THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 54 OF 1981

Parties: Domestic & Hotel Workers' Union
and African Safari Club Limited

Issue in dispute: Operation of service charge

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 55 OF 1981

Parties: Domestic & Hotel Workers' Union
and African Safari Club Limited

Issue in dispute: Dismissal of 200 employees

1. The Domestic & Hotel Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and African Safari Club Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Mombasa on 7th, 8th and 9th January and in Nairobi on 15th January, 8th, 9th, 10th and 12th March, 4th and 21st May and 18 June, 1982 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Claimants: Duncan Mugo
J. N. Omolo
A. H. Mwaurah

Respondents: H. Brigitte
A. E. Odhiambo
D. G. M. Hutchinson.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour signed the references of these disputes to the Industrial Court on 9th October, 1981 in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act. The Court received the notifications of disputes from the Minister with the relevant statutory certificates on 13th October, 1981.

In addition to the witnesses who gave evidence on oath during the hearing the Court was also supplied with affidavits of Mr. Chege Kibachia, the Respondents' personnel manager, one of these being in answer to the further and better particulars and answers requests by the Claimants.

The two issues in dispute being (1) operation of service charge and (2) the dismissal of 200 employees, were reported to the Minister for Labour and the two disputes were accepted and a committee consisting of Prof. G. G. S. Munoru and Mr. A. F. Muslim was appointed to investigate them. The then Minister for Labour, Mr. J. Nyamweya, issued this committee's report incorporating the findings and recommendation on the two issues to the parties in dispute on 31st August 1979. The findings and recommendation on issue No. (1) were as follows:

"Although clause 20 of the parties' collective agreement did not mention the percentage figure on which the employer should base service charge there was ample evidence that the employer charged 10 per cent."

The Government tariffs issued by the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife and which are distributed by the employer in Europe lays down the maximum amount that a hotel can charge. The tariffs do not stipulate the minimum that an employer should charge. This is left at the employer's discretion taking into account no doubt that employers will not charge so low as to take themselves out of business.

It is obvious therefore that the question of accommodation price of Sh. 75 per day full board charge by the hotels to package tour customers is determined by the employer. I can find no convincing reason to question the employer's decision in settling the above price as he is not contravening any written law. In view of the above the union's claim that the service charge of 10 per cent should be based on the Government tariff must fail.

It has been noted that there is no dispute on the issue of service charge for the period 1974-1978; what is awaited is the employer's auditors' report. The dispute on the method of calculation relates only to the period from February, 1979.

I recommend that the service charge should continue to be charged at the rate of 10 per cent of the actual sum paid i.e. Sh. 75 per day for full board in respect of package tourists.

With regards to the service charge for the period between 1974 and 1978 it is recommended that the employer hastens the finalization of the audit check by the union's auditors with the view to paying the agreed service charge to the employees. It is further recommended that the Provincial Labour Officer Mombasa ensures that this is done without undue delay."

On the second issue the committee came out with lengthy findings and in paragraph 53 and 54 of the report it is stated as follows:

"Concern has already been expressed that the strike of 25th April 1979 was called by a shop steward contrary to the legal provisions which clearly stipulates that only a General Secretary may call a strike. This strike was also unlawful because the appropriate machinery for resolving disputes was ignored. There are adequate and comprehensive machineries in this country which are meant to be used in settling industrial disputes. There is no reason therefore why the workers or employers for that matter should have recourse to shortcuts as a means of resolving grievances. In this particular incident the striking workers were warned by Government in writing and through the press of the consequence if they remained on strike.

The workers having left their jobs under the circumstances stated above broke their individual contracts with the employer. I find therefore that the employer's section was justified. It is now understood that those hotels are now open and that they are working normally having taken on new staff."

The Court must say that unlike normal investigations this investigation undertaken by the Ministry of Labour was indeed a very high powered one and the committee appears to have made a thorough investigation into these disputes as is evident from the 16 page report issued by the Minister for Labour based on its findings.

The parties, however, were not able to resolve the dispute and the matter ended up in the Industrial Court which again carried out a lengthy hearing lasting eleven days as mentioned hereinabove.

The Claimants' demands on the first issue in dispute are:

1. Payment of Sh. 194,903.85 being the underpaid service charge to Respondents' employees in their various hotels.
2. Sh. 16,820 auditors' fees.
3. 10 per cent interest over the above amount on yearly basis.
4. Continuation of 10 per cent service charge.
5. Operation of service charge as per Ministry of Tourism tariff.

