CAUSE NO. 58 OF 1980—Kumbu Chokwe.

CAUSE NO. 59 OF 1980—Shadrack Sikobe.

CAUSE NO. 60 OF 1980—John Odongo.

CAUSE NO. 61 OF 1980—Elijah Kithuma.

CAUSE NO. 62 OF 1980—Edward Mwanje.

CAUSE NO. 63 OF 1980—Job Mutungi.

CAUSE NO. 64 OF 1980—Henk van der Laan.

Parties:

Kenya Union of Journalists

and

The Standard Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of union members in violation of the parties' collective agreement and forced resignations in respect of each one of the above-named persons

1. The Kenya Union of Journalists shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Standard Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 15th, 16th, 17th and 18th December, 1980, and 20th and 21st January, 16th, 17th and 20th February, 1981, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The Respondents also called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Mr. Henry S. Gathigira,
Mr. G. T. Jason,
Mr. G. Guibert,
Mr. S. M. Azim,
Mr. James K. Mutua.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Forms "A" dated 17th April, 1980, duly signed by the parties were received by the Court on 8th August, 1980, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The Claimants withdrew the dispute on behalf of Mr. Otieno Mak' Onyango (Cause No. 57/1980) because he had rejoined the Standard Group and they accordingly told the Court that they were not pursuing the claim made on his behalf.

Mr. Edward Mwanje (Cause No. 62/80) having died the Claimants informed the Court that they did not wish to pursue this claim either.

Mr. Kumbu Chokwe joined the Respondents on 1st August, 1974, and resigned with immediate effect on 12th October, 1977.

Mr. Shadrack Sikobe joined the Respondents on 1st February, 1968, and resigned on 19th September, 1977.

Mr. John Odongo was employed by the Respondents with effect from 1st October, 1970, and resigned on 19th December, 1977.

Mr. Elijah Kithuma started working for Baraza Ltd. on 1st July, 1960, and was transferred to the Respondents in 1973. He was summarily dismissed with effect from 3rd February, 1977, for—failure to safeguard company property;

failure to observe company's instructions regarding handling of vehicles.

Mr. Job Mutungi joined Baraza Ltd. on 19th May, 1970, and was later transferred to the Respondents. He was summarily dismissed on 13th October, 1977, for alleged misconduct in that he failed to comply with the directives given by authorized persons on behalf of the Respondents and subsequently behaved in a manner likely to cause a breach of peace by successfully jumping over the tradesman's entrance.

Mr. Henk van der Laan started working for the Respondents on 7th June, 1972, when he received a special pass for three months for employment as a journalist with the Respondents. On 26th July, 1972, he informed the Respondents that although he did not qualify for citizenship he expected to be granted a presidential waiver and asked for a loan of Sh. 3,000 to enable him to pay the citizenship fee; on 15th November, 1972, he received a certificate of naturalization. On 11th October, 1977, the Respondents received a letter from the Principal Immigration Officer cancelling his citizenship on the ground that he had not resided in Kenya for a period of twelve months immediately preceding his application for naturalization. On 17th October, 1977, the Respondents terminated his services on the basis of the Principal Immigration Officer's letter.

The Claimants having reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour on behalf of all these journalists an investigator was appointed by the Ministry to look into it. The Permanent Secretary forwarded the Ministry's findings and recommendation in respect of each one of these persons to the parties on 25th January, 1980. The Ministry's findings were in favour of the Claimants and the investigator found that all of them had suffered a wrongful dismissal and the following recommendations were made in respect of each one of them:

"Kumbu Chokwe:

Job Mutungi:

Shadrack Sikobe:

I recommend that the management should pay them each four months' pay by way of compensation for loss of employment and for those who were not paid their terminal benefits they should be paid in accordance with the parties' collective agreement.

John Odongo:

I recommend that Mr. Odongo should be paid seven months' salary by way of compensation for loss of employment. He should also be paid all his terminal benefits as stipulated in the parties' collective agreement.

Elijah Kithuma:

Since the management have admitted that the only reason they dismissed Kithuma was because of losing the camera and having found that this was too harsh I have to recommend that the dismissal be reduced to normal termination and that he should be paid five months' salary by way of compensation for loss of employment this to be in addition to his other terminal benefits in accordance with the parties' collective agreement.

