GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 4787

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 41 OF 1983

Parties:

Kenya Local Government Workers Union
and Masaku County Council

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Samuel Mbulu Kituku.

THE Kenya Local Government Workers Union shall herein-after be referred to as the claimants and Masaku County Council shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 9th October, 1984, and 18th September, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 3rd June, 1983, duly signed by both parties was received by the court on 3rd June, 1983, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour.

Samuel Mbulu Kituku was employed by the respondents as an accountant in April, 1978, and was dismissed on 28th March, 1980, on an allegation that he leaked out to the press certain aspects of the council's proposed budget which was awaiting approval by the Minister for Local Government. This he did without authority from the council or the clerk to the council.

The claimants told the court that Mr. Kituku was a good worker who had no problems with the respondents until 26th January, 1980, when newsmen from The Standard newspaper called at the respondents' offices. At the time in question the clerk/treasurer was absent and the next senior officer was Mr. Kituku. The claimants stated that the newsmen told Mr. Kituku that they had interviewed the clerk and produced figures pertaining to sale of land which were given to them by the town clerk. On seeing these figures Mr. Kituku decided to talk to the newsmen and corroborated the clerk's information on why the respondents had to revise the rates and charges for the building sand collected from the area under the respondents' jurisdiction. The following day The Standard published an article on a proposed double rise in charges by the respondents in respect of sand collected which was awaiting approval by the Minister for Local Government. The claimants stated that when the respondents' clerk/treasurer learnt that Mr. Kituku had released this information to the press he interdicted him pending investigation and action by the council. The claimants stated that the respondents' contention that Mr. Kituku was not allowed to disclose council's secret matters as outlined in his letter of appointment, was not in line with the practice as Mr. Kituku was number two and could act in the absence of the clerk/treasurer which he did in this case. The claimants also disagreed and produced documentary evidence to disapprove the respondents' story that the Minister for Local Government did not approve the budget, a refusal which had an adverse effect on the respondents' financial situation. The claimants prayed for reinstatement of their member. The claimants stressed that the Minister for Local Government had approved the respondents' budget without any change.

The respondents told the court that Mr. Kituku was not empowered to give a press release and he knew this clearly as it is so stated in his letter of appointment. The respondents stated that on the day in question the clerk/treasurer who is authorized to deal with the press was around and not absent as the claimants alleged but Mr. Kituku chose to leak the respondents' secrets to the press with malicious intentions and as a result of this release the Minister for Local Government refused to approve the budget. The respondents further stated that Mr. Kituku took the newsmen to Masii where most of sand is collected from, an act that proves his ill-motives. The respondents also accused Mr. Kituku of having been disrespectful to the respondents' chairman by calling the chairman by his name and when asked to apologize Mr. Kituku refused to do so.

After careful consideration the court finds the respondents' action of dismissing Mr. Kituku on the grounds that he gave a press release without authority to have been harsh. Being the first offence the respondents should have warned him or given him a different punishment. The court awards that Mr.

Kituku's dismissal be reduced to normal termination and he be paid four months salary as compensation for the wrongful dismissal that he has suffered.

Given in Nairobi the 29th October, 1985.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 97 OF 1984

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers
and
Kenya Breweries Limited

Issue in Dispute:

Dismissal of Daniel Kinyanjui, Gabriel Kinyanjui and Kioko Matiku.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Breweries Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 16th April, 12th July and 27th August, 1985, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions the claimants called the three grievants to give evidence. Also called Mamu Kasika, Joel Sang and Wilfred Kimani as witnesses. The respondents called Geoffrey Githinji, Ebrahim Kangethe and Isaya Ngono as witnesses.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 8th March, 1984, duly signed by both parties was received by the court on 28th November, 1984, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Labour Commissioner and the Minister for Labour.

The three grievants in this dispute were employed as lorry drivers by the respondents. At the time of dismissal they had served as follows:

Daniel Kinyanjui, 4 years.

Gabriel Kinyanjui, 3 years

Kioko Matiku, 4 years.

All the three were dismissed on 9th September, 1982, for alleged stealing of beer and selling it. It is claimed that on 23rd July, 1982, these drivers were assigned vehicles together with three co-drivers to take beer from Nairobi to depots as shown hereunder:

Lorry KPY 194 driver, Gabriel Kinyanjui with co-driver Daniel Kinyanjui to Nanyuki depot.

Lorry KMX 144 driver, Kioko Matiku with co-driver Mamu Kasike to go to Nyeri depot.

