GAZETTE NOTICE No. 2912

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 28 OF 1974

Parties:—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers
and

Pan Foods (1968) Ltd.

Issues in dispute:—

1. Failure to implement the collective agreement (increase in wages as from July, 1973).
2. Terminal benefits when the present company (Pan Foods (1968) Ltd.), winds up next year.
3. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Pan Foods (1968) Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.
4. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 13th day of August, 1974, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 27th May, 1974, was received by the Court on 19th June together with the statutory certificate from the Labour Commissioner.

At the commencement of the hearing the Claimants informed the Court that in view of the Respondents' submission on Issue No. 2 they now had no dispute with the Respondents' and therefore they did not wish to make any further submissions on it. For the purposes of record it should be noted that the Respondents have conceded that when the present factory closes down all employees will be redundant and will be paid in accordance with paragraph 17 of the collective agreement. Thereafter the workers will be available for work at the discretion of the new company who will engage all their requirements as new employees.

On Issue No. 1, the position is that the parties entered into a collective agreement effective from 1st January, 1972, with the duration period of five years with 10 per cent annual increments on basic salary.

Prior to the formation of the Respondents there was another company in operation under the firm name of Pan African Foods Ltd., which became bankrupt in 1968. The Government of Kenya, however, took over the company from the Official Receiver in order to preserve jobs for the employees and to continue to purchase vegetables from the local farmers. The Government then formed a new company with the hope of endeavouring to reverse the position by increasing production to meet overhead costs.

The Court was told that further changes were contemplated as the present production of the factory is 25 per cent of that necessary to be viable and the Government as a result of negotiations with German and Swiss experts formed a new company under the firm name of Pan Africa Vegetables Ltd., with I.C.D.C. and I.D.B. participation. This company had already ordered up-to-date machinery for dehydrating vegetables and will be constructing an entirely new factory next to the existing building.

The existing company, i.e. the Respondents, will remain in operation until the opening of the new factory which will probably be in May, 1975. It should be recorded that the Kenya Government has granted loans amounting to Sh. 4½ million to the Respondents in addition to the capital Government loans.

With this background the Court has been asked to give a decision on the issue in dispute. The existence of the 1972 collective agreement referred to hereinabove is not denied. It is also not disputed that the workers received their 10 per cent increase on 1st July, 1972, and this is the wage at which they are working at present.

The Court is satisfied that the workers and the Claimants on their behalf consistently pursued the Respondents to grant them the 10 per cent wage increase that was due under the collective agreement on 1st July, 1973. The Respondents, however, could not meet this demand on the ground of financial inability to pay.

The Respondents have raised a further point that as a result of a meeting held on 27th June, 1972, at Naivasha, between the Respondents' General Manager, the Claimants' General Secretary and the three shop stewards at the time, Messrs. Joseph Mbatia, Michael Munyua and John Kigo, it was decided that clauses 21 and 22 of the collective agreement are amended as follows:—

"Clause 21.—Effective date 1st July, 1971.

Clause 22.—Duration two years ending 30th June, 1973."

The Respondents contended that they confirmed the outcome as stated above of the meeting of 27th June with the Claimants' General Secretary in writing on 10th June, 1972. At no time had anyone from the Claimants' side repudiated the agreement as set out therein.

In confirmation of this submission the Respondents referred the Court to Appendix C of the Claimants' submission which is the Respondents' General Manager's letter to his Chairman on 17th December where it is stated as follows in the third paragraph:—

"I, on behalf of the company opposed the move on the grounds that a joint meeting between the union and the management held on 27th June, 1972, had agreed to limit the life of the referred agreement to two years ending 30th June, 1973, after which time a new agreement was to be negotiated. The union still urged that although they recognize that such an agreement had been reached an exchange of letters to alter the previous agreement was not enough."

Finally the Respondents maintained that since there was no agreement to award the workers a 10 per cent wage increase on 1st July, 1973, the Claimants' demand was for an increase on wages due to the present high inflation but unfortunately since the Respondents' financial position was precarious they could not entertain any such demands.

