GAZETTE NOTICE No. 2387

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 25 OF 1966

Parties :—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers and

Naumann Gepp (East Africa) Limited

Issue in dispute :—

Gratuities for previous services prior to the Government introduction of National Provident Fund Scheme.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Naumann Gepp (East Africa) Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The Parties were heard in Nairobi on the 10th day of June 1966, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The Court called E. K. Muange, a Labour Officer employed by the Ministry of Labour to give evidence on some aspects of this dispute as he was the conciliator appointed by the Ministry. This witness also confirmed a record of the conciliation meeting held on 13th January 1966, a copy of which was produced by the Respondents.

GENERAL BACKGROUND

3. An agreement affording the Claimants full recognition was entered into and signed on 3rd September 1965, in which machinery for negotiating on a basis of voluntary collective bargaining on terms and conditions of the Respondents' employees was laid down. On 7th October 1965, the Claimants submitted proposals on wages, working hours, leave, leave allowance and many other fringe benefits. This resulted in the Ministry of Labour was requested to intervene. A conciliator was appointed and as a result of discussions under his Chairmanship, agreement was reached on all major items and disagreement was recorded only on one item which is the subject matter of this dispute. The Parties signed the notification of dispute form to the Industrial Court on 12th April 1966.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE CLAIMANTS

4. The Claimants submitted that during conciliation no agreement was reached on the issue of gratuity because the Respondents insisted that employees could have only one benefit out of severance pay on redundancy and/or retirement. Furthermore the Claimants stated that their demand was at the rate of one month's pay for each completed year of service but this was never discussed because the Respondents had refused to treat this benefit as a separate item to severance pay on redundancy.

The Claimants stated that their demand was in respect of gratuity payment for previous services up to the introduction of the National Social Security Fund. The Claimants feared that without proper safeguards or the Court's award the Respondents would not pay anything to their employees for past services.

The Claimants, therefore, requested the Court to award the Respondents' employees a gratuity for previous service in the shape of a lump sum to be paid to employees before the National Scheme commenced. Alternatively the Claimants wanted the Court to bind the Respondents to their obligation to pay a gratuity to their employees in any event for past services.

MAIN SUBMISSIONS ON BEHALF OF THE RESPONDENTS

5. The Respondents submitted that they had throughout the negotiations and conciliation, been bewildered by the view adopted by the Claimants to this particular subject. This had led to the Respondents' appearance before the Court in the hope that the matter might now be resolved on an authoritative basis. The Respondents drew the Court's attention to the way the issue in dispute was worded and stated that there was no dispute due to agreement having been reached on this issue during conciliation. The Respondents quoted the agreement recorded on redundancy during conciliation. This agreement is reproduced hereinbelow :—

"Redundancy.—Some redundancy already exists in the Company in that there is not sufficient work to keep all the employees occupied. It will be necessary for the services of some employees to be dispensed with in the near future. In declaring employees redundant the normal principle of "last in first out" will be observed, so far as possible, within the various categories of persons employed. On redundancy or retirement the severance pay shall be paid this way from 1 to 6 years' service :

(i) 7 days' pay for each completed year of service.
(ii) 7 to 10 years' service—10 days' pay for each completed year of service.

(iii) 11 years and upwards service—14 days' pay for each completed year of service.
(iv) Retirement Gratuity disagreed."

The Respondents argued that benefits were payable to employees which were at an appropriate contemporary level and there was no limitation to back-dating. The Respondents stated that the Claimants had wanted the amounts due by way of gratuity to employees to be paid out immediately before the commencement of the National Social Security Fund. This the Respondents could not do as it would be contrary to the Government's policy and it would involve them in unwarranted exorbitant expenditure. In these circumstances the Respondents requested the Court to rule that this issue had already been settled during conciliation and, therefore, there was no dispute.

AWARD

6. The Court has very carefully considered the submissions made by the Parties before making its findings.

The Court is not satisfied that the issue in dispute was settled between the Parties in the agreement reached on redundancy and which is mentioned in the Respondents' submissions hereinabove. It should be noted that clause IV of redundancy agreement clearly stated that disagreement was recorded on retirement gratuity and in these circumstances the Court awards that the word "retirement" should be deleted from this agreement. Mr. Muange's evidence was quite clear that the Claimants did not accept the Respondents' contention that both these benefits were the same.

As the Respondents have conceded the fact that they are prepared to grant a gratuity for past services the Court awards that employees should be paid a gratuity on retirement at the rate of 14 days for each completed year of service up to the date the National Scheme comes into operation. This will be subject to a qualifying period of four years.

' Given in Nairobi this 24th day of June 1966.

President.
