CAUSE NO. 52 OF 1987*Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
C.P.C. Industrial Products (K) Limited

Issue in dispute:

Overtime payment prior to five-day working week effective 1982.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the C.P.C. Industrial Products (K) Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 21st July, 1989, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 16th June, 1987, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 23rd July, 1987, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The claimants informed the court in their opening submission that there was only one issue before the court as the second issue had been amicably resolved by the parties.

The parties entered into a recognition agreement in 1982 and have since concluded several collective agreements.

This dispute only arose after the five-day working week was introduced in May 1986, and it hinges on hours of work and how they affect the calculation of overtime payment.

In this dispute the battle was hard fought but neither side pulled punches. The claimants seem to have misunderstood the mechanism of the four-week cycle because they have failed to take into account the extra days in each month, except February, which has either 28 or 29 days. They have ignored the fact that "offs" are staggered during the four-week cycle in order to accord the employees equal treatment. The court finds that an employee who works more hours in a given week is compensated by being assigned to work less hours in other shifts, as the case may be. When the claimants argue that the employees work for seven days in a stretch, they ignore the fact that the same employees are allowed seven-day off-duty in 28 days. Perhaps what has caused the misunderstanding is the fact that, prior to 1980, the respondents did not have enough work to support three shifts; hence the claimants became used to the two shifts arrangement, which is no longer applicable.

During the hearing the respondents produced some charts and demonstrated to the court the present working arrangements; and it would appear the implications of these arrangements and the two additional shifts have not been understood by the claimants.

As far as the clocking system is concerned, the court notes that the cards produced by the claimants reflected 48 hours and they have conveniently left out some cards showing 40 hours, from which information is compiled in order to arrive at the monthly averages of hours worked.

Under the circumstances and after careful consideration, the court is unable to find any unfair labour practice, or any attempt by the respondents to deprive the employees of their financial gains arising from the current system. The court is also satisfied with the respondents' method of averaging the hours of work at the end of each cycle, otherwise the system would not have achieved its desired results.

Accordingly, the court, having studied the computation of the clocking system and the mode of payment of overtime under current working arrangement, upholds the existing system. The claimants' demands are therefore rejected as misconceived and baseless.

Vikay Builders.

Issue in dispute:

Recognition.

THE Kenya Building Construction Civil Engineering and Allied Trades Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Vikay Builders shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. This dispute was fixed for hearing on 21st June, 1989, but at the parties' request the court asked the Chief Industrial Relations Officer to investigate the matter further with a view to establishing whether or not the claimants had recruited a simple majority of members for the respondents to accord them recognition. The dispute was therefore listed for further mention on 25th July, 1989.

During the mention on the aforesaid date, the dispute was again fixed for hearing today but the parties were able to reach a settlement on the matter and requested the court to make an award by consent.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th January, 1988, was received by the court on 26th July, 1988, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

By consent of the parties the court awards that the respondents should accord the claimants recognition forthwith, subject to the signing of the formal recognition agreement within three months from the date of the court award.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 32 OF 1989*Parties:*

Kenya Union of Entertainment and Music Industry Employees
and
Thika Road Properties Limited

Issue in dispute:

Recognition.

THE Kenya Union of Entertainment and Music Industry Employees shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Thika Road Properties Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents. The Kenya Union of Commercial, Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the interested party.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 27th June, 1989, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 16th March, 1989, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 18th April, 1989, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The Respondents started operating their business on 29th May, 1986. They engage in the development and management of commercial property and employ a total of 25 employees.

This dispute had been investigated by the Ministry of Labour and Ministry's findings and recommendation were that the respondents should sign a recognition agreement with the claimants. The recognition agreement was to become effective after expiry of the current collective agreement.

The respondents and interested party did not accept the Ministry's findings and recommendation.

The court has examined and evaluated the submissions by the parties and finds that the claimants' demand to represent the respondents' employees is totally misconceived and it is accordingly rejected. A status quo must be maintained.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- (i) Signature must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
- (ii) Dates must be correct and filled in where necessary.
- (iii) Care should be taken to ensure that all headings to notices and references to legislation are up to date and conform with the Revised Edition of the Laws of Kenya.