The first demand is made up as follows on the ground that this was the service charge due to the workers in respect of the directors entertainment which had been deducted from the workers' dues:

	Sh.
"Coral Beach Hotel ...	6,990.25
Silver/Bahari Beach Hotels ...	51,724.05
Watamu Beach Hotel ...	46,616.45
Dolphin Hotel ...	62,536.15
Kenya Beach Hotel ...	9,070.00
Malaika Hotel ...	13,961.55
Shimo-la-Tewa ...	4,005.40
	194,903.85"

The Respondents have made a very strong submission asking the Court that the four of these demands had not been reported to the Minister for Labour and the Court should therefore dismiss them on this technical ground. These four demands are set out hereinabove. The Respondents' submission leaves only demand number 5 as being properly before the Court.

The Court has time and again stressed that it will not exceed its jurisdiction in matter that are referred to it in accordance with the provisions of the Trade Disputes Act and the Industrial Court Procedure Rules made thereunder. Indeed the Court has resisted any such demands in the past and the Court intends to continue to do so in future as well.

In this dispute, however, despite the fact that the report of the trade dispute to the Minister for Labour was on the issue of operation of service charge by the Respondents the fact remains that during the high powered investigation by a committee on this dispute the parties addressed their minds to all these demands and they were dealt with at length by Prof. Munoru and Mr. Muslim in their investigation. The Respondents should have raised their legal objections at that time if they had not understood the issue in dispute as reported to cover all these demands. They never did so and investigation proceeded into all these demands and when the parties failed to settle the dispute after the investigation the Minister for Labour then referred the dispute to the Industrial Court and declared the issue to be the same i.e. operation of service charge as it was before the committee of investigation. In these circumstances the Court finds this issue as framed is broad enough to cover all the demands which have been made by the Claimants and which the Respondents were all along only too well aware of. For these reasons the Court overrules the Respondent's legal submission.

The Court would now like to deal with the issues in dispute.

The main points in the first dispute on which the Court is required to rule are:

- (i) Is the directors entertainment subject to the service charge and if it is, then what is the amount due to the workers under this item for the period between 1974 (the date the agreement came into force) and 30th November, 1978.
- (ii) Are the Claimants entitled to demand their auditors' fee (who carried out the check to determine if there had been any malpractices on the operation of service charge by the Respondents).
- (iii) Are the Claimants entitled to claim interest on the amount found due and not paid to the workers.
- (iv) How should the service charge be operated by the Respondents from 1st February 1979 i.e. the percentage of service charge and the amount on which it is to be levied i.e. either on Ministry of Tourism tariffs (as claimed by the Claimants) or on Sh. 75 full board per day as operated by the Respondents.

As a background to this particular issue the Respondents paid a sum of Sh. 23,774.30 to the Claimants as being the amount due to the workers by way of service charge a matter in respect of which a dispute had simmered between the workers and the Respondents from sometimes in 1974. At that time the same firm of auditors had carried out a check on behalf of the Claimants. The auditors had found that directors' and hotel expenses were met from the service charge (the letter from the auditor dated 17th October 1974 contains this statement) and had stated that a sum of Sh. 18,774.30 was due to the workers for the period February 1974 to July 1974. This amount together with Sh. 5,000 as a flat interest rate was paid to the Claimants for the workers some five years later during which period all the Claimants attempts to bring the Respondents before the Industrial Court had failed as the Respondents refused to sign Form "A". This the Respondents paid by saying that they had no other choice left than to pay due to the ultimatum made by the Claimants i.e. that either they pay this amount or go to Industrial Court. The Respondents also suffered a number of walkouts and mini strikes at the time. The fact however remains that the Respondents paid this amount to the Claimants on behalf of the workers. The Claimants informed the Court that they had distributed this amount to the workers concerned.

The next step in this dispute is the agreement made between the parties on 6th February, 1979. As this agreement is rather important to this dispute the Court sets it out in full as below:

"(a) Union Auditors be given permission to check the company's records as far as Service Charge is concerned, covering the period between the date when the 1974 agreement came into force up to 30th November, 1978.

(b) The Service Charge be paid as follows:

- (i) For the period covering the month of January, 1979 should be paid for in accordance with the earlier practice, that is, on the basis of 10 per cent Bar Sales and Supplementary Services—that is—Grill Room Services and local—accommodation.
- (ii) Thereafter, Service Charge shall be paid in accordance with Clause 20 of the agreement between Kenya Kenya Association of Hotel Keepers and Caterers and Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union signed on the 22nd December, 1978."

It is interesting to note that the Respondents are not and appear to have never been members of Kenya Association of Hotel Keepers and Caterers.