The Claimants denied having received the aforesaid letter of 10th July, 1972, from the Respondents and stated that at the meeting of 27th June, 1972, they had discussed nothing else but the formation of the new company. In any case their submission is that the existing collective agreement has not been amended as agreed as according to the Respondents' own submission the amended copies of the agreement were to be circulated for signature. In these circumstances they asked the Court to find that the 1972 collective agreement stood unamended up till now and the workers were entitled to their July, 1973, and July, 1974, increases being 10 per cent each year.

The Court has no doubt that the parties prior to 1973 did embark on discussions in appreciation of the Respondents' financial difficulties. The Court is also of the view that there is some truth in what the Respondents have stated that a meeting did take place on 27th June, 1972, at which amendments to clauses 21 and 22 were discussed.

The Court has also come to the conclusion that the parties had very much in mind the formation of the new company mention of which has been already made hereinabove. In fact as recent as 12th February, 1974, when the parties appeared before the Conciliator on the same date they entered into the following agreement:—

"It has been agreed by both parties that the management undertake to ensure that the current negotiations between the old company, the new company and the Government in regard to the dissolution of the old company in favour of the new one, the liabilities on employees deferred salary increases and future of the services of those who will be taken over by the new company and those who may lose their services at the time of take over will be included along with other assets and liabilities."

It is pertinent that in this agreement the words "employees deferred salary increases" and the "liabilities" in respect thereof are mentioned. This statement coupled with the absence of any formal amendment agreement incorporating the amendments to the duration of the collective agreement lead the Court to only one conclusion, and that is that parties had an intention, in view of the Respondents' financial difficulties, of entering into an agreement to effect certain amendments to the collective agreement. The parties, however, took no steps whatsoever to translate this declaration of intent into reality and it was very much in the interest of the Respondents themselves that they should have taken immediate and prompt steps to draw up the necessary amendments and get the Claimants' signature on it. This they have failed to do.

After careful consideration of all the submissions, the Court has come to the conclusion that the collective agreement of 1972 continues in force as it stands and the Respondents are bound to honour its contents. The Court was told that the 10 per cent wage increase for 1973 would cost £5,100 and for 1974 it would cost another £6,000 making a total of approximately £11,100.

The Court very much appreciates the near-collapse financial position of the Respondents and taking this point into consideration the Court has decided to award that the workers should be given only the 10 per cent increase due to them on 1st July, 1973. The Court makes no award for July, 1974, increase because the parties have agreed on 12th February, 1974, that any deferred salary increases due to employees would become part of the liabilities of the Respondents when they go out of business. The Court is of the view that the 1974 increase would be taken care of at that time.

The Court accordingly awards that the workers should be granted 10 per cent wage increase effective from 1st July, 1973.

Given in Nairobi this 6th day of September, 1974.

The parties followed the recognition agreement with a collective agreement relating to salaries and terms and conditions of employment effective from 1st April, 1972, for a duration of two years. The actual wording of the relevant clause on duration is as follows:—

"This agreement shall come into force on 1st April, 1972, and shall remain in force for a period of two years. Thereafter it shall continue in force until either party by giving one month's notice in writing shall indicate their wish to amend or terminate the agreement. The said notice shall specify the reasons for such decision."

It is significant that prior to the collective agreement a joint committee with representatives from the parties undertook a job classification exercise and the Court was informed that it took about a month with approximately six meetings to finalize this exercise. The collective agreement was based on a job classification worked out by this committee.

On 1st March, 1974, the Respondents, Nation Newspapers Ltd., through their Industrial Relations Manager served one month's notice dated 1st March, 1974, on the Claimants' General Secretary of their intention to terminate the collective agreement in accordance with clause 20 quoted hereinabove. They went as far as to state in the letter that the collective agreement on its expiry at the end of March, 1974, would be null and void until renegotiated. A copy of this letter was sent to the Respondents E.A. Standard (Newspapers) Ltd.

