THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 43 OF 1986

Parties:

Transport and Allied Workers' Union
and

Nairobi Petrol Stations Association

Issue in dispute:

Wages Increase.

THE Transport and Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Nairobi Petrol Stations Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 30th September, 1986, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 6th February, 1986 duly signed by the parties, was received by the court on 29th April, 1986 together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute arose as a result of the respondents' failure to give wage increase for the second year of the current collective agreement which came into force on 1st October, 1984 for two years. During negotiations of this agreement, the parties agreed on a 5 per cent wage increase for the first year and to hold further negotiations on wage increase for the second year during the life of the agreement. The parties met on 5th November, 1985 but failed to reach an agreement as the respondents did not offer any increment for the second year.

The claimants told the court that the respondents are an association of twenty-seven (27) petrol stations operating within the city of Nairobi and employ about 400 workers who have been denied wage increase for the second year of the agreement. The claimants stated that the respondents' business was sound and that the government had improved their profit margin in June 1986, so the question of inability to pay does not arise. The claimants told the court that during negotiations, the respondents had pleaded inability to pay due to increased government taxation and withdrawal of some free services by the oil companies. To reach an agreement, the claimants agreed to a 5 per cent increase for the first year and also changed the effective date from March to October 1984 which was a wage standstill for seven (7) months. The claimants added that during the parties' second round of negotiations, the respondents offered to give a 12 per cent wage increase for the second year provided that the claimants agreed to change effective date to July 1986 which meant a further standstill for another nine (9) months. When the claimants refused this proposal, the respondents reverted to a nil offer. The claimants stated further that they have separate collective agreements with thirty-one (31) other petrol stations who are not members of the association and that they give better terms of employment than the association.

The claimants prayed the court to award the employees a 12 per cent increase for the period in question.

The respondents argued their case by stating that they did not refuse to give a wage increase without a reasonable cause. The respondents further stated that the increased taxation of petroleum products reduced the profit margin. At the same time the oil companies withdrew free services such as petrol pump repairs, introduced rent payments, withdrew payment of electricity bills, etc., which had made the respondents' operational costs very heavy. The respondents told the court that since June 1973, the profit margin had steadily declined from 10 per cent to 4 per cent in June 1986. However, the respondents are thankful to the government for the profit margin improvement that they got recently. For this reason, the respondents now offered a 5 per cent wage increase for the period in question and prayed the court to so award.

In considering this dispute, the court is satisfied that the respondents' business finances have been declining for the period under review until the government stepped in and corrected the situation somewhat in June this year. The court notes that under the wage guidelines, the employees involved in this dispute were entitled to 16 per cent wage increase for the two years of the agreement. In the first year they got 5 per cent increment and the court has to decide on the increase for the second year.

The court cannot overlook the implications to the respondents' members that in Nairobi area there are 140 petrol stations out of which only 27 are their members and the claimants have 31 other collective agreements with petrol stations on individual basis. This means that out of 140 petrol stations, only 58 have dealings with the claimants through the association and individually.

After careful consideration of the parties' submissions, the court awards a 7 per cent wage increase for the second year of the agreement and directs the parties to start negotiations for the next agreement as the current agreement has expired.

Given on 13th October, 1986.

Judge.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form 11. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

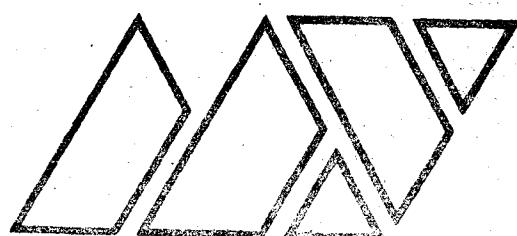

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representation of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