Henk van der Laan:

I recommend that Mr. van der Laan be paid six months' salary by way of compensation for loss of employment this to be in addition to the two months' pay in lieu of notice which the employer has offered to pay."

The Court would like to deal with the Claimants' principal submission in this dispute before going into each individual case. This is that all these journalists with the exception of Mr. Odongo were got rid of by the Respondents for political reasons in that the Respondents suspected that they were opposed to the Change the Constitution Group whom the Respondents had decided to support through their newspaper.

The Claimants pursued this particular submission with considerable vigour and energy and spent a lot of time in trying to build a case on circumstantial evidence. They tried to piece together certain events which according to them were very significant in convincing the Court that their members have been subject of a conspiracy on the part of the top management to get rid of those journalists who did not belong to GEMA tribe. First and foremost they highlighted that most of them had to be sacked before the end of October 1977. They pointed out that with the exception of two—E. Kithuma and E. Mwanje (who were sacked in February and May 1977)—all the remaining had been got rid of towards the middle of October 1977. This fact is not disputable but on repeated inquiries from the Court as to what was the possible motive that prompted the Respondents to get rid of these journalists before October 1977 the Claimants did not come out with any plausible reason. Surely some of these journalists would have come to know of the reason, if indeed there was any, as to why they were being sacked before October 1977.

Three of the journalists concerned resigned and each one gave a different reason for doing so. One lost his job due to withdrawal of citizenship and the other two were summarily dismissed for two completely different and unrelated incidents.

It is a matter of history that certain politicians in Kenya embarked on a campaign to change the Kenya Constitution and that the Respondents did highlight activities of this group but in the absence of any clear cut evidence from any of these persons concerned whereby they had either written an article or published a photograph which was against the Change the Constitution Group or the refusal on the part of any one of them to write or publish an article in support of this group it is asking the Court a bit too much to make a finding favouring the Claimants that these people were the victims of a sinister plot hatched by the Respondents' top management at the time.

The Claimants embarked on this rather difficult task by not calling any of these journalists to be examined on oath or to be cross-examined and expected to prove their case through cross-examination of the Respondents' witnesses! In the event the Court is left with the testimony on oath of the Respondents' witnesses only and even despite vigorous cross-examination and a few discrepancies here and there the fact remains that the Claimants failed by a wide margin in eliciting any answers from these witnesses which might tend the Court to believe and make a finding that the Claimants had, on a balance of probability, proved that their members were dismissed or were forced to resign because of their opposition to Change the Constitution Group. Indeed the Claimants must have been extremely naive to expect that the Respondents' witnesses like the editor-in-chief at the time, Mr. Henry Gathigira, the personnel manager, Mr. Jason and the general manager, Mr. Guibert and the Principal Immigration Officer, Mr. Mutua, would fall prey to the questions which were put to them during cross-examination.

The Claimants asked the Court to draw an adverse inference from the manner in which, according to them, Mr. Mutua grinned in answer to a question from them. The Court observed no such grin, and even if Mr. Mutua did grin it would be taking matters to extreme absurdity to draw any such conclusion as the Claimants want the Court to draw.

The Court in rejecting this main submission of the Claimants in this dispute must say that this smacks of an attempt by them to jump on the bandwagon of the severe criticism that has been unleashed against the Change the Constitution Group in order to elicit the sympathy of the Court. The Claimants went as far as to quote from the book, the Kenyatta Succession, to support their case but the reference to this book has not in any way proved their claim that their members involved in this dispute were victimized because of their activities against the Change the Constitution Group.

After careful consideration of all the aspects on this particular submission the Court has decided to reject it and the Court would now proceed to deal with each case individually.

Cause No. 58 of 1980—Kumbu Chokwe

In this case the Court has before it Mr. Chokwe's own letter of resignation dated 12th October, 1977. He wrote that he had suffered unnecessary disciplinary measures at the hands of the management owing to uncontrolled and unprovoked feud in Mombasa office. He added that all the circumstances surrounding him were well within the knowledge of the management and he had therefore considered it necessary to tender notice of resignation from his position as senior reporter with immediate effect. He added that the purpose of resignation was for self-betterment elsewhere and in the end added that apart from accumulated leave he had also 38 days in off duties and this should serve adequate notice of resignation.

