ltd, shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 10th day of January, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 12th September, 1974, was received by the Court on 22nd October along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner in accordance with section 9 (9) (e) of the Trade Dispute Act

The parties had entered into a collective agreement dated 19th September, 1967, which was to remain in force for a period of five years with effect from 1st April, 1967. An extra year was added to the life of the agreement as a result of the Tripartite Agreement. The following consolidated rates were specified for the various categories in this agreement —

	Sh p m
Labourers	180
Watchman	185
Headman	250
Drivers	285
Clerks Junior } Senior }	275

It was further provided in the agreement that all employees will receive individual increases on top of their monthly earnings as follows —

	Sh p m
Labourers and Watchman	20
Headman	25
Drivers	30
Clerks	35

The Court was informed that these increases had been granted and in the Respondents' written submission the actual wages of all the employees concerned were set out

The Claimants have all along pressed for the housing element to be specified separately from the wages while the Respondents have resisted this demand. The parties' respective positions when they reached deadlock during the conciliation were as follows —

	Sh	Claimants Sh	Respondents (consolidated) Sh
Labourer	275 + H A	30 = 305	265
Watchman	315 + H A	30 = 345	275
Headman	375 + H A	40 = 415	310
Driver-Heavy duty	455 + H A	40 = 495	585
Medium duty	455 + H A	40 = 495	440
Light duty	375 + H A	40 = 415	350
Clerks general	455 + H A	50 = 505	360
Senior Clerks	575 + H A	50 = 625	435

The Claimants naturally have based their case on the increase in the cost of living and in the increase in the growth of national economy

The Respondents on the other hand stated that they had to face cut throat competition from seven other competitors in Mombasa who did not appear to have any agreement with the Claimants. This one factor of serious undercutting by the competitors had forced them to make the aforesaid offer and they had also agreed to grant an increase of Sh 35 per month for the first year and Sh 35 for the second year to those employees who would not gain from the Court award

The analysis carried out by the Employment Promotion Division states that since July, 1971, the date of the expiry of the Tripartite Agreement up to November, 1974 prices have increased by 37.2 per cent and since economic growth is uncertain in the present international situation this percentage formed the maximum which could be claimed under the Guidelines. The Respondents' offer of 6.5 per cent wages increase and 0.7 per cent in leave travelling allowance total up to 7.3 per cent

In every case before the Court, apart from the conditions that are laid down in the Guidelines which had been issued by the Minister for Finance, the Court had also got to take into consideration other factors such as the financial viability of an undertaking, its position vis-a-vis its competitors and the effect of any increase on the undertaking's ability to absorb them without having to raise the prices of its products to name only a few

One rather disturbing feature of this dispute is that although the Claimants reported the existence of a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour on 9th November, 1973 on the issues of wages, annual leave, leave travelling allowance and housing allowance deadlock was recorded and reported by the conciliator on 18th March, 1974, on the issues of wages, leave travelling allowance and housing allowance, the parties did not sign the Notification of Dispute Form "A" until 12th September, 1974, when the issues in dispute were listed as stated hereinabove

The Court notes that two additional issues of effective date and duration have been added on although no dispute on them was reported. The Claimants informed the Court that the reason for the delay was that the form which the parties had signed earlier had been misplaced

After careful consideration the Court makes the following award —

1 Wages

3 Housing allowance

The Court awards the following consolidated rates for the various categories—

	Sh p m
Labourer	295
Watchman	300
Headman	390
Driver Heavy duty	585
Medium duty	440
Light duty	350
Clerks general	455
senior	500

The Court further directs that no employee shall get an increase of less than Sh 40 per month for the first year

The Court further awards that all the employees shall get a further increase of Sh 40 per month for the second year

2 Leave travelling allowance

The Court awards the following consolidated rates for the of Sh 40 per annum should be increased to Sh 75

4 & 5 Effective date and duration

The Court awards that the effective date of the agreement should be 1st April, 1974 and the duration be two years from that date

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 71 OF 1974

Parties —

Kenya Motor Engineering & Allied Workers' Union
and

Blackwood Hodge (Kenya) Ltd

Issue in dispute —

The wrongful and unjustified termination of employment of Mrs Florence Ogur

1 The Kenya Motor Engineering & Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Blackwood Hodge (Kenya) Ltd shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents

2 The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 21st day of January, 1975, and relied on their written and verbal submissions

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 26th July 1974, was received by the Court on 11th November, along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner

Mrs F Ogur was engaged by the Respondents on 15th October, 1973, as a telephonist/receptionist at a monthly salary of Sh 550. No letter of appointment was produced by either party and the Claimants maintained that she had additional duties of a typist. The Respondents strongly denied this and explained that she was offered a monthly salary of Sh 550 per month because at the time she was engaged she told them that in her previous employment she was getting Sh 500 per month and they decided to offer her Sh 50 more

