THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 1 OF 1980

Parties:

Kenya Management Staff Association
and Wellcome Kenya Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Termination of services of P. Gathenya.

1. The Kenya Management Staff Association shall herein-after be referred to as the Claimants and Wellcome Kenya Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 26th and 27th March and 2nd April, 1980 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Claimants.—P. Gathenya.

Respondents.—R. Hughes Slemeck, Dr. J. K. Ndeti, J. S. K. Kamere.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 24th September, 1979 duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 15th January, 1980 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

This case concerns P. Gathenya, a member of the management holding the position of Deputy Manager, Unit, drawing a salary of K.Sh. 4,365 per month. His services were terminated on 10th November, 1980 and he was offered full salary for November, two months' salary in lieu of notice and his contribution to the Respondents' pension scheme making in all a total of K.Sh. 26,456/30. The reason why his services were terminated was stated by the Respondents in the following three paragraphs in the letter of termination:

"In August, 1978 we confirmed to you in writing your expanded duties which were in keeping with your senior position and the development of the company's business, and attached thereto your new job assignment.

Despite further clarification and lengthy discussions with you which incorporated all the amendments which both parties thought reasonable, you gave us a qualified acceptance of your new job assignment, which is unacceptable to the company and which on elaboration from you constitutes non-acceptance.

In the circumstances, and in accordance with your terms and conditions of service, your services are terminated with effect from today, 10th November, 1978."

Mr. Gathenya's service with the Respondents appears to have caused a considerable amount of controversy during the five years that he worked for them as he was employed on 1st May, 1973. The Ministry of Labour through one of its officers was actively engaged in the disputes which Mr. Gathenya had with the Respondents. The most important dispute which he had with the Respondents prior to his termination was in 1977 when the issue in dispute was unwarranted letters of warning to him. The Ministry's finding and recommendation were in the following terms:

"Under the circumstances I am satisfied that Mr. Gathenya was to blame for giving unsatisfactory explanation of the cause of the failure which had no bearing to the failure of the two batches. It appears that the person(s) who prepared the two batches carelessly failed to follow the instructions on the worksheet.

Regarding the warning which was served on him for allegedly failing to give instructions to the staff, this was withdrawn on 10th June, 1977 after it was found that the employees concerned had already taken up the matter with their union and that the matter was under discussion.

As Mr. Gathenya had a good record since he was employed in 1973 and having suffered a salary freeze for two years i.e. 1976 and 1977 I recommend that the warning letter in his record should now be cancelled in accordance with section 16 Legal Notice No. 256 of 1977."

The Respondents accepted the findings and the recommendation.

The immediate cause of Mr. Gathenya's termination, however, was when he was offered extended responsibilities when the Respondents installed a G.L.C. Op. Unit with effect from 16th August, 1978. He was also given a rise in salary of £291 p.a. giving a consolidated salary of £3186 p.a. with effect from 1st July, 1978. He was told that since he was to be the head of the G.L.C. Operation Unit he would have to undergo a six months' probationary period but was clearly told that he would retain his position as Deputy Manager, Vaccine Unit, with specific responsibilities as regards the FMDV Filling Unit. He was also asked to sign a new job specification which was forwarded to him. Mr. Gathenya reacted to this offer with great suspicion and felt that the Respondents were trying to ease him out of employment by forcing him to accept a demotion! Thereafter there was a fair amount of exchange of letters on this issue coupled with meetings between the technical director, Dr. Ndeti, and the Respondents' chief executive, Mr. R. H. Slemek with Mr. Gathenya on different occasions. They all explained to him that he was not being demoted and impressed upon him the importance of the new G.L.C. Unit which they had installed which had a great potential for earning foreign exchange for Kenya. It was agreed that he would not be required to serve a period of six months' probation as stated in the letter of 16th August, 1978.

Despite all the assurances given to Mr. Gathenya by his superiors he was not satisfied and stated that he felt that he had been deprived of his supervisory powers which he exercised previously and that the "note" in paragraph (b) was unnecessary as he was the Deputy Manager, Vaccine Unit, and finally that the new job description as a whole did not reflect his position to be that of Deputy Manager, Vaccine Unit, as held by him previously.

