VACANCIES OFFERED BY UNESCO—(Contd.)

9. Title.—PROGRAMME SPECIALIST (GENERAL EDUCATION).

Post No.—ED-937.Category and level.—Professional category (P-5).Organizational location.—Educational financing division, education sector.

Duties and responsibilities.—The incumbent will be a staff member of the division responsible for the execution of the co-operative programme with the World Bank. This programme was established in 1964 by formal agreement between the two institutions. Its main purpose is to promote the financing of education projects in developing countries that are members of both institutions. Specifically, Unesco and the bank co-operate in the following fields—

- (1) assisting countries of common membership in the process of sector studies, identification and preparation of education projects and assessment of the project implementation process;
- (2) appraisal of such projects;
- (3) supervision of implementation of projects;
- (4) final evaluation (project audit).

In the execution of this programme, the incumbent will participate primarily in the various missions required for the work indicated in (a) and occasionally in (b), (c) and (d).

The work to be done varies with the type of mission. The most frequent and important tasks are sector studies, identification, preparation and completion. Sector studies and project identification missions serve the basic purpose of identifying priority areas and project items for external financing but with different degrees of detail and depth of study.

A sector study is the fullest of studies and should pay particular attention to long-term perspectives for educational development and pre-investment studies of particular aspects of types and/or levels of education to pave the way for further external financing. A project identification mission concentrates more on an analysis of the government's proposals for education development, with a view to making recommendations for alternative approaches, if necessary, and identifying project items suitable for external financing. Both sector studies and project identification require a period of inquiry in the country and analysis at headquarters to prepare a report.

Mission members study a government's development plan, its educational policies and long-term objectives, analyse trends in enrolments, unit costs, graduation, possibilities of employment or further education. Based on these studies they make recommendations on alternative policies or immediate measures for improvement of the education and training system and propose projects suitable for educational reform and development.

Project preparation as the next stage involves detailed study and description of each project item in terms of location and enrolment, curriculum, teacher supply, schedule of accommodation and as reliable a cost estimate as possible of both capital and recurrent costs of the project. The document is written in the country and will constitute its formal request for a loan or credit.

Assessment of the project implementation process involves the comparison between the process which actually took place and its outcome, with the process and outcome which were foreseen and/or planned during appraisal negotiations and loan signature. It includes careful analysis of all factors which have affected the implementation of each project element, such as managerial, physical, educational, and financial aspects. The resulting document is addressed both to the bank and to the country by Unesco, with recommendations to each of them for consideration in the case of additional project loans.

Members of the division are expected to travel at least four months a year and work as a team consisting usually of four to five specialists. They may also be required to participate in bank appraisal or economic survey missions involving studies similar to the above though with greater emphasis on economic and financial aspects. They may also be required to participate in supervision missions or in a final project audit.

While under the supervision of the director of the division, the incumbent is responsible for the professional content of his work. Questions arising during project preparation are settled in collaboration with team members, on the spot. They decide as a team on projects identified, subject to revision after a discussion with their colleagues in the division and other interested sectors in the secretariat. He may with sufficient experience, be called upon to act as mission leader.

Sector survey work and completion mission generally require two to three weeks mission in the country, while project preparation work may be completed during a single mission of four to five weeks, but may also be spread out over a longer period of time with more frequent but shorter missions.

Staff members of the division may also be required to contribute to the regular programme of Unesco in accordance with their competence and qualifications.

Within the framework of the above general duties, the general educator has the following specific tasks—

- (1) to review the situation and propose improvements in existing facilities and organization of schools, pedagogic methods, curricula and course content;
- (2) to make proposals for reform and innovation, particularly with regard to technological or other aids in education;
- (3) to justify proposed expansions or new construction, establish schedules of accommodation and forecast teacher requirements;
- (4) he will also have to propose and prepare projects in non-formal education with the same degree of detail.

Qualifications and experience required:

- (a) Candidates should have maturity, breadth and variety of educational experience over a period of some years, having passed through successively more difficult and responsible assignments in education or training systems. Relevant experience in high-level planning offices would be an asset. Experience in developing countries is essential.
- (b) In addition, candidates should have a high level of competence and experience in at least one area of educational specialization such as teacher training, curriculum construction, the application of technological or other aids to facilitate learning, experience of non-formal education projects would be an asset.
- (c) Candidates must have had formal education at least to a university degree or equivalent experience and be familiar with theoretical concepts underlying educational programmes. Studies in comparative education would be an asset. Academic preparation should be sufficiently diversified and generalized to allow the applicant to relate one field to another.
- (d) Ability to negotiate and to work co-operatively with different cultural and ethnical groups. Ability for team work is essential.
- (e) Candidates should be fluent in English, French or Spanish and have a good working knowledge, including ability to draft, in at least one of the other two languages.