On 29th January, 1974, she asked the Respondents' secretary to inform her in writing her salary scale and pointed out that since she had completed her probationary period her salary should be revised and requested a reply in writing. On 31st January, 1974, she was informed that the Respondents were not prepared to confirm her appointment as permanent and that she was still serving a probationary period at a monthly salary of Sh 550

On 30th May, 1974, her services were terminated and the reason given was that her work had proved unsatisfactory during the probationary period and therefore the Respondents were unable to confirm her as permanent

The Claimants took over the matter on her behalf and the matter was discussed at a Joint Industrial Council meeting on 18th June, 1974. The relevant extract from the minutes was produced as an appendix to the Claimants' written submission. It is interesting to note that after the arguments had been stated the Chairman of the JIC advised the parties to settle the matter at that stage but the Claimants insisted that Mrs Ogur should be reinstated or given an alternative job otherwise deadlock should be declared

The Respondents both in their written and verbal submissions stated that Mr Wamalwa had bargained with their Mr Hudspeth on the question of compensation for Mrs Ogur starting with a demand of 12 months' salary which he subsequently reduced to 4½ months. The Respondents on the other hand increased their original offer of two months' pay to three months' pay which they subsequently withdrew leaving the final offer at two months' pay only

The Claimants submitted that Mrs Ogur having completed her probationary period of three months from 15th October, 1973, was a permanent employee in accordance with the collective agreement between the parties. She was therefore entitled to be told in writing if there were any shortcomings in her work. They stated that she had not been warned even once regarding her work performance. They strongly denied that they had bargained with the Respondents on the matter of compensation for her and insisted that she should be reinstated unconditionally

The Respondents on the other hand admitted that as a result of administrative error Mrs Ogur was not informed in writing prior to 15th January, 1974, that her probationary period would have to be extended because her work was unsatisfactory although they pointed out that she was informed verbally on several occasions of the situation and she was informed in writing as soon as she had made a written inquiry

They stated that it appeared that they had committed a grave error in trying to help an unsatisfactory and uncooperative employee which gesture had totally gone unappreciated by her and by the Claimants' officials

The Respondents argued that an employer has a legal right to hire and fire and can terminate an employee's service at any time provided—

- (i) there is just cause,
- (ii) the appropriate notice or pay in lieu is given

Finally the Respondents asked the Court to confirm what was meant by 'or other lawful cause of dismissal' and to award that Mrs Ogur's services had been terminated lawfully and justifiably and that she was entitled to only one month's pay in accordance with clause 17 of the collective agreement

The Court would like to comment on the following paragraph which appears in the Claimants' written submission—

"We are now sounding a strong warning to everyone involved in this dispute that we are not prepared to accept any award in this case shorter or other than unconditional reinstatement of Mrs Ogur. There can never be any doubt as to the wrongful and unjustified termination of her employment by the Respondents"

The Court is surprised that the Claimants are insinuating threats against the Court if a reinstatement is not awarded in this dispute

They should realize that the Court does not give in to threats, direct or indirect, by either party that appears before it. They are obviously completely misguided in their thinking in making such idle threats

The Court has repeatedly pointed out that it has to do justice to both the parties that come before it on the submissions, written and verbal, and the evidence that is produced by them within the context of the Trade Disputes Act. The Court would like to reiterate that it would not deviate from their position

Contrary to what the Claimants maintained that this is a case of big magnitude the Court finds that it is a minor case which concerns a newly engaged employee who had not completed even one year of service. There is also absolutely no evidence of any racial practice because the Court was informed that Mrs Ogur's successor is also an African lady

The Court would also like to point out to the Respondents that it had given several awards on the subject of termination of workers services and a good many number of precedents have been created. The Court's thinking is amply illustrated in those awards and the Court is not inclined to restate the position once again. It is up to the parties to study the Court awards as and when they are published in the Kenya Gazette which facility after all is meant to cater for their interests

There is no doubt as the Respondents have themselves admitted, that they had committed an error and in fact one of the employers' representatives at the JIC meeting said that legally and technically the Respondents were at fault in that they did not terminate Mrs Ogur's services within the probation period and they were really too kind

The Court finds that the unsatisfactory features of this dispute are that Mrs Ogur was not issued with a letter of appointment and secondly that the Respondents did not strictly follow provisions of the collective agreement

The Court also attaches considerable importance to the bargaining that took place on the day following the JIC meeting in order to settle this small case at the parties' own level. The Court feels that the Respondents on their own admission having erred the least they can do is to honour their offer of three months' pay during the said bargaining

The Court, after careful consideration of all the submissions, finds that Mrs Ogur's services were terminated wrongfully and has decided to award her three months' pay by way of compensation for her wrongful dismissal. This compensation includes her pay in lieu of notice to which she was entitled

GAZETTE NOTICE No 576

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
