GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 596

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 46 OF 1977

Parties:—

Kenya Local Government Workers' Union
and

Kakamega County Council

Issue in dispute.—Refund of money improperly deducted as house rents from employees in the non-salaried grades.

1. The Kenya Local Government Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Kakamega County Council shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 27th January and 28th February, 1978, and 30th January, 1979, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 9th August, 1977, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 30th September, 1977, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties made their opening submissions on 27th January, 1978, and the hearing was adjourned to 23rd February, 1978, in order to enable the parties to carry out further research regarding the manner in which the various county councils in the country were implementing the housing clause in the terms and conditions of employment agreement. On 28th February the Respondents informed the Court that according to their information half the county councils were implementing the agreement according to the Claimants' interpretation and the other half according to the Respondents' interpretation. The parties felt that further negotiations would be carried out and the Court ordered that the parties should embark on national negotiations in order to work out a uniform approach on the question of housing and house allowance.

The parties then had several meetings and the matter dragged on until 17th January, 1979, when despite a national agreement having been reached on the issue the Claimants asked the Court to proceed with the hearing.

The relevant clause on which the Claimants have based their demand is to be found in rule 10 (a) and (b) of the terms and conditions of service for non-salaried employees in the county councils (Committee No. 3). This clause states as follows:—

"10. Housing allowance:

(a) Employees shall, where possible, be housed by the Council in accordance with the existing principles of allocation.

(b) Where an employee is not housed by the Council and he is living in an urban area, he shall receive a housing allowance equivalent to that prescribed in the current Minimum Wages Order. Provided that any employee refusing to accept the offer of accommodation shall not be entitled to any allowance. Married women living with their husbands shall not be entitled to a housing allowance."

The Court was given two sets of minutes of joint negotiating committee meetings held on 9th June and 10th November, 1978, between the Claimants and the Association of Local Government Employers (Committees No. 3 and 4). The final agreement between the parties as recorded in the minutes of 10th November, 1978, is as follows:—

"Min. 26/JNC3/78: Effective date of the deletion of the words "urban area" from the housing allowance clause:—

The following was agreed upon:—

(a) Employees shall where possible be housed by the Council in accordance with the existing principles of allocation.

(b) Where an employee is not housed by the Council he shall receive a housing allowance of Sh. 50 p.m. Provided that any employee refusing to accept the offer of accommodation shall not be entitled to any housing allowance. Married women living with their husbands shall not be entitled to any housing allowance.

(c) The effective date of this amendment shall be 1st January, 1979. This effective date is agreed upon without prejudice to the dispute (Cause No. 46 of 1977) already before the Industrial Court.

(d) No trade dispute except the one now before the Industrial Court shall be declared against any local authority in respect of previous housing allowance clauses covering non-salaried employees."

It is quite obvious from the above that the parties agreed that the dispute before the Industrial Court would be processed. The Court is therefore unable to understand the Respondents' submission during the resumed hearing of this dispute that the Claimants were committing a breach of faith because the new agreement was effective from 1st January, 1979, and the Claimants had not raised disputes with any other county councils who might have been in a similar position as the Respondents. It is quite clearly stated in clause (c) that the agreement arrived at between the parties on 10th November, 1978, is without prejudice to the dispute already before the Industrial Court. The Court must therefore consider the parties' submissions and proceed to make an award thereon.

The Claimants have submitted that the Respondents had subjected 20 of their employees to improper deductions from January, 1972, in that they were allocated houses by the Respondents in accordance with the clause on house allowance and had then proceeded at the same time to deduct their salary by the amount which they assessed as the economic rent of that house less the workers entitlement of the statutory house allowance in the event where a worker is not housed by the Council.

The Claimants argued that since their members were housed by the Respondents there could be no question of any deductions from their salaries and they submitted that their members had lost a sum of Sh. 34,415/85 by way of these improper deductions and asked the Court to award that the Respondents should refund this amount to their members.

The Claimants explained their case by giving an example that a manual employee housed in the council staff house carrying a rental of Sh. 55 was allowed Sh. 35 being the statutory house allowance and the balance of Sh. 20 was deducted from his salary. The Claimants alleged that this practice was contrary to the terms and conditions of service and had to be corrected.

The details of their claim in respect of their 20 members are as follows:—

The Respondents have very strongly resisted this claim and have put forward the strained relationship between the Claimants' Kakamega branch and the Respondents' Clerk as being the main reason of this dispute having come before the Court and for not having been settled when the national agreement was reached on the issue on 10th November, 1978.

The Respondents also referred to various other disputes between the parties in support of the strained relationship as alleged by them between the Claimants and the Respondents' Town Clerk but the Court is really not concerned with the disputes that may be in the pipeline between the parties. Neither does the Court find that such disputes are a reflection of a serious conflict between the parties. The Court can only note that the relations between them are not good but cannot go into the reasons why they are so at this stage. It would be wrong for the Court to reject the Claimants' demand in this dispute simply because the Respondents allege that there is hostile relationship between them and the Claimants.

