THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TMA. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

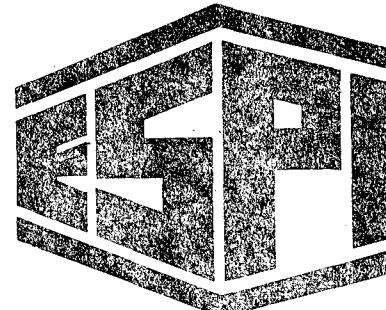

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representation of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B pre-fixed to the official number.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 87 OF 1985

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers and
Kenya Canners Limited

Parties:

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Mr. Moses Laban Okune.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Canners Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 25th August, 1986, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions, the claimants called the grievant Moses Laban Okune to give evidence and the respondents called Peter Mutunga, Simon Njau and Nyoko Kariuki as witnesses. The case was previously fixed for hearing on 12th March, 1986, but the claimants defaulted in the submission of their memo.

WARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 5th June, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 20th August, 1985, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

In this dispute, it is alleged that the grievant Moses Laban Okune, who was employed as a mechanic, stole a car battery on the night of 30th August, 1982, from a vehicle which was parked next to the one he was working on.

The claimants told the court that their member, Mr. Okune, had served the respondents for eight (8) years without any warning. On 30th August, 1982, Mr. Okune reported for duty at 4.30 p.m. and he and one Lawrence Jagero, were given a repair job on a lorry at the workshop by the shift supervisor. Next to this lorry there was a Nissan van KVV 749, which had no mechanic working on it. The claimants stated that Mr. Okune worked up to 2 a.m. when he left with the others on a pick-up driven by Peter Mutunga. At the gate, the claimants said, the security men ordered everybody out of the vehicle and searched them before the gate was opened. Nothing was found on them. The claimants further stated that the following day Mr. Okune reported for duty at the same time. While on duty, the supervisor asked him whether he knew the whereabouts of a 12-volt battery which was missing from the van. Mr. Okune denied having knowledge of the whereabouts of the battery. The claimants stated that the supervisor asked Mr. Okune to make a statement in regard to the missing battery, but he, Mr. Okune refused to make one as he knew nothing about it. The following day, Mr. Okune proceeded on annual leave. The claimants told the court that while Mr. Okune was on leave, security officers searched his house but did not find the battery. The claimants stated that when Mr. Okune returned from leave, he was given a dismissal letter.

It is the claimants contention that their member was wrongfully dismissed because the respondents did not report the battery theft to the police nor did they inform Mr. Okune of the missing battery on the day it went missing. The claimants prayed the court to reinstate the grievant back to his work.

Giving evidence in court, Mr. Okune stated that on the day in question, he was working on a lorry which he and Lawrence Jagero were assigned to repair by the foreman. Both remained in the workshop up to 2 p.m. when they reported off-duty. Mr. Okune stated that on completion of their work he boarded a pick-up in the compound with his shift mates to their camp. When they got at the gate, the security men ordered them to get out of the pick-up, and the pick-up was searched first then they search every person before allowing them to proceed. Nothing was found.

Mr. Okune told the court that, after about 20 yards from the gate, he noticed a car driven by Mr. Wainaina, who is a friend of his. As it was raining he, Mr. Okune, banged the roof of the pick-up to stop. He got out and went in Mr. Wainaina's car to avoid getting wet and both drove to the camp.

Mr. Okune stated that the battery went missing on a Wednesday, but he was not asked about it until Friday, after three (3) days. Mr. Okune further stated that he was not asked to make a statement before he returned from leave. He said that on 28th August, 1982, while still on leave, he went to the respondents for financial assistance. At the office, he was told that he had been dismissed. A dismissal letter was then handed to him. On the question of his representative's prayer to reinstate him, Mr. Okune prayed that he be compensated for the wrongful dismissal as he had started a business which was earning him more money than his employment with the respondents.

The respondents argued their case by stating that on 30th August, 1982, Mr. Okune was on shift duty from 4.30 p.m. to 2 a.m. He was assigned repair job on a lorry which was parked near a van KVV 749 in the workshop. At about 10.30 p.m., the shift supervisor found Mr. Okune standing near the van with his one leg in the van and doors were open. Although the supervisor said nothing to Mr. Okune, he came later to check what was happening. This time he found Lawrence Jagero standing near the van looking inside. Again did not ask him anything. The supervisor went away and came back the third time and on checking the van, he found the battery was missing. The respondents stated that the grievant Mr. Okune left early that day and waited for transport outside the gate. The respondents stated that Mr. Okune was dismissed on circumstantial evidence because the supervisor thought Mr. Okune stole the battery and threw it over the fence then left before time so that he could move it further. The respondents stated that Mr. Okune waited for transport outside the gate with intent to defeat investigation. The respondents further stated that when Mr. Okune was given a lift in the pick-up outside the gate he alighted after travelling only 20 yards so the respondents suspected that he got out to carry the battery to a safer place. The respondents stated that Mr. Okune told his shift mates that he was being left behind because he had to see his girlfriend near there. Further, Mr. Okune owned a car which had battery problems and as he was proceeding on leave with it, there was a possibility of him having stolen the battery. At that time there was a wave of thefts at their undertaking so they had to be tough with suspects.