Salary and allowances.—Initial appointment will be at P-5 grade with a net salary equivalent to US$33,318 (US$30,776 if without dependants) per annum, payable mainly in French francs, plus the prescribed annual allowances, e.g. post adjustments, at present US$11,591 for staff members with dependants, US$10,710 for staff members without dependants, family allowances of US$700 for each dependent child (if there is no dependent spouse, this indemnity is not payable in respect of the first dependent child). ANNEX

Background:

In Malawi, as in most developing countries, the shortage of adequately trained and skilled local manpower is a serious constraint to development. The World Bank group staff which visited Malawi in negotiations related to the third IDA education project conducted interviews with officials of ministries and of major public and private enterprises. These interviews complemented and supplemented the manpower analysis of the "Education Sector Survey" published in May, 1978, which the World Bank staff carried out in collaboration with the government. The survey identified 22 major priority areas for investment covering the entire education system. Fourth and fifth IDA education projects have since been agreed. Bilateral and multilateral agencies are assisting in several of these areas. Apart from the present project, U.N.D.P./Unesco are co-operating in projects in primary teacher education and curriculum development, in functional literacy, in correspondence education, and in educational studies.

As part of the third education project, IDA has financed the construction of secretarial and commercial wings attached to the technical schools in Mzuzu, Lilongwe, and Blantyre. It is expected that these facilities will be terminated in the course of 1984. The purpose of the present project is to assist the government in training secretarial and accounting clerks to meet manpower needs in the country. In addition to the services of one expert, U.N.D.P./Unesco are providing fellowship training for the Malawian counterpart staff. Six teachers of secretarial subjects have already been trained in Kenya and one Malawian has completed a diploma course and has recently embarked on a masters programme in the U.K.

National character of the project:

Operational projects, benefiting from Unesco assistance, are national projects and it is up to the beneficiary country to assume responsibility for directing the project as well as ensuring its proper implementation.

Consequently, the international specialists will carry out their mission under the guidance of the national authority.

The specialist, as a staff member of Unesco, is placed under the authority of the director-general of the organization and will answer to him for the manner in which he carries out his functions.

Assignment allowance: the local equivalent of US$3,600 (US$2,850 if without dependants). Family allowances: each dependent child US$450 (if there is no dependent spouse, this indemnity is not payable for the first dependent child).

Travel is provided for the staff member and his family (spouse and recognized dependants). In addition, Unesco contributes towards the cost of installation at the duty station and the education of dependent children. On separation from Unesco, a repatriation grant is paid.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3930

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 35 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and Narcol Aluminium Rolling Mills Ltd.
Interpretation Application—Ruling

THE court announced its award on 18th October, 1983 and stated as follows in connection with supervisors:

"On the question of wage rates for the supervisors the court has decided to defer this matter in view of the very contradictory submissions made by the parties concerning their status. Moreover, the supervisors appear to have lost their jobs and the matter is being investigated by the Ministry of Labour. In these circumstances the court feels that it should neither reject the Claimants' demand nor accept the respondents' submission and hopes that when the next collective agreement is being revised the parties will be able to approach this issue realistically."

The claimants have now moved the court for interpretation in view of the latest development in respect of these supervisors. The claimants informed the court that at a meeting chaired by the provincial labour officer the parties had agreed on 13th January, 1984, that the seven employees will immediately be reinstated into their proper technical areas of operation, for example machine operators, technician, etc.

Subsequent to the above agreement the Ministry of Labour had also released its finding and recommendation on the issue of the respondents' refusal to allow the seven employees to resume work. The ministry's finding was that they had suffered a wrongful termination of service and that the employees be reinstated to their position of trainee supervisors without loss of seniority and other benefits. The period they had been out of employment shall be regarded as leave without pay.

The claimants have asked the court that in view of the above developments these seven employees were also entitled to benefit from the court award and the court should so rule.

The respondents submitted that these employees who at the time of the court award were supervisors were not covered by it and their fate could only be discussed when the new collective agreement was negotiated. They further maintained that at the time of the court award these employees were not in employment and therefore the court award could not apply to them. Moreover, at that time they were non-unionizable. They further pointed out that during the period covered by the court's award they were earning amounts above those of machine attendants and that the respondents had undertaken not to decrease their wages when they ceased to be supervisors. In any case they submitted that the claimants were attempting to persuade the court to change its award.

The court has considered this matter very carefully and finds that in view of these employees' reinstatement without loss of service they should be deemed to have been in continuous employment of the respondents. The court would like to recall that the reason why they lost their jobs was because the respondents had individually asked each one of them either to resign within one month from the claimants or be demoted and on 23rd July, 1983, they had in fact been demoted. This had caused industrial unrest and the ministry's finding clearly established that it would not be fair to group these employees in the management when they enjoyed no better terms of service than their unionized colleagues. The ministry had found the respondents guilty of indulging in unfair labour practice.

The court award which is the subject matter of this interpretation was effective from 1st December, 1981, and was to remain in force for a period of two years from that date which means the award has expired on 30th November, 1983. It is agreed that from 23rd July, 1983, up to 13th January, 1984, these employees were on leave without pay.

In view of the above, the court awards that these seven employees to all intents and purposes cannot be considered to have been supervisors at least for the second year of the court award. The court accordingly rules that its award of a 15 per cent wage increase should apply to them with effect from 1st December, 1982, until 23rd July, 1983, on which date they were on unpaid leave. The court also rules that they are entitled to 15 per cent house allowance as well for the same period provided that if any of them received any wage increase from 1st December, 1982, then such wage increase should be deducted from the 15 per cent awarded by the court—if the increase was more then there would be no further increase.

Finally their wage increases, etc., will no doubt be gone into when the parties negotiate the new collective agreement.

Given in Nairobi the 1st October, 1984.

SAEED R. COCKAR,

Judge.

G. M. OMOLO,
Member.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified, it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
