3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 15th December, 1977 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 20th March, 1978 along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner

This dispute concerns a former employee of the Respondents who had worked for them as a clerk from 11th July, 1972 until 28th October, 1975 on which date he did not report for duty and remained absent until 28th November, 1975. When he reported for duty he was told by the Respondents that his name had been struck off their records.

On 4th November, 1975 the Respondents had written a registered letter to Mussamba advising him that if they did not hear from him within seven days from the date of the letter they would assume that he had abandoned his duties.

During the hearing it came to light that Mussamba and another bank employee by the name of P M Waita, were picked up by the police on 26th October, 1975 for the alleged offence of impersonating police officers near the Tusker bus stand. They were taken to Central Police Station and on the third day they were taken to the Industrial Area Police Station.

At the Industrial Area Police Station they were seen by Surjit Singh Thathi who was Mussamba's immediate boss at the Respondents' Government Road Branch. There are two different versions of the circumstances under which Surjit Singh saw Mussamba and Waita at the Industrial Area Police Station. Mussamba told the Court that Surjit Singh had talked to him and he had explained to him what had happened with the Claimants claiming on his behalf that Surjit Singh had been sent to the Police Station specially to see Mussamba and Waita and to find out what had happened. Surjit Singh on the other hand said that on the day in question he had gone to the Industrial Area Police Station on some personal business and when the lady inspector came to know that he was from the Respondents' Government Road Branch she told him that two employees from the same Branch were in police custody. He thereupon got curious and spoke to them. He asked them the reason for their arrest and Mussamba told him, "It's a small matter, it will finish." Surjit Singh added that they did not ask him to tell the accountant that they were in police detention.

In one of his letters to the Bank Mussamba had written, and in fact stated so while giving evidence during the hearing, that the police had refused him permission to communicate with his employer i.e. the Respondents both at the Police Station and at the remand home.

The Respondents called two witnesses one from the Industrial Area Police Station i.e. Inspector Mary Mwangangi who was on duty in October 1975 at the same Police Station and Senior Superintendent of Prisons J P N Ndinguri who is in charge of Nairobi Remand and Allocation Prison and was in that position in October/November 1975 also. Both these witnesses quite clearly stated that persons in police custody were not prevented from communicating with their employers or relatives or other persons either through telephone or letters.

In view of this very clear evidence on this particular point the Court finds that Mussamba is not telling the truth when he says that the police did not let him communicate with the Respondents.

The only worthwhile point which the Claimants have put forward on behalf of Mussamba is that because his immediate superior Surjit Singh had seen him at the Industrial Area Police Station this was sufficient notice to the Respondents that he was in police custody.

All the Bank employees are aware that the person dealing with staff matters in all the Respondents branches is the Accountant of that branch. The Respondents called E K Mathiu who is the Accountant at the Respondents' Government Road branch and he stated that he learned through the daily summary re staff position on 30th October that Mussamba was absent from that date. He added that he was not advised by anybody that Mussamba had been detained. This witness further stated that in accordance with the standing procedure at the Bank when an employee is absent for more than seven days he wrote a letter to Mussamba requiring him to explain the reasons for his absence to which there was no reply. Subsequently when Mussamba reported for duty on 28th November he told him that his name had been struck off their records.

It is not disputed that Mussamba was in police custody until 27th November when he was acquitted in the criminal case.

The important point in dispute is to determine whether or not Surjit Singh's knowledge under the circumstances that Mussamba was in police custody on 30th October was a sufficient notice to the Respondents by Mussamba of the reason of his absence from the Bank.

The Court believes Surjit Singh when he says that he went to the Industrial Area Police Station on his personal business and was not sent by the Respondents for the special purpose of speaking to Mussamba and Waita. He informed the Court that Mussamba had told him quite clearly that he will 'be back tomorrow' and since absences in the Bank are quite common he did not report this matter to anyone in authority. He said he might have informed Mr Onyango about this matter. Onyango is a shop steward.

The Court cannot accept that under the circumstances of this dispute as set out hereinabove Mussamba had discharged the responsibility which lies on every employee in every undertaking of informing their employers the reason for their absence from duty.