Lorry KMX 143 driver, Wilfred Kimani with co-driver Joel Sang to go to Nanyuki depot.

It is alleged that on the day in question at about 5.30 p.m. the respondent's sales representative from Embu found these three vehicles parked at Riandira market by the roadside selling beer to people who had gathered there. He reported the matter to headquarters and investigations were carried out which resulted in the dismissal of the three drivers.

The claimants told the court that their members were dismissed merely because of victimization as they never stopped at Riandira market nor did they sell beer there. The claimants contended that the shortages of beer bottles which were found when the vehicles were inspected were normal shortages and breakages and not due to stealing. The claimants accused the respondents of having dismissed their members unjustifiably because there were six employees involved in the beer stealing, if any, and only three were sacked instead of all six.

The claimants called all six drivers who gave evidence before the court. They all denied having seen Ebrahim Kangethe, the sales representative, at Riandira market on the day in question. They all denied having stopped at Riandira market or selling beer there. When questioned on shortages which were found during the inspection of the vehicles by a security officer, all these witnesses agreed there were shortages but claimed them to have been normal and not stolen. All of them claimed that the seals of the doors were checked at the depots and were found in order and none were tampered with.

The respondents maintained that these six employees were guilty of stealing beer and selling it. This was established by investigations carried out by a security officer and the sales representative from Embu. The respondents stated that the two drivers who were pardoned helped in the investigations and the third one was a victim of circumstances as he was on his first assignment. The respondent's first two witnesses Geoffrey Githinji a businessman and Ebrahim Kangethe told the court a similar story of how they found the three vehicles at Riandira market parked by the roadside. Githinji and Kangethe were driving in the direction of Nairobi and when they noticed there were many people around the vehicles they suspected there was something wrong. Mr. Kangethe who was driving, stopped and turned round and drove to where these lorries with trailers were parked.

These witnesses stated that when Ebrahim Kangethe got out of the car the drivers hurriedly locked the cage doors of their vehicles and jumped into their respective cabins and drove off in the direction of Sagana. At the same time the beneficiaries of beer crates took to their heels with their loot. These two witnesses searched the surroundings and recovered two cases of export beer, one case of White Cap beer and a bottle of Export beer with an "Afco" mark on top. After this they got into their cars and followed these lorries. They caught up with KIPY 194 which blocked the road for Mr. Kangethe who was trying to overtake. Eventually they found the other two vehicles parked at a place called Kiangwaci with the drivers tightening doors with crowbars. These witnesses took down the numbers of these vehicles and proceeded back to Embu where Mr. Kangethe rang the headquarters and reported the matter.

The other respondent's witness Isaya Ngono, the security officer who investigated this case told the court that he went to Embu and got full report on this incident from Mr. Kangethe. From Embu he rang Nyeri and Nanyuki depots and instructed offloading of these vehicles to be stopped. He proceeded to Nyeri depot where he supervised the offloading of lorry KMX 144 which was driven by Mr. Kioko and Mr. Mamut and recorded a shortage of 82 bottles from near the door on the left side. On checking the seals he found that three had been tampered with. Mr. Ngono stated that he went to Nanyuki the same day and supervised offloading of Lorry KMX 143 and recorded a shortage of 95 bottles and found two seals tampered with. The following morning he escorted lorry KPY 194 to "Afco" depot at Nanyuki and supervised the offloading and recorded a shortage of 206 Afco beer bottles with four seals tampered with. He told the court that he recorded statements from all those concerned and later made recommendation to the management to dismiss all six drivers because the respondents had lost a lot of money through this kind of theft.

The respondents stated that after receiving the investigators' recommendations, they invited the grievants to defend themselves which they did. They also appealed to the Director of Personnel Services who pardoned three of them and upheld the dismissal of the other three.

The court has considered this dispute carefully and finds that the three grievants in this dispute had been involved in dishonesty acts against their employer and deserve no sympathy from the court. The court would like to point out that the respondents have the right to hire and fire so their action in dismissing the three drivers and keeping the other three when all six were involved in the same illegal action is not a strong argument in favour of the claimants. The court finds that the respondents treated each driver's case on its merits. The court concurs with the respondents decision and rejects the claimants' demand.

Given in Nairobi the 22nd October, 1985.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 19 OF 1985

Parties:

Railways and Harbours Union (K)

and

Kenya Railways Corporation

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful and/or unjustifiable dismissal of Bernard H. R. Sedda by the District Traffic Superintendent, Kisumu.