The Court has also before it a document dated 14th October, 1977, under which Mr. Chokwe was paid a net balance of Sh. 17,185/90 in addition to which he was also due his benefits under the NSSF Act and the provident fund which of course is a matter between him and the Fund and the trustees. What is important, however, is that Mr. Chokwe has signed this document on the same date confirming the following:

"I, Kumbu Chokwe, do hereby acknowledge receipt of all sums due to me Sh. 17,185/90 from the Standard Ltd. in full and final settlement and discharge of all sums due to me and acknowledge that I have no further claims against the company."

In the face of the above two points the Claimants have argued that the real reason for the memos and the warnings which had been served on Mr. Chokwe was clearly the suspicion which the management had of him that he was spying for another political group therefore the allegations of lateness and absenteeism that had been used were only a cover up. They have also added that the Respondents had questioned Mr. Chokwe's loyalty and had forced him to resign as he stood in the way of gearing the paper to the political ambitions of those controlling it. The Court has also considered the Claimants' submission that Mr. Riitho had been sent to Mombasa for some ulterior reasons.

As against this the Court has the Respondents' submission that at the time Mr. Chokwe decided to resign he was receiving "zero take home pay" because of the various attachments that had been levied against his salary. They strongly submitted that this was the real reason that largely caused Mr. Chokwe to resign, that is, his pecuniary embarrassment. The Respondents also gave details of Mr. Chokwe's lateness and unauthorized absences since April 1977. They argued that his absences were connected with his desperate attempts to ward off creditors.

The Court has very carefully considered the submissions made by the Claimants that Mr. Chokwe was forced to resign by the Respondents but the Court has no such evidence before it. Mr. Chokwe is an educated person who should know what he is doing. It was quite easy for him not to resign and seek the assistance of the Claimants and further to refuse to sign a certificate that he has no further claims against the Respondents. In addition to this the Court is satisfied that he was not victimized for any political reasons.

Under these circumstances the Court has no hesitation whatsoever in rejecting the Claimants' demand made on his behalf and the Court therefore makes a nil award in this dispute.

Cause No. 59 of 1980—Shadrack Sikobe

Mr. Sikobe in January 1973 was promoted to the post of deputy chief reporter and in April 1975 he was transferred to features section which the Respondents claimed was with a view to diversifying his knowledge and at the end of 1976 he was promoted to the post of business editor.

The Claimants have alleged that the post of a deputy chief reporter is a powerful position in terms of reporting and selecting the news that go into the paper. The Claimants had submitted that the Respondents had embarked on a purge of all those journalists whom they suspected of being against the Change the Constitution Group and the posts that were affected were the news editor, his deputy and team of reporters, the Coast desk and sub editors desk. The Claimants maintained that by transferring Mr. Sikobe to the features section they had removed him from his powerful position and the Respondents had falsely called these promotions. They added that Mr. Sikobe was not given any raise in the salary and argued that he was frustrated and goaded into eventual resignation.

The Court has before it Mr. Sikobe's letter of resignation and in that letter in the very first paragraph he has written:

"I have been around with the E.A. Standard Newspapers for 10 years and I feel that this is long enough to call it a day and retire to the countryside or as it is popularly known kurudi mashambani."

Here again the Court fails to see how the Claimants can possibly come up with a submission that Mr. Sikobe was forced to resign. He was a senior journalist and one who is not likely to be easily intimidated or talked into resigning even if that persuasion takes place over a sumptuous lunch and drinks.

The Respondents pointed out that Mr. Gathigira, the editor in chief, had verbally informed Mr. Sikobe that it was regrettable that he should have opted to return to the land at a time when the newspaper which Mr. Sikobe had served so loyally was picking up in popularity and circulation.

The Court notes that Mr. Sikobe at the time of his resignation was 50 years old.

In addition to tendering his own letter of resignation Mr. Sikobe received a net balance of Sh. 12,748 and was also due his benefits under the NSSF Act and the provident fund. He also signed as follows on 6th October, 1977:

"I, Shadrack Sikobe, do hereby acknowledge receipt of Sh. 12,748 in full and final settlement and discharge of all sums due to me and acknowledge that I have no further claims against the Standard Ltd."

In arriving at its conclusion the Court has taken into consideration the Claimants' various submissions including the one where they allege that his sole job was of a standby reporter covering only the business activities of the Respondents chairman and members of his family especially those covering Chibuku and Horticultural Project.

