AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour referred this dispute to the Industrial Court in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act which dispute was received by the court on 21st March, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant, Mr. Oduor, started working for the respondents on 19th September, 1960, as a trainee salesman. He was summarily dismissed on 13th October, 1981, by which time he had risen to the position of a training officer according to the respondents but training manager according to the claimants. The court does not intend to set out in the award the details of his career with the respondents except to note that despite all the alleged shortcomings on his part and the close brushes he had with being dismissed on a couple of occasions his salary at the time of his dismissal had risen to KSh. 6,300 p.m.

This dismissal was investigated by the Ministry of Labour and it appears that a thorough inquiry was carried out because of the ministry's close involvement with the strikes that took place at the time at the respondents' factory. The ministry found that his dismissal was wrongful and recommended that he should be reinstated unconditionally in his job. The respondents rejected both the findings and the recommendation and the dispute ended up in the Industrial Court.

The court must say that the parties have bitterly fought out this dispute and during the hearing no holds were barred with the respondents preparing a dossier on Mr. Oduor's background containing all the warnings, etc., that were served on him between 1961 and 1981 and the claimants retaliating equally vigorously by attacking the respondents for victimizing him for his trade union activities and even going to the extent of alleging that the respondents tried to bribe a witness in order to subvert his evidence they suspected would be in the claimants' favour. The claimants even went as far as to attack the character and ability of the respondents' personnel manager. The respondents at one stage accused the claimants of forging certain documents in order to strengthen their case.

The court notes that in Oduor's twenty-two years' service with the respondents there is a record of two warnings in 1960s, five in 1970s and one on 27th May, 1981. The court cannot really hold any of these warnings against him in the present case as they have all expired and in any case which really did not affect his promotion during his service with the respondents. As stated earlier Mr. Oduor was promoted to be a training officer where he was responsible for training and development programme within the factory and other units.

The immediate cause of his dismissal was that on 10th October, 1981, which was a Saturday while he was supposed to be working he was found drinking in a bar in the vicinity of the factory called Wananchi Bar. This particular allegation which led to Mr. Oduor's dismissal is the crux of the matter and on which very contradictory evidence was led by both the parties to say the least. The court would now analyze the evidence given by the various witnesses on this particular point.

The respondents led the evidence of two persons—Frank Wanyeki and John Makau—who are their security officer and supervisor security, respectively. They both more or less told the same story regarding their search for Mr. Oduor around 4.20 p.m. on the instructions of Mr. Ndumbu, the personnel manager. The instructions were given to Mr. Wanyeki at 4.20 p.m. on 10th October who decided to take Mr. Makau with him. They went around various bars in Limuru Town and made some inquiries as a result of which they went into Wananchi Bar where they found Mr. Oduor sitting and drinking. Mr. Wanyeki told him that he was wanted in Mr. Ndumbu's office. Mr. Oduor told him to give him a couple of minutes and Mr. Wanyeki went back to the car and waited five minutes after which he sent Mr. Makau to call him. Mr. Makau came out without Mr. Oduor and they waited another five minutes after which they decided to go back to the factory and report to Mr. Ndumbu. They arrived at the factory at 5.02 p.m. Mr. Wanyeki further stated that on 12th October, he was present in Mr. Ndumbu's office when Mr. Oduor was called to explain why he was in bar when he was supposed to be on duty to which he replied that it was a Saturday and he was not supposed to be on duty. He also denied having seen the circular requiring the workers to be on duty on that Saturday. Mr. Oduor was shown an entry in the movement book which had been made by him and according to Mr. Wanyeki, Mr. Oduor could not explain why he had made the entry.

Mr. Oduor on his part denied that he was at the Wananchi Bar on 10th October as alleged and stated that he was working in his office in preparation for going to Mombasa and denied having seen Mr. Makau and Mr. Wanyeki at the bar looking for him. His testimony was corroborated by the evidence on oath by G. Mburu who is the proprietor of the Wananchi Bar and who said that Mr. Wanyeki and Mr. Makau came to his bar at 4.30 p.m. and met him and enquired about Mr. Oduor as they had been sent by the respondents' personnel manager to look for him. He told them that he had not seen him that day and they told him that they were very much after Mr. Oduor and if he knew he should tell them. They then ordered a couple of beers and started drinking and talking. He heard them talking about union matters at the factory and saying that they wanted to dismiss Mr. Oduor and others who were interested in the union. He then decided to write a letter to Mr. Oduor under an anonymous name warning him that Mr. Ndumbu wanted to sack him as he was a union leader and that Mr. Ndumbu's men had asked him to say that he was in his bar on Saturday, 10th October, but he had told them that he had not come to the bar the whole afternoon and he did not see him in his bar on that Saturday. He further wrote the following paragraph:

"I am not Bata worker and I did not want my name to be used kichinichini matters at Bata by persuading me to say lies about you. But watch those people because Ndumbu wants to sack you because of your union so that there will be no union when you go. Come to Muthungu I'll tell you more."