THE Railways and Harbours Union (K) shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Railways Corporation shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 18th July and 26th August, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 7th September, 1984, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 21st January, 1985, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Sedda was first employed by the former East African Railways and Harbours as Trainee Clerk Division III on 12th June, 1962. He earned promotions over the years while working for the respondents and finally rose to the position of commercial clerk in the District Traffic Superintendent's office, Kisumu. Mr. Sedda had served the respondents for a period of twenty-one years at the time of his dismissal.

The dispute before the court arose when on 12th February, 1982, the Provincial Agricultural Officer, Nyanza Province, purchased six second class tickets, from Kisumu Railway Station to enable six farmers to travel from Kisumu to Nairobi. The ticket numbers were 2726, 2727, 2728, 2729, 2730 and 2731.

However, before the travel date the provincial agricultural officer cancelled the journey and asked the respondents for the refund against the said tickets which amounted to KSh. 456. It was then alleged that the commercial clerk in charge handed over all the tickets to Mr. Sedda whose duty, among others, included processing ticket refunds.

On 6th March, 1982, a J. Ouko, a filing clerk discovered that the six tickets were missing from the files and immediately reported the matter to the officer-in-charge in the presence of all staff in the commercial clerk's office and, the district traffic superintendent, and investigation was instituted immediately. The respondents have alleged that on hearing the loss of the tickets Mr. Sedda slipped away and did not show up again at his place of work until 8th March, 1982, when he sent someone for a sick sheet. He was granted two days off-duty by the medical officer, but remained away until 8th April, 1982.

The respondents further stated that Mr. Sedda was seen in the booking office, Kisumu station requesting for accommodation to be reserved for a Mrs. Langi and her five children to travel to Nairobi. He was advised that the trains were fully booked, but he requested that the passengers be wait-listed. It was further alleged that Mr. Sedda requested a Lorna Shivachi, a reservation clerk, to book these passengers for berthing the following day.

The respondents stated that on 5th March, 1982, Miss Shivachi confirmed to Mr. Sedda that the passengers had been booked to travel that day and asked Mr. Sedda to purchase tickets for them. The names of these passengers were included in the berthing list before the tickets were purchased contrary to the normal procedure.

Later in the day a Mr. Langi came to the same booking office with three tickets for his family whose accommodation had been booked earlier on. The staff on duty, a Miss Mocheche and her supervisor, Mr. Wandera, the booking clerk in charge, both refused to accept the tickets as they contained some alterations on the travel dates. Mr. Langi then left the office and went away having been told that he should take the rejected tickets from where he purchased them.

The respondents confirmed that Mrs. Langi and her five children travelled on 5th March, 1982, using tickets numbers 2726, 2727 and 2731 believed to be those found missing from the file of the district traffic superintendent on 6th March, 1982. The three tickets used were collected at Nairobi station on 6th March, 1982. Police investigations to trace Mrs. Langi and her family and the unused tickets numbers 2728, 2729 and 2730 proved fruitless.

On the 10th March, 1982, the respondents wrote to Mr. Sedda calling upon him to show cause why he should not be surcharged for the value of the tickets. He then applied for a personal hearing which was granted, but the respondents turned down his defence and dismissed him on grounds of dishonesty and neglect of his duties. The value of the said tickets remained a loss to the respondent's earnings amounting to KSh. 456.

Mr. Sedda then reported the matter to the claimants who took up the matter with the respondents pleading with them to reinstate their member, but their request was eventually turned down.

The claimants then reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and an investigation was instituted, and, the Ministry's finding and recommendation as conveyed to the parties on 24th November, 1983, called for Mr. Sedda's dismissal to be reduced to normal termination and that he should further be paid 6 months salary by way of compensation for the wrongful termination. The claimants rejected the finding and recommendation and filed the dispute with the Industrial Court for adjudication.

The main argument by the claimants was that the respondents have failed to prove that the said tickets were actually handed over to Mr. Sedda and, neither have they established that Mr. Sedda actually handed over the same tickets to Langi's family, nor was there proof that Mr. Sedda is related or known to Mr. Langi's family which could connect him with such a fraud. The claimants have maintained that the tickets were left with the commercial clerk in charge under whom Mr. Sedda was working, and have further argued that according to the entries in the ticket refund register, entries in respect of these tickets were made on 26th February, 1982, by a J. Ouko, ten days after they were given to the commercial clerk in charge. Mr. Ouko was never summoned to give evidence on what happened to the tickets after making entries in the refund register.