As stated earlier, after a series of top level meetings and exchange of many letters Mr. Gathenya was forwarded on 24th October, 1978 his job specification reflecting his increased responsibilities and was asked to sign it. The company secretary wrote to Mr. Gathenya that following a meeting that morning between Dr. Ndeti, Mr. Gathenya and Mrs. Kuhne, the purpose of which was to discuss the queries raised by Mr. Gathenya concerning his job specification the Respondents' position was explained to him and that following clarification of the various points in issue it was to confirm that Mr. Gathenya had accepted his new job specification and would he therefore now sign it without any further delay. Mr. Gathenya signed the job specification as forwarded to him by the company secretary but "without prejudice." It was pointed out to Mr. Gathenya that in accordance with the legal meaning of the words "without prejudice" it meant that he did not accept his job specification and he was told that the Respondents would not accept it. In reply to this Mr. Gathenya clarified the meaning of the phrase "without prejudice" as follows on 1st November, 1978:

"In fact what I meant was that what was discussed between ourselves concerned the new job specification does not reflect my responsibilities as confirmed by Mrs. Kuhne's letter of 21st October, 1978 ref. SEC/567/78, paragraph 1 and 2 in particular.

Perhaps this is going to end the chain of correspondence which is a production waste to the company."

His services were then terminated on 10th November, 1978.

The Court heard the evidence on oath of Mr. Kamere who was Mr. Gathenya's immediate boss and whose children called him Uncle Fredrick. It is obvious that Mr. Kamere had no bias against Mr. Gathenya and the Court therefore accepts Mr. Kamere's evidence to be true. The Court has also considered the evidence of the chief executive, Mr. Slemek, to be rather important in this dispute as he told the Court that he personally allayed the fears of Mr. Gathenya re his demotion and assured him that he was not being demoted in any manner whatsoever but was being given increased responsibility, in addition to being the Deputy Manager, Vaccine Unit, of heading the new GLC Unit also.

The Court also heard the evidence of Dr. Ndeti, technical director, who had recruited Gathenya in the first place, who assured the Court that there was no conspiracy whatsoever to get rid of Mr. Gathenya and that they had gone out of their way to assure him that he was not being demoted. He added that it was essential that in their operations the workers and the management should have a disciplined approach and a free for all could not be tolerated. This witness was cross-examined at length by the Claimants on the old and new job specifications of Mr. Gathenya and he explained that the management always had the right to reorganize things in the manner they thought fit and the few minor alterations in the wording between the two job specifications did not in any way mean that any responsibility was being taken away from Mr. Gathenya. He added that on the contrary his responsibility was being increased.

The Court must acknowledge the vigorous representation made on behalf of Mr. Gathenya by the Claimants' general secretary, Mr. Adell, who has done best to put forward Mr. Gathenya's case. The Court, however, must point out that it cannot treat members of the management in the same manner as rank and file in an undertaking. More responsible approach and behaviour and a greater sense of dedication and acceptance of responsibility by the management staff is to be expected. Unfortunately in this case Mr. Gathenya was most of the time acting in a very strange manner with the result that he suspected every move on the part of the management and felt that it was directed to get rid of him. He went even so far as to suspect that a European expatriate was coming in his place. This was very regrettable because acting on this misconception he went and involved the then Director of Kenyanization Bureau, Mr. Waiboci, in this dispute. Mr. Waiboci summoned the Respondents' chief executive and as a result he advised Mr. Gathenya on 22nd November, 1978 as follows:

"I have been informed by Wellcome E.A. Ltd. that they would consider giving you another job if (a) you apologized (b) you accepted a new job specification without delay and without qualifications.

If you are still interested in the job you should write to the technical director as soon as possible accepting those conditions."

The Court feels that this was an excellent opportunity for Mr. Gathenya to have saved the situation but unfortunately for him he lived up to his suspicious and argumentative nature and refused to follow Mr. Waiboci's advice.

