GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1665

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 14 OF 1982

Parties:
Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union
and
Family Planning Association of Kenya

Issue in dispute:

Non-payment of arrears of Sh. 5,139 to Mr. Gabriel N. Nyanjui.

1. The Domestic and Hotel Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Family Planning Association of Kenya shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 17th May, 1982 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 10th June, 1981 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 22nd March, 1982 together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. G. N. Nyanjui was employed by the Respondents on 6th March, 1972 as a clerk/typist. He later rose to the position of clerk/storekeeper and his services were terminated on 26th September, 1977 when he had just come back from leave during which he got married. The Claimants after having exhausted all the voluntary and statutory procedures brought a dispute against the Respondents on the issue of wrongful termination of his services and it was heard by the Industrial Court vide Cause No. 53/79. The Court found that he had suffered a wrongful dismissal and awarded him full salary and house allowance for the month of September, 1977, one month's salary and house allowance in lieu of notice and all his contributions of the superannuation scheme and three months' salary and house allowance by way of compensation for wrongful dismissal that he had suffered.

The Respondents paid him Sh. 8,491 made up as follows:

	Sh.
"Basic salary for September, 1977 .. .. ..	1,060
House allowance for September, 1977 .. .. ..	400
One month's basic salary in lieu of notice .. .. ..	1,060
One month's house allowance in lieu of notice .. .. ..	400
Three months' basic pay at Sh. 1,060 p.m. .. .. ..	3,180
Three month's house allowance at Sh. 400 .. .. ..	1,200
	<hr/>
	7,300

Less tax on £365 .. .. .. ..	1,455
	<hr/>
	5,845
Plus his contribution to superannuation scheme .. ..	2,646
Total	8,491"

The Claimants' demand in the present dispute is for his salary arrears amounting to Sh. 5,139 which they claim for the period 1st May, 1977 to the time of his dismissal. They maintained that his salary was Sh. 1,431 p.m. and house allowance Sh. 600 with effect from 1st May, 1977.

The Respondents strongly resist this demand on the ground that the Claimants were not justified in raising a fresh dispute out of a demand which had already been considered and rejected by the Court in a substantive dispute. They further maintain that Mr. Nyanjui was not entitled to wage increases which were given to the Respondents' employees after the termination of his employment.

The Court would like to recall that in their written submission in Cause No. 53/79 on page 5 paragraph 3 the Claimants had mentioned the following:

"There is no reason given as to why the Ministry could not recommend (a) payment of full wages for the whole period Mr. Nyanjui has been out of employment (b) wage increase of 35 per cent of an employee's current wages plus house allowance of Sh. 200 which came into effect from 1st May, 1977 which Mr. Nyanjui did not earn up to the date of termination of his services on 26th September, 1977 (c) leave travelling allowance of Sh. 220 which he was not paid when he proceeded on leave in September, 1977."

The Claimants then proceeded to ask for an award in addition to his reinstatement and wages for the period he was out of employment and all the claims mentioned in the aforesaid paragraph 3 (a) (b) and (c). So it is obvious that in Cause No. 53/79 the Claimants' current demand on behalf of Mr. Nyanjui was before the Court at that time. Notwithstanding this, the Court did not make an award in respect of that claim.

The Court was told that at a meeting held on 26th October, 1977 of the management committee of the Respondents the following is recorded in minute 68/77 under salary review:

"The chairman tabled the paper on the issue of salary review as had been indicated by the regional office and members accepted fully the increases as proposed by the regional office. The Executive Director was asked to work on the new salary scales basing the increases on the paper and the arrears to be backdated to 1st May, 1977."

The Court finds that the Claimants' demand is totally misconceived as, to begin with, this demand had already been disposed of by the Court in Cause No. 53/79 because the Court did not make any award on this demand. The fact that the Court does not mention this specifically does not mean that the Court left it in abeyance for the Claimants to take up the matter once again. The Court awards are deemed to have taken into consideration the parties' respective demands and offers so, there can be no question of any one particular demand having been overlooked by the Court or to construe that the Court has left any demand pending. The Court makes its awards after taking all these points into consideration. In these circumstances the Claimants having raised this demand in the previous case and the Court having made no award on it this demand stands rejected and the Claimants are not allowed to reopen it by way of a fresh dispute.

In any case wage increases and increases in house allowance which are negotiated after an employee's services have been terminated then even though they may be backdated to a period prior to his termination, such an employee is not entitled to benefit therefrom because at the time the new terms and conditions of employment are agreed he has no valid contract of employment in force. So the Claimants' demand fails for this reason also.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court rejects the Claimants' demand.

Given in Nairobi the 15th June, 1982.