Giving evidence in court, Peter Mutunga stated that he was the driver of the pick-up which took the 2 a.m. shift staff home on the night in question. He told the court that he found Mr. Okune outside the security gate and gave him a lift. After only 20 yards Mr. Okune banged the cabin and he stopped the vehicle and Mr. Okune got out. Mr. Mutunga denied seeing another vehicle nearby where Mr. Okune was left although it was raining.

Simon Njau stated that he was the shift supervisor on the day the battery was stolen. Mr. Njau told the court that he had assigned Mr. Okune and Lawrence Jagero to repair a lorry which was at the workshop. Near this lorry there was a Nissan van which was parked with the doors closed. Mr. Njau stated that at about 10.30 p.m. he passed near these vehicles and saw Mr. Okune standing near the van with his one leg inside the vehicle and doors were open. He said nothing to Mr. Okune but decided to check again. After a short time he passed there again, and found Lawrence Jagero standing near the van looking inside. Mr. Njau stated that he did not say anything to Mr. Jagero but decided to check the vehicle later. When he went to check the last time, he found the battery missing. Mr. Njau stated that he reported the matter to the security officer who carried out investigations. Mr. Njau told the court that the workshop fence was about seven feet high and if a battery is thrown over it could break into pieces.

Another witness, Nyoko Kariuki, stated on the day in question he was on the same shift with Mr. Okune but he was on field work repairing a tractor. He returned to the workshop before 2 a.m. Mr. Kariuki stated that at the time of boarding the pick-up which took them to the camp Mr. Okune was not in the compound. They found Mr. Okune outside the security gate and gave him a lift. Mr. Kariuki said that after 20 yards Mr. Okune banged for the vehicle to stop and he jumped out. Mr. Kariuki did not see Mr. Wainaina's car there. Mr. Kariuki stated that the workshop fence is of chain-link type and can be lifted from the ground and anything can be pushed out.

The court notes that the supervisor became suspicious when he found Mr. Okune and Lawrence Jagero near the van from which the battery was stolen. From the evidence the court is told that Mr. Okune was found standing near the van in question but the supervisor did not make any inquiries or inspection on the spot. Again, the same supervisor found another mechanic, Lawrence Jagero, near the same van but again did nothing. The court was also told that the supervisor later discovered that Mr. Okune had left work before reporting off-time and after the loss of the battery. The court finds it strange that the supervisor did not report the theft immediately to the security officers or the police. The court was also told that Mr. Okune alighted from the vehicle which was taking them to the camp at 2 p.m., when it was raining and that there was a river with dangerous wildlife which obviously Mr. Okune had to cross to go to his house or to his girlfriend as alleged. The court finds this statement to be unconvincing but at the same time there is not enough evidence to connect Mr. Okune with the theft of the battery.

Taking all the circumstances into consideration the court finds that Mr. Okune's dismissal to have been wrongful. However, the court is aware that there were a series of thefts by servant at the respondents' undertaking at that time which probably forced the respondents to take the action which they did.

The court awards that Mr. Okune's dismissal should be reduced to normal termination with all the benefits and in addition he should be paid two months' salary by way of compensation.

Given at Nairobi on the 11th September, 1986.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 11th June, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 5th November, 1985, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute concerns sixteen (16) employees of the respondents who were retired on attaining the age of 55 years. The claimants alleged that the respondents did not pay them in accordance with the parties collective agreement and also made unwarranted deductions from their retirement benefits.

The claimants stated that on 8th September, 1983, the respondents' bursar summoned the sixteen (16) employees to his office and informed them that he was paying them some money for their long services and requested them to sign documents which they did without knowing what was written in them. They all signed and were paid different amounts of money according to years of service. The claimants stated that the money paid to the grievants was an appreciation for long service and not retirement benefits. The claimants further claimed that the respondents deducted up to KSh. 1,200 from seven (7) employees each and failed to pay KSh. 1,200 to six (6) employees each so retired. The claimants further claimed that the respondents paid all their employees KSh. 250 being uniform allowance and gave them 15 per cent wage increase but failed to pay these amounts to the three (3) workers who are in list of the retired employees.

The respondents argued their case by telling the court that the collective agreement which was in force at that time was signed on 24th May, 1983. The only issue in this dispute is the house allowance. The respondents stated that the employees who were retired were given up to the end of October, 1983 to vacate the houses but some refused to do so. Those who refused to vacate the houses were deducted KSh. 200 each for each month they occupied the houses and the money so deducted was paid to their replacements who were entitled to house allowances. The respondents produced documents proving that three (3) of the sixteen (16) employees had withdrawn from the dispute and a fourth one had died.

In consideration of this dispute, the court is disappointed at the manner in which the claimants representative presented their case. The court finds that this representative tried to mislead the court by referring the court to parties collective agreement which was not in force at the time in question. In addition, the court finds that he had done very little if any homework in establishing the facts about their claims as they did not even know that some of the grievants had withdrawn from the case and that one had died. Under these circumstances, the court has no alternative but to reject the claimants demands because they have failed to produce any credible reasons in support of their claims—they completely failed to make out any case. The court accordingly rejects all the claims.

Given at Nairobi on the 12th September, 1986.
