THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 24 OF 1981

Parties—

Kenya Chemical Workers' Union
and

Africa Synthetic Fibres Ltd.

Issue in dispute—

Refusal by the employer to sign the recognition agreement with the union.

1. The Kenya Chemical Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Africa Synthetic Fibres Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 14th July and 17th September, 1981 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 2nd January, 1981, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 22nd April together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The Respondents started their operations towards the end of 1978 and are engaged in the manufacture of yarn. The Court was told that they import polymer chips from Europe which are extruded in the fine filaments used by the weaving and knitting factories producing various fabrics materials. This the Respondents do in their factory where they currently employ about 390 employees 300 of whom are unionisable.

There is no dispute that the Tailors & Textiles Workers' Union (TTWU) approached the Respondents first through the submission of check-off list in respect of trade union dues and eventually succeeded in obtaining a recognition from the Respondents on 26th February, 1979. The TTWU had enrolled about 69 employees. Only about two days after the recognition agreement was signed between the Respondents and the TTWU the Claimants forwarded their check-off list to the Respondents and were informed by the Respondents that they had already recognized the TTWU and advised the Claimants to take up the matter with that union with a view to sorting out the issue among themselves.

On 27th April, 1979, the Claimants reported a dispute to the Minister for Labour on the issue of the Respondents' refusal to recognize them. An investigation committee was set up in accordance with section 7 of the Trade Disputes Act which committee consisted of Mr. M. M. Nyaga as chairman with Messrs. G. N. Konditi and C. Adongo as members. Its findings were conveyed to the parties on 14th July, 1979, which were that the Respondents are a textile industry as they do not manufacture chemical mixtures but are fully engaged in manufacturing yarn which like the cotton yarn is sold to the weavers of cloth. The committee found that the Respondents were not a chemical plant and consequently the proper union to represent their employees is the TTWU. It was recommended that this union who had already signed the recognition agreement with the Respondents should be allowed to represent the workers in this company.

The Claimants rejected these findings and recommendation and the matter is now before the Court.

The Claimants' main submission is that the Respondents are engaged in the manufacture of synthetic fibres and as such under their constitution they were the proper trade union to represent the Respondents' employees. They referred to rule 2 (a) (i) of their constitution which reads:

"The manufacture of basic industrial organic and inorganic chemicals such as acids, alkalis, salts, dye, intermediates, dyes, colour lakes and toners, explosives and fireworks, synthetic fibres, resins, plastics, elastomers and rubber and including fertilizers. The manufacture of chemical materials for and of products of atomic fission or fusion, space exploration and satellite is included and synthetic rubber including the manufacture of batteries, etc., but excluding products manufactured by the petroleum gas industry."

The Claimants argued that the Court has to decide whether the Respondents were engaged in the manufacture of textiles or synthetic fibre and since the crux of the matter was the manufacture of synthetic fibre they argued that the Court has no choice but to award recognition to them. They stated that all the Respondents' employees had joined them. They also made a point that the Respondents in the very near future would be manufacturing in Kenya their raw material, i.e. the polymer chips and had already installed machines for that purpose and had also in fact started training the personnel on how to operate those machines. Finally they invited the Court to examine the constitution of the TTWU with a view to determining this matter.

The Respondents vigorously denied the Claimants' submission that they had installed machinery in Kenya to manufacture polymer chips and that they were training some of their employees to man these machines. They said they had no intention to do so in the foreseeable future and maintained that the manufacture of these chips was indeed a chemical process but the conversion of these chips into yarn and nylon filament and crimped yarn were without doubt part of textile industry. All the machinery which they had installed in their factory is exhibited in all the textile fairs and not chemical fairs. Furthermore, they had no chemical engineer in their employment and the graduates they had in employment were all textile graduates.

The Respondents further submitted that they were levied by the Kenya Government under the textile industry although previously for three years they were under the chemical industry.

The Court has carefully examined the parties' submissions in this dispute and also the constitution of TTWU. Under rule 2 (a) of TTWU constitution they are committed to securing the complete organization in their union of all workers employed in the industries which include textiles and allied industries in addition to eleven other like tailors and garment making, etc. The Court accepts what the Claimants argued in respect of synthetic fibres and their definitions but the important point to note is that the synthetic fibres produced by the Respondents are in every sense of the word yarns which are an integral part of the textile industry. If the Respondents' products were to be utilized in some other chemical process then the matter would be totally different. There is no doubt that the Claimants' constitution provides for industries which produce synthetic fibres but the TTWU's constitution also provides for textiles and allied industries so there is overlapping to a certain extent in the constitutions of these two trade unions but bearing in mind the most important fact that the Respondents produce polyester textured yarn, nylon filament and crimped yarn the Court is of the view that this clinches the issue in favour of the Tailors & Textiles Workers' Union.

If the Claimants had proved that the Respondents were engaged in the manufacture of their raw material, i.e. polymer chips then the matter would have been different and indeed if in future the Respondents do embark on the manufacture of their raw material then the Claimants would be at liberty to reopen this issue.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court has come to the conclusion that the findings and recommendation of the committee of investigation set up by the Ministry of Labour should be upheld notwithstanding the fact that all the Respondents' employees are members of the Claimants. It should be remembered that although the workers in Kenya are guaranteed freedom of association such freedom has got to be exercised in accordance with the established industrial relations system. The Claimants told the Court during the hearing that the membership of the Respondents' employee of their trade union was indeed not the criteria to be used in dispute. The Court commends them for this attitude.