The Court must express its surprise at this rather extraordinary step which was taken by one of the Respondents which the Court believes was also acceptable to the other Respondent in that they allowed the collective agreement to lapse generally; notwithstanding the parties' right to terminate it, the practice is for either party to demand amendments to the existing collective agreement rather than to terminate it and declare it null and void. A termination of a collective agreement can lead to many complications between employer/employee relationship, one which should be avoided as far as possible.

In these circumstances the Court appreciates the reason why an omnibus claim is before it for adjudication which in fact amounts to asking the Court to not only award on the items in dispute but also to virtually rewrite the whole collective agreement for the parties.

The Claimants forwarded their proposals for a new collective agreement to the Respondents on 8th March, 1974, and what transpired thereafter is not of much consequence since virtually no agreement was reached on any of the items, with the Claimants alleging that the Respondents displayed a very negative attitude both during their own meetings and also during conciliation proceedings.

It is a fact that the Respondents did not produce any offer to the Claimants' demand until very late during conciliation. This offer formed the basis of the Respondents' submission during the hearing.

During the hearing the parties in addition to their comprehensive written submissions made exhaustive verbal submissions on the general economic structure, nature and background of the economics of this industry in addition to making detailed arguments on the 29th issues in dispute.

The Court does not intend to reproduce these submissions except in so far as it may be necessary to explain any particular point in the award. The Court however, has very carefully considered all the submissions in formulating its award.

The Guidelines which have been issued to the Court by the Minister for Finance are very relevant to this dispute and the Court arranged for an analysis to be carried out of the parties' submissions by the Employment Promotion Division for the benefit of the Court and the parties.

The analysis reveals that the scope for increases in labour costs in view of the background of the dispute with a compounded total of 35.6 per cent for a two-year period of the new agreement would be within the guidelines provided that this maximum would be applicable in cases of particularly low paid employees. It also becomes evident that the salary costs, if the Claimants' demands are accepted, will be between 120 per cent and 170 per cent with the bigger increases given to the better paid categories. The demand for housing allowance will cost between 100 per cent and 80 per cent of the present salaries taking into account that the 35 per cent allowance will have to be calculated on a salary which is one and a half times higher than the present level.

A reduction in working hours from 40 to 30 per week will cost 25 per cent of present salary costs if the employees will be asked to make up for the reduction by working an extra ten hours overtime per week, the increase in cost will be greater since the proposed overtime rates will make such time cost twice as much as regular hours.

Similarly an increase to the extent demanded by the Claimants of extra 20 days annual leave will increase total labour cost by 7 per cent. The proposed increases in safari allowance and leave travel allowance will further considerably increase the labour costs.

The Court has taken the points revealed in the analysis into consideration along with the parties' submissions and has decided to some extent to add to the maximum scope for increases in labour costs an element of fixing a rate for the profession of journalists. The Court has taken this factor into consideration in formulating its award on salaries.

The Court at this stage would like to dispose of the severe criticism levelled by the Claimants against the Respondents for their continued employment of expatriates at very high level of remuneration. The Court has in the past clarified its position in regard to demands made by the unions to probe into the continued employment of expatriates in certain industries and the Court would like to once again state that whereas the unions are justified in referring to the high remuneration enjoyed by the expatriates in order to reinforce their argument that there is money available to the Respondents to meet the demands which they make on behalf of their members, the Court cannot and will not undertake to interfere in the functions of the Kenyanisation of Personnel Bureau and the Immigration Department. The Court has accordingly taken into consideration the cost of the alleged high remuneration enjoyed by the expatriates in the Respondents' employment in formulating its award. It should, however, be remembered that there are only 16 expatriates in the employment of the two Respondents.

The Court would like to take this opportunity of expressing views on the continued existence of racial salary scales in some industries in the country whereby certain employees are given a higher rate of remuneration and enjoyed a higher level of fringe benefits than others. This system is an anathema in the present-day Kenya as it is felt that ten years is a long enough period during which racial salary scales should have been eliminated. The Court has decided to make these comments for the benefit of the employers generally in the country.