The Claimants claim for payment of Sh. 16,820 being their auditors' fee is based on the above agreement. They have submitted that in accordance with the provisions of Clause 20 mentioned therein the Respondents are liable to pay this amount because Respondents malpractices in respect of service charge had been proved. Clause 20 reads as follows:

"The employer will operate a service charge on accommodation and Food sales whether by cash or credit and the money collected shall be distributed to all employees with the exception of management staff, on terms to be advised by the Works Committee after consultation with the employees of the individual establishments. A deduction of 15 per cent will be retained by the employer in accordance with the Agreement for administrative purposes. The union may, at its own expense, appoint a qualified accountant/auditor to check the accounts maintained by the employer for the service charge at a time suitable and agreed between such accountant/auditor and the management. Should such a check reveal malpractices on the part of the employer, then the cost of such check shall be paid by the employer. Provided always that there the local Works Committee after consultation with the union expresses a preference to the management for no service charge to be introduced then the local arrangement within the organization would be satisfactory".

The Claimants have argued that clause (b) (i) (ii) above were to be read together so that 10 per cent service charge is to be operated on accommodation and food sales while the Respondents maintain that they had all along operated a 5 per cent service charge and that the workers had not raised any objections to it.

The Claimants further demand is that the service charge of 10 per cent should be based on the tariff issued by the Ministry of Tourism and Wildlife and not on Sh. 75 per day on which the Respondents work out the service charge of 5 per cent. The Respondents have of course argued that the workers are better off this way as they are guaranteed full occupancy of all the available beds throughout the year in all their hotels. They pointed out that the current figure was Sh. 120 per day.

The Court would first like to deal with the question of the service charge and the directors entertainment. It is obvious that the service charge is levied on the customers of the hotels, i.e. the people who generate the hotel income. The directors entertainment on the other hand is geared towards producing income for the hotel. No sales are actually done although they are represented in the books as transactions involving money. The other activities under this head include offering welcome drinks to the guests, the giving of staff discounts which includes unionisable staff, the taking of goods from the hotel store, etc. The fact remains that the hotel receives no income—on the contrary part of capital is used to pay for these goods. On a matter of principle it would be wrong for the Court to find that any transaction that does not produce income for the hotel should be subject to the service charge. The Court now has to decide if the Respondents had been meeting the directors entertainment from the service charge collected because if they did so that was wrong.

The Court is intrigued as to how the figure of Sh. 194,903.85 claimed by the Claimants was arrived at by the auditors Messrs. Wachira & Co. If this figure is 10 per cent of the actual amount of the directors entertainment then it would mean that the actual amount spent on directors entertainment was over 1 million shillings. This the Court is not prepared to believe. No conclusive evidence however was produced by either side on this point and the Court has come to the conclusion that both the Claimants and Respondents should jointly look into this matter through their respective auditors to determine what this amount of Sh. 194,903.85 represents. If it is the total amount of the directors entertainment and it was deducted from the service charge already collected then the workers are entitled to this amount because the service charge is divided on the basis of 85 per cent to the workers and 15 per cent for administration purposes. The directors' entertainment should not be paid out of the service charge not at least from the workers share of 85 per cent.

If however this amount was not deducted from the service charge on directors entertainment. They accepted to pay it then in accordance with the past practice the Respondents should pay the workers 10 per cent only of this amount. The Court does not believe that the Respondents were blackmailed by the Claimants in paying Sh. 23,774.30 which was also the service charge on directors entertainment. They accepted to pay it then rather than come to Industrial Court, they should now also pay it for the year 1974 to 1978. Beyond this date the Court is not prepared to allow service charge to be levied on directors' entertainment.

The Court directs that the parties should bear the cost of their own auditors for this exercise. If any amount is found due to the workers under this head then it will carry an interest of 10 per cent per year.

The Court rejects the Claimants demand of Sh. 16,820 being their auditors fee because for one thing the auditor could not be traced and also the Claimants did not prove that they had paid this amount. Moreover the auditors' report in many respects was incomplete and misdirected.

The Court would now like to deal with the remaining issues of continuation of 10 per cent service charge and operation of service charge as per Ministry of Tourism Tariff.

The Court is satisfied on the evidence before it that as per the parties agreement dated 6th February 1978 with effect from 1st February 1979 the service charge to be levied was 5 per cent based on clause 20 of the agreement between Kenya Association of Hotel Keepers and Caterers and the Claimants. There is overwhelming evidence to this effect. The Claimants representative conceded that the present system of service charge which is operated by the Respondents is 5 per cent on food sales and accommodation both local and overseas. They however, question whether it is the proper percentage and submit that it should be 10 per cent.

There is no doubt that 10 per cent used to be the service charge on bar sales and supplementary services and local accommodation. The Court has given careful thought to the Claimants' demand of awarding a 10 per cent service charge on accommodation and food sales and has come to the conclusion that it would not be proper for the Court to make an award of this nature against the weight of evidence. The Court has come to the conclusion that it cannot accept the recommendation of the Committee of Investigation that 10 per cent service charge should continue because it was never levied on food sales and accommodation for overseas visitors. 10 per cent service was for bar sales only. After the parties agreement the position is different.