The Court accordingly awards that the Respondents are right in refusing to sign a recognition agreement with the Claimants and the Claimants' demand is accordingly rejected.

The Court expects the Respondents' employees, if they want a trade union to look after their interests, to join the proper trade union which in this case is the Tailors & Textiles Workers' Union.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3437

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 38 OF 1981

Parties—

Railways and Harbours Union (K)
and
Kenya Railways

Issue in dispute—

Downgrading of Jacob Nyapiedho, Clerk Grade RB VI.

1. The Kenya Railways and Harbours Union (K) shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Kenya Railways shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 24th September, 1981, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 23rd September, 1980, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 16th June, 1981, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

In this dispute the basic facts are not denied by the Claimants which are that Mr. Nyapiedho was guilty of insubordination in that he refused to obey a lawful order of a superior. They are, however, pleading that Mr. Nyapiedho received excessive punishment when he was demoted one grade for the said incident.

On 19th August, 1976, the senior foreman of shop 403 and 404, Nairobi, called Mr. Nyapiedho into his office at about 8.45 a.m. to clarify a complaint from one of the staff. He refused to do so and uttered the words "I am not coming to your office". For this he was issued letter I by the foreman. Mr. Nyapiedho replied on this letter I and stated among other things: "It is really very unfair, loss of self respect for a senior foreman of your quality of mind to bring a false charge against his subordinate."

The matter then went to the works manager and Mr. Nyapiedho was issued with letter II on 1st September, 1976 and Mr. Nyapiedho was informed that letter I had been withdrawn forthwith without prejudice for further action. To this letter Mr. Nyapiedho stated that he had nothing to add apart from what he had stated on letter I.

On 13th October, 1976, Mr. Nyapiedho was informed that he was reduced from Clerk Grade RB 5 to RB 6 with effect from first of that month and that the downgrading would remain for an indefinite period and any possible consideration for his eventual advancement would depend entirely on future improvement of his performance.

Subsequent to this downgrading Mr. Nyapiedho unsuccessfully appealed to the regional manager (K) and then to the managing director who rejected his appeal on 23rd July, 1977; in the letter of rejection it was stated as follows on behalf of the managing director:

"I am in receipt of your letter dated 7th July, 1977, appealing against the punishment of downgrading imposed on you by the Works Manager, Nairobi, following your act of insubordination towards your supervisor, the Shop Foreman, on 19th August, 1976. You do not appear to be repentant for your misconduct which if allowed to go unchecked could disrupt the smooth running of this organization.

The fact that you have admitted walking out of the foreman's office in protest against his manner of handling Mr. Ogony's complaint indicates that you deliberately defied authority and in the circumstances I am not prepared to change the punishment awarded to you in this case and the appeal is therefore declined."

The Ministry of Labour carried out an investigation into this dispute and the Ministry's findings were that insubordination is a serious offence and Nyapiedho was insubordinate to his superior and when he was asked for an explanation he still remained unapologetic which led to his demotion to a lower grade. But since he had a clean record the Respondents should have considered this fact while deciding on what punishment to give. The Ministry recommended that he be reinstated to his former grade without loss of earnings and be served with a warning letter.

The Claimants have substantially relied on this recommendation and have further argued that the Respondents had in this case not followed the standards which they themselves had set in other cases of indiscipline. They also pointed out that the mitigating factors in the whole incident had not been taken into account by the Respondents and that the punishment of downgrading on a first offence was extremely harsh.

The respondents referred the Court to staff regulation G 13 (a) which reads as follows:

"One or more of the following punishments may be inflicted upon an employee as a result of proceedings under the section of these regulations:

- (a) The recovery of the cost of or part of the cost of any loss or breakage caused by culpable and gross negligence.
- (b) A reprimand.
- (c) A severe reprimand.
- (d) Deferment of increment.
- (e) Withholding of increment.
- (f) Stoppage of increment.
- (g) Reduction in salary.
- (h) Reduction in rank or seniority.
- (i) Dismissal."

The Respondents pointed out that Mr. Nyapiedho was lucky that he was not dismissed in view of the gravity of the offence committed by him. It was essential in view of over 20,000 workers employed by them that strict discipline should be maintained at all times, more so because of the nature of the services they provided in Kenya. It was for this reason that supervisors had to instil discipline among the workforce as the district officers are far and few.

The Court has carefully considered the submissions made by the parties and in view of the fact that there are in existence elaborate procedures through which all such cases of indiscipline are examined impartially which in this case is proved by the fact that Mr. Nyapiedho made two appeals to the regional manager (K) and then to the managing director of the Respondents both of which were unsuccessful, the Court can see no reason why it should interfere in the punishment which was awarded to Mr. Nyapiedho. The Court is satisfied that a just punishment was awarded to him. It is up to Mr. Nyapiedho now to discharge his duties in such a manner that will enable him to earn promotion to his former grade.

The Court accordingly rejects the Claimants' demand.

Given in Nairobi on the 29th October, 1981.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