The recognition agreement clearly bars the Claimants from raising certain issues with the Respondents as they are not negotiable and the most what the Claimants can ask for is consultation with the Respondents at the chapel level. These issues will be referred to in the award.

The Court would also like to record that the parties have agreed that the new collective agreement should be effective from 1st April, 1974, and that it should remain in force for a period of two years from that date.

The Court has decided to use the provisions on some items as they appear in the now terminated collective agreement of 1972 for ease of reference and to cut short the work where the Court has decided to restore a status quo.

The Court makes the following award on the various issues in dispute:—

1. JOB CLASSIFICATION

The Court notes that since the last job classification exercise in 1972 there has been a certain play in the titles such as the introduction of the word "chief" in respect of certain categories of workers without of course any alteration in the salary structure.

The Claimants laid a lot of stress on the specializing aspect in their profession and are pursuing a special category amongst other demands to cover these specialists in various fields like law, sports, National Assembly, politics, industrial relations and so on.

The Court, however, is of the view that a lapse of two years is not enough to bring about a new job classification. In view of the fact that for the first time a job classification was carried out in this industry as recently as 1972 the Court finds that the existing job classification should continue for another two years. By then the parties will have applied this job classification for four years and any changes that might be contemplated by both the parties would be more clearly identified. For these reasons the Court directs that three months prior to the next revision of the collective agreement the parties should undertake jointly a comprehensive job classification exercise, if necessary, with the assistance of an outside expert.

2. WAGES AND SALARIES

The Court awards the following new salary structure. In formulating the new salary rates, the Court has taken into consideration the increase in house rents and the other arguments and submissions put forward by the Claimants in respect of a housing allowance. The Court finds that in the 1972 collective agreement although terminated now as a result of the Respondents action the Claimants agreed to the following clause—

"Housing and Housing Allowance"

The salary scales are consolidated containing an element for housing amounting to 10 per cent and the provision of housing is the responsibility of the employee and no housing allowance is granted. In future negotiations the salaries will remain consolidated with no claims to separate the housing element."

In addition to the above if the Court were to deduct 10 per cent housing element from the existing salaries that would indeed be unpalatable to the workers even if the Court was then to proceed to award additional house allowance on top of the 10 per cent deducted. The Court is of the view that the workers would be much better off by having the increases contemplated by the Court in respect of house allowance to be added on to their consolidated salaries. The demand for a separate housing allowance or for the provision of housing by the Respondents to their employees is therefore rejected.

15 and 16. ACTING ALLOWANCE AND PROBATION PERIOD

The Court awards that the provisions of these two items as they appear in the 1972 Collective Agreement should continue.

17. TRAINING

The Court feels that the present arrangements under this heading should continue while making it clear that this is a non-negotiable item. The Court, however, directs the parties that they should have regular consultations at the chapel level on this rather important matter.

The Court while appreciating the Claimants' submission on this point is inhibited from making an award on a non-negotiable item.

18. TERMINATING OF SERVICE

The Court awards as follows:—

Established employees up to four years' completed service shall be subject to not less than one calendar month's notice of termination of employment or one month pay in lieu. On resignation the employee shall give one calendar month's notice or pay one month's salary in lieu.

CAUSE No. 31 of 1974

Parties:—

Kenya Chemical Workers' Union

and

D.D. Patel & Co. Ltd.

Issues in dispute:—

1. Wages.
2. Working hours.
3. Annual leave (paid).
4. Sick leave.
5. Safari allowance.
6. Leave allowance.
7. Effective date and duration of agreement.

1. The Kenya Chemical Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and D.D. Patel & Co. Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 23rd day of August, 1974, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 28th March, 1974, was received by the Court on 4th July along with the statutory certificate from the Labour Commissioner.