This witness while giving evidence in court further made a startling allegation that the respondents had tried to bribe him first with KSh. 20,000 and then later had increased the bribe to KSh. 100,000 so that he should not come and give evidence in favour of Mr. Oduor. They wanted him to say that Mr. Oduor was in his bar that Saturday.

This alleged attempt to bribe him was conveyed by him to Mr. Oduor who in turn reported the matter to the administration and the special branch at Limuru. The District Officer, Limuru, Mr. Langat confirmed on oath that he had received a letter from Mr. Oduor to which were attached certain copies of other letters. He had then discussed the matter with Mr. Oduor and since he could not do anything he referred them to the relevant authority which was the police or alternatively the special branch. The special branch officer, J. Radoli, confirmed that when he received a copy of letters written by Mr. Oduor to District Officer, Limuru, concerning an alleged bribe to Mr. Mburu by the respondents he advised Mr. Oduor to make a formal report to Tigoni Police Station where the allegation would be investigated. The chief inspector of police station at Tigoni Police Station in November, 1982, E. Gikungu, said that he received a copy of the letter on the matter but, Mr. Oduor did not come to make any formal report. He denied that Mr. Oduor had made any official report. He did admit, however, that Mr. Oduor had personally brought to him two photostat copies of letters concerning the allegation. He said he took no action in the matter.

In view of this such contradictory evidence, before the court can make any finding as to which side is telling the truth the court would like to examine the circumstances prevailing at the time in the respondents' factory, particularly the activities of the claimants in recruiting members of management into their ranks and their efforts to seek recognition from the respondents.

It is not denied that Mr. Oduor was the claimants' chief representative at the respondents' undertaking. The court is satisfied that he was actively participating in trade union matters on behalf of the claimants and that the respondents were discouraging their employees from joining the claimants and in fact trying to persuade others who had joined to resign altogether. In April, 1981, Mr. Oduor was elected the chief shop steward to represent the 205 management staff who had joined the claimants.

It appears that towards the end of September, 1981, Mr. Ndumbu called Mr. Oduor to his office where the sales manager was also present and told him that they wanted him to go and work temporarily in Mombasa. There is evidence in written submissions that the claimants had complained at the way their members were being harassed by Mr. Ndumbu and how they were being victimized for their trade union membership.

On 6th October, 1981, Mr. Oduor received a letter from the marketing manager confirming a discussion that he would go to Mombasa to conduct training for Christwares Ltd. but that he had some reservations which the management could not understand. The marketing manager told Mr. Oduor in this letter that it is better to train five to ten people rather than train nobody at all which was the case at the moment. This confirms the claimants' allegation that in July, 1981, all management courses had been indefinitely suspended by the respondents although the claimants further alleged that this was to prevent Mr. Oduor teaching the participants union matters. In the same letter he was required to report at Mombasa on 12th October. Mr. Oduor gave a detailed reply to this transfer on the same date to the personnel manager in which he rejected this transfer mainly on the ground that the sort of training which they wanted him to undertake was the direct responsibility of a sales representative in charge of that region and that as he was the training officer the job was too junior for his education, skills and experience and was intended to frustrate him. He also pointed out that he had a two-week old baby and his wife was still very sick following a recent operation. The managing director on 10th October, 1981, informed him that he would now be required to report in Mombasa on 2nd November, 1981.

On 13th October he received a five-page letter of dismissal which included various allegations against him dating back to 1975 and ending with the alleged incident of 10th October when it is stated that he was found in the Wananchi Bar drinking at about 4.30 p.m.

During the hearing the claimants produced an operational agreement signed by the respondents' acting general manager, P. Folschweiler, dated 10th October which they alleged Mr. Oduor was asked to sign under a declaration in which paragraph 4 and 9 read as follows:

"That the employee agrees not to interfere with the company's employees working at the Mombasa depot on trade union matters during his stay in Mombasa."

