CAUSE No. 112 OF 1982

Parties:

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Kahindi Masha.

THE Kenya Union of Domestic, Hotels, Educational Institutions, Hospitals and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Eden Rock Hotel shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 1st and 21st March, 1983, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence:

Claimants:

K. Masha.
J. Kitsau.

Respondents:

C. Muthoka.
Mrs. E. Menyhart.

AWARD

The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 27th April, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 12th November, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute concerns K. Masha who had served the respondents as a room steward from 12th December, 1970 to 27th December, 1980 when he was summarily dismissed. The reason for his dismissal was that he was under the influence of alcohol while on duty on 25th December, and was unwilling and incapable to perform his duties. Further he had refused to obey a reasonable order given by a member of the management which rendered him liable to be dismissed summarily.

The claimants took up the matter on his behalf and it was first referred to the coast area negotiating committee set up by the claimants and the Hotelkeepers' Association which committee met on 19th June, 1981. On Mr. Masha's case, the chairman ruled that there was no firm evidence that he was drunk on duty and advised the management that in such cases if an employee was found to be drunk, the chairman of the works committee, shop steward or members of the works committee should be brought in as evidence of the employee's behaviour or alternatively medical evidence should be taken. The chairman then ruled that Mr. Masha should be reinstated with full benefits. The respondents refused to accept this ruling and the claimants reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and the ministry carried out an investigation.

The ministry's findings were that Mr. Masha had been served with four previous warnings the final one being that of 12th March, 1980, for being drunk on duty and that none of these had been challenged. On 25th December, 1980, when he was summoned by one of the directors, he took some time to go to her office and this was taken as disobedience of a lawful order. The investigator further stated that since Mr. Masha had served the respondents for about ten years, he did not deserve a summary dismissal under the circumstances and because the respondents had offered him to work his three months notice period the ministry recommended that his dismissal be reduced to normal termination and he be paid all his terminal benefits. He should also be paid an ex gratia payment of two more months' salary in compensation of his ten years' service.

The court had the benefit of listening to the grievant and his witness and also the evidence of Mrs. Menyhart who is the owner and director of the respondents and her assistant manager Mr. C. Muthoka.

The court finds it proved that at time of his dismissal, Mr. Masha had three written warnings issued to him on 27th December, 1979, and 9th January, 1980, for absenting himself without permission and on 12th March, 1980, for being drunk whilst on duty. The court can find no evidence to show that either Mr. Masha or the claimants had challenged any of these warnings.

Mrs. Menyhart told the court that she had taught Mr. Masha flower arrangement with the result that whenever important dignitaries visited that area, Mr. Masha was called upon to render his services in this respect. She also stated that he was the best room steward that they had and she admitted that many guests who had stayed at their hotel had later written praising Mr. Masha's services. She further added that his main weakness was that he had started taking alcohol after which he becomes a completely different person in that his behaviour becomes arrogant and rude. She had, however, in the past always closed her eyes and favoured him. On 25th December, 1980, she was in the booking office and went out when she heard a noise outside in the lobby. She saw Mr. Masha waving his hands and speaking loudly and laughing. She told him to come to her and he came to the counter and started knocking loudly on the desk and stared straight at her not afraid or respectful. She asked him to come into the office but he refused and waved his hands and went away. Later he was sent for and sometime after 6 p.m. he came to the office but refused to come in. She reported the incident to the manager and he was then dismissed.

Mr. Muthoka, the assistant manager more or less confirmed Mrs. Menyhart's testimony. The court finds that these two witnesses have given the true version of the incident as it took place.

Mr. Masha stated that he had gone to the counter to leave the room keys and while there he had encountered some guests who had joked with him asking why he did not get married or why he did not marry another young employee of the hotel and then they all laughed. He said he went towards Mrs. Menyhart when she called him but when he was a few paces away, she told him to go away and he then went to the change room from where he was called again by Mr. Muthoka. This time when he went to Mrs. Menyhart's office and opened the door she said "go away I don't want to see you another time".

The court is satisfied that Mr. Masha's behaviour during the incident was indeed abnormal and he was certainly high. The court would have been inclined to give him another chance if he did not have three valid warnings against him which are indicative of the fact that of late his performance had started to deteriorate.

The only point in favour of the claimants in this dispute is the ruling given by the chairman of the coast area negotiating committee but there appears to be no legal requirement that an employee who appears to be drunk should be examined medically to prove he was drunk before a disciplinary action can be taken against him. Section 17(b) of the Employment Act, clearly states that if during working hours an employee renders himself unwilling or incapable properly to perform his work, becoming or being intoxicated then he can be dismissed. The court, however, has taken into consideration the fact that at the time the incident took place, Mr. Masha had completed his day's work and was on his way to going off-duty, but there are strong grounds to show that he had taken alcohol either during lunch time or after that while still on duty.

The court has come to the conclusion that the Ministry of Labour's findings should be upheld and also the recommendation, but with an amendment that the respondents should pay Mr. Masha three months' salary which they had offered to pay him all along with all his other lawful dues and another three months' salary by way of an ex gratia payment.

Given in Nairobi on the 10th May, 1983.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 1866

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letters to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 1867

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified, it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

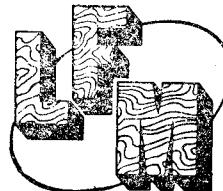

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
