GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1461

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 44 OF 1981

Parties:

Kenya Game Hunting & Safari Workers' Union
and Musiara Limited

Issue in dispute:

Recognition.

1. The Kenya Game Hunting & Safari Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Musiara Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 23rd April, 1982 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD (2)

3. The Court announced a preliminary award in the above dispute on 30th November, 1981 and reserved the final ruling until certain investigations were carried out by the Chief Industrial Relations Officer and a Court member, S. M. Maithya, who were directed to go to the Respondents' undertaking and see what actually goes on their operations before they prepared their report for the Court. The relevant paragraph of the Court award read as follows:

"The Court would now like to deal with the important point in this dispute and that is—does the Claimants' constitution allow them to recruit into their membership and represent the Respondents' employees? The only possible grounds on which the Claimants could claim recognition from the Respondents is if they can satisfy the Court that the Respondents are engaged in safari photographic work and "related works". Unfortunately the Court has no evidence before it to prove if the Respondents are engaged in this type of work i.e. safari photographic work. It is not denied that when the tourists come and stay at their camp the Respondents provide them with transport facilities to view and photograph game but then this is what is being done at all the other game lodges in the country which are operated by the big hotels and who recognize the Domestic Union. The Court, however, would not like to reject the Claimants' demand at this stage and has decided that before the Court makes a final decision in this dispute the Chief Industrial Relations Officer in the Ministry of Labour and a Court member, Mr. S. M. Maithya, should go and look into the activities of the Respondents with particular reference to whether or not they undertake safari photographic work as distinct from what the tourists all over the country do when they go into game parks and take photographs with their own cameras. The C.I.R.O. should compile a report for the benefit of the Court if need be with the parties' representatives being present during investigations. The Court has been forced to take this step because unlike in other recognition disputes the Ministry did not set up a demarcation investigation committee and instead appointed an investigator only. The Court, however, finds that the investigator's finding that the Respondents' camp is also used for photographic purposes is very vague indeed.

The Court would expect the C.I.R.O.'s report within three months of the date of the Court award after which the Court will announce its final decision."

The Court received the report from J. G. Thongori who is an assistant Labour Commissioner on the above directive given by the Court. Mr. Thongori undertook this assignment as the Chief Industrial Relations Officer had proceeded on leave. Mr. Maithya, a Court member, was with Mr. Thongori in this investigation which was carried out in the presence of R. Kombo the Chief Executive Officer of the Federation of Kenya Employers and the Claimants' General Secretary, Mr. Ndolo. The conclusion of this report is as follows:

"From the above it can be concluded that Musiara Ltd., do not do safari photographic work and related works. The construction of a tented camp on permanent ground with provision of all other amenities provided in any other game lodge makes this a permanent establishment like any other lodge.

The company provides transport which is suitable for game viewing as well as taking photographs as is done in other lodges but have nothing to do with organizing photographic safaris or any related works. This may be to the convenience of the company in that they have control over all their employees. The number of employees who do this game viewing runs is only 18 out of 139. The other employees are engaged in provision of accommodation, food and drinks as well as other related services provided by a well established hotel or lodge."

The Court circulated copies of this report to the Claimants and the Respondents and invited them to give their comments and observations on it which they did on 23rd April, 1982. The Court now has to finalize its award in this dispute.

The Claimants' General Secretary rejected the report on the ground that it was biased against them and because the differences between photographic safari work and what the Respondents do have not been pinpointed. They added that they represent the employees of Kichwa Tembo Camp who are involved in the same type of work and also those working for Abercrombie & Kent Ltd. They strongly maintained that the Respondents' business was not such that it would entitle them to come within the hotel industry.

The Claimants pleaded with the Court not to overlook the fact that since last 3½ years during which they had organized the Respondents' employees they had spent over Sh. 20,000 and the Respondents' employees, all of whom were their members, had contributed Sh. 24,000 by way of subscriptions to them. In these circumstances it would be extremely unfair to deny the Claimants the right to represent them.

The Respondents stressed that the Court had directed an investigation on a specific issue which had been carried out and they were satisfied that the report answered the questions that had been raised by the Court. They said that the hearing of this dispute should not be reopened.

The interested party clarified that the Respondents had the following licences which enable them to carry on their business:

Retail Liquor Licence.

Hotel Licence.

Food, Drugs & Chemical Substances Licence.

Caterers Licence.

Miscellaneous Occupations Licence.

Regulated Trade Licence for Curio Shop.

Licence to store petroleum in an underground kerbside tank.

Regulated Trade Licence for Retail Trade.

Licence to carry on a regulated tourist enterprise class A & B.

The added that out of these various licences there was only one licence granted by the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife which in itself was not strong enough ground to grant the Claimants recognition in this dispute. In any case they argued that if the Claimants were entitled to represent any employees in the Respondents' employment they would be drivers/couriers and guards only but by virtue of the fact that the Respondents had only 139 employees out of which only 21 were drivers it would not be a feasible proposition to award recognition to both the Claimants and them. They added that the bulk of the employees were eligible to be represented by them.

The Court has every sympathy with the Claimants in this dispute especially as they were the first trade union to go and organize the Respondents' employees and in the process spent over Sh. 20,000. This fact by itself, however, is not enough to persuade the Court to depart from the industrial relations practice re the activities of the various trade unions and their recognition by the various employers. Were the Court to do so it would be an undesirable precedent. It has happened in the past also that the trade union which is entitled to represent the workers in certain industries had not taken any interest in organizing and recruiting them until such time as another trade union moved in and then when the matter came to their knowledge either through the employer or the Ministry of Labour they woke up. This is very regrettable but this again cannot be a reason for going against the established industrial relations system based on industrial unions.

The Claimants have indeed rendered a service to the workers because by their activities the workers will now be able to get trade union representation although the Claimants won't be that trade union. After all, the overriding objective of all trade unions is to represent the interests of the workers and the Court cannot make its decision on the Claimants' demand that their trade union would be able to negotiate better terms and conditions of employment for the workers than the Domestic Union. This again is not a valid ground for denying the proper trade union the right to represent workers in a certain industry. The Court also cannot accept the Claimants' allegation that the Domestic Union is "dead".

After very carefully considering all aspects of this matter the Court accepts the Assistant Labour Commissioner's report to be within the directive issued by the Court. The Court cannot reject this report because it was carried out by the Chief Industrial Relations Officer as the Assistant Labour Commissioner is not in any way junior to the C.I.R.O. In view of this report and for the reasons mentioned hereinabove the Court must reject the Claimants' demand with regard but the Claimants should have the satisfaction that their activities enable the workers employed by the Respondents to enjoy trade union representation. They have indeed rendered a service to the workers.

Given in Nairobi the 24th May, 1982.

SAEED R. COCKAR,
Judge.

A. K. ARAP KERICH,
Member.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
