THE CATCHMENT MANAGEMENT STRATEGY

IN EXERCISE of the powers conferred by section 15 of the Water Act, 2002, the Minister for Water and Irrigation approves for implementation the Catchment Management Strategy for Lake Victoria South Catchment Area for the period 2009–2014 formulated by the Water Resources Management Authority as appended below.

PART I: BACKGROUND

1. Introduction

1.1 Overview

The vulnerability of the scarce water resources together with centralised system of management and non performing institutions in the Kenyan water sector called for reforms which among others caused the enactment of the Water Act 2002 and consequently the establishment of Water Resources Management Authority (WRMA). The Authority has the mandate to manage the national water resources which under the new paradigm is done on the basis of catchment areas. A total of 6 major catchment areas have been created in Kenya one of which is Lake Victoria South Catchment Area. This catchment is responsible for the management of Rivers Nyando, Sondu-Miriu, Migori and Mara drainage areas. The management is undertaken with the involvement of stakeholders through Catchment Area Advisory Committee (CAAC) at catchment level and Water Resource Users Associations (WRUAs) at sub-catchment level. Lake Victoria South catchment area continues to suffer the vagaries of the weather with flooding on the Kano plains followed almost immediately by droughts and water shortage, becoming more frequent as exacerbated by global climate change and catchment degradation. Further evidence of catchment degradation is illustrated by the decline of Lake levels (estimated at 100 meters in 2008) and eutrophication of the Lake at the Winam Gulf due to nutrient and sediment enrichment. This implies that efforts are needed to reverse the trend.

1.2 Catchment Management Strategy Formulation Process

The Catchment Management Strategy (CMS) is a tool for a planned and systematic management of water and related catchment resources with the participation of stakeholders. As such the formulation of the strategy was consultative, which enhances ownership and encourages participation of stakeholders during its implementation. The process involved iterative technical discussions and stakeholder participation to ensure incorporation of pertinent issues emanating from the water and related sectors.

2. Policy, Vision, Mission and Principles

2.1 Policy direction and legal framework

The Sessional Paper No. 1 of 1999 on Water Resources Management and Development provides the policy direction on water resources management. It is complemented by Economic Recovery for Wealth and Employment Creation Strategy (2003-2007), Poverty Reduction Strategy Paper (PRSP-2000) and the Investment Plan of 2003 together with vision 2030. The policy direction emphasizes the following:

- Treating water as a social and an economic good;
- Preservation, conservation and protection of available water resources;
- Sustainable, rational and economical allocation of water resources;
- Supplying adequate amounts of water that meets acceptable standards for the various needs;
- Ensuring safe wastewater disposal for protection of public health and environmental integrity;
- Developing a sound and sustainable financial system, for effective and efficient water resources management, water supply and water-borne sewage collection, treatment and disposal.

The commitment of the Kenya Government to the water sector reforms is demonstrated by the enactment of the Water Act 2002, which provides a legal framework for the reform process and mandates WRMA to effectively manage water resources on the basis of catchment areas. This is achieved through the Catchment Management Strategy (CMS) as outlined in section 15 of the Water Act 2002.

In order for the strategy to be focused, WRMA has adopted a three tier approach, which entails setting the broad objectives (O), specifying Targets (T) and developing strategic Actions (A) for every strategy outlined in the CMS. The specified objectives are intended to enable reaching the goals of the specific strategy; the strategic actions aim at achieving the objectives while targets or indicators are used to measure the extent to which the goals have been achieved. The CMS is intended to be valid for a period of five years after which revision would be necessary to conform with environmental realities.

2.2 Vision and Mission

Vision

The vision of Lake Victoria South Catchment Area in management of water resources is to equitably allocate adequate water resources of good quality and at all times. This underscores water adequacy in line with the national Vision 2030. It calls for Lake Victoria South catchment area to conserve the catchment to ensure access to adequate quantity and quality water for all. The CMS will therefore be used as a tool to realise this vision.

Mission

The mission statement for Lake Victoria South Catchment Area conforms with the overall mission for WRMA to maintain synergy. It states that Lake Victoria South undertakes to manage, regulate and conserve water resources judiciously, involving stakeholders to enhance equitable allocation and environmental sustainability. Thus stakeholder participation is vital hence their commitment to observe honesty, courtesy, integrity, equity and accountability in management of water resources.

2.3 Overall Goals

The following are the five goals that Lake Victoria South catchment area will be looking forward to achieve within five years of implementation of this strategy:

- (i) Sustainable water management which includes the enhancement and protection of natural flow regimes and improvement of water quality;
- (ii) Enabling environment to protect the water ecosystem and habitat;
- (iii) Equitable water allocation which promotes effective use and gives priority to the maintenance of Reserve;
- (iv) Collaboration between WRMA and all stakeholders to achieve sustainable water resource management in the catchment;
- (v) Development of adequate and safe water resources infrastructure to meet the water security needs of region.

