GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1458

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 79 OF 1986

Parties:

Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers and Amazon Motors Ltd.

Issue in Dispute:

Wrongful dismissal of Jane Elizabeth D'Souza.

THE Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Amazon Motors Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 23rd and 26th February, 1987, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions, the claimants called the grievant, Elizabeth D'Souza, to give evidence while the respondents called John Fredrick Ogumbo, Joseph Bhukhala and Richard Wainaina as witnesses.

AWARD

3. This dispute was referred to the court by the Minister for Labour in accordance with section 8 of the Trade Disputes Act, on 11th August, 1986. The Labour Commissioner also issued his certificate in accordance with section 9 (9) (e) of the Trade Disputes Act. Elizabeth D'Souza was employed by the respondents on 19th October, 1983, as a secretary/accounts assistant, and was dismissed on 13th June, 1984. It is alleged that Elizabeth D'Souza absented herself for a total of 83 days during her eight (8) months of employment with the respondents during which the claimants claim she was sick and that the respondents knew her to be so while the respondents claim that she deserted her work and never bothered to inform her employers of her whereabouts on several occasions.

The claimants told the court that when Elizabeth D'Souza was employed she was put on probation for three (3) months which she completed successfully and was confirmed and became a permanent employee of the respondents. The claimants stated that during the month of December 1983, she fell sick and went to the company doctor who gave her two weeks off-duty. From then to June 1984, when her services were terminated, Elizabeth D'Souza attended several clinics as she was unwell and she was off-duty for a total of about 40 days. Everytime she was given a medical certificate which she gave to the respondents. The claimants stated further that the parties had a collective agreement which outlines procedures to be followed where an employee falls sick. The claimants accused the respondents of not having followed the agreement in this case. The claimants stated that the dismissal letter gives the reason for dismissal as "desertion". They argued that the respondents knew the whereabouts of Elizabeth D'Souza. The claimants produced medical certificates which they claimed were passed on to the respondents.

The claimants accused the respondents of having connived with the shopstewards in their undertaking so that this dispute would not succeed. A letter written by the shopsteward refusing to carry out instructions by the claimants was produced.

Giving evidence in court, Elizabeth D'Souza stated that during her probation period she had "German Measles" and that she was put under quarantine for twenty-one (21) days by the doctor and that the medical certificate to that effect was given to the respondents. She stated that between April and May 1984, she was again unwell and she went to a different doctor who gave her another two (2) weeks off-duty. She continued that during her eight (8) months of employment with the respondents she was absent for a total of forty (40) days and gave all the medical certificates to them. She added that in addition to medical certificates, she used to ring the respondents and tell them of her condition, so the question of having deserted her work was not true.

The respondents told the court that Elizabeth D'Souza was absent for thirty-seven (37) days upto December 1983, which were covered by medical certificates from the company doctor. After that she went on absenting herself without informing the respondents of her whereabouts. The respondents enquired from their doctor about the grievants' illness. The doctor gave a report on her that he, the doctor, had not found any major medical problem with her. As a result of this medical report, the respondents decided to dismiss her and gave the reason as desertion. The respondents stated that Elizabeth D'Souza was absent for eighty-three (83) days out of which 59 were covered by medical certificates but no explanation was offered for the rest of the days.

Giving evidence in court the respondents assistant general manager, John Ogumbo, who is also the personnel manager, told the court that Elizabeth D'Souza started absenting herself during her three (3) months' probation period. Immediately after employment she was absent for five (5) weeks. She was under treatment by the respondents' doctor then. After that she went on absenting herself without informing the respondents and without producing medical certificates. Mr. Ogumbo stated that on 13th June, 1984, he addressed a letter to Elizabeth D'Souza cautioning her on her continued absence from work and warned her that if she did not change, the respondents would cease to be her employer. Mr. Ogumbo told the court that he received the respondents' doctor's report on the grievant which stated that the grievant had no major medical problems and that she did not follow the doctor's instructions on medication. As a result of this report, Mr. Ogumbo said, they decided to dismiss her for deserting her work. Mr. Ogumbo denied having seen medical certificates which were produced in court from another doctor giving Elizabeth D'Souza off-duty.

The respondents witness, Joseph Bhukhala, told the court that he had worked for the respondents for the last twenty-one (21) years and he was the claimants' shopsteward for over fifteen (15) years. He told the court that he was summoned at the claimants' head office and instructed to hold a local negotiating committee meeting with the respondents with a view to re-engaging Elizabeth D'Souza. This witness told the court that he refused to carry out his unions' instructions as Elizabeth D'Souza was not a member of their union and that he wrote a letter to the claimants' secretary-general refusing to deal with this dispute. He claimed that the secretary-general dropped him as a shopsteward as a result of his refusal to handle this dispute.

Another witness, Richard Wainaina, who is the current shopsteward told the court he was asked by the claimants to hold a local negotiating committee meeting with the management regarding this dispute. Mr. Wainaina stated that on 19th February, 1985, they held a meeting and both parties endorsed the respondents' action. Mr. Wainaina stated that he was of the same views as the first shopsteward that he could not represent a non-member of the union despite instructions from the head office.

After careful consideration of this dispute, the court sympathises with the respondents for employing the grievant who from the medical certificates produced in court proved to be a liability as she was constantly sick. It is unfortunate for the respondents that they did not send her for a medical test before employing her. But, the court finds that the respondents did not follow the parties agreement governing sick leave. The court does not agree with the respondents that they did not know the whereabouts of the grievant as there is evidence to prove that they knew she was sick, so their action to dismiss her on grounds of desertion was wrongful. In addition, the court notes with dissatisfaction the way this dispute was handled by the shopstewards who totally disobeyed their union heads. The conduct of the shopstewards in this dispute is questionable indeed.

Given the circumstances of this dispute the court finds that a heavy award against the respondents is not called for and the court, therefore, awards that Elizabeth D'Souza's dismissal be reduced to normal termination and in addition she be paid one month's salary only as compensation for the wrongful dismissal. Her salary per month was KSh. 6,000.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1459

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