Here again the Court is satisfied that Mr. Sikobe resigned voluntarily and collected his dues and stated quite clearly that he had no further claim against the Respondents. The Court accordingly rejects this claim and makes a nil award.

Cause No. 60 of 1980—John Odongo

In the case of Mr. Odongo the Claimants put forward a submission that he was victimized for his trade union activities as he was the father of the chapel at the time. They maintained earlier in the proceedings that he had been banished to Kisumu so that he would not be able to approach management on behalf of the various journalists when they needed trade union assistance.

The Claimants' submission, however, completely fails in the light of a letter which Mr. Odongo wrote to the Respondents' editor-in-chief on 24th May, 1977, in which he stated as follows:

"Having lost a brother two months ago and left with responsibility of his family, I'll be pleased if you can consider posting me to Kisumu office so that I can be near the family of late. More so I'll devote much of my time on official duties. If considered I would like to be there early next month."

I request also to consider a little adjustment to my present salary scale considering the area. I hope and trust that you will consider my request quite favourably."

Mr. Odongo too resigned and in his letter of resignation on 19th October, 1977, he gave the Respondents two months' notice of resignation and stated therein "of late it has been very difficult for me to continue serving under you for the reasons well known to yourself and the personnel manager. Also you have mistrusted me of late for everything I do."

The Court finds no evidence whatsoever of any pressure having been brought on Mr. Odongo to resign and the Court is satisfied that he did so voluntarily for his own personal reasons. He was paid a net amount of Sh. 6,420 and was also due benefits under the NSSF Act and the provident fund. Mr. Odongo signed the following discharge certificate:

"I, John Odongo, do hereby acknowledge receipt of all sums due to me Sh. 6,420 from the Standard Ltd. in full and final settlement and discharge of all sums due to me and acknowledge that I have no further claims against the company."

A lot of time and energy was wasted during the hearing which in the Court's view was really unnecessary in this particular dispute in debating Mr. Odongo's employment record as a photographer. The Court must say that the overall impression it got was that Mr. Odongo was a reasonable photographer and there was room for him to improve his work for which the Respondents carried him along. In any case as the Court has said earlier, Mr. Odongo's work performance and the allegation against him of not looking after the Respondents' photographic equipment entrusted to his care properly are of little consequence in this dispute. He certainly was not victimized for any political reasons nor is there any evidence of victimization for his trade union activities.

The Court must refer to a letter which Messrs. Khaminwa & Khaminwa advocates wrote on behalf of Mr. Odongo to the Respondents on 23rd February, 1979. This letter has also been counter-signed by Mr. Odongo and in it it is stated that Mr. Odongo had resigned on account of ill health as he had been involved in a road accident on 30th May, 1976, as a result of which he received injuries which had made it difficult for him to continue discharging his functions as a senior photographer.

The above letter reinforces the Court's view that Mr. Odongo is just changing his stand as and when it suits him.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court rejects the Claimants' demand made on his behalf and makes a nil award.

Cause No. 61 of 1980—Elijah Kithuma

Mr. Kithuma served the Respondents for nearly 17 years and in 1976 he was head of the Mombasa branch at a salary of Sh. 4,000 per month.

On 21st October, 1975, Mr. Kithuma lost a camera, the property of the Respondents, worth Sh. 2,337 while travelling to Mombasa. The Respondents alleged that despite repeated reminders he did not co-operate with them in order to enable them to forward a claim to the insurers for compensation. He was summarily dismissed on 26th January, 1977, mainly for having lost this camera.

The Claimants have of course in his case also put forward the reason for his dismissal to be political but the Court has already rejected that this was so. The real reason was loss of this camera and his failure to co-operate with the Respondents by giving the necessary details for pursuing the claim with the insurance company.

The fact, however, remains that Mr. Kithuma was dismissed some 16 months after the incident of the camera.

In this case in the absence of any warning letters and the circumstances surrounding Mr. Kithuma's dismissal especially the 16 months delay and considering that he had served the Respondents for 17 years the Court is not at all happy at his dismissal. At the most what he deserved was a severe warning because on 21st December, 1976, he had been clearly told by the Respondents that he would be surcharged with the market value of replacing the lost camera. The Court finds that there is no merit in the Respondents' other allegation that he had failed to observe company's instructions regarding handling of vehicles.