These goals were developed and agreed upon in a participatory manner and hence their realisation will be dependent on stakeholder participation.

2.4 Key Principles and Concepts

Concepts

The conceptual framework for catchment management strategy has been developed based on the vision through the mission, goals, objectives, targets to operational strategic actions from which implementable activities can be developed. The operationalisation of the strategy is dependent on the assets and strengths of the region which include.

- The Mau Complex, Kisii highlands, Gwasi, Nandi and Maragoli hills water towers and their associated protected forests
- The Rivers Nyando, Sondu-Miriu, Migori and Mara as well as Lake Victoria and the wetlands
- The biodiversity of the catchment area and the associated habitats
- The agricultural potential in upper reaches and the lowland flood plains
- The human resource base and their socio-economic activities

The approach adopted in this CMS with regard to water resources management, emphasizes vision setting in defining the stage for the process. This is followed by resource directed management which emphasizes resource class, the reserve and setting of quality objectives. The whole set up is linked to the source directed measures which emphasize water allocation and effluent discharge management.

Key Principles

This CMS is formulated within the fundamentals of Integrated Water Resources Management (IWRM) underpinned by the Dublin principles on water resources management. The principles have been elaborated into 7 operational principles outlined below for Lake Victoria South catchment to conform with the overall goals.

- Adopt the precautionary principle. The CMS seeks to make decisions based on sound science.
- Ensure equity. The CMS seeks opportunities for all sectors of the community to benefit equitably from the region's water resources.
- Conserve natural resources. The CMS seeks optimal use of the region's non-renewable resources, encouraging efficient use and the search for alternatives.
- Maintain ecological and socio-cultural values. The natural environment provides goods and services that are fundamental to life and economic activity, as well as intrinsic values.
- Enhance regional prosperity. The CMS seeks to enhance the regional economy, particularly through actions and new technologies that will benefit catchment assets and/or deliver benefits through the sustainable use of catchment assets.
- Maintain and improve water security. Advocates for improvements in water availability, access and reliability as well as water use efficiency.
- Strengthen understanding, participation and partnerships. Recognises the important role of the region's community in achieving the regional vision and goals.

3. Basin Characterization

3.1 Basin Characteristics

Lake Victoria South catchment area covers parts of Nyanza (Kisumu, Nyando, Rachuonyo, Homabay, Suba, Nyamira, Kisii, Gucha, Migori and Kuria districts) and Rift Valley (Kericho, Sotik, Bureti, Bomet, Transmara and Narok South districts) provinces. It borders Lake Victoria North catchment Area to the North, Rift Valley Catchment Area to the East, Tanzania to the South.

However, management of water resources is oriented to the Management Units (MUs) which are drainage basin based and are static as oppose to the dynamic administrative district boundaries. The Catchment Area covers an area of 31,734km², with an estimated population of about 4.4 million and projected to grow to 5.3 million people by 2015. The population is mainly rural and deriving their livelihood from agriculture and fishing.

Major features in the catchment are the Mau Complex, Kisii highlands, Gwasi, Maragoli and Nandi hills. Protected and gazetted conservation areas in the catchment include Ruma National Park and Gwasi hills which provides an ecological niche for some of the indigenous species of flora and fauna.

Natural catchment conditions

The catchment can be subdivided into 3 distinct zones, the Upper zone comprising Highlands-Mau Complex (Tinderet, N. Tinderet, Londiani, SW Mau, Ol Pusimori). The Middle zone comprising the undulating hills bisected by rivers Mara, Sondu, Nyando, Gucha-Migori and the Lower catchment comprising the Kano plains (Winam Rift Valley), lower Gucha-Migori (Kadem), lower Awach Tende (Oluch), lower Awach Kibuo (Kimira) and Masaai Mara. The highlands receive high rainfall varying from 1400 mm to 2700 mm annually on average while in the lower zones have mean annual rainfall of 800 mm to 1400 mm. Due to intensive agriculture in the catchment and urbanisation, both point and non-point sources of pollution have over time caused reduction of water quality of rivers and the lake.

3.2 Issues, Challenges and Potentials

Issues and Challenges:

The issues and challenges encountered in Lake Victoria South catchment area can be summarised but not limited to the following:

- Soil erosion, sedimentation and other forms of degradation of water resources including wetlands
- Deforestation of water towers;
- Cultivation of riparian areas and degradation of river banks;
- Sand harvesting, brick making, mining and quarrying
- Catchment degradation
- A crumbled water resources assessment and monitoring programme

- Degradation of water resources
- Flooding and its consequences
- Pollution of water resources
- National and International initiatives on trans-boundary waters
- HIV/AIDS and gender issues related to water
- Uneven distribution of water resources in time and space.