The Respondents' real answer to the Claimants' demand is that these employees were not allocated any staff houses by them and that if they did occupy staff houses then they did so like other members of the public who had rented the Respondents' houses and were therefore expected to pay the economic rent applicable to those houses and in accordance with the decisions of the Council. This was in accordance with the principles governing the allocation of the Respondents' houses.

The Respondents asked the Court to bear in mind that it had taken the Claimants nearly ten years to challenge the principles of allocation as agreed between the parties and this was only because of the Court award in Cause No. 22 of 1975. The Respondents however pointed out that the facts in that dispute differed markedly from the facts of the present dispute because the county council in that dispute had built houses for their employees and had no existing principles of allocation.

The Respondents gave financial details in respect of their houses built for rental purposes and stated that they had to meet £10,000 loan charges every year. They also reminded the Court that last year the Respondents had paid substantial wage and salary arrears to their employees as a result of the collective agreement between the relevant parties.

The Respondents produced some documents in respect of four employees namely Messrs. Jackson Indayi, Simeon Etsimire, Wanga Apitsa and Peter Matebwa. The Respondents asked the Court to find that as they did not house these employees and as they had applied for some of the Respondents' houses like other members of the public they were not entitled to any refund from the Respondents and the Claimants' demand should accordingly be rejected.

The Court has carefully considered the parties' submissions in this dispute and finds that it is up to the Respondents to prove that the persons involved had been allocated the houses like any other members of the public and that they had not been housed by them because they were their employees. The documents which the Respondents have produced are by no means satisfactory evidence to prove their submission. One document is an agreement to occupy a residential quarter which is signed by Peter Matebwa and another document signed by Jackson Indayi also appears to be a similar agreement although it is not headed so. The other documents are letters written by somebody on behalf of the Respondents' clerk to their county treasurer stating that certain persons, some of whom are the claimants in this dispute, have been allocated certain houses and certain amount of rent plus water charges should be deducted from their salaries. No agreements were produced which they are alleged to have signed. Another document is merely an application to be provided a house. The last of such documents is a letter signed by Simeon Etsimire who has written in to say that since he was in occupation of a house No. 33 which had been rented by one Mr. Shibonzo it should be allocated to him permanently as the latter had left.

The Court finds it very difficult to place any credence on this sort of inadequate documentary evidence that has been produced in respect of some of the employees involved in this dispute. It is quite clear that by virtue of clause 10 quoted hereinabove the Respondents were under an obligation to house their employees in accordance with the existing principles of allocation and if an employee was not housed by them he was to receive a housing allowance equivalent to that prescribed in the current Minimum Wages Order. It was up to the Respondents to get proper commitment from their employees to show that they were not being housed by the Respondents by virtue of their employment with them and that they were being allocated houses like ordinary members of the public. This the Respondents have failed to do and the Court must accordingly find that these employees were housed by the Respondents and as such they were entitled to free accommodation and the deductions which the Respondents had made are improper.

The Court must, however, take into account the fact that the Claimants had raised this dispute in 1975 and had made a formal report to the Minister for Labour on 24th March, 1977. In these circumstances the Court finds that it would be improper and inequitable to order any refund prior to these dates. It was up to the Claimants to have raised this dispute at the time when the alleged deductions started taking place. In these circumstances the Court cannot accept the Claimants' demand that refund should be ordered from January, 1972, until the end of 1978.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court has come to the conclusion that the Claimants' members should get refund of the improper deductions by way of rent made by the Respondents from their salaries with effect from 1st July, 1976, up to 31st December, 1978, and the Court so awards.

The Court would like to clarify since some of these employees have been dismissed that if they rendered any services to the Respondents between July, 1976 and 31st December, 1978, then they should be refunded the money for the months when they were in service of the Respondents and for which the deductions were made.

The Respondents indicated during the hearing that they did not accept the figures which had been produced by the Claimants regarding the amounts of refund claimed by them. In view of this and in order to avoid any miscalculation the Court directs the parties to get together with the Chief Industrial Relations Officer or his representative and work out the exact refunds due to the employees involved in this dispute in accordance with the Court award.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 61 OF 1978

Parties:—

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and

Wellcome Kenya Limited

Issue in dispute.—Underpayments of wages.

1. Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and Wellcome Kenya Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 5th and 7th February, 1979, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 10th August, 1978, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 4th December along with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The sequence of events leading up to this dispute begins in 1974 when the Respondents decided to join the Association of Pharmaceutical Industries (hereinafter referred to as the Association). This they did on 1st February, 1974. Thereafter the Respondents are a party to and are bound by the collective agreements between the Claimants and the Association.

On 10th December, 1974, the Respondents' Company Secretary wrote a memo to all the unionizable employees on the subject matter of salary award and in the last paragraph of this memo he wrote as follows:—

"Pending the signing of the new agreement and for the purpose of the annual salary review the company has decided to award an interim increase of 10 per cent and this will be applied automatically to your salary with effect from 1st January, 1975. In the event of a larger increase being awarded, the necessary backdated adjustment will be made when the agreement is signed."

