THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 10 OF 1989

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and
Hydro Engineering Limited

Issue in Dispute:

Dismissal of Joram Asena Odohi.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Hydro Engineering Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. This dispute was initially fixed for hearing on 16th June, 1989, but the parties requested the court for adjournment to enable them explore the possibility of a settlement. The parties made several attempts to reach a settlement, but all in vain. Finally, the parties were heard in Nairobi on 2nd November, 1989 and relied on their written and verbal submissions. In addition, the respondents called the following witness to give evidence on oath:

Mr. Peter Onulo Ayuambo.

The claimants did not call any witness to give evidence on their behalf.

AWARD

3. This dispute was referred to the court by the Minister for Labour under powers conferred upon him by section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act. The court received the Minister's reference dated 5th January, 1989, on 6th January, 1989, together with the statutory certificates from himself and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Odohi was engaged by the respondents in September, 1982, at a salary of KSh. 660 per month; and, at the time of his alleged termination or desertion of his duties on 23rd December, 1985, he was earning a salary of KSh. 665 per month.

The parties met at their own level with a view to resolving the matter, but no settlement was reached. Consequently, the claimants reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour, and the matter was investigated as usual. The Minister's findings and recommendation were as follows—

"Findings:

Investigations carried out have established that there were no warning letters entered in Mr. Asena's file and therefore a charge of gross misconduct does not hold. Further investigations have revealed that Mr. Asena was being underpaid as per the agreement signed between the Minor Engineering Group and the Union. Mr. Asena's salary for ungraded artisan was supposed to be KSh. 728.00 plus KSh. 118 as housing allowance. He was not also given a general wage increase of 12 per cent from 1st August, 1982, and a further 12 per cent increase in August, 1983.

Recommendation:

It is recommended that Mr. Asena's dismissal be reduced to normal termination and that he be paid his terminal benefits. This is in addition to the underpayments dating back to the date of agreement between the union and the Minor Engineering Group became effective."

The Ministry's decision was accepted to the claimants, but the respondents rejected it, and the matter is now before the court for adjudication.

In this dispute the claimants have argued that, on 23rd December, 1985, the grievant was dismissed from his duties by the respondents; but, on the contrary, the respondents have contended that the grievant deserted his duties because he was apprehensive of some disciplinary action which might be taken against him for gross misconduct in abusing and assaulting Mr. Darshan Singh. The court notes that on the following day, that is 24th December, 1985, the claimants promptly wrote to the respondents to allow the grievant "back to his normal duties." There was no response from the respondents to this letter; and, on 28th December, 1985, the claimants wrote a further letter to the respondents as follows:

"Re: Dismissal of Mr. Joram Asena Odohi.

Our Nairobi Branch Secretary has notified me that you dismissed or terminated the services of the above employee without any valid reason at all, and that you have persistently refused to meet him to discuss the matter.

I am also told that your action came about due to the fact that he had asked for his entitlement such as wages, house allowance, etc., in accordance with the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

I am now writing to ask for a formal meeting with you by next week in your office. Telephone me at COTU and fix a date and time. Please note that failure on your part to co-operate will leave me with no alternative but to proceed and report a trade dispute."

There is no evidence on record that a meeting took place between the parties as requested hereinabove by the claimants, nor did the respondents offer any written explanation surrounding the grievant's termination of service or desertion from duty.

Where an employee disappears from his place of work, or deserts his duties as the respondents have alleged, in this dispute, without notice to his employer, he has breached his contract, but the contract has not ceased to exist. Under such circumstances, the employer therefore should determine the contract by terminating the services of the absent employee.

In this matter the above cause of action was open to the respondents, but they chose to ignore it; and, in view of this and their obvious silence over the claimants' letter requesting for a meeting, the court is satisfied that the grievant did not desert his duty as alleged, but the respondents terminated his services.

