THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 31 OF 1980

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers
and

Insurance Employers Group of FKE

Ruling

Interpretation Application

The Court announced its award in the above dispute on 9th September, 1980 and awarded a new salary structure for the various categories of workers. In the last two paragraphs of the award the Court stated:

"After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court finds that it cannot accept the Respondents' submission that notches do not reflect years of service, otherwise they would be meaningless as they do not represent anything if not the years of service."

The Court has decided to award a new salary structure embodying a wage increase for the Respondents' employees as appears hereinbelow. All the employees who have completed one year's service by 1st January, 1980 should be slotted therein according to their years of service. In other words the workers will get an increase for compensation for cost of living and the annual increase."

The Claimants who have made this application for interpretation have complained that the Respondents do not accept that notches in the salary scales reflected years of service and that all employees who have completed one year's service by 1st January, 1980 should be slotted therein according to their years of service.

The Respondents on the other hand argued that what the Claimants were demanding was if an employee has worked for a particular firm for say three years irrespective of his salary level then his salary must be adjusted to a notch reflecting three years' service. They pointed out that according to the Claimants' interpretation wage increases would be far in excess of the wages Guidelines which the Industrial Court has to take into consideration.

The Respondents explained that the Industrial Court award was very clear and meant that if for instance a worker's salary as at 31st December, 1979, was Sh. 830 p.m. he will have his salary first adjusted to Sh. 890 p.m. before being adjusted to the next scale of Sh. 985 thereby giving this particular worker a total of Sh. 155 salary increase whereas if the Court had accepted the Respondents' offer then the worker's salary would have been adjusted from Sh. 830 to Sh. 920 or an increase of Sh. 120.

The Court would like to refer to the fact that the Claimants had vigorously fought for and won for their members the annual increment plus compensation for the cost of living increases. The Claimants had demanded during the hearing that the workers should get an increase to compensate them for the increase in the cost of living and also the annual increase due on the 1st January, 1980. They maintained that this was consistent with the practice in the banking industry. They pointed out that if the Respondents' submission was accepted then the workers would lose one year in seniority.

It is quite clear that the question of slotting afresh all the employees in the Respondents group according to their years of service in the new scales did not arise in this dispute. The main bone of contention was that the Claimants demanded and won the annual increase and compensation for the cost of living for their members. The particular sentence on which the Claimants are relying that all the employees who have completed one year's service by 1st January, 1980 should be slotted according to their years of service has been picked by them out of context.

The Court rejected the Respondents' offer and accepted the Claimants' demand but now the Claimants are trying to bring in an issue which was not in dispute and on which the parties did not present any arguments. The Court merely clarified that all the workers should get their annual increment plus an increase for compensation for cost of living. The Court award is to be implemented on salary levels already in operation as at the effective date of the Court award. The question of starting a new slotting exercise does not arise in this dispute. The Court would like to emphasize that the workers get an increase for cost of living and the annual increase and no more. For these reasons the Court upholds the Respondents' interpretation of the Court award.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 46 OF 1980

Parties:

Kenya Local Government Workers' Union
and
South Nyanza County Council

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Patroba Osodo.

1. The Kenya Local Government Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and South Nyanza County Council shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 29th October and 26th November, 1980 and 14th and 15th January, 24th and 25th February and 30th March, 1981 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Claimants:

P. O. Osodo.

Respondents:

Henry Konge.
Caleb Anot.
V. Okeyo.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 14th April, 1980 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 21st July together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Osodo was appointed Clerk to the Homa Bay Urban Council on 3rd November, 1975 and he was suspended from duty on 24th June, 1977. On 9th September, 1977 the Ministry of Local Government approved Mr. Osodo's suspension without pay to enable the police to finalize the investigations into certain allegations that had been made against Mr. Osodo by the Respondents through its Homa Bay Urban Council. This was followed by another communication from the Minister for Local Government to the Homa Bay Urban Council dated 28th March, 1978 stating that he had after careful consideration of the Council's representations approved the removal of Mr. Osodo from the services of the Council with all his benefits.

The Claimants took up the matter on his behalf and reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour on 21st July, 1978. The Ministry initiated an investigation into the reported dispute and released its findings and recommendation to the parties on 19th October, 1979 as follows:

"The Council has urged that Mr. Osodo was a dishonest and inefficient administrator and there was overwhelming evidence to convict him for theft by servant. The case of the LPO No. 141 of 10th March, 1977 for 30th bags of cement is one in point. He also used Council vehicle to transport the cement. There was some fishy deal between him and the owners of Homa Bay Petrol Station where Council vehicles used to draw fuel. He is alleged to have overspent the stationery vote by over Sh. 95,000, even some Council confidential files were recovered from his rural home. It was however surprising to note that when the above cases were referred to police for investigation and necessary action the response from the police were that there was no evidence to charge Mr. Osodo. This is so even after the same police recovered Council confidential files from Mr. Osodo's house.

The union in its defence has only relied on the fact that the police could not charge Osodo because there was no evidence to connect him with the accusations made. In my opinion it is not necessary for the management to rely on police investigation or acquittals by courts of law as a basis for taking disciplinary action. There the union's contention has no meaning. In the absence of any substantive challenge from the union for what the management has done I find that the action taken by the management was necessary and justified.

In view of the above findings I recommend that Mr. Osodo should be paid his terminal benefits plus his contribution to the provident fund if these have not already been done."

