THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 125 OF 1985

Parties:
 Tailors and Textiles Workers Union
 and
 National and Seasun Garments Factory Ltd.

Issue in dispute:
 Dismissal of Musyoka Kiema.

THE Tailors and Textiles Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and National and Seasun Garments Factory Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondent.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 11th September, 1986 and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The claimants also called Musyoka Kiema to give evidence.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 17th April, 1985 duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 16th October, 1985 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant, Musyoka Kiema, was employed by the respondents as a casual worker with effect from 23rd July, 1980 and was dismissed on 8th July, 1982. At the time of his dismissal he was being paid Sh. 18.75 per day which amount was accumulated and paid mid-month.

The claimant told the court that Mr. Kiema was originally employed by the respondents on a monthly basis until June 1982 when the respondents unilaterally changed the system of payment from monthly to daily basis for a number of employees including Mr. Kiema. The claimants went further to tell the court that the respondents acted without consulting them and their efforts to persuade the respondents to revert to the old system was unsuccessful until the Ministry of Labour intervened and the parties agreed that the old system of paying monthly be restored.

The claimants further told the court that Mr. Kiema lost his job as a result of being sick on 4th July, 1982, and the grievant was treated by a private doctor but the following day, 5th July, 1982, his sickness persisted and he went back to the same doctor who treated him and referred him to Coast General Hospital where he was treated and given three days off duty. The claimants further told the court that when Mr. Kiema was granted three days off duty, he sent one of his workmates to report to the employer that he was unable to report on duty as he was sick. The claimants accused the respondents of being cruel and inhuman for dismissing Mr. Kiema instantly when he reported on duty on 8th July, despite producing medical certificates on 7th July, 1982. The claimants further castigated the respondents for being a difficult employer and for refusing to meet the claimants saying that the claimants had nothing to do with the case because Mr. Kiema was not their member. The claimants however contended that Mr. Kiema was fully paid up member of the union having joined them privately.

The claimants finally told the court that Mr. Kiema was underpaid by the respondents to the tune of Sh. 6,472.20 and therefore requested the court to decide in their favour and award Mr. Kiema 12 months pay by way of compensation and other terminal benefits for his wrongful dismissal.

The respondents told the court that Musyoka Kiema was employed as a casual labourer on daily basis. The respondents continued to tell the court that Mr. Kiema was aware of this fact and he had even voluntarily signed a form accepting employment as a casual worker, and Mr. Kiema also declared that he was not a member of any trade union. The respondents explained that Mr. Kiema collected his dues on 3rd July, 1982 and was absent from work on 5th, 6th and 7th July, 1982 without permission but reported on 8th July, 1982 when he was told that his services were no longer required. The respondents told the court that they had refused to meet the claimants because as far as they were concerned Mr. Kiema was not their member and that he had signed a form confirming so. The respondents stated that Mr. Kiema was paid according to Government General Wages Order, and they did not accept the findings and recommendation by the Ministry of Labour indicating that Mr. Kiema was a regular monthly employee and his dismissal was wrongful. The respondents finally asked the court to uphold their decision in dismissing Mr. Kiema and to rule that he had no further claim against them.

The court has carefully considered the submissions presented by both parties and notes that Mr. Kiema was actually employed as a casual worker by the respondents. A document was produced in court signed by Mr. Kiema accepting the employment as a casual and he also admitted in court that he had signed the said document voluntarily when he gave evidence in court. It is also proved that Mr. Kiema had worked for the respondents for a period of two years; a fact which was acceptable to both parties. It is also true that the respondents were members of Mombasa and Coast Textile Employers Association and had a binding collective agreement with the claimants at the time Mr. Kiema was working for the respondents. One of the clauses in this agreement stipulated that: "A casual employee cannot be retained for more than four months without being confirmed permanent". Therefore the court finds that the respondents have violated this clause in the agreement by retaining Mr. Kiema for two years on casual employment and the court rules that Mr. Kiema should be deemed permanent having worked for the respondents for a long period. The court was also convinced that the absence of Mr. Kiema on 5th, 6th and 7th July, 1982 was due to sickness as he had produced medical certificates signed by the doctors who had treated him and given him three days off duty. In these circumstances he deserved a lenient treatment. The court also agrees with the Ministry of Labour's findings and recommendations that the dismissal was wrongful.

After careful consideration of the parties submissions the court awards that the grievant be paid two months pay by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal. He should also be paid other terminal benefits due to him, all these to be based on the General Wages Order applicable at the time. The court has decided to make no award on the underpayment of Mr. Kiema as this was not an issue in dispute and in any case the claimants failed to prove this part of the claim, mere statement of an alleged claim is not enough.

Given on the 29th September, 1986.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 14 OF 1986

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Igembe Farmers Co-operative Society Limited

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Geoffrey Ngeera.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Igembe Farmers Co-operative Society Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 5th, 11th and 29th August, 1986 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions. The parties called the following witnesses:

Claimants:

Geoffrey Ngeera.