Potentials:

Apart from issues and challenges, Lake Victoria South Catchment Area has high potential for investment in water resources management. These are enumerated as follows.

- Perennial rivers which can be tapped to sustain irrigation;
- Good sites for multipurpose dams e.g. Sondu-Miriu hydropower dam, Koru on Nyando; Magwagwa on Sondu-Miriu and Gucha;
- Wetlands for water regulation and biodiversity conservation;
- Exploitation of fisheries resources from Lake Victoria;
- Water transport;
- Ground and surface water potential for water supply;
- Potential for economic use of flood water and increasing carbon sequestration.

PART II: STRATEGIES FOR CATCHMENT MANAGEMENT

4. Classification—Management Units

This chapter presents management approaches that are considered appropriate for progressive improvement of the catchment. The basis for determining the management units for CMS is outlined and the water resources within the catchment classified in terms of quality for equitable allocation for various uses.

4.1 Development of Management Units

The Catchment Management Units (CMUs) are spatial areas with similar resource management issues. They are developed based on drainage characteristics and similarity in issues and challenges associated with management of water resources. Based on this criteria, 10 CMUs were delineated for Lake Victoria South catchment area. To enhance effectiveness in management of water resources, the CMUs are managed from specific sub-regional offices of WRMA.

The Objectives and Targets of for CMU classification

Objectives

- Classify the water resources within agreed management zones
- Determine the measures necessary to achieve the Resource Quality Objectives

Targets

- The class of water resource is set
- The Resource Quality Objectives (RQOs) are set

4.2 Water Resource Classification System

The water resource classification system is developed based on three elements namely Ecological (E), Livelihood (L) and Commercial (C). These elements are used to describe the Water Resources Management Units (WRM Units) as outlined below.

- Ecological (E) WRM Units: are areas with almost natural ecological characteristics. The focus for water resources management is the protection unit for water catchment.
- Livelihood (L) WRM Units: are areas with predominantly rural settlement with dominant small scale subsistence practice. Water resources management in this unit involves equitable allocation and protection of water resources.
- Commercial (C) WRM Units: are typically urban and/or industrial agglomeration areas including their peri-urban. Water resources management in these units mainly focuses on protection of the resource.

4.3 Strategic Actions for Management Units Classification

The following are the strategic actions necessary to achieve the targets formulated above.

Strategic actions:

- Classify surface water resources spatially
- Classify groundwater resources & springs spatially
- Set the Resource Quality Objectives (RQOs) and test them in pilot areas
- Ensure that Management Units satisfy management requirements

5. Water Balance and Water Demand Management

This chapter provides the status of water availability in the catchment versus water demand. Some of the vital components of water balances is the Reserve and future water demands. The information is important in identifying water stress areas and hence support development of water storage and water allocation plans.

5.1 Water Balance Reconciliation

One important purpose of water management is to match or balance the demand for water with its availability, through suitable water allocation arrangements among the different water uses.

The goals and objectives of water balance are as follows:

Goal

Equitable water allocation which promotes effective use and gives priority to the Reserve

It is generally recognised, that equitable water allocation needs to be based on a reliable estimate of the water balance. To this effect, the objective below has been formulated.

Objectives

- Investigate water balance and find reconciliation solution

The targets which have been set by the catchment as a measure for the achievement of the objectives are as follows:

- To provide timely, sufficient and reliable water balance for Lake Victoria South catchment area
- Assess the occurrence of deficit and develop priorities for reconciliation
- Improve assessment of the reserve

5.2 Strategic Actions for Water Balance and Demand Management

The strategic actions necessary to achieve the targets are:

- Assess the availability of natural water resource quantity
- Assess the actual use in detail for pilot areas
- Assess the actual demand in detail for pilot areas
- Develop future baseline scenarios
- Develop scenarios for reconciling water requirements with available resource to address deficits including transfer options
- Review and update the methodology for better water balancing

6. Water Allocation and Water Use Management

This section outlines the strategies for water allocation and compliance to Water Resources Management Rules 2007 in Lake Victoria South catchment area. It emphasizes collaborative intervention with stakeholder participation to ensure equitable allocation and enforcement of water use charges.

6.1 Water Allocation Planning

Water allocation planning is undertaken to ensure equitable allocation of water among the various users. The goals for undertaking water allocation planning and the objectives for achieving these goals are:

Goal

- Equitable water allocation which promotes effective use and gives priority to the Reserve

Objectives

- To ensure equitable allocation and regulation of water use;
- To meet the economic and social development objectives through sustainable management of water resources including their proper allocation;
- To regulate and control the use of water resources;
- Implement solutions for reconciling water supply and demand;

The main instrument to guide water allocation is the Water Allocation Plan (WAP). The plan takes into account the interaction between upstream and downstream water users. This includes ploughing back resources upstream to sustain management efforts to ensure perennial availability of water for all dependants.