The Court has carefully considered the Ministry of Labour's findings and recommendation which were as follows:

"The company presented Mr. Gathenya with a new job specification before any discussion was held as required by the said circular. Furthermore gave him a six month probation with a phrase "without prejudice". He did not disobey by Mr. Gathenya. He was therefore justified to sign the said job specification with a qualification that it was accepted "without prejudice" as he had not agreed to it as a whole.

In fact it was only the subordinate Mr. Gathenya who was required to sign the new job specification and it is inexplicable why the manager was not in this case required to sign in accordance with the above quoted clause of the regulation 11 of 7th December, 1972.

Mr. Gathenya performed his duties according to the directives set out in the new job specifications even though he wanted to raise some queries on it. There are no complaints from the company against the performance of his duties either as a head of the GLC or as a Deputy Manager of Vaccine Unit after he had signed the said new job specification with a phrase "without prejudice". He did not disobey any lawful order.

There is no evidence adduced by the company to show that Mr. Gathenya did not perform his duties as per new job description although he had accepted to comply with it without prejudice. He had used these words simply because he had not discussed all points with the company before he was required to accept the new job description.

After considering all the facts at hand it is my considered opinion that Mr. Gathenya's services were wrongfully terminated.

Mr. Gathenya has served the company diligently for over six years and I recommend that he be reinstated. The period between termination and reinstatement be treated as leave with half pay."

The Court finds that the investigator missed a rather very important point in this dispute that the Respondents' products affect human and animal lives not only in Kenya but in other countries as well and it was therefore essential that the workers, particularly a member of the management, should clearly understand and accept his responsibilities in the undertaking. The fact that Mr. Gathenya added the words "without prejudice" is not a small matter. It meant that he was not bound by the new job specification and therefore in adverse circumstances he would not and could not be held responsible for the consequences. The new job specification was forwarded to him by the company secretary who wrote an accompanying letter. This was enough by any standards to commit the Respondents also to the new job specification.

The Court has carefully considered the two job specifications but cannot accept the Claimants' submission that there was a demotion for Mr. Gathenya. The fact remains that the management are entitled to organize their undertaking in the manner they feel fit and necessary and the members of the management have to accept such changes. In this case these changes were meant to increase the responsibility of Mr. Gathenya and not decrease it.

The parties put forward their respective cases with great vigour and called witnesses to give evidence on oath. This they don't do during investigation. The Court has applied its mind seriously to see if the Respondents' decision was perverse or lacked good faith or if the management had slipped in any manner whereby the Court would feel entitled to interfere in their decision to terminate Mr. Gathenya's services. The Court, however, can find no reason to interfere in the Respondents' decision to terminate his services. The Court would like to add that it has not been influenced by a letter which was produced by the Respondents and signed by the director of National Public Health Laboratory Service which was against Mr. Gathenya. The Court decided to reject this letter.

The Court is satisfied that in the Respondents' industry safety of livestock and human beings is involved to a very large extent and they have therefore to operate on clearly defined limits of responsibility. Mr. Gathenya refused to accept this. The Court cannot help but remark that in this very unfortunate case Mr. Gathenya proved to be his own worst enemy as he first of all refused to see the great opportunity for advancing his prospects with the Respondents when he was being made the head of the GLC Unit along with his post of Deputy Manager, Vaccine Unit and then failing to grab the opportunity which the then Director of Kenyanization Bureau, Mr. Waiboci, created for him to save his employment. In these circumstances and after careful consideration of all the submissions the Court cannot find that Mr. Gathenya has suffered a wrongful dismissal. The Court finds that Mr. Gathenya's services have been properly terminated by the Respondents and he is entitled to only that amount which the Respondents have offered to pay him and which is as follows:

	Sh.
Full salary for November	4,365.00
Two months salary in lieu of notice	9,250.00
His contribution to pension scheme	12,841.30
	26,456.30
Less balance on imprest	3,440.00
	<hr/>
Total	23,016.30"
	<hr/>

The Court would like to add that Mr. Gathenya used the Respondents' motor car for two months after his services were terminated.

For the foregoing reasons the Court rejects the Claimants' demand for Mr. Gathenya's reinstatement with full benefits.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 13 OF 1980

Parties:

Transport & Allied Workers' Union
and
Kenya Airways

Issue in dispute:

Termination of service of Messrs. H. O. Aloo, D. O. Moseti, E. Dimba, F. Nyatome, M. Kioko, W. I. Maluta, Miss Grace N. Wanyeki.