The Court would now like to turn to the crucial point in this dispute whether the 5 per cent service charge should be worked out on the current basis i.e. of Sh. 75 per cent (now Sh. 120) per day for the whole year full occupancy in all the hotels being operated by the Respondents or should it be worked out on Ministry of Tourism Tariff for the actual bed occupancy of each hotel.

The Court is satisfied that the Respondents have a contract with an overseas company in which also the Respondents' Managing Director is the main shareholder although the Claimants argued that it was a contract between Reudin & Reudin Partners the legal position however is different. Surely if there is a fiddle in such a contract it is for the Claimants to draw the relevant Government Ministry's attention to it whereby a tourist enjoys full board accommodation for Sh. 75 only (now Sh. 120) per day in Kenya. The Respondents submitted that with the arrangements they had in force they had earned for Kenya for the years 1977 to 1981 a sum of Sh. 808,557,762.20 in foreign currencies. The Court feels that it is up to the Government to initiate any inquiries if it deems fit and to take remedial steps if necessary.

After careful consideration of all the submissions on this point the Court finds that until such time as the Government takes any action in the matter the service charge should continue to be 5 per cent of the actual sum received by the Respondents in Kenya for accommodation both local and overseas and on food sales.

Dismissal of 200 employees:

The Court has already stated that it was impressed by the Committee of Investigation Report of Professor Munoru and Mr. Muslim and the parties submissions and the evidence on this matter during the hearing has not in any way brought out any new point which might influence the Court to radically depart from the recommendation of the Investigation Committee.

It is not disputed that there had been a spate of work stoppages at the Respondents undertakings. The fact of the Claimants leadership struggle between the national officials and the Mombasa Branch General Secretary did not help matters.

The Court is satisfied that there was a strike on 25th April, 1979 and it was called by the Claimants shop steward in defiance of all laid down machinery. On 21st April, 1979 this shop steward had written the following letter to the Claimants General Secretary:

"Referring to our meeting held at Bahati/Silver B. Hotel regarding the above issue, you yourself suggested that if we thought the calculation done was wrong then we should not accept the money.

After having waited for all this long no good respond has come out neither from you nor the auditor. Your silence in this dispute has caused a lot of problems which the management has used the divide and rule tactics which has succeeded nicely. It won't be a surprise to you to note that the majority of the Hotels have collected their money after having lost their faith on you and your Union. With these unnecessary delays we cannot stop thinking that your Union is defeated by the Company mostly in this issue—now what do you expect us do? We are forced to say so because of the reply management sent your Branch Secretary which I am sure you have a copy that the tariff sent to them does not affect them.

In which country is AFRICAN SAFARI CLUB?

Dear Secretary General, in due course you won't blame us if we give 48 hours notice to the company to implement the tariff or protest very very strongly and you will be fully responsible for any harm which may arise in any of the parties."

The Mombasa Branch Secretary of the Claimants while giving evidence stated that it was a protest and not a strike. The Court concurs with the Committee of Investigation which found that it was an unlawful strike. Paragraph 49 of the report reads as follows:

"With regards to the Union's submission that this was only a "protest" and not a strike, the term "protest" is not defined in the law. The contention is therefore not acceptable and the workers action must be treated as a strike as clearly defined under section 2 of the Trade Disputes Act. Section 18A of the same Act is also very clear on the question of strikes. The section clearly sets out the procedures to be followed, and in this case such procedures were not followed. In conclusion I find that what the union called "protest" was nothing but a strike, which was unlawful."

During the hearing the Claimants maintained that 200 employees had been dismissed but they gave no other details like the employees names, employment status, their salaries and the jobs they were doing. The Respondents submitted that they had terminated the services of 154 employees only amongst whom were causal who were merely laid off because of lack of work following the strike.

The Court is satisfied that the Respondents have suffered an enormous loss as a result of the illegal strikes in their hotels. The Courts finds that the strike of 25th April was called without the machinery as specified in the Trade Disputes Act having been exhausted.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards as follows in respect of permanent employees only who are alleged to have been dismissed:

- (i) The Court awards that those employees who were either on leave or off duty officially at this material time be reinstated if they so wish with effect from the first of the month following this Court award and each one of them be paid three months' salary by way of compensation.
- (ii) The Court finds that the action taken by the Respondents against the shop stewards who instigated or participated in the strike was justified.
- (iii) The dismissal of the other employees should be reduced to termination; they should be paid cash in lieu of notice in addition to other accrued benefits in accordance with their terms and conditions of service, if they have not been paid.

The Court makes no award in respect of casual employees.