Targets developed for water allocation planning include the following

- (a) Water abstraction permit system in place to ensure lawful water use;
- (b) Water allocated is used sustainably, rationally and economically amongst competing users taking a pro-poor approach;
- (c) Increased volume of recycled water used in the catchment;
- (d) An allocation criteria for equitable utilisation of water in the catchment developed;
- (e) Designed comprehensive operational plans for harmonising abstraction records;
- (f) Effective metering, monitoring and compliance is in place;
- (g) Identify areas and level of over-allocation and forestall over-allocation.

6.2 Implementation of the water allocation system and use management

The implementation of water allocation and use management is achieved through permitting and water use system which is structured into classes depending on quantity to be abstracted. The processing of the allocation is managed through stakeholder involvement. These include the Water Resources Users Associations (WRUAs) and Catchment Area Advisory Committees (CAACs) as well as Water Resources Management Authority (WRMA) Regional and National offices. Larger abstractors require more institutional involvement in processing than small abstractors.

6.3 Strategic Actions for Water Allocation Planning

The following are the strategic actions necessary to achieve the targets formulated above.

- Assessment of water resources;
- Identification of major water use/users;
- Development of allocation plan (including thresholds for sub-catchments and categorising abstractors);
- Operationalising water abstraction permit system;
- Development of enforcement plan;
- Development of a roll out plan for water use charges;
- Promote water conservation measures and water use efficiency through awareness campaigns;
- Cross-checked implementation of other CMS activities such as awareness creation;
- Train staff on permitting processes;
- Enforce installation of meters at water abstraction points;
- Permit system put in place and applications processed promptly;
- Development of water allocation plan.

7. Water Resource Protection

This chapter describes the approach and options adopted in order to protect the water resources from further deterioration and restore their natural status.

7.1 Status of Water Resources in Lake Victoria South and Protection Measures

The focus of WRMA in this chapter is to control the water resources in the catchment in respect of quantity and quality. This relates closely to the determination of the Reserve. The Reserve determines the minimum quantity and quality of the water resource that is set aside for basic human and environmental uses.

The overall goal in protecting water resources is to ensure

- Sustainable water management which includes the enhancement and protection of natural flow regimes and improvement of water quality.

The objectives developed to enable achievement of the goal are:

- (i) To ensure that Reserve is met at all times
- (ii) Ensure protection of water resource and minimize negative impacts of waste discharge and disposal

The protection of the resource involves prevention of pollution of water resources which would otherwise cause direct or indirect alteration of the chemical, physical, biological, or thermal properties of the water resource so as to make it:

- Less fit for any beneficial purpose for which it is or may reasonably be expected to be used for
- Harmful or potentially harmful to
 - (i) The welfare, health or safety of human beings;
 - (ii) Any aquatic, non aquatic life or property;
 - (iii) The environment

Regarding pollution from point and non-point sources, the strategy proposes to address them integratively.

The main point sources of pollution in Lake Victoria South are:

- (i) Agro-based industries (coffee, tea and sugar factories);
- (ii) Livestock based industries (slaughter houses, milk plants, tanneries);
- (iii) Sewerage works in large towns;
- (iv) Car washing sites in towns.

To enhance the protection process, WRMA has developed a three structured approach by classifying the surfaces water resources as follows

- (i) Satisfactory : no immediate stress, pressure or threat
- (ii) Alert: stress, pressure or threat identified or anticipated
- (iii) Alarm: water levels declining, water quality deteriorating (stress, pressure or threat identified)

The classification will enable prioritising interventions. As the status of the water resources improves, the classes will be evaluated and redefined to reflect the achievements.

The groundwater resources on the other hand are classified according to their perceived importance and in categories shown below:

- Strategic aquifer: aquifers used to supply significant amounts/ proportions of water to an area where there are no alternatives, or where alternatives would take time and high investments to develop.
- Major aquifer; high-yielding aquifers with good quality water.
- Minor aquifer; moderate-yield aquifers with variable water quality.
- Poor aquifer; low-yield aquifers with poor to reasonable quality water.

- Special aquifer; aquifers or parts of aquifers designated “special aquifers” by the Authority.

The targets developed to ensure water resources protection are

- All water bodies classified and RQOs defined
- Reserve quantity defined for all surface water bodies
- Reserve quantity defined for all strategic and major GW aquifers
- System for Reserve Quality defined and applied to water bodies
- Effluent regulations enforced for all Category C and D polluters
- District Environmental Committees fully sensitised on WRM Rules 2007
- System of water use charges for effluent load defined
- Codes of Practice for Effluent Discharge developed and disseminated in region
- Pricing strategy for waste discharge developed

7.2 Strategic Actions for Protection of Water Resources

The following are the formulated strategic actions necessary to achieve the targets for protecting water resources.