1. The Transport & Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Kenya Airways shall herein-after be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 20th May, 1980 and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 29th November, 1979 duly signed by the parties received by the Court on 4th March, 1980 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute can be split up in two parts as the first one concerns five persons whose services were terminated by the Respondents for having been found to be in possession of uncustomed goods. The other two persons lost their jobs for alleged concealment of past criminal records during security vetting.

There is no dispute that the five persons namely Messrs. H. O. Aloo, D. O. Moseti, E. Dimba, F. Nyatome and Miss G. N. Wanyeki were found with various articles of clothing, wrist watches, towels, etc. which they did not declare on their arrival at the Nairobi airport from overseas duty stints. The Claimants have submitted that the items which were found in the possession of these people were for their personal use and in any case they paid the respective fines which were imposed on them when these items were found by the customs officials. They asked for them to be reinstated.

The Court does not intend to go into details of the various items brought into the country by these people as the Court is satisfied that an attempt was made by all of them to import the goods without paying the customs duty.

The dispute was investigated by the Ministry of Labour and the Ministry's recommendation for all of them was that they should be reinstated without loss of seniority of victimization or be paid six months' salary as compensation for wrongful dismissal plus terminal benefits.

One important point which appears to have been overlooked during investigation was the fact that the Respondents' Board of Directors had resolved at a meeting on 14th February, 1978 that any member of staff who is caught trafficking merchandise illegally or engaged in other illegal activities should be sacked and that this decision was brought to the notice of cabin crew through a circular letter Ref. KZ/389/S.2. In view of such clear-cut warning to the Respondents' employees who might involve themselves in such activities the Court can find no mitigating circumstances in any of these five dismissals. The Court accordingly rejects the Claimants' demand in respect of each one of these five persons.

Now reverting to the case of Messrs. M. Kioko and W. I. Maluta who are alleged to have concealed their past criminal records when security vetting was carried out. Mr. Maluta was sent to prison for nine months in the past for having committed the offence of theft by servant and Mr. Kioko was fined K.Sh. 50 in respect of missing wooden plank when he was working for PWD way back in 1958. The Court would like to recall that during this security vetting exercise it was not mandatory that a person with a previous conviction would be barred from employment with the Respondents as the form clearly contained the following words in section 13:

"The fact of an applicant declaring that he has been convicted of an offence will not necessarily debar him from employment at the Kenya Airways Ltd. Service. Each case will be considered on its merits having regard to the nature and the circumstances of the offence."

The Court has every sympathy with Mr. Kioko who had served, prior to joining the Respondents, the East African Airways for 15 years until the airline collapsed and the Court was told that he was now active in the affairs of his church and had taken part in several international church conventions and had in fact attended such a convention in U.S.A. when on his return he was met with the letter of termination of his service. The Court can well believe that Mr. Kioko may have forgotten this minor conviction and the Court is of the view that even if he had mentioned it in the security vetting form the Respondents would have exercised their discretion and retained him in their employment. In these circumstances the Court finds that the Respondents' decision to terminate the services of Mr. Kioko was indeed harsh and the Court feels that he should get his job back. The Court accordingly finds that Mr. Kioko has suffered a wrongful dismissal and awards that he should be reinstated to his job which he was holding at the time of his termination with effect from 1st July, 1980 and that for all the time that he has been out of employment the Respondents should pay him half salary for all those months. The Court notes that Mr. Kioko had been transferred by the Respondents to their wholly owned subsidiary (Kenya Airfreight Handling Ltd.) as senior clerical officer at a salary of £838 p.a. on 5th May, 1978. His services were terminated on 5th July, 1978 when he was served with one month's notice of termination.

In the case of Mr. Maluta the offence and the sentence were serious and it is obvious that he deliberately concealed this fact from the Respondents. The Court agrees with the Respondents' submission in his case that they acted justifiably in terminating his services. The Court accordingly rejects the demand of reinstatement made by the Claimants on his behalf.