As the issues in dispute are affected by the guidelines, the parties' submissions were forwarded to the Employment Promotion Division of the Ministry of Labour for analysis which revealed that the scope for increases in labour costs on the basis of increase in cost of living and the per capita growth to be somewhere around 38.8 per cent for a two-year period. This maximum would apply to workers who are particularly low-paid not only in relation to other workers in the same firms but also in comparison with workers doing comparable work in other industries.

The parties had revised their wages on 1st June, 1971, and the Claimants are now seeking an increase in wages and the fringe benefits as stated above. In the parties' written submissions the Claimants withdrew the issues of working hours, sick leave and safari allowance.

During the hearing the Claimants asked the Court that they were prepared to let the level of fringe benefits on the remaining issues remain where it was at present provided all the additional costs permissible under the guidelines were passed on to the workers' wages. They went as far as to agree that they would not press for any backdating so long as the Court took into account the cost of living index as it would stand at the date of the announcement of the Court award.

The Claimants have argued their case entirely on the basis of increase in the cost of living and the national growth and asked for a wage increase of 45½ per cent. In support of their demands they produced several agreements which they had concluded in their industry.

The Respondents on the other hand strongly pleaded that they were a small family concern engaged in small-scale manufacture and wholesale of medicinal drugs. They paid their employees monthly wages from Sh. 330/50 to Sh. 447 and offered an increase of 10 per cent during the first year to be followed by another 10 per cent on the resultant wage for the second year and a further 12½ per cent increase for the third year. They strongly pleaded with the Court not to place a heavy burden on them by awarding too big an increase which would only force them to contract and reduce their business activity. They also referred to a few agreements which the Claimants had entered into with other employers giving a starting wage in some cases less than what the Respondents were paying.

The Court has very carefully considered the submissions made by the parties and awards that the workers should be given a wage increase of 15 per cent with effect from 1st August, 1974, and the Court further awards that the resultant wage should go up by another 15 per cent after 12 months from 1st August, 1974.

The Court rules that the award should remain in force for a period of two years.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 2915THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No. 33 of 1074

Parties:—

Kenya Motor Engineering & Allied Workers' Union

and

Firestone E.A. (1969) Ltd.

Issue in dispute:—

Clause A (iii) (b) of the proposed agreement on wages.

1. The Kenya Motor Engineering & Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Firestone E.A. (1969) Ltd., shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 26th day of August, 1974, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 7th June, 1974, was received by the Court on 4th July, along with the statutory certificate from the Labour Commissioner.

The parties entered into a recognition agreement in 1969 and followed this up with a collective agreement dated 18th September, 1972. Prior to this the Respondents through the Motor Trade & Allied Industries Employers' Association hereinafter referred to as Association had some dealings with the Claimants but they are not relevant to the present dispute.

The wages section of the 1972 collective agreement is of particular importance because it was provided therein that an employee shall be considered to be on a training status when he is hired into a specific classification until the employee reaches an efficiency level established by International Industrial Engineering Standards as 100 per cent efficient. It was further provided that until an employee reaches a 100 per cent efficiency level he will receive increases from his starting rate to the basic wage rate when he reaches and maintains for one week an efficiency level of 40 per cent, 55 per cent, 70 per cent and 85 per cent in proportion to the basic wage rate of the grade in which he is hired. Then the various grades are laid down with their starting rates and basic wage rates and the monthly straight time earnings are also stated.

It was provided in this agreement that it would remain in force for 24 months from the date it was signed and shall continue to be in force until amended by mutual agreement with the exception of wages which may be negotiated on an annual basis or to cover increases for a period of 24 months at one time.

The Claimants gave Respondents a notice on 13th August, 1973, that they intended to enter into negotiations on wages and demanded that the system of efficiency percentage and hourly rates should be done away with and the wage structure agreed between the Claimants and the Association be adhered to.

As a result of negotiations between the parties a draft memo of an agreement covering wages was prepared and in clause 1 (a) (3) (b) it was provided that a worker shall receive a guaranteed minimum monthly wage on retaining the level of efficiency of 100 per cent provided the employee maintains a satisfactory level of 100 per cent performance. The Claimants are opposed to the inclusion of this clause. They have asked the Court to order its deletion and award the rest of the agreement as drafted.