The Claimants and the Association then concluded a collective agreement and signed it on 16th July, 1975. This agreement was to remain in force for two years with effect from 1st January, 1975 to 31st December, 1976. Under clause 20 covering wages and salaries various job grades are listed and then for each one of them different rates are specified with effect from 1st January, 1974, 1st June, 1974, 1st January, 1975 and 1st January, 1976. Underneath these rates there is a proviso which reads:—

"Provided no employee shall get less than the minimum increase applicable to his or her grade."

The dispute before the Court is on the increase which was effective from 1st June, 1974 to 31st December, 1974. The Claimants allege that from that date it was agreed between them and the Association that all the workers would be given a 5 per cent wage increase on their personal salaries but instead of that the Respondents had given the said 5 per cent increase on the grades only with the result that many of their members had lost substantial amounts.

The Claimants pointed out that it was not denied by the Respondents that the other members of the Association had given this 5 per cent increase on the workers' individual salaries and not on the grades.

The Claimants handed in a document in which they had worked out the arrears due to their members from the Respondents for the period 1st June, 1974 to 31st December, 1978, as a result of the wrong implementation of the 5 per cent increase. This showed that the workers were due a sum of Sh. 53,662/10.

The Claimants interpreted the proviso in the collective agreement to mean that the employees were to get a wage increase of not less than 5 per cent on their personal salaries, i.e. that they can get more than 5 per cent but not less, between 1st June and December, 1974. They added that this increase was due to inflation and it was not an award based on grades.

The Respondents denied that the 5 per cent wage increase was to be given on the personal salaries of their employees and said that they were unable to find anything in clause 20 in the collective agreement between the Association and the Claimants which referred to this 5 per cent wage increase as a bonus due to inflation as submitted by the Claimants. They maintained that the correct interpretation was that an employee could have been given any wage increase but not less than the increases for the various grades.

The Respondents further pointed out that the interim increase of 10 per cent which they had given was based on the grade rates and that the 5 per cent increase for the period between 1st June and 31st December, 1974, was also based on the grade rates and paid to the employees accordingly and they asked the Court to reject the Claimants' demand.

The Court has noted that the Claimants reported a dispute to the Ministry of Labour on 14th February, 1976, in which one of the issues was "offsetting 5 per cent from the wage increase of employees salary". Due to certain reasons which need not be gone into at this stage, mainly procedural, the Claimants once again reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour on 18th October, 1977, and this time the issue in dispute was stated to be underpayment.

The Court is satisfied that despite the confusion on the terminology what the Claimants really are complaining about is that the Respondents did not give the agreed 5 per cent increase to their employees on their personal salaries but instead gave that increase on the grade rates.

The Court is not impressed by the Respondents' arguments particularly when they say that there was nothing in the collective agreement which prevented any member of the Association to give the employees more than the minimum increases and that such a generosity could not be used as a penalty against other members of the Association. The Court is inclined to believe that the other members of the Association have correctly interpreted the collective agreement as far as this 5 per cent increase with effect from 1st June, 1974, is concerned in that they gave this increase on the employees' personal salaries and did not restrict it to the grade rates only. Were it not to be so then what was the purpose of bringing in an additional 5 per cent increase with effect from 1st June, 1974, when the collective agreement was effective from 1st January, 1975, giving a wage increase for 10 per cent from that year and another increase of 10 per cent with effect from 1st January, 1976? As stated earlier in the award the Respondents had given their employees a 10 per cent interim increase with effect from 1st January, 1975, and while announcing that interim increase it was clearly stated that it would apply "to your salary with effect from 1st January, 1975".

After having carefully considered the parties' submissions the Court finds that this 5 per cent increase effective from 1st June, 1974, was a special increase which was negotiated to be awarded to workers to counter effects of inflation and this was brought about no doubt by the Presidential Directive at that time. In other words what the parties have done was to write in that special increase in their collective agreement instead of preparing a supplementary agreement to the previous collective agreement.

The Court is satisfied that the Respondents' interpretation of this 5 per cent increase is inconsistent with the correct interpretation of the relevant clause and that the other members of the Association who have awarded this on the personal salaries of their employees have acted correctly. If what the Respondents allege to be the interpretation of clause 20 of the collective agreement then the proviso should have read that no employee shall get more than the minimum increase applicable to his or her grade and not less as is written therein. In fact if the intention was not to cater for the red circle employees, i.e. those employees who were above the minimum rates for their grades, there was no need to have this proviso which would then appear to be redundant. This proviso means that 5 per cent increase which was effective from 1st June, 1974, was the entitlement of all employees on their personal salaries and it was not merely on the rates for the grades. The Court finds that the Respondents should have given this 5 per cent increase to all the employees in the various grades on their individual salaries.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the Court awards that the Respondents' employees were entitled to the 5 per cent increase effective from 1st June, 1974 to December, 1974, on their personal salaries and since the dispute relates only to this increase the Court rules that the parties should work out the employees' arrears based on this ruling. In case the parties are not able to work out the arrears due to the Respondents' employees by virtue of this ruling the Court directs them to enlist the help of the Chief Industrial Relations Officer or his representative and the calculations done so should be considered to be the final dues of the employees concerned.

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is hereby given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within 60 days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form T.M. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also hereby given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application; accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in Part A of the Register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for Part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