The Court is satisfied that Mussamba and Waita, whose case incidentally the Claimants have not taken up but who was treated in the same way by the Respondents as Mussamba deliberately chose not to inform the Respondents of their whereabouts from 28th October onwards. The Court understands the reason why Surjit Singh did not inform the Accountant about having seen Mussamba at the Industrial Area Police Station which according to him was that he did not want to prejudice the employment of Mussamba.

The Court would like to add that it is very much in the interest of every employee that he or she must take appropriate steps to safeguard their employment when for some reason or the other they are not able to report on duty. It would indeed be very unwise on their part to assume that someone else who quite accidentally comes to know about their whereabouts will do this for them.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court finds that the Respondents had no option under the circumstances but to terminate Mussamba's services and the Court accordingly upholds their action. The Claimants' demand is accordingly rejected.

AWARD

3 The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th January, 1978, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 25th April along with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner

The two persons involved in this dispute, namely N Kimenya and W W Gichanga, were employed by the Respondents as a delivery man and a storeman/counter salesman respectively

Their services were terminated on 1st November, 1976, for the same incident At that time Kimenya had served the Respondents for nearly 18 years and Gichanga had about five years' service Both of them at the time were stationed at the Respondents' godown in Factory Street, Nairobi

Gichanga's job was to issue goods against orders passed to him by the stores supervisor from the shelves on which all the goods had been arranged and he was further required to file store copies of the orders used in issuing goods Next to this room with shelves is another room which is the bulk store

The standing working arrangement at the godown is that all the products to begin with are placed in the bulk store and in due course depending on the requirements in the shelves room they are removed from there and placed on the shelves at the specific request in writing of the clerks in the shelves room The goods with shorter expiry date are disposed of first with the longer expiry date goods remaining in bulk store Gichanga's duties were to supply goods from the shelves in accordance with the orders received

Kimenya as the delivery man had the duty of collecting all the goods which had been packed and banded and to ensure that they were delivered to either Finlay House or Travin House or vice versa or to any customer as may be directed

The Respondents have a system of physical stock checking every three months each year in March, June, September and December for certain products At the end of September, 1976, during a normal stock checking a difference between the physical stock and card records of Togamycin injections and Panmycin capsules came to light

The Respondents then further investigated this matter and it was discovered that the bin card entries against order No 1550 made by Gichanga on 26th July, 1976, showed issues of 160 x 2 gm Togamycin injections and 12 x 1000 Panmycin capsules which were never received or recorded at either Finlay House or Travin House as required Further investigation disclosed that there was a shortage of 8 x 100 Procaine Penicillin also issued on the same order No 1550 on 26th July, 1976 Briefly, the details of the drugs lost were as follows —

- (a) 160 x 2 gm Togamycin injections (14.15 kg)
- (b) 12 x 1000 Panmycin capsules (7.15 kg)
- (c) 8 x 100 Procaine Penicillin (33.60 kg)

The total value of these drugs, at the wholesale price was Sh 9,797/60 and they weighed a total of 55.27 kg (about 121.5 lb)

The Court notes that all these products were Part 1 Poisons under the Pharmacy and Poisons Act (Cap 244) The matter was reported to the police and the drug inspectorate of the Ministry of Health and although Messrs Gichanga and Kimenya were called and interviewed by the police no criminal action was instituted against them

On 27th October, 1976, both of them were asked for written explanations which the Respondents found to be completely unsatisfactory and they were consequently dismissed summarily on 1st November, 1976

The Claimants' main point in this dispute is that their members had been sacked by the Respondents on mere suspicion and that Gichanga had received an order No 1550 in the usual course of his duties through the stores supervisor and he had in the normal course of his duties issued these drugs which had been subsequently checked and packed They also maintained that he had filed the order as usual

On behalf of Kimenya they added that he being a delivery man had proceeded to take the parcels to the Respondents' offices at Finlay House as was his routine They failed to see how these two persons could be held responsible for the loss of these products

The Respondents on the other hand maintained that Gichanga had issued these goods valued at Sh 9,797 and that he had entered the order number and the date when they were removed on the bin card showing the quantities issued as stated above The fact that Gichanga was not able to produce order No 1550 and which was not found despite a search there was no doubt that Gichanga was responsible for the loss of these goods which in any case had not reached Travin House

As far as Kimenya was concerned the Respondents alleged that since he was on duty on the day in question and was responsible for the delivery of goods leaving the godown for their wholesale department in town it was his responsibility to see that such goods were delivered Since the goods were not received they held Kimenya also responsible for their loss