The Respondents while stressing that the proposed agreement had to stand as a whole or not at all resisted the Claimants' demand and asked the Court to award in terms of the agreement as it stands.

The Court finds that the method of wage payment in the Respondents' undertaking is somewhat novel in Kenya. In fact in certain aspects it is a unique scheme in that the employees are not sure in any one month what wages they will get. In other words their wages every month fluctuate depending on the level of efficiency attained by them during that month.

The Court feels that in view of the present level of development in Kenya the method of wages payment in all undertakings should be simple and straightforward and one that can be easily understood by the workers. This can hardly be said to be the case with the Respondents' method of wage payment.

In fairness to all the parties, whereas the Court is of the view that workers should be entitled under any circumstances to a fixed basic wage rate, it cannot accede to the Claimants' demand that an award should be made on the proposed agreement by deleting the words "satisfactory level of 100 per cent performance is maintained". Since the Claimants have vigorously pressed for the payment of a fixed monthly wage to the employees and wanted to do away with existing method of wages payment it is only fair that further negotiations should take place between the parties in order to establish a straightforward method of wages payment.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that the parties should embark on fresh negotiations in order to establish the basic wage rate for all the unionizable grades in the Respondents' undertaking. Once the basic wage rates are established the Respondents will be at liberty to operate an incentive scheme in order to ensure higher productivity. In other words the guaranteed basic wage rates should be established below which no worker should get in any grade and the Respondents may operate over and above that a payment by results scheme for such departments as they deem necessary.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 42 OF 1974

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers

and

Kenya Bankers (Employers) Association

Issue in Dispute:

Wage increases.

1. The Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Kenya Bankers (Employers) Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 28th day of August, 1974, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 15th July, 1974, was received by the Court on 26th July along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties had registered a dispute with the Court on 2nd August, 1973, but before the hearing could take place they requested the Court to mark the file closed as they had settled it out of Court.

It transpired that the parties signed a collective agreement on 9th October, 1973, wherein the bank employees were given wage increases effective from 1st March, 1973. The duration period of the said agreement is two years commencing on 1st March, 1973, provided that at any time after 30th November, 1974, either party may give to the other three months' notice in writing of its intention to alter any clause in the agreement.

The Employment Promotion Division of the Ministry of Labour have analysed this agreement and have come to the conclusion that the percentage increases were granted as follows:—

(i) Section Heads 11.6 - 7.7 per cent.
(ii) Clerical Staff 11.4 - 6.5 per cent.
(iii) Technical Staff 17.2-11.9 per cent.
(iv) Subordinate Staff 17.9-13.6 per cent.

These increases were estimated to increase labour costs by a total average of 10.8 per cent.

The present dispute stems from the Claimants' demand that the aforesaid collective agreement had failed to take into account the steep escalation in the cost of living index which had taken place after the agreement had been signed. The Claimants have relied on paragraph 3 of a letter written by the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour to the Secretary-General, COTU, on 25th February, 1974, which they interpret to mean that the Government had given a directive to all the employers that they should embark on a salaries/wages review in order to compensate the workers for the decline in their real earnings. The Permanent Secretary's letter was copied to the Permanent Secretary, the Treasury, the Permanent Secretary, Office of the President and the Executive Director, Federation of Kenya Employers.

The Claimants informed the Court that as a result of this directive they had approached many employers in their industry and had secured significant salary increases for the workers within the lifetime of current agreements but had been confronted by an impossible situation with the Respondents who had completely refused to open up negotiations until the time stipulated in their agreement.

The Respondents have stressed that if the Claimants were allowed to start negotiations on any item in a current valid collective agreement then it would set a very dangerous precedent and also cause a chain reaction throughout the country with the result that all the voluntary agreements would be disregarded by the unions. They said they were willing and ready to start negotiations as laid down in their agreement which would be in about three months' time and asked the Court to reject the Claimants' demand for a 24 per cent wage increase.