The Claimants were not happy at these and refused to accept them. The dispute is now before the Court.

The Court notes that Mr. Osodo was paid his terminal benefits constituting of part payment of service benefits, salary in lieu of ten days leave, refund of provident fund contributions, salary for June and three months' salary in lieu of notice.

The Claimants' main submission on behalf of Mr. Osodo in this dispute is that Mr. Osodo was the victim of a witch hunt which had been mounted against him by two powerful councillors merely because they had it in their heads that they were being looked down upon and disparaged by this man who was one of the first graduates from that area. They termed several allegations that had been listed against Mr. Osodo as an attempt to justify his sacking and the Claimants maintained that Mr. Osodo was not in any way guilty of any offences or misconduct as alleged against him.

The Court has very carefully considered all the submissions, documentary evidence and the witnesses' evidence on the several allegations which were listed against Mr. Osodo and which may be broadly framed under the following headings:

1. Fraudulent acquisition of cement on Council's account
2. Embezzlement of Council's funds through Homa Bay Service Station.
3. Financial mismanagement.
4. Nepotism.
5. Conversion of Council confidential files.
6. Allocation of market stalls.

The Court finds that the most serious of the aforesaid allegations are the ones relating to 30 bags of cement which Mr. Osodo is alleged to have obtained on the strength of an LPO issued by the Council and the cash obtained by him from an amount which the Council has deposited with the Homa Bay Service Station.

The Court cannot believe that Mr. Osodo had honest and clean intentions in this cement deal. The 30 bags of cement were obtained through the Council LPO which was issued by the officer concerned at the business premises of a dealer whether he was summoned by Mr. Osodo. These 30 bags were then transported not to the Council premises but to Mbita Point from where they were transported to Mr. Osodo's home at Mfangano Island. The Court, however, is fully satisfied that had the storekeeper not raised the alarm over this deal then things would have worked out quite differently and Mr. Osodo would have personally benefited at the Council expense. The Council vehicle that was used to transport these 30 bags of cement to Mbita Point was not hired by Mr. Osodo. The Court is satisfied that the words "on hire" were inserted on the journey permit dated 10th March, 1977 by an unauthorized person subsequent to the whole transaction. This was clearly done to exonerate Mr. Osodo from this shady deal, to say the least.

The Court believes the evidence of the Respondents' witnesses on this point as against the evidence given by Mr. Osodo.

On the withdrawal of cash money on several occasions by Mr. Osodo from Homa Bay Service Station the Court cannot accept the Claimants' submission that Mr. Osodo did not receive any money from the petrol station but only purchased fuel for and on behalf of the Council. The Court has seen that receipt Nos. 4797, 4120 and 6909 which were signed by Mr. Osodo on the petrol account but did not indicate vehicle number in respect of which petrol was drawn. The Court has also seen that on some of the receipts the word cash is written and the Court finds that the only conclusion that can be drawn from these deals is that Mr. Osodo received cash instead of petrol.

In addition to these two above very serious incidents in which Mr. Osodo was involved in respect of which even if the burden of proof required in criminal actions is not met are certainly very serious misconduct on the part of Mr. Osodo for which the Respondents were fully entitled to lose confidence in him as he was the senior executive in their undertaking and which compelled them to take further action against him.

On all the other allegations also Mr. Osodo had a hand in them although the treasurer at the time must also share the blame with Mr. Osodo. It is indeed strange that a small institution like the Homa Bay Urban Council should order and get stationery to the tune of Sh. 93,381/95 instead of the estimated cost of Sh. 5,000! The Court was told that this stationery is still being used them. This certainly is financial mismanagement for which both Mr. Osodo as the Clerk and the then treasurer are responsible. No reason was put forward at all by Mr. Osodo as to why he had signed the cheques for this huge amount of stationery. The Court does not accept his explanation that he had signed the cheque when he was in a state of shock because his son had died.

There appears to have been no valid reason why Mr. Osodo should have carried away with him the Council's confidential file. After Mr. Osodo had given contradictory statements as to the place where the file was it was eventually recovered in his home at Mfangano Island with the aid of the police.

The Court does not intend to labour further into the other allegations made against Mr. Osodo because the Court feels that the Clerk of a local authority who behaves in such a manner in a period of two years' service only does not deserve to continue in employment. The Court finds that the Claimants had put forward very poor arguments on his behalf particularly when they say that Mr. Osodo is nearly 34 years old and is left with 21 years to retire from service and if he fails to secure an employment up to the retirement age he would experience immeasurable loss. Most astonishingly, the Claimants have also put forward a submission that Mr. Osodo is an orphan with 20 dependents, further he is a man of some education being a public administrator and that the country cannot afford to waste his knowledge at this level of our development! The Court feels that the least said about these submissions the better.

The Court finds that the Respondents cannot be faulted in any manner in the procedure they adopted in terminating his services. No principles of natural justice were flouted as Mr. Osodo was given full opportunity to give his explanation on all the allegations that were made against him. His suspension and subsequent removal were both confirmed by the Minister for Local Government. The letters to which the Claimants have referred as being the Ministry's order for his reinstatement are no more than palliatives to a person who was making repeated representations to them for his job.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court has come to the conclusion that this is not a case where the Court should interfere with the Respondents' decision in terminating the services of their seniormost employee i.e. the Clerk. The Court accordingly rejects the Claimants' demand made on behalf of Mr. Osodo and finds that his termination was fully justified.

Given in Nairobi on the 21st April, 1981.
