GAZETTE NOTICE No. 1022

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 71 OF 1982.

Parties:

Domestic & Hotel Workers' Union
and Maryhill High School.

Issue in dispute:

Termination of services of Mrs. Hellen Muli.

THE Domestic & Hotel Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Maryhill High School shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 16th November and 23rd December, 1982 and 1st February, 1983 and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses:

Claimants:

H. Muli,
G. Kabari.

Respondents:

F. J. Ngaru.
R. J. Wangui.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 9th September, 1981, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 22nd July, 1982, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mrs. Muli used to work for the respondents as a matron-in-charge, from 1st September, 1971, until 26th March, 1980, when her services were terminated for the reasons that the respondents' board had found that she was not efficient in her work, she did not comply with laid down rules as she was expected to do, that she did not respect and execute the directives given to her by the school administration, she had been found to collect money from students without any authority and finally because the board had also found that her academic qualification and training did not qualify her to be matron-in-charge of the school which now had form V and VII students. She was offered full benefits.

At some stage the claimants having stepped in, the matter was looked into by the Provincial Higher Education Officer, Central Province, the matter also had reached the head office of the Ministry of Higher Education. A meeting was held on 5th November, 1980, in the P.E.O.'s office under the chairmanship of Mr. Ger, the provincial education officer's representative. The headmistress, (the board secretary), Miss Wangui, Mr. Wahome and Mr. Ndolo, representing the claimants, and Mrs. Muli were also present. On 10th November, 1980, Mr. Ger set out what transpired at this meeting and the unanimous decision that was taken in the following terms:

"It is, however, learnt from the minutes of the board of governors for the joint meeting held on 19th September, the board had seen that the two ladies, Mrs. Muli and the headmistress would not possibly work together. This perhaps was one of the reasons why board members insisted Mrs. Muli must go. Taking this point into consideration the provincial higher education officer meeting decided as follows and it was unanimous:

(1) That the board of governors takes Mrs. Muli back immediately and pays her all the salaries she had missed while the case lasted.

(2) That her services will then be terminated in accordance with the current agreement signed between the Ministry of Higher Education and the Union. This means she will be paid three (3) months salary in lieu of notice and will also be paid for all the leave which she will have earned in 1980 up to date of termination."

Then Miss Wangui on behalf of the board informed the provincial education officer that the board had terminated Mrs. Muli's services and the decision was final and she further wrote that according to the law the board had the right to hire and fire its employees. She was emphatic that Mrs. Muli can't come back to Maryhill.

The claimants then reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and the ministry carried out an investigation through Mr. A. H. Mwaura of Thika labour office. The ministry's findings were that Mrs. Muli had a clean record prior to Miss Wangui's appointment as headmistress. After that a lot of correspondence was exchanged between Miss Wangui and Mrs. Muli and it appeared that they had suddenly developed a strong dislike towards one another and that the headmistress was too strong towards Mrs. Muli to an extent that she was ready to terminate her services irrespective of the magnitude of the offence Mrs. Muli may have committed. The investigator also stated that the respondents had not supported their allegations leading to Mrs. Muli's termination and he came to the conclusion that the termination was based on a personal grudge rather than Mrs. Muli's inefficiency and found that the termination had been wrongful. The ministry's recommendation was that Mrs. Muli be paid half salary for the period between 26th March and 10th November, 1980, (the date the P.E.O. gave a ruling on the matter) plus all other terminal dues in accordance with the parties' collective agreement. The respondents rejected the recommendations and in fact had earlier also rejected the directive from the Permanent Secretary for Higher Education which was conveyed to the headmistress on 5th June, 1981, in which it was stated:

"The Permanent Secretary Higher Education has instructed me to let you know that the Ministry's final stand now is that Mrs. Muli ought to return on duty. Failure to this the Ministry will pay no cost of defence in case the Domestic Union takes the matter to the Industrial Court".

So the matter is now before the Industrial Court.

The court heard the evidence of Mrs. Muli and the headmistress, Miss Wangui, and other witnesses called by the claimants and the respondents and it has also carefully considered the submissions made by the parties' representatives. The court finds it proved that Mrs. Muli indeed had a clean record up to the appointment of the new headmistress, Miss Wangui. The previous headmistress, Sister Claire Hamel in a certificate issued to Mrs. Muli stated that she had a natural gift for contact with students whom she understands and helps in every way. She is most devoted to her work and very responsible, a very good nurse always ready to attend to the different complaints of the girls and is very co-operative with the headmistress who can rely entirely on her for the order and discipline in the boarding block. Finally she said that Mrs. Muli had a sense of organization and efficiency in her work.