The court has carefully analysed the submissions put forward by both the parties and notes that the charge preferred against Mr. Sedda read as follows:

"You are called upon to show cause why you should not be surcharged with the value of the tickets amounting to KSh. 456."

Mr. Sedda accordingly gave his defence based on the above charges. There was no mention of any other offence that would carry dismissal under the staff regulations. The charges against Mr. Sedda had a penalty of a surcharge only and not a dismissal which Mr. Sedda consequently suffered. The court finds that the respondents gravely erred in dismissing Mr. Sedda when he was required only to show cause why he should not be surcharged.

The court has further been surprised with the behaviour of staff in the booking office where a Mr. Langi presented the tickets bearing alterations on dates of travel. It is the court's view that the respondents should have immediately called the Railway Police to arrest the suspect who would have explained the source of the tickets. Surprisingly enough, this was never done, but instead he was asked to take the tickets from where he bought them. This, the court finds to be strange. In an organization of the size of the respondents one would have expected that the authorities having been alerted of the disappearance of these tickets their security staff would have kept watch for anyone that might try to travel using the lost tickets.

The court has been told that refund of this nature could have easily been done straight away from the booking office without going to the commercial section, this again was never done due to laxity on the part of a clerk on probation that made it easy for anyone to travel using fake tickets. The court has further been advised that no reservation for berthing is made unless one has purchased a ticket. Here again berthing accommodation for Mrs. Langi and her family was made without verifying whether or not the tickets had been purchased by the said passengers. The absence of Mr. Sedda on the day the alleged loss of the tickets was announced in their office cannot be taken as a proof of his knowledge of the tickets loss. This suspicion has been demolished by the fact that Mr. Sedda's departure from the office was immediately followed by two days off authorized by the medical officer of health. Mr. Sedda's illness, the court was told, went on for many days thereafter.

The court has very carefully considered all the evidence advanced by the parties and finds that in this case there was certainly no conclusive proof to connect Mr. Sedda with the loss of the tickets. Under the circumstances the court finds that Mr. Sedda suffered a wrongful dismissal. The court has come to the conclusion that in this case reinstatement is warranted.

The court accordingly proceeds to award that Mr. Sedda be reinstated back to his job, with effect from 1st of the month following the court award without any loss of benefits or seniority. He should be paid full salary for all the time he was out of employment. The respondents will be at liberty to post him at any station where an equivalent job of Mr. Sedda's grade exists.

E.A. Tanning Extract Co. Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Non-payment of house allowance to union members at the wood preservation plant at Njoro.

Underpayment of wages to union members at the wood preservation plant, Njoro.

THE Kenya Plantation and Agricultural Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and E.A. Tanning Extract Co. Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 29th August, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 10th September, 1984, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 1st March, 1985, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents are situated in Eldoret in the Rift Valley Province. Their activities include arable farming, livestock farming, charcoal production and wood preservation plant which manufactures several timber products. They have a permanent labour force of 1710 employees. In this dispute the claimants are demanding house allowance and adjustment of wages for 35 employees from the wood preservation plant but who work in the logging unit. This demand covers a period of two years of a collective agreement which expired at the end of April, 1985.

The claimants told the court that 35 employees involved are the sole suppliers of raw materials to the factory and their terms of employment are covered by the collective agreement which applies to employees at the respondents' factory.

Non-payment of house allowance.—The claimants stated that the respondents failed to pay these 35 employees house allowance of KSh. 115 per month for two years as they do to other employees who are not housed by the respondents at the factory.

Underpayment of wages.—The claimants demanded KSh. 543.40 per month for two years instead of KSh. 255 which these employees are getting currently.

The respondents submitted that the logging unit employees are not covered by the said agreement and stated that the claimants have been trying to have an agreement covering all the respondents' employees in every undertaking but in vain. They referred the court to cause No. 29 of 1970 where the claimants had asked the court to rule that these employees were covered by the factory collective agreement but the court had ruled otherwise.

None-payment of house allowance.—The respondents told the court that the employees in the logging unit move from one forest to another in the province depending on the availability of raw materials. They are housed in mobile houses so the question of house allowance does not arise. Furthermore, this unit is based away from towns where these employees could rent houses if house allowance was granted.