That while in Mombasa the employee will involve himself fully in the work assigned to him by the company other than on trade union matters."

The interesting thing about this document is that the claimants produced it and they refused to disclose the source from where they obtained it. Even Mr. Oduor told the court that he did not know from where the claimants got this agreement. Folschweiler on oath denied ever having issued any such document and the respondents suggested that it was a forged document. In addition to this the court is satisfied that the letterheads used for this document were out of date as the citizenship status of certain directors had changed since then. In view of this very unsatisfactory evidence the court has decided not to place any reliance on it in coming to its decision.

The dismissal of Mr. Oduor caused a strike by the management staff who had joined the claimants. This strike which caused considerable industrial unrest at Limuru and which the then Minister for Labour had dubbed as illegal lasted nearly two weeks and only after the intervention of the Labour Commissioner these members of the management on strike resumed work. The respondents filed an action in the high court to get Mr. Oduor evicted from the company house and on 29th December their application was granted by the high court because his continued stay in the premises would jeopardize the respondents' activities. In support of the respondents' application F. N. Ojiambo, an advocate of the high court submitted an affidavit in which in paragraphs 3, 4 and 5 he stated:

"That I am informed by Mr. J. M. G. Ndumbu, the company's personnel manager and public relations manager that while Oduor was an employee of the company he was associated with the union to which most of the unionisable staff belong and that he was a very influential member of the said union."

That I am further informed by Mr. Ndumbu that Oduor continues to exercise a great deal of influence upon the union and this has had very adverse effects on the industrial relationship between the company and its employee culminating into a near disastrous industrial strike action upon the company premises recently.

That as long as Oduor is allowed to remain on the company's premises the proper management of the company's shoe making factory is in jeopardy of being disrupted."

The court has carefully considered all aspects of this dispute including the parties' very lengthy and comprehensive written and verbal submissions and the evidence by the various witnesses and on balance of probability has come to the conclusion that the proprietor of the Wananchi Bar told the truth when he said that Mr. Oduor was not in his bar drinking on 10 October as alleged. The court cannot rule out the possibility that the respondents were determined to remove Mr. Oduor from their factory at Limuru in order to cut his influence on the management staff whom he had organized to join the claimants. He was a training officer and was being transferred to Mombasa to a relatively junior job which he resisted and while the managing director had deferred his transfer to Mombasa till 2nd November this doubtful incident of his having been found in the bar on 10th October had cropped up. Even if he was drinking at 4.30 p.m. in the bar, considering all the circumstances of this dispute, he did not deserve a dismissal. It was a Saturday and it was only as a result of a special circular that workers were required to work on that Saturday which Mr. Oduor denied having seen. The court cannot place any weight on the various alleged shortcomings on the part of Mr. Oduor during his nearly twenty-one years' service with the respondents and the court has concerned itself with the events that were immediate to his dismissal. The allegations in the nature of the personnel manager chasing his wife in the middle of the night firing his pistol in the air on the green hills of Limuru and then requiring Mr. Oduor to sign certain declaration in his office with the pistol pointing at Mr. Oduor are only amusing if anything. It was nothing short of mudslinging and not really relevant to this dispute. Even if a worker some years ago had signed a declaration that he was given a last chance to survive in employment it does not mean that that threat would hang over his head after more than a year.

The court concurs with the Ministry of Labour's finding in this dispute and finds that Mr. Oduor has indeed suffered a wrongful dismissal. The court, however, finds that the relationship between him and the respondents' management has completely broken down and has reached a point of no return. The court is of the view that there can be no reconciliation between them and in these circumstances it will not be in the parties' interest to reinstate him to his job. The court has instead decided to award him full twelve months' salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered. The court was told that his monthly salary at the time of his dismissal was KSh. 6,300. The court further awards that he should be entitled to three months' notice pay and other lawfully due terminal benefits. The court must, however, reject Mr. Oduor's claim for illegal deductions of his salary which he claims to be KSh. 30,240 going back to approximately over twenty years. The other lawful dues includes earned annual leave and pay for days he worked and other benefits in accordance with the terms of his contract of employment and nothing more.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE No. 76 OF 1983

Parties:
 Kenya Management Staff Association
 and
 Kenya Power and Lighting Co. Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Termination of Njuguna Kinyanjui.