Respondents:

B. Baariu, I. Kaberia, J. Bajtaru, N. Ntonja, S. Nchebere, D. Mugambi and S. Ntika.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 19th November, 1985 duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 27th January, 1986 together with the statutory certificate duly signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour.

The grievant in this dispute, Geoffrey Ngeera, was employed by the respondents from 1st November, 1959 as a factory recorder earning Sh. 135 per month. He rose to the position of a cashier after seven years service. He was transferred during his 24 years of service with the respondents to various sections, although he remained essentially a cashier until his dismissal on 5th November, 1983. There was no valid warning against him at the time of his dismissal.

The circumstances that led to his dismissal started when farmers had a number of complaints against the management of the respondents. Some of these complaints were levelled against the grievant. It was therefore decided by the Commissioner for Co-operatives to appoint a commission of inquiry to investigate these allegations. The allegations were regarded to be so serious that some members threatened to pull out of the society, and, had to be persuaded not to take such a step.

At this time the management of the respondents was ineffective and so was that of the Meru North Co-operative Union. In fact some of the problems were attributed to the previous management of the respondents' secretary/manager whose performance was found lacking and had to be assisted by the treasurer, who in turn had to be paid allowances. Confusion prevailed, and the grievant was not spared in this atmosphere of accusations and counter accusations. Mr. Ngeera, the cashier, was considered very powerful in that he could manipulate the committee including the chairman to do what he wanted. However, apart from this situation, Mr. Ngeera was specifically accused of:

- (a) Collecting rent from society tenants but failed to properly account for the receipts.
- (b) Having lost society's safe key.
- (c) Having served tea at his home to the police when they were investigating the break-in to the society's store.
- (d) Having collected proceeds from the petrol pumps run by the society, and again, never accounted properly for the money he received during the years 1980/81 and 1981/82.
- (e) Having built his shop on land that belonged to the society without their approval.
- (f) Losses in the consumer shop in the years 1980/81 and 1981/82.

And others listed on page four of the respondents memorandum.

Following these allegations Mr. Ngeera was suspended on 22nd September, 1983 in order to allow the sub-committee appointed by the respondents to investigate him. On 23rd September, 1983, Mr. Ngeera replied to his suspension letter refuting all the allegations contained therein. He again wrote to the chairman of the society on 19th October, 1983 refuting same allegations contained in the suspension letter. But, to his surprise, he got a dismissal letter dated 5th November, 1983. He was earning KSh. 2,210 per month at the time.

Since he was not given a chance to appear before either the committee or the chairman, he reported the matter to the claimants who took the matter with the respondents on his behalf but failed to reach a settlement. The dispute was then reported to the Ministry and after investigations, their findings and recommendations was that Mr. Ngeera's dismissal be reduced to normal termination. He should be paid all his terminal benefits plus ten months salary by way of compensation for wrongful dismissal. The claimants accepted the Ministry's findings but the respondents rejected it, and the matter is now before the court.

The claimants have submitted that their member had a clean service with the respondents for over 24 years without warning and this fact has not been challenged by the respondents during the hearing. They contended that the charges brought against him were aimed at tarnishing his good name and denying him his long service benefits.

When the management committee held their meeting on 21st September, 1983 to discuss the grievant he was not allowed to appear before them to answer charges levelled against him. He was never allowed to see the inquiry report in order to reply to their findings.

They submitted that the two inquiries appointed by the District Co-operative Officer, Meru and the sub-committee of inquiry appointed by the management committee both cleared him and never recommended that he be dismissed. But, when a general meeting was called, chaired by the Commissioner for Co-operatives, one person in the crowd of 15,000 members stood up and inquired why Mr. Ngeera was more powerful than the management committee. He proposed that Mr. Ngeera's services be done away with. The commissioner then asked what the members thought about that proposal, and there were shouts of fagia which meant clear him away! and that virtually became the end of Mr. Ngeera's services with the society. Although he was asked to come to the meeting nobody bothered to read the charges to him nor was he allowed to defend himself against the accusations before his dismissal. They submitted that the members and the commissioner's action violated the rules of a natural justice.

They asked the court to find that Mr. Ngeera suffered a wrongful dismissal and he be paid KSh. 43,810 by way of compensation and his other dues in full and final settlement.

The respondents relied on their written and verbal submissions and called several witnesses in support of the various allegations against the grievant. The court will deal with these in due course.

The court has carefully evaluated the evidence from both parties and would like to make the following observations. It would appear that Mr. Ngeera's troubles started with his transfer from the position of a cashier down to the post of a reconciliation clerk. This step was taken by the management because it is alleged he failed to carry out lawful orders from his superiors back in 1972. The court has failed to find such specific instructions that he violated and, subsequent warnings to that effect. However, if he was warned then the warning period had expired and the warnings if any must have been expunged from his records. The respondents have failed to produce records and the amount lost by him during the period in question. The court heard a number of far fetched and sweeping accusations against the grievant most of which could not be substantiated. There was conflicting evidence given by the respondents witnesses some of which supported the grievant. However, the court would like to touch the accusations which prompted the general meeting to arrive at their rather unprocedural action on 24th August, 1983.