Underpayment of wages.—The respondents told the court that they pay employees in the logging unit 23 per cent higher than those of farm workers due to inconveniences which they are subjected to while moving from one area to another. In addition to that the respondents give these workers a cash allowance to purchase 3 bags of charcoal monthly.

After careful consideration of the parties' submissions the court finds that the employees in the logging unit are not covered by the collective agreement between the parties. The court accepts the respondents' explanation that even if these employees were to get house allowance it would be meaningless to them as there are no houses to rent in the forests so the court rejects the claimants' demand.

The court rejects the claimants' demand on underpayment of wages as these employees are not covered by the collective agreement in question.

Issue in dispute:

Interpretation of clause 28 of the collective agreement.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial, Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Distilling and Bottlers Group of F.K.E. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi, on 16th August, 1985, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 18th January, 1985, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 1st March together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents are a group of two employers namely:

Gilbeys East Africa Limited.

Kenya Wine Agencies Limited.

The claimants informed the court that there are other former members of the group e.g. Coca Cola Bottling Company of Nairobi, Coca Cola Africa Limited and Coastal Bottling Limited, but these firms negotiate their own collective agreements.

The present dispute arose out of a collective agreement which was negotiated by both parties and signed on 30th March, 1983, and covered the period 1st November, 1982, to October, 1984.

The claimants informed the court that they are seeking the court's assistance for proper and correct interpretation of clause 28 in relation to clause 7 (a) which reads as follows:

"Where group housing is available it will be allocated to the employees on an agreed rental basis, but where housing is not available, a housing allowance is paid in lieu. The house allowance payable equivalent to 11 per cent of the employees' present basic wage to cover the 1st year of the agreement. In 2nd year an increase of the house allowance granted in the 1st year will be made as follows:

- (i) 11 per cent of the basic wage.
- (ii) 11 per cent of 1st year's house allowance."

The claimants argued their case in court by saying that their interpretation of clause 28 in relation to clause 7 (a) as per their demands is the correct one and requested the court to uphold it. They argued that clause 7 (a) deals with the housing allowance; the basic wage for the purposes of calculating housing allowance is the actual wage or salary being earned by each individual employee during the duration of the collective agreement. The claimants gave an example by saying that if an employee earned KSh. 1,005 per month when he first joined the respondents and after one year he gets a service increment of KSh. 50 to bring his basic wage to KSh. 1,055 per month this employee should get house allowance calculated at 11 per cent of KSh. 1,055 for the 1st year and not calculated on KSh. 1,005 as per the respondents' interpretation. Lastly the claimants informed the court that one of the members of the group namely Kenya Wine Agencies Ltd. has implemented clause 28 in relation to clause 7 (a) as per the claimants' interpretation but they did this during the second year of the collective agreement and therefore they felt that the other member of the group namely Gilbeys East Africa should do the same. In addition both of them should implement it for the first year of the collective agreement as well. The respondents submitted that each company had offered housing allowance as they felt correct and that the court should allow them to continue doing so. They further submitted that as far as they were concerned, the basic wage for the purpose of calculating housing allowance is shown clearly in paragraph 28 of the collective agreement which sets out the "basic" wage. They argued that this system of calculating housing allowance by the respondents had worked smoothly for a number of years and that they are surprised that the claimants are now objecting to it. Nevertheless they told the court that one of their members, Kenya Wine Agencies Limited, has implemented clause 28 in relation to clause 7 (a) on housing allowance as per the claimants' demand. Notwithstanding this the respondents requested the court to dismiss the claimants' demand.

The court has taken into account submissions by both parties, written and verbal. What came to light is that the payment of the house allowance is acceptable to both parties but they differ on what is the basic wage for the purposes of calculating the housing allowance. The claimants believe that the basic wage is the actual wage earned by the employees during the lifespan of the collective agreement and must be used to calculate the housing allowance as per clause 7 (a). On the other hand the respondents believe that the basic wage is the starting wage when an employee joins the respondents and therefore that would be the basic wage for calculating the housing allowance. The court finds that both the parties are responsible for agreeing to a clause which gives rise to different interpretations and for this reason both of them should suffer the consequences equally. The court notes that one of the members of the respondents namely Kenya Wine Agencies Ltd. had implemented clause 7 (a) of the collective agreement as per the claimants' demands but for the second year only. The court awards that the other member namely Gilbeys East Africa Ltd. must do the same by implementing the above mentioned clause for the second year only as per the claimants' interpretation.

No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred.