THE Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Power and Lighting Co. Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 9th and 31st January, and 1st February, 1984, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants.—N. Kinyanjui.

Respondents.—P. M. Okulo.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 30th April, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 24th August, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant, Njuguna Kinyanjui, worked for the respondents from 24th November, 1980, until 27th January, 1982, in the position of head of purchasing. The reason for his termination was that the respondents found him to be incompetent in the performance of his duties and to make matters worse for him it is alleged that he used distasteful and hostile language amounting to gross insubordination towards his superiors. He was offered three months' salary in lieu of notice plus his other entitlements in the retirement benefits scheme for senior Kenya citizen staff.

The claimants reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and the ministry investigated it. The ministry's findings and recommendation which were released to the parties on 15th February, 1983, stated that Kinyanjui had a very responsible position which merited his being trustworthy. He was warned about his shortcomings although he attempted to give an unsatisfactory explanation to the following:

1. Falsified assessment sheet to mislead the central tender committee.
2. Excluding other tenderers who could have qualified.
3. Inclusion and offer of tender to Messrs. Uniforms and Fashions which firm was nonexistent.

The ministry found that the termination was justified and that it should be upheld.

The claimants not being satisfied with the above have brought the dispute to the Industrial Court.

The court had the benefit of the parties' written and verbal submissions in addition to the evidence by their witnesses and the court is satisfied that Mr. Kinyanjui indeed left a lot to be desired in the performance of his duties which included among others the evaluation of tenders and quotations and to make recommendations for his immediate superior, the supplies superintendent, for onward transmission to divisional or central tender committees. The court finds it fully proved that Mr. Kinyanjui was very negligent if not downright incompetent in respect of tenders of Kurm Garments of Kisii, Bata Shoe Co., Quality Uniforms and regarding quotation No. IS 210/81 when suppliers were required to quote for 3,000⁴" round washers and the incident of Uniforms and Fashions.

It is indeed shocking that when the respondents' general manager ordered an inquiry into the capability and capacity of Uniforms and Fashions Mr. Kinyanjui took the auditor with him on a trip around the various estates in Nairobi, trying to locate the firm without success! During this trip when they eventually found the proprietor of this firm he took them around on another minor trip to locate his sewing machines and workforce during which he tried to persuade an old tailor sitting on a sewing machine near one of the shops to accept that he was a sort of a sub-contractor of his firm! The old man became suspicious and denied any dealings with this man! This is laughable but reflects very poorly on the performance of duties by Mr. Kinyanjui.

On the other incidents the court without going into the details about each one of them is satisfied that either Mr. Kinyanjui had some ulterior motives in those transactions or he was extremely careless and pathetically incompetent.

The important thing in this dispute is that despite all these shortcomings the respondents on 7th December, 1981, gave him a chance to improve his performance because on that date he was informed by the technical manager that the supplies superintendent would be asked to submit a report on his performance at the end of June 1982, when the technical manager would review the need or otherwise of his continued employment with the respondents and he was told that he was expected to perform his duties diligently and honestly. Mr. Kinyanjui replied to this letter on 15th January, 1982, and tried to justify his actions on the various incidents and in the end after signing the letter next to the words "copy to the general manager" he wrote as follows:

"I request for the board's reconsideration and approval that police be involved. This would ensure me legal security. Otherwise I am convinced I will not escape being treated unfairly. I consider any in-house investigation as already biased, corruptive and calculated to some given purpose".

The court is really amazed that despite all the proved shortcomings against Mr. Kinyanjui notwithstanding his attempts to give lengthy explanations when he was given a chance for six months to improve his performance he turns around and gives a most provocative rejoinder! In these circumstances the court finds that the respondents were entitled to withdraw the six months' chance that they had offered him.

In these circumstances the court cannot find any reason whatsoever for interfering with the respondents' decision in terminating the services of one of their senior employees in the management. This termination does not fall within the of repeated principles when the Industrial Court deems it fit to interfere in the management's decision to terminate the services of an employee. The management decision is not perverse, it has not offended principles of natural justice and there are no ulterior motives in this termination.