- Assess quality status of surface water resource
- Assess quality status of ground water resource(aquifers)
- Assess polluters with major negative impact on water resources quality
- Develop collaborative engagements with polluters to comply with discharge standards
- Classify the water resources quality(Implement reserve and RQOs) in pilot areas
- Formulate develop and disseminate code of practice for EDCPs
- Review and evaluate EIA/EA reports for all projects /programmes with significant impacts on water resource
- Carry out inspection, monitoring and data gathering on solid and liquid waste

- Formulating water quality standards for different classes of water resource

- Controlling nutrient, sediments and pollution discharge into water bodies

8. Catchment Protection and Conservation

This chapter provides details regarding the strategy for catchment protection and conservation. The approach is based on the zoning of the catchment for ease of developing interventions compatible with particular zones.

8.1 Catchment Degradation and Management Focus

Human intervention for socio-economic gains without due regard to environmental management has caused accelerated degradation which has impacted negatively on water resources.

The goal developed to ensure catchment protection is:

Enabling environment to protect the water ecosystem and habitat

The two objectives developed to ensure that the goal is achieved are

- To integrate protection and conservation approach together with stakeholders
- To attain protection and conservation of catchment assets

To address these issues and to reverse the trend, emphasis should be put on two issues namely conservation and protection of the water resources. In this regard, the two issues should be addressed in terms of a process rather than procedure. Therefore, the protected areas as well as the conservation areas should have relevant approaches and strategies to effectively address change in land use and catchment degradation. To enhance protection, land use types / protected areas have been identified broadly as follows

Protected areas – water towers/orests: Protected areas are those areas which are or which need to be reserved and legally protected for purposes of water catchment.

Groundwater conservation areas: This is mainly in the middle lowlands and the coastal region where it is the main source of water since the region is semi-arid.

Springs and wetlands: Springs and wetlands form sources of water for streams and maintain stream-flow during dry seasons.

Riparian zones: These are areas around water bodies such as lakes, rivers, pans, wetlands and dams. They protect the water bodies by filtering sediments from incoming runoff.

Farmlands: These areas are major potential sources of sediments especially when farming is done conventionally.

Rangelands Are areas which have fragile ecosystems and high potential of surface runoff and flash flood generation.

Shoreline zones support specific and unique ecosystems to enhance biodiversity hence the need for conservation. They are prone to degradation through flooding and salt accumulation.

The targets which have been set to be achieved through catchment protection are

- Integrated and coordinated protection of water towers and surface water
- Integrated and coordinated management of wetlands and shoreline ecosystems
- Integrated groundwater and spring rehabilitation and protection
- Develop in conjunction with stakeholders conservation and protection plans to minimize catchment degradation

8.2 Integrated and Coordinated Protection of the Catchment Land

- Catchment protection requires participation of various stakeholders. The process involves the steps outlined below
- Preparation of inventories and general maps
- Assess available information together with key partners
- Delineation and prioritisation of catchment land areas
- Catchment zoning and management cooperation in the zones
- Planning and facilitation of land protection.
- Provision of advisory services to implementing agencies

- Provide financial and capacity building support
- Implement protection activities
- Monitor use and assess the effect.

8.3 Strategic Actions for Catchment Protection and Conservation

The strategic actions necessary to achieve catchment protection are:

- Complete inventory, surveys, maps etc for all protection and conservation areas
- Prioritization and delineation of the strategic and major areas for conservation and protection
- Agreed zoning of the catchment areas for integrated protection and conservation management
- Rehabilitation of groundwater conservation areas
- Protect river bank reserves to maintain environmental flow
- Initiate and support to rehabilitate and protect pilot water catchment areas
- Harmonise programmes in rehabilitation of land use, agriculture, forests, wildlife and settlement
- To prevent that the identified priority areas from being allocated against the public interest
- Develop incentive plans to encourage water and catchment management

9. Institutional Development Support

This chapter provides information on the WRMA and WRUA development and proposes mechanisms for institutional collaboration and outlines measures required to enhance the capacity of different institutions to perform their roles for improved integrated water resources and catchment management.

9.1 Institutional Roles

Institutional strengthening is key for integrated management of water resources. The WRMA institutions include the National, Regional and Sub-regional offices. The others are Catchment Area Advisory Committees (CAACs) and Water Resources Users Associations (WRUAs) which provide avenues for the participation of stakeholders and water users in management of water resources.

The goal below has been developed to ensure stakeholder participation

The WRMA collaborates with all stakeholders to achieve sustainable water resource management in the catchment

To achieve the goal above, the following objectives have been developed

- (i) Institutional arrangements for integrated water resource management are in place at all levels
- (ii) Institutions are supported and empowered
- (iii) WRMA coordinating institutions for effective water resource management

Stakeholder participation in water resources is generally difficult to realise and this is associated with

- Insufficient resources
- Inadequate community engagement
- Inadequate knowledge and skills
- Lack of co-governance
- Lack of integrated concept for water resource management
- Lack of public awareness of the values of the catchment assets

It is therefore imperative that these deficiencies need to be addressed in order to enhance stakeholder participation.

