GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3284

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 39 OF 1981

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers and Gailey & Roberts Ltd.

Issue in dispute.—Underpayment of Mr. Isaac Osano Sati arising out of the collective agreement.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Gailey & Roberts Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard on the 10th September, 1981 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 24th March, 1981 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 29th June, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties to this dispute have a recognition agreement which was signed on 29th March, 1971 and under which the Claimants have been accorded full recognition by the Respondents concerning ten specific items which are named therein. In clause 2(d) it is provided as follows:

"Gailey & Roberts Ltd. reserves the sole right to conduct its business and manage its operations and for this purpose, to engage, promote and terminate the services of any worker in accordance with the terms of service with the union. It is agreed that Gailey & Roberts Ltd. jurisdiction applies to the whole area legally defined in the Certificate of Incorporation in Kenya."

Mr. I. O. Sati is an artisan working for them since 1970. During his period of employment with the Respondents he was sponsored to National Industrial Vocational Training Centre (NIVTC) Ministry of Labour, for basic and intermediate course in electric and gas welding. He completed this course in two years and was then placed on permanent workshop staff. The Respondents' training manager informed him on 8th October, 1971 that it was their intention to send him back to NIVTC for further training when courses are announced to enable Mr. Sati to pass grades 2 and 1.

On 1st November, 1973, Mr. Sati was sent to do grade 2 welders trade test which he passed. On 18th February, 1974 he was told that he would be upgraded to grade 2 with effect from 1st November, 1973, the date he passed the test.

On 12th April, 1977, Mr. Sati passed grade 1. He was, however, not promoted this time and on 4th July, 1977 received the following letter signed by one Mr. R. M. Jones:

"It is the company policy that we do not recognise the Government trade tests. We know that you have passed grade 1 Government test. Unfortunately every employee from now will be reviewed once every year (the end of December or early January). If you prove yourself by the end of this year and your supervisors' reports are good your situation will be reviewed at the above mentioned time."

The Claimants' demand in this dispute is based on the premise that Mr. Sati was underpaid from April/May, 1977 by the Respondents because they did not promote him to artisan grade 1 from that date. In fact the Claimants have very cleverly worded the issue in dispute as otherwise the Court very much doubts if this dispute could have been accepted by the Minister for Labour because it really is seeking promotion for Mr. Sati from grade 2 to grade 1. If they had worded it properly then the issue appears to be clearly barred by clause 2 (d) of the recognition agreement which had been set out hereinabove. Be that as it may the matter is now before the Court.

The Respondents have very strongly relied on the arguments that promotion was management prerogative and that a worker could not come and tell them that he should be promoted as there is no provision of automatic promotion in the collective agreements material to the period in dispute. Clause 15 of the collective agreement provides as follows on the subject matter of trade tests:

"In view of the specialized nature of the company business it has been agreed that certain categories of technical employees shall have to take and pass company trade tests tailored to suit company business before they are upgraded. These categories will include plant mechanics for whom there are presently no adequate Government trade testing facilities."

In addition to above the collective agreement had the following job titles in sheets 11, 12 and 13 with their respective rates specified thereunder:

Sheet	Job Title	w.e.f. 1-9-78	w.e.f. 1-9-79
		Sh.	Sh.
11	Artisan—qualified mechanical Govt. Grade 3 T.T.C. and Co. Grade 3 ...	1,229	1,413
12	Artisan—qualified mechanic Govt. Grade 3 T.T.C. and Co. Grade 2 ...	1,576	1,733
13	Artisan—qualified mechanic Govt. Grade 3 T.T.C. and Co. Grade 1 ...	1,785	1,963

The Claimants submitted that Mr. Sati had a wonderful record for the period 1970 to 1977 during which he received accelerated promotions but after that his immediate supervisor had a strained relationship with him with the result that he was not recommended during the years 1977 and 1978. They maintained that Mr. Sati ought to have been promoted to artisan grade 1 in April 1977 but he was refused promotion without any satisfactory explanation.

The Court would like to record at this stage that the Claimants did not produce the relevant collective agreements nor the amount of underpayment that they are claiming from the Respondents. In fact they appeared during the hearing without even the Respondents' written submission which they left behind at their office!

The Claimants, however, during the hearing stressed that it was improper for the Respondents not to recognise the Government policies as was evident from the letter written by Mr. Jones to Mr. Sati. Further the fact that clause 2(d) rendered promotion unnegotiable did not mean that the Respondents could act extremely arbitrarily and thereby victimize and frustrate deserving workers. The Claimants also referred to six other employees who had been upgraded to grade 1.

The Respondents intimated that there was a serious matter of principle involved in this dispute because in accordance with the provisions of the recognition agreement and the collective agreement the Claimants' demand was completely outside both the agreements. They rejected the Claimants' attempt to introduce through this dispute an automatic or standardized system whereby upgrading becomes merely a procedural matter.

Finally the Respondents stated that Mr. Sati was not promoted to grade 1 simply because his performance at work did not warrant it and there was no question of anyone having a grudge or bias against him as stated by the Claimants.

Apart from making a general statement that a particular person who was Mr. Sati's immediate supervisor had a grudge against him the Claimants have not been able through any evidence either documentary or otherwise to prove this rather very serious allegation which they have made in support of their claim. They have naturally played on the letter of Mr. Jones which the Court also finds most unfortunate and distasteful. This letter, however, was disowned by the Respondents who stated that they did respect and accept the Government trade tests but the fact remained that there was no automatic promotion.

The Court has no doubt that this is an attempt by the Claimants to force the Respondents to promote their member from grade 2 to grade 1 even if as they submit that they are not asking for automatic promotion but are arguing on a point of overdue promotion. This is nothing but splitting hair and only exposes the shallowness of the Claimants' demand in this dispute.

The Court further notes that in the collective agreement it is provided that a qualified mechanic Government grade 3 is eligible to be promoted from grade 3 to 2 to 1. In fact in all the three artisan grades a qualified mechanic Government grade 3 can fit in so the mere fact of Mr. Sati having passed grades 2 and 1 does not entitle him to automatic promotion.

The Court would like to refer to a letter dated 9th July, 1979 which the Respondents wrote to Mr. Sati in which they stated as follows:

"I should point out that at the end of both 1977 and 1978 you were not recommended for upgrading and that although the company recognizes Government trade tests upgrading depends not merely in passing such tests but also upon the performance of the individual concerned. Your supervisors and managers are the best placed to assess this latter criteria at the end of each year."

In view of the clear-cut provisions of the recognition and collective agreements the Court has no choice in the matter and the Court must reject the Claimants' demand made on behalf of Mr. Sati. Having rejected the Claimants' demand the Court would like to suggest to the Respondents that they should seriously look into the complaint of victimization of Mr. Sati at the hands of his immediate supervisor which according to him is the main reason for his not being promoted to grade 1. The Court hopes that the Respondents will look into this matter rather carefully. Apart from this suggestion the Court is in no way directing the Respondents on the question of Mr. Sati's promotion which is entirely within their discretion in accordance with the terms of the recognition agreement.