The court fully agrees with the findings and recommendation of the Ministry of Labour and finds that Mr. Kinyanjui deserved termination. The court accordingly rejects all the claims made by him against the respondents and he is advised to go and collect the amount that the respondents have offered him if he has not already done so. There is nothing more that the court can do for him.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 81 OF 1983

Parties:
 Kenya Engineering Workers Union
 and
 Emco Steel Works

Issues in dispute:

- Wages.
- Overtime.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Emco Steel Works shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 31st January, 1984, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 25th March, 1983, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 16th September, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute is in three parts and revolves around the implementation of the parties' collective agreement dated 19th November, 1980, but which was effective from 1st April, 1980, for a period of two years from that date.

The claimants' demand is that the wages as agreed in this agreement were not awarded to twelve employees in the maintenance section and twelve employees who are in the supervisory category. The third aspect of the dispute relates to payment of overtime which the claimants state was denied to the workers for a period of seven months from April up to October, 1980.

During the hearing the respondents agreed to implement the said collective agreement in respect of the twelve workers in the maintenance section. The respondents agreed that they will pay KSh. 70 per month to each one of these twelve employees for the seven months during which they were denied this increase and would adjust their salaries accordingly. The court therefore awards that the respondents should do so immediately and that this KSh. 70 increase should be reflected in the salaries of each one of these twelve workers. The court directs that in case the parties have any dispute on the actual adjustment of the salaries of these twelve workers then they should seek the assistance of Mr. Wagia of the Division of Manpower Planning and Development, who prepared the report in this dispute for the benefit of the court and the parties.

As far as the twelve employees in the supervisory grades are concerned the court would like to refer to the definition of the employee as it appears in the relevant collective agreement which reads:

"This agreement will apply to all employees other than those who are excluded by the terms of the current agreement COTU/F.K.E., on confidential, supervisory and management staff. The term "employee" wherever used in this agreement will cover all employees, both male and female unless specifically stated otherwise."

The court was told by the respondents that all of them were supervisory staff and therefore were not covered by the parties' collective agreement in view of the clear definition stated hereinabove. They maintained that for the purposes of industrial discipline, peace and democracy they cannot be represented by the same trade union which represents the interests of the employees they supervise.

The court notes that the claimants have already initiated a trade dispute for the purposes of amending this definition of employee which implies that they are seeking to extend the application of the collective agreement to the employees who are in supervisory grades. In this dispute, however, the court has to make an award within the collective agreement as it existed at the material time and according to that the court rules that the supervisory staff are not entitled to wage increases as specified in the collective agreement even though they may be members of the claimants. They get their own salary increases on dates different from those stipulated in the collective agreement. The court therefore rejects the claimants' demand in respect of these twelve supervisors for the time being. In future of course it will depend on how the parties amend the definition of employee in the next collective agreement.

It is not in dispute that the respondents have not paid overtime to their employees from April to October, 1980. The D.M.P.D. report shows that the amount due to the workers for this period totals KSh. 54,650.

The respondents have pleaded that at the joint negotiating committee meeting held on 6th November, 1980, the respondents and the then claimants' officials had agreed that overtime payment shall not be backdated and it was for this reason that they had refused to pay overtime prior to November, 1980.

Surprisingly the parties' collective agreement which was registered by the court does not state anywhere that overtime will not be backdated. This agreement was signed by the parties on 19th November, 1980. The respondents have pleaded that although this agreement was not incorporated in the collective agreement the claimants must honour it as the respondents had totally relied on it. The respondents feared that if this demand was allowed it would create a precedent which would undermine all mutual trust and would also result in the untold chaos in the industrial relations system of this country. The court, however, thinks otherwise because the court feels that to accept the respondents' plea would lead to chaos as the collective agreements would be rendered meaningless and the parties would develop the tendency to fall back on the minutes of the negotiating committee meetings which would result in endless disputes. The collective agreement is the final document which the parties work out and sign and which is registered by the Industrial Court. It is up to the parties to make sure that all of what they have agreed appears in such collective agreements. If they fail to do so then it is at their own risk.

The court finds that in the absence of any words in the collective agreement suggesting that there was to be no back-dating in overtime the respondents must pay all the employees who did overtime during the period April to October, 1980. In working out the details the parties will again be at liberty to seek Mr. Wangia's assistance and guidance.

The court, however, directs in view of the respondents' financial difficulties which they are experiencing just now, that these arrears regarding overtime amounting to KSh. 54,650 should be paid in three equal monthly instalments commencing from the end of the first month following the court award.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1321

THE TRADE MARKS ACT
(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified, it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter "B" prefixed to the official number.