The Court had the benefit of the relevant documentary evidence in addition to the parties' written submissions and the evidence given by their witnesses

It is not disputed that order No 1550 had been removed from the order book well before it was reached in the normal course of business In fact its loss was not discovered until investigations were carried out in this matter This order book was at the Respondents' town offices

It is also amply clear that between 1st July and 26th July as far as Togamycin injections entries appear on the bin card they are all made by Gichanga with the exception of one entry dated 12th July which is initialled by his colleague Ngungi This entry shows that 480 Togamycin injections were received from the bulk store and placed on the shelves Yet there is another entry made by Gichanga dated 15th July which shows that he received at his request another 160 Togamycin injections from the bulk store thereby increasing the stock on the shelves to 640 Out of these he issued 30 injections on 15th July and another 160 on 26th July and he, Gichanga, initialled for these removals

The Court fails to understand why Gichanga had to get 160 Togamycin injections from the bulk store when 480 were already on the shelves and from which he could have supplied the order for 30 on 15th July The Court has carefully considered Gichanga's explanation that he had been asked to place the 480 Togamycin injections on the shelves instead of the bulk store because they were loose and that he brought the fresh lot of 160 from the bulk store because they were of shorter duration than the 480 on the shelves The Respondents' witnesses denied this suggestion and the Court rejects Gichanga's explanation on this point

One fact is quite clearly established and that is that order No 1550 was dealt with by Gichanga and he admits it The Court has to decide if this order passed through the hands of the stores supervisor as was the procedure and further since this was a special order concerning Part 1 Poisons if it was checked by the stores supervisor and another clerk Kilwenge in accordance with the standing instructions before the goods were packed and banded

J M Njoroge, the stores supervisor, while giving evidence denied having seen order No 1550 and he further denied having checked the missing products before they were packed The Court believes his evidence as he had been working for the Respondents since January, 1970, and during all his time there, this was the first time that any goods had been lost from the godown where Gichanga had been transferred with effect from 1st September, 1975

The Court saw order No 146 which shows that 17 different items were supplied from the bulk store to the shelves on 12th July and amongst these items appears an entry relating to 480 Togamycin injections. This clearly shows that Gichanga's explanation that these 480 injections were kept on the shelves because they were loose was totally false.

Njoroge told the Court that prior to 21st April, 1976, Kilwenge used to check the "special" goods before they were packed and banded but after that date he decided that he should also check it along with him. He told the Court that neither he nor Kilwenge had checked the "special" goods which were removed from the shelves as per order No 1550.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court is satisfied that Gichanga was guilty of gross misconduct in the performance of his duties and that he was responsible for the loss of Respondents' goods consisting of Part 1 Poisons valued at Sh 9,797 because he handled order No 1550 and issued the goods. This order is also missing which he should have filed. Further he had not notified the stores supervisor Kilwenge to check these "special" goods before they were packed and banded. The Court has no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that he deserved summary dismissal.

As far as Kimenya is concerned he stated in his written explanation to the loss of these goods in the following words —

"With reference to the letter dated 27th October, 1976, about goods from the Factory Street Godown to wholesale at Travin House, as I do always, I took them straight away to Travin House."

I presented them to the receiving clerk with the delivery note and received them. If goods were not in good order, the clerk (receiver) should have contacted godown supervisor."

The Court has very carefully considered if Kimenya could be held responsible for the loss of these goods along with Gichanga but cannot find any evidence which would implicate him in this business. The Court cannot rule out the possibility that if at all he was used by Gichanga for removing these goods from the godown through his routine duties Kimenya was used innocently in this transaction. The Court is satisfied that Kimenya was not aware that anything irregular was taking place. This man has served the Respondents for 18 years and this is the first time that such an allegation has been made against him and the Court has come to the conclusion that he should be cleared of it.

The goods in question were removed from the godown through the normal manner but on a balance of probabilities the Court has come to the conclusion that Kimenya did not have a hand in their unauthorized removal and their loss.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court finds that he has suffered a wrongful dismissal.

The Court awards that Kimenya should be reinstated in his former employment with effect from 1st August, 1978, without any loss of service and the Court further awards that the Respondents should pay him 12 months' salary by way of compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM No 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make, if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.