The Respondents' representative no doubt realizing the clear weakness in their case during the opening submission did concede that they had not acted properly but later on changed his stand apparently in view of the Claimants' demand that Mr. Kithuma be reinstated and be paid full compensation for the three years that he had been out of employment at the rate of Sh. 4,000 per month.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court finds that Mr. Kituma has suffered a wrongful dismissal and the Court awards that he should be paid eight months' salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered. This compensation includes any salary in respect of notice period.

The Court notes that Mr. Kithuma has already been paid Sh. 51,882/50 being his other dues less whatever he owed the Respondents. The compensation awarded by the Court is to be in addition to this amount.

Cause No. 63 of 1980—John Mutungi

Mr. Mutungi started working for Respondents first in Baraza Ltd. on 19th May, 1970. His services were terminated on 13th October, 1977, after an incident which the Respondents termed was a gross misconduct on his part.

The Court has before it only the documentary evidence consisting of statements made by the security guards and the correspondence that was exchanged between the Respondents and Mr. Mutungi because neither Mr. Mutungi nor any of the persons who were involved in the incident which occurred on 7th October, 1977, were called to give evidence by either party. Mr. Jason did give evidence but he was not there at the time although he demonstrated how it is alleged Mr. Mutungi climbed over the gate and the barbed wires on top of the gate in defiance of the company's instructions. The Court will comment on this aspect in due course.

The Court notes that the Respondents had issued a circular that access to their offices had to be made through the main gate and on 2nd October, 1977, it is alleged that Mr. Mutungi arrived at the premises at 1.30 p.m. and ordered the askaris to open the tradesman's gate which was locked. It is alleged that the askaris requested him to use the front gate as per the instructions but he declined to do so and forced his way in by climbing the fence and calling the askaris bastards and then dashed inside. The statements made by the three askaris contain the following words on the incidents. One states that "Mr. Mutungi climbed over the gate remarked that he does not care and called us bastards". The next one states that "Mr. Mutungi insulted us as brand bastards and jumped over the gate"; and the third one states that "Mr. Mutungi climbed over the gate". In addition to these obvious contradictions the letter from Mr. Jason dated 11th October stated that Mr. Mutungi successfully jumped over the fence and finally the letter of dismissal dated 13th October written by Mr. Thuku stated that "Mr. Mutungi had successively jumped over the tradesman's entrance".

The Respondents argued that all these different statements were a matter of semantics but the Court is not so sure. The askaris surely are capable of knowing the difference between climbing over and jumping over. There is no reason why they should all describe what Mr. Mutungi did so differently unless of course the incident of climbing over the gate never happened. The Claimants referred the Court to a letter of 14th October, 1977, which Mr. Mutungi had written to the Respondents giving the following explanation:

"On the material day I was reporting on duty as usual at around 2 p.m. On approaching the gate before me were two gentlemen an Asian and a European who I later learnt were sending reports to the Sports Desk. The gate-man opened and all the three of us went in. I was shocked and surprised out of my wits when the gateman asked me who I was, what I wanted and where I was going.

I told him I work upstairs as a sub editor. He then pushed me outside through the edge of the gate and said I had to go around through the other gate at the parking yard. Naturally I was overcome with anger, frustration and humiliation, since he had opened for the two men who were mere visitors. There were no exchanges or ill feeling between me and the gateman."

Taken all this documentary evidence as a whole and having seen Mr. Jason's demonstration when he climbed over the tradesman's gate and the barbed wiring the Court is inclined to believe that Mr. Mutungi did not either climb or jump over the gate or the fence. Mr. Jason no doubt did climb over the gate but the Court observed that it was just touch and go and it was with great effort and concentration that Mr. Jason managed to do so. A person with three askaris confronting him would not be able to do so.

The Court rejects the Respondents' explanation on the discrepancies of the askaris' statements and finds that the askaris were not telling the truth. The Court believes that Mr. Mutungi followed two other persons, an Asian and a European, who went in through the gate and the askaris confronted him only.

The Court further finds that the Respondents erred in not suspending Mr. Mutungi in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement in force between the parties in order to enable an investigation to establish if Mr. Mutungi had committed a gross misconduct or not.