Losses at the Petrol Stations 1980/81 and 1981/82

The court was not given figures constituting the amount lost by the respondents during the hearing. However, it came out of the evidence that money collected from these stations was at times, used for the repairs of the respondents Land Rover and was at times used as petty cash. These stations never had constant sales due to the inconsistent replenishment of fuel by the respondents. The court was further informed that the system of issuing receipts by the cashier to the petrol station attendants was introduced later on, and, not from the beginning. On this particular issue the court found that various investigating committees cleared the grievant of this charge.

Loss of 35 Mabati collecting 2 sets of Mitungi and 3 Glass Cupboards without authority

The grievant admitted having taken the mabati as a member of the society and he was accordingly invoiced and finally paid for them. Isaiah Kaberia, the respondents' witness, confirmed that the grievant's action was normal and the respondents suffered no loss. The same witness accepted having received the two sets of mitungi but denied having taken over the three (3) cupboards, one safe and five (5) benches which were in same invoice. Since it was originally denied by the respondents that the mabati and mitungi had disappeared in the hands of the grievant and admitted later having received them the court can see no validity in the allegations against the grievant under this heading.

Signing for 120 Mabati worth KSh. 3,780 for Diomisius Ngore, son-in-law

The court has confirmed that both are members of the society and as such if the son-in-law never paid for these articles through his produce then the grievant would have made good this amount through deductions from either his salary or sale of his produce. The court finds Mr. Ngore had settled this amount and the respondents have suffered no loss.

Inefficiency, causing loss of KSh. 8,513.60 by stale cheques

The court was satisfied that the cheques were properly presented to the banks but were dishonoured on a number of occasions. This information was properly conveyed to the secretary or manager who in turn said that the grievant should retain the cheques in the safe, which he did. The question of chasing payments from outside parties, in this case Government departments, the court feels, is the responsibility of the secretary/manager who should have taken the necessary action. Here again the money hasn't been lost as the amount in question remains unpaid by the respondents debtors.

Loss of Share/Entrance Money, KSh. 3,365

The respondents witness, Bernard Baitaru told the court that some of this money was used for buying fuel for KTU 810, so no actual amount could be pinned as having been lost by the grievant. The investigating committee found no case against the grievant. Therefore, the court finds that the respondents financial management left a lot to be desired, and as such no one person can be blamed. Here again the investigating committee cleared the grievant of this charge.

Loss of Petrol Cash KSh. 3,486.45

The court was told that there was a break-in of the respondents store by thieves on the night of 22nd August, 1973, when the grievant was actually on leave. This issue was raised after a lapse of ten (10) years. No reason was given for raising this matter so late. The court found no evidence implicating the grievant with the theft which was investigated by the police.

Four Land Rover Loads of Firewood

The quantity was agreed to by the parties but on checking the value of a load of firewood collected by the grievant, the rate ranged from Sh. 40, 50 and 300 per load. The grievant stated that he took the firewood to be used for the preparation of food for the Commissioner for Co-operatives and his guests. The court is of the view that the respondents could have either warned the grievant and/or surcharged him the value of firewood he took if it was not used in roasting goats on this occasion of the commissioner's visit.

Building Shop on Society's Petrol Station Land at Maua

The grievant has submitted that the land is his while the respondents claim otherwise. As there is already a dispute registered with the authorities concerned, the court is not inclined to go into the allegation which is really a land case.

Finally, the court has found that a lot of accusations levelled against the grievant were concerned with financial administrative procedures which affected the respondents and Meru North Co-operative Union. There were also problems which were inherited from the previous management and the grievant had been caught up in this confusion which has made him a victim of circumstances. The co-operative societies, the respondents are no exception, have numerous petty jealousies and some not very petty which have landed them in great losses arising from mismanagement of the societies affairs.

However, the court noted that despite all these problems the grievant had put in 24 years service with the respondents without any severe reprimand. The court is of the view that the present management was out to get rid of Mr. Ngeera, who was refused a personal hearing before his dismissal, although he had asked for it. The court notes that Mr. Ngeera is a fairly important person in the area as he is a vice-chairman of the local Kanu branch and is the claimants' branch secretary.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the court finds that he has suffered a wrongful dismissal and awards him a sum of Sh. 40,897 made up as follows:

	KSh.
(a) Three months salary in lieu of notice as provided for in parties collective agreement clause 20 (a) (ii) = 2,210 x 3	6,630
(b) Salary for the days he was on suspension i.e. 22nd September, 1983 to 5th November, 1983	2,625
(c) Annual leave for 1983, 36 days .. .	2,762
(d) Salary for the month of September, 1983 .. .	2,210
(e) Leave travelling allowance for 1983 .. .	150
(f) 12 months salary as compensation for loss of employment .. .	26,520
Total	40,897