The following are the targets necessary to ensure achievement of the goal and the objectives

- WRMA offices in the catchment to be fully operational;

- All key catchment management stakeholders participating in and agreeing on CMS financing and implementation;
- All government agencies with key roles in catchment management cooperate in implementing the CMS in their annual work programs;
- The WRUAs have formally adopted the CMS as a reference document, reflecting relevant sections of it appropriately in their planning schemes and/or implementing relevant actions through their programs;
- To increase the number and geographic coverage of WRUAs participating in catchment management in the region, and increase the active membership of community groups;
- Increase community awareness and understanding of the condition of catchment assets and associated trends (unsustainable consumption patterns);
- Stakeholders manage water resources effectively and sustainably through participatory approach;
- Progressive improvement in capacity of water resource management at all levels;
- Supporting formation of new WRUAs

9.2 Participatory water Governance

The strategy on stakeholder participation aims at optimizing stakeholder involvement in water resources management. In this context, there is need to encourage corporate governance as well. At local level, the effectiveness in management of water resources is envisaged to be realised through WRUA participation by implementing the Sub-Catchment Management Plans (SCMPs). The SCMPs are developed from the Strategy through stakeholder participation. These SCMPs are developed through the main stages listed below:

- (a) Planning of overall process
- (b) Mobilization of stakeholders
- (c) Introduction to SCMP process
- (d) Problem identification and analysis
- (e) Collect data, provide information
- (f) Solution identification and analysis
- (g) Develop Sub-Catchment Management Plan (SCMP)
- (h) Implement SCMP

9.3 Sub-Catchment Management Plans and Strategic Actions

The development of SCMPs require adequate data. Since these may not be available at the beginning but are expected to improve from time to time, the SCMPs will be revised periodically preferably annually commensurate with the data updates.

The strategic actions formulated to achieve the targets are:

- Operate WRMA offices in the catchment effectively;
- Carry out training needs assessment for next 5 years;
- Carry out identified training;
- Identify hot spots and facilitate formation of WRUAs;
- Capacity build WRUAs to undertake water resource management;
- Support development of SCMPs;
- Support Implementation of SCMPs (provide technical support to WRUAs);
- Develop regional communication mechanisms to enhance stakeholder participation;
- Implementation of communication mechanism between stakeholders;
- Active participation and effective inputs in integrated water resource management at sectoral cooperation

- Joint projects /studies /new agreements with stakeholders
- Encourage research in water and catchment management

10. Water Infrastructure Development

This section provides details on the strategy for infrastructure development. Lake Victoria South catchment is in a high rainfall potential area with periodic floods in the flood plains. Therefore storage structures should aim at ensuring flood control as well as reliability of water adequacy both spatially and temporally.

10.1 Development of Storage

The goal for development of storage is to ensure:

Sufficient and safe water resource infrastructure to meet the water security needs of the dependants

The objectives to be realised in storage development are:

- To prepare inventory and assessment of existing infrastructure;
- To develop Code of Practice for the water resource infrastructure development;
- To increase storage capacity and improve water security;
- To build capacity to regulate storage development and disaster control.

The issues related to storage in Lake Victoria South catchment area focus mainly on flood control. The general principles and measures adopted to ensure flood protection are:

- Land-use measures; - aimed at “keeping people away from floods”.
- Structural measures;- aimed at “keeping flood waters away from the people”.
- Flood preparedness measures; aimed at “getting people ready for floods”.
- Flood emergency measures; - aimed at “helping affected people cope with floods”.

The main activities for protection against flood are:

- Compile an inventory of high risk flood sites;
- Study of hydrologic regime and elaboration of hydrologic forecasting models;
- Construction of flood protection structures (i.e. dams, dykes) in upstream locations and at vulnerable sites (multipurpose storage development);
- Organize the land use and human activities in vulnerable zones;
- Design and implement flood warning systems;
- Develop and implement an emergency plan in case of inundations especially for the Kano plain, lower Awach Tende, lower Awach Kibuo and lower Gucha-Migori.

The targets that were set for infrastructure development are as follows:

- Develop sufficient storage to control floods and reduce water deficit
- WRMA capacity able to handle demand for WRM Infrastructure
- Facilitate updating and establishing flood management plans for Kano plain
- Codes of Practice developed and stakeholder act according to their mandates
- Inventorize all WRM infrastructure by location and storage capacity

10.2 WRMA Capacity to Regulate Water Resource Development

The WRMA mandate with respect to the development of storage is:

- To identify the need for storage. This emerges in cases where demand for water cannot be met by non-regulated flows or damage caused by floods requires control measures upstream. Storage of flood flows is one of the options of making water available to meet demands of mitigate impact of floods;

- To identify storage sites and to undertake feasibility studies of the sites to demonstrate the potential of the site to meet the water demands or in cases of flood mitigation, the capacity of the sites to attenuate the floods;
- To develop business plans for storage sites to demonstrate the investment potential for their development;
- To facilitate the development of water storage infrastructure;
- To regulate the development and operation of storage infrastructure through permits and other regulatory instruments, including the inspection of storage facilities either during or after construction.