After careful consideration of all the submissions in this dispute the Court finds that Mr. Mutungi has indeed been subjected to a grave injustice. He was at the time a sub editor and deserved at least a full investigation before being summarily dismissed with effect from 30th October, 1977.

The Court finds that Mr. Mutungi has suffered a wrongful dismissal.

Mr. Mutungi had on 4th November signed a statement that he received Sh. 3,708/60, and that it was in full and final settlement and discharge of all sums due to him and acknowledged that has had no further claim against the company.

The Court has already made it clear that when persons sign such statements then they should not expect any sympathy from the Court but in this particular case because of the gross injustice that Mr. Mutungi has suffered at the hands of the Respondents the Court has decided to award him compensation notwithstanding that he signed the said statement. After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that Mr. Mutungi should be paid eight months' salary by the Respondents by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered. This compensation includes pay in lieu of notice and is to be in addition to Sh. 3,708/60 that he received from the Respondents.

Cause No. 64 of 1980—Henk Van Der Laan

Mr. Van Der Laan started working for the Respondents on 6th June, 1972, when the Respondents applied for a special pass from the Immigration Department in respect of his employment. On 7th June he received a special pass for three months for employment with the Respondents as a journalist.

As a result of steps taken by Mr. Van Der Laan he became a Kenya citizen although he did not qualify for citizenship under the Kenya Constitution. In a letter written by him to the Respondents asking for a loan of Sh. 3,000 to enable him to pay the fee in respect of citizenship he informed them that the President on the recommendation of the Vice-President had decided to waive the residence qualification.

It is not disputed that Mr. Van Der Laan received his certificate of naturalization on 15th November, 1972.

On 11th October, 1977, the Principal Immigration Officer wrote a letter to Mr. and Mrs. Van Der Laan with copies to Udi Gechaga, chairman and managing director of Lonrho Group of Companies and the Dutch Ambassador that he was not considered to be a citizen of Kenya from the date of that letter. This letter reads as follows:

"You were naturalized as a citizen of Kenya on 15th November, 1972, and issued with a Certificate of Citizenship No. 479 and thereafter issued with a Kenya Passport.

Upon careful perusal of my records it is observed without any shadow of doubt that you first came to Kenya in 1954 and worked as a Catholic Missionary with the Diocese of Kisumu until 26th June, 1969, when you left Kenya for Holland. You had not returned to Kenya until 7th March, 1972.

In terms of section 93 (c) of the Kenya Constitution you are required to have had resided in Kenya for a period of 12 months immediately preceding your application for naturalization as a citizen of Kenya even though you had qualified as a resident prior to your departure to Holland.

Under these circumstances therefore I regret to have to inform you that as from the date of this letter you are not considered to be a citizen of Kenya and as such the Certificate No. 479 issue to you on 15th November, 1972, is null and void and so is that of your wife No. 480 respectively.

You are required as a matter of urgency to surrender to the undersigned the original certificate of naturalization and the Kenya Passports within 7 days from the date of this letter.

Should you and your wife wish to reside or work in Kenya after the said 7 days you will be required to legalize your immigration status by either obtaining an entry permit or any other appropriate pass as the case may be otherwise you will be regarded as being unlawfully present in the country. By copy of this letter I am informing your employers to make sure that you have the appropriate permit to undertake your employment."

Mr. J. K. Mutua who is now the Principal Immigration Officer had written and signed the above letter for the P.I.O. and he confirmed in Court while giving evidence on oath that it was a genuine letter and that it was not fake.

On 17th October, 1977, the Respondents terminated Mr. Van Der Laan's services on the basis of the above letter and undertook to pay all his terminal benefits less tax.

The Claimants' main submission in this dispute is that Udi Gechaga was instrumental in getting the above letter cancelling Mr. Van Der Laan's citizenship from the Principal Immigration Officer because he, Mr. Gecaga, wanted himself to man the sub editor's desk and thought that Mr. Van Der Laan would be an obstruction and therefore he had to go. They claimed Mr. Van Der Laan also suffered because of the activities of the Change the Constitution Group.