The Court has very carefully considered all the submissions made by the parties before coming to its conclusion.

The Court finds it very significant that the Minister for Finance issued to the Industrial Court guidelines for the determination of wage awards on 29th August, 1973. It is common knowledge that the announcement of the guidelines caused a heated controversy throughout the trade union circles and caused considerable panic among the workers as it was felt that a severe wage restriction was placed on the workers in the country.

With this background it is not surprising that the Claimants withdrew the case which they had registered in the Industrial Court and signed a collective agreement with the Respondents on 9th October, 1973, and did not take into account the steep escalation in the cost of living index which at that time was about 12.4 per cent. The Court accepts the explanation given by the Claimants as to the reason why they had signed this collective agreement which more or less was in accordance with the Respondents' offer.

On 20th March, 1974, the Minister for Finance and Planning issued clarification and amendments to the Wage Guidelines. Clarification No. 3 was referred to during the hearing of this dispute but the Court must point out that the guidelines are strictly speaking in relation to new agreements and moreover the directive issued by the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Labour copies of which were sent to the Office of the President and the Treasury has a considerable bearing on the collective agreements generally in the country.

The Court has in the past repeatedly stressed the importance of requiring the parties to stick to the provisions of all freely and voluntarily negotiated collective agreements but the Court has also retained the right of reviewing such agreements under very exceptional circumstances during their lifetime. In fact the Court feels that that it is how it should be, as to become too legalistic and to adopt a rigid and inflexible attitude in industrial relations would lead in certain circumstances to very serious confrontation between the workers and the employers.

In view of what has happened and is happening in the country at present the Court is satisfied that if the workers are awarded an increase to offset a significant decline in real earnings of the bank employees then it would not be creating a dangerous precedent which would cause a chain reaction in other industries in the country.

Had the agreement been signed in March, 1973, or thereabouts instead of October, 1973, it is probable that the Respondents like most other employers would have been willing to review the salary clause during the lifetime of the agreement in view of the unprecedented rise in the cost of living. It is because this rise had already become recognizable and both parties knew what was happening to the cost of living and what they could anticipate during the lifetime of the agreement when they signed it in October, 1973, that the Respondents resist a review now.

However, in the dispute before the Court there are these very special circumstances where the union together with the shopstewards panicked after the guidelines to the Industrial Court were announced on 29th August, 1973, and concluded an agreement without taking into account the steep rise in the cost of living and without risking the interpretation of the guidelines by the Industrial Court.

The Court has in the past pointed out that every dispute before it is considered on its own merits and in this case the Court has come to the conclusion after careful consideration of all the submissions that the bank employees are entitled to be compensated for the decline in their real earnings. The conditions which are prevailing in Kenya and in the whole world since last one year or so are indeed abnormal and exceptional. Had it not been so, the Court would not have agreed to giving workers a wage increase during the lifetime of a collective agreement.

The Court awards that all the unionizable employees in the Respondents' undertaking should be awarded a wage increase of 12.5 per cent with effect from 1st March, 1974, and the Court further rules that when the parties embark on their normal negotiations as laid down in the aforesaid collective agreement then this increase which has been awarded to the workers should also be taken into account when new salary scales are being formulated.

Given in Nairobi this 5th day of September, 1974.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 2917

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.

INDEX TO MANUFACTURERS AND PRODUCTSTHIRD EDITION 1972*PUBLISHED BY MINISTRY OF COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

This edition illustrates the pace of progress and industrial advancement which Kenya has made since independence in 1963.

Besides underlining the record of industrial progress in recent years, the Index aims at bringing to the notice of buyers within Africa and overseas the diversity of products available in Kenya and the scope for mutually profitable business opportunities that exist. The Index, therefore, is a standard book of reference on what Kenya can produce and make and should, therefore, be useful to businessmen and students for the valuable information that it contains.