The priority areas that have been identified with respect to storage development are:

- Improving the reliability of the resource for public water supplies;
- Ensuring the Reserve for over-abstracted rivers where the Reserve is threatened or violated and where water-use conflicts are related to availability of the resource. In this case, storage should be targeted for those who are causing the rivers to be over-abstracted;
- Rangelands where dispersed storage facilities provide access to pasture;
- River valleys where floods cause damage.

10.3 Strategic Actions for Storage Development

The strategic actions formulated for storage development are:

- Identification of priority areas for storage development and water transfers;
- Development and marketing of feasibility / business plans to meet key storage needs;
- Institution capacity developed to initiate storage infrastructure development;
- WRMA capacity enhancement on regulatory and technical aspects of water resource infrastructure development;
- Assist stakeholders in constructing rainwater harvesting facilities, dams and pans, and exploring alternative water sources;
- Support planning, design and implementation of disaster control measures;
- Identification of priority areas for groundwater storage development;
- WRUA capacity developed to initiate groundwater storage infrastructure development;
- Dam safety risk registered and classified;
- Support to mechanisms for safe operation and effective maintenance of storage facilities;
- Support establishment of information exchange system for water related disasters;
- Inventorize existing water storage infrastructure.

11. Rights Based Approach / Poverty Reduction

This chapter identifies specific aspects of rights based issues that are water related and which can be taken into account within the context of the water resources management. It is envisaged that through political guidance and support, the rights of the vulnerable and disadvantaged groups to water will be upheld.

11.1 Cross Cutting Issues

The cross cutting issues to be incorporated in water resource management include:

- Human Rights,
- Conflict resolution,
- Poverty reduction,
- Water security,
- Good governance,
- Gender equity; and
- HIV/AIDS mainstreaming.

The overall goal for right based approach in water resources management is:

Ensuring equitable water allocation which promotes effective use and gives priority to the Reserve

The objective developed to ensure right based approach in water resources management is to ensure that:

Cross-cutting issues are integrated in water resource management

The target which has been set for enhancing right based approach is:

To use participatory tools to support Rights Based Approach and poverty reduction

11.2 Mainstreaming Cross Cutting Issues and Strategic Actions

The incidences of violation of water rights, conflicts, and pollution have dramatically increased due to increased competing uses of water. In addition to arbitration and legal mechanisms, avenues for resolution to ensure fair play will be created and supported by the region in the context of the catchment management strategy.

Strategic Actions for mainstreaming cross cutting issues are:

- Give priority to meeting basic human and ecological needs in water allocation;
- Capacity building for gender balanced CAACs and WRUAs;
- Implement work place HIV/AIDS policy;
- Establish complaints mechanism;
- Capacity building of vulnerable groups in accessing water.

12. Monitoring and Information Management

This chapter presents the strategy for ensuring that the water resources and the catchment monitoring systems provide timely reliable data and relevant information needed for catchment and water resource management. Therefore functioning monitoring network needs to be assured.

12.1 Monitoring Framework

The overall goal to ensure effective monitoring is that

- WRMA has the capacity to enable good management decisions based on reliable information

Monitoring will involve data collection, processing and information generation for decision making in management of water resources and its associated catchment attributes.

The objectives to enable achievement of water resources monitoring and assessment are as follows.

- (i) To establish and maintain monitoring network and monitor water resources and provide information system;
- (ii) To provide reliable information for decision making in water resource management;
- (iii) To monitor and evaluate implementation of CMS.

Monitoring, evaluation and reporting are important elements of the monitoring cycle. Since a number of stakeholders are also interested in water resources information, the approach to monitoring should be holistic. In this context, the region will integrate regional catchment monitoring, evaluation, reporting and development of a strategic approach to assess:

- Baseline condition of the region's catchment assets;
- Trends in condition of the catchment assets, and the values they provide;
- Short-term and long-term threats and risks to the catchment assets;
- Effectiveness of actions in achieving goals and targets for the catchment assets and the ecosystem;
- Current and future use of the catchment assets;
- Progress in implementation of actions defined in the CMS.

The following targets are proposed for achieving the catchment monitoring objectives.

- Prioritised water resources management monitoring programs in place;
- Monitoring network for other key catchment assets in place;
- Reliable and complete data available for the catchment assets (provided by the prioritised monitoring network);
- Monitoring and tracking of action for water resources management implementation in place;

- Water resources management information system in place;
- The information based on reliable data used for catchment management.