The Claimants made a point that Mr. Van Der Laan was asked to accept a transfer from the sub editor's desk to proof reading which they suspected was a move to get him away from there. The Respondents, however, countered this allegation by saying that it was a normal transfer and they wanted a high calibre person to be in charge of proof reading and that there was nothing sinister about this. The fact, however, remains that on Mr. Van Der Laan's refusal to accept this transfer the Respondents were content to let things remain as they were. Mr. Van Der Laan was not penalized in any way for his refusal to accept this transfer.

There is no evidence before the Court of any act on the part of Mr. Van Der Laan which could have earned him the displeasure of this group.

The Court appreciates the desperate attempts made by the Claimants to prove their case through the documentary evidence and the cross-examination of the Respondents' witnesses but unfortunately for them it only remains an attempt and they have failed even on a balance of probability to satisfy the Court on their allegations.

The Claimants have put forward a proposition that Mr. Van Der Laan's withdrawal of citizenship was not valid because certain procedures as prescribed in the Kenya Constitution had not been carried out and therefore the letter from the Principal Immigration Officer should have been disregarded by the Respondents. In the alternative the Claimants have submitted that the Respondents in the face of this letter from the Principal Immigration Officer should have taken urgent steps to get a work permit for Mr. Van Der Laan or to regularize his status in order to enable him to continue in their employment. Because the Respondents have failed to do so the Claimants want the Court to find that the Respondents should be found to have dismissed Mr. Van Der Laan wrongfully. The Claimants' other points on how and when and the circumstances under which Mr. Guibert talked to Mr. Van Der Laan on this sensitive subject are neither here nor there. This does not alter the fact that the Respondents had an official letter telling them that Mr. Van Der Laan's citizenship had been withdrawn and his continued employment without a work permit would mean that the Respondents were committing an offence.

Mr. Mutua who is the Principal Immigration Officer now and was the deputy at the material time while giving evidence stated that he did not conspire with any person or group when dealing with Mr. Van Der Laan's case and that he did his job in accordance with the law. He said that he would have prosecuted the Respondents and Mr. Van Der Laan if he had continued working without work permit. He further clarified that the Respondents did not apply for a work permit for him and therefore he could not work but he granted permission to Mr. Van Der Laan to live in the country. Mr. Van Der Laan had seen him and he had allowed him to stay and Mr. Mutua further stated that he advised him to reapply for citizenship when he qualifies for it.

In the light of Mr. Mutua's evidence and the letter which he wrote to Mr. and Mrs. Van Der Laan as stated hereinabove the Respondents were left with very little choice in that either they had to terminate his services or they could have taken steps to apply for a work permit for him. The matter rested entirely with the Respondents and if they decided to terminate Mr. Van Der Laan's services and not apply for a work permit for him the Court feels that the Respondents cannot be blamed for having taken that decision. It was entirely up to the Respondents to make a decision. No employer can be forced by a prospective employee or an existing employee to apply for a work permit for him to work and stay in the country.

As to the other legal proposition that Mr. Mutua's letter was not consistent with the Kenya Constitution and therefore should be considered to be invalid the Court agrees with what Mr. Mutua stated that if Mr. Van Der Laan was not happy with the decision of the Principal Immigration Officer revoking his citizenship then he should have taken the matter to the High Court. Mr. Mutua added that his action was not challenged in the High Court by Mr. Van Der Laan. Mr. Mutua however maintained that he was competent to have acted in the manner that he did under section 93 of the Kenya Constitution.

The Court finds that apart from a letter which Mr. Van Der Laan's advocate wrote to the Principal Immigration Officer, Mr. Van Der Laan did not take any further steps to challenge the revocation of his citizenship. The Court finds that the proper thing for Mr. Van Der Laan to do was, if he felt aggrieved, to get a decision from the High Court on the question of his citizenship. The matter as it stood left the employer, i.e. the Respondents with no alternative but to terminate his services if they were not to face prosecution.

The Court has carefully considered Mr. Van Der Laan's case and finds that it cannot help him and that if he feels aggrieved he should resort to his legal remedy in the High Court on the question of his citizenship.

Under these circumstances the Court has no option but to reject the Claimants' demand in respect of Mr. Van Der Laan and the Court awards, in view of the Respondents' offer that they are prepared to grant him two months' pay in lieu of notice, that they should do so. This two months' pay would be in addition to the net amount of Sh. 8,004.85 which the Respondents have offered to pay him or have paid him.