The court has thoroughly perused the various documents in support of the parties' submissions and finds that the respondents were not members of the Minor Engineering Group of F.K.E. during the grievant's period of employment with them. In the circumstances the court has come to the conclusion that the grievant's terms and conditions of service with the respondents were not therefore governed by the collective agreement entered into between the claimants and the group, but were regulated by the Regulation of Wages (General) Orders Nos. 120 and 80 of 1982 and 1985, respectively.

Having come to this conclusion, the court will now determine whether the grievant was employed by the respondents as an ungraded artisan or as a general worker. The claimants submitted that the grievant was an ungraded artisan having previously worked as a turner with Simba Crafts (K) Limited in their tool department.

In support of their contention they produced the afore-quoted letter of reference from the said company. On the other hand, the respondents argued that the grievant was a general worker. They called the above-named witness to testify on their behalf; but unfortunately, he was unable to confirm to the court that the grievant was actually a general worker. In the absence of any positive evidence that the grievant was a general worker, and taking into account his previous employment with the aforesaid company, the court has no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that the grievant was engaged by the respondents as an ungraded artisan.

In view of the foregoing reasons and taking into account the respondents' offer and the schedule of underpayments which was prepared by the parties to this dispute and tendered in support of their submissions, the court awards that the grievant's dismissal be reduced to normal termination and that he be paid all his terminal benefits for the wrongful termination he has suffered. In addition, the grievant should also be paid KSh. 6,285.15 being underpayment of wages under the aforementioned Regulation of Wages (General) Orders. In case of any difficulties in calculating the grievant's terminal benefits, the court directs that the parties should get together with the Chief Industrial Relations Officer or his representative and work out the exact amount due to him in accordance with the court award.

Dated the 18th January, 1990.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 367

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 55 OF 1989

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and
Steel Tubes Limited

Issues in Dispute:

Basic minimum wages—grades A to F.
Shift differential allowance.
Annual leave.
Casual employees.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Steel Tubes Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 11th October, 1989, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A", dated 24th February, 1989, and duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 21st July, 1989, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents belong to Doshi Group of Companies in Mombasa, and they engage in the manufacture of steel pipes, iron sheets, nails and other assorted materials.

The parties have a recognition agreement between them and the present dispute arose when they embarked on negotiations with a view to renewing their last two years' collective agreement which was effective from 1st October, 1985 to 30th September, 1987. The parties agreed on all the issues, except the ones now before the court.

However, during the hearing the parties informed the court that, after signing Form "A", they held a further reconciliation meeting on 29th March, 1989, at which issues 1 (C to F), 2 and 3 hereinabove were settled, and the issues which are now before the court for consideration are 1 (A & B) and 4.

The court wishes to place on record its profound gratitude to the parties for being able to resolve nearly all the issues at their own level, except the two which are now before it for consideration. This is a positive attitude in the field of industrial relations and the parties deserve praise for their endeavours in promoting fair labour practice.

The court has seriously considered all the submissions and various points put forward by the parties in respect of the two issues now before it, and awards on each item as follows:

Basic Minimum Wages—Grades A and B.

The claimants have demanded basic minimum wages of KSh. 900 and KSh. 1,100 for the two grades against the respondents' offer of KSh. 739.20 and KSh. 958.50 respectively, or a wage increase of 10 per cent each year.

The court awards that these two grades of lowly paid employees should get 2 per cent on top of what the respondents have offered, or 12 per cent wage increase each year with effect from 1st October, 1987.

Casual Employees.

As regards casual employees, the court would like to state once again that this matter is of great concern to the Government, COTU and F.K.E. and, no doubt, necessary consultations are underway in order to find a lasting solution to this sensitive and complex issue.

The court notes that the respondents' position on this matter is that the clause in the outgoing agreement should be retained.

Be it as it may, the court, after giving a careful thought to this matter and the claimants' demand, is of the view that the parties should seriously apply their minds to this thorny issue in their next round of negotiations with the aim of eliminating exploitation of casual employees in this kind of industry.

Having made the aforesaid observations, the court feels that in the meantime a status quo award would be appropriate and the court has decided not to make an award pertaining to this issue.

Dated the 15th January, 1990.