In order to create impact in monitoring, the surface water stations have been categorised into national, management units, sub-management units and special stations in order of priority. Each category will provide information for specific management purpose. Apart from surface water, ground water and climate / weather data will be similarly monitored. Capacity building for effective monitoring is also emphasized.

12.2 Monitoring and Implementation

The implementation of the CMS also require monitoring. This is intended to be achieved through progress on strategic actions as overseen by the lead stakeholder for that particular action. Depending on the nature of the action, the activity therefore may involve planning and undertaking the action directly, or it might involve facilitating and coordinating others to participate in implementing the action and undertake monitoring participatorily. The key tool for monitoring the CMS will be the action implementation briefs.

12.3 Strategic Actions

The following are the strategic actions necessary to achieve the targets.

- Develop an agreed framework for integrated monitoring of catchment condition;
- Implement key water resource monitoring;
- Implement key catchment monitoring network and provide maps;
- Develop and implement remaining monitoring network for water resources assets;
- Procure modern monitoring equipment (surface water, groundwater, water quality);
- Operate and maintain the network;
- Prepare data needed for database development;
- Develop and carry out abstraction surveys;
- Ensure water quality monitoring, development and implementation of laboratory facilities;
- Develop and implement water resource information management system;
- Identify and agree on information needs of stakeholders and develop mechanisms for information dissemination and exchange;
- Maintain, operate and apply as appropriate water resource information management system;
- Ensure adequate training & capacity building of staff;
- Design and establish a WRM Action Tracking System / Database system;
- Review from time to time the information needs of all stakeholders.

13. Financing and Implementation

This section presents details regarding the WRMA approach to financing water resource management activities in Lake Victoria South catchment area. The chapter looks at both the financial needs of WRMA to implement its activities and the investment needs as a whole to ensure sustainable water resource development and management.

13.1 Financial Sustainability

Financial sustainability is intended to achieve self sufficiency in the region based on income generated by water use fees pursuant to the Water Resources Management Rules 2007. In order to achieve this, the total financial requirements need to be assessed and a strategy on how the resources can be mobilized developed. To mobilise investments from the organisations, proper investment, planning and sound estimate of the revenues need to be developed. Since funding is also needed from external sources, the estimated total requirements need to be agreed within Sector Wide Approach (SWAP). Additionally, other opportunities such as public-private partnership modalities for provision of water resource management services will be explored.

The overall goal in water resources financing is:

- Financial sustainability to enable LVSCA implement the CMS and other WRM activities

The objectives considered necessary to achieve the goal are as follows:

- To facilitate funding mechanisms and resource mobilization to implement stakeholder initiated water resource management activities.
- To facilitate Public Private sector Partnership opportunities in water resource management.
- To ensure sufficient revenue is generated

Water is considered an economic good and its provision should be at a cost. This therefore calls for levying charges for water abstraction in its natural form to be commensurate with the amount abstracted. The amounts so generated will be ploughed back to meet the cost of water resources managements.

The following targets have been set for financial sustainability in water resources management

- Revenue collection increased annually by 30% over the next 5 years;
- WRUAs capacity improved and supported;
- Resource mobilised for implementation of CMS and other WRM activities in the catchment.

13.2 Financing Strategies

The strategic areas from which the region is targeting to mobilise funds include:

- Government of Kenya allocation: It is anticipated the Government will support the implementation of the strategic actions as documented in the CMS to ensure sustainability of water resources management;
- Part of the Revenue raised from user fees will be ploughed back to the region to support the implementation of the CMS;
- The region will support WRUAs to develop proposals to source for funds. The support institutions targeted include LATF, CDF, WSTF, NGOs and Private sector. WRUAs will also be encouraged to undertake entrepreneurship based on economic use of water to generate income;
- Development partners will be encouraged to support the implementation of the CMS as the reforms stabilise and to make the water resources management possible.
- Key partners will also be encouraged to commit resources with their programmes to support management of water resources. These partners include RDAs, WSBs, NIB, ALRMP and the private sector.

WRMA will undertake to develop a comprehensive business plan outlining its strategic positioning and avenues of raising revenue. This will include a comprehensive investment appraisal to clearly delineate sources of income and formulate a road map for financial sustainability. WRMA through MWI may need to make a case to the Ministry of Finance for various fiscal incentives to support WRM activities. This may include removal of VAT and import duty on dam construction, groundwater development equipment and raw materials for rainwater harvesting storage facilities.

In the light of mobilising resources, the following strategic actions have been formulated.

- Develop 5 year work plan and budget, consistent with water sector investment plan (SIP)
- Develop and implement roll-out plan for water use charges
- Prepare proposals to support SCMPs
- Mobilise resources to support SCMPs
- Identify and prepare projects in collaboration with the private sector