The court cannot accept the respondents' submission that this certificate from Sister Hamel should be disregarded because it was just one of those things which people issue when departing.

The disagreement between the two ladies started with the amount of K.Sh. 450 which the school had refunded to Mrs. Muli for her uniform. Miss Wangui thought that this was not in order because K.Sh. 450 was too much and that at the most Mrs. Muli will be provided with an overcoat which she will wear during working hours and then leave it in the school after finishing work as it was a school property like the lab coats which are given to the teachers who teach science. The court finds that this request was very unreasonable on the part of the headmistress. The relationship between the two then started deteriorating rapidly with the headmistress making all sorts of allegations against Mrs. Muli negligence of duty, failure to answer letters and account for things like buckets, curtains, bed covers, pillows, and it also led to the withdrawal of the facility of running the school tuckshop which Mrs. Muli used to run. In the letter withdrawing this facility from Mrs. Muli, the headmistress requested her to sell all the stock by the end of the term as she had not been kind to Maryhill so the headmistress did not see why the school should give her such a privilege! On the other matters Mrs. Muli did attempt to give the lists of the new pillows bedspreads etc. that were required but obviously they were not acceptable to Miss Wangui and she proceeded to hand out to Mrs. Muli warning letters. A third and final warning was given to Mrs. Muli on 4th February, 1980, because it was alleged that she had sold some things from her house to two girls despite having been warned by the headmistress not to do so. The interesting thing about this withdrawal of facility from Mrs. Muli to run the tuckshop is that she was required to hand over all the drugs etc. to a cleaner! This is rather strange. The court has carefully examined all these warning letters and gets the impression that they were really as result of clash of personality between the two ladies rather than any shortcomings on the part of Mrs. Muli in her work performance.

The court would like to comment on two matters which figured rather prominently during the hearing. One is in connection with the school goat which died of pneumonia but was certified by the vet that its meat could be eaten. The headmistress is alleged to have ordered it to be deepfrozen so that it could be served to the girls after their vacation but some other members of the staff ate it with the result that the headmistress had to ask them to refund the money for the meat eaten. This incident is really not relevant to the dispute except to attack the headmistress. The other incident is the allegation against the headmistress that she had encouraged girls to get pregnant and that she had announced it at the assembly. The court finds there is no truth in this allegation and the court accepts the headmistress's explanation that what she told the girls was that they should avoid pregnancies and if by any chance they did get pregnant they should not abort as that could be dangerous for them.

The court has very carefully considered the parties' submissions and the evidence of the witnesses and has come to the conclusion that it should uphold the findings of the Ministry of Labour that Mrs. Muli's termination was wrongful and the court finds she has suffered a wrongful dismissal.

The court has decided to make an award in terms of the unanimous agreement which the claimants' representatives and the headmistress in her capacity as the secretary of the respondents' board under the chairmanship of Mr. Ger made on 5th November, 1980. The court accordingly awards that the respondents should pay Mrs. Muli all her salary for the period between 26th March, 1980, to the end of November, 1980, and in addition to this should be paid a further salary for three months in lieu of notice. The respondents should also pay her for all the leave she had earned in 1980.

THE Tailors & Textiles Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Teita Estate (1972) Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 1st February, 1983, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 7th June, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 26th October together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The parties' collective agreement which is the subject matter of revision was effective from 1st October, 1979, for a period of two years expiring at the end of September, 1981.

By far the most important items in this dispute are the basic minimum wages, general wage increase and housing and house allowance.

The respondents have pleaded a serious inability to pay anything over and above 6 per cent wage increase for the first year and a further 6 per cent wage increase for the second year. On house allowance the respondents have offered to continue paying house allowance from K.Sh. 70 p.m. to 15 per cent on individual monthly salary which they are paying from 20th August, 1982.

They pleaded that since they took over the assets of African Ropes & Twines Ltd. on 15th October, 1976, they are in an economic dilemma and that their six years in twine industry had proved to be an economic miscalculation as the division had yet to make a profit the main reason being that their products are incompetent in the traditional markets of sisal fibre because of the unfavourable competition from subsidized hard fibres from Brazil, Tanzania and Mexico to name a few and the competition posed by synthetic fibres from developed countries.

The claimants have rejected the respondents' offer and are pressing for an increase in the basic minimum of 30 per cent first year and another 30 per cent for the second year; in addition they are demanding a wage increase of 30 per cent for the first year and another 30 per cent for the second year.

The court caused intensive investigations to be carried out by the Division of Manpower Planning & Development who produced two reports for the benefit of the court dated 24th January and 12th February, 1983. After the economist's second visit to the respondents factory sometime in early February, 1983, the court received a complaint from the workers dated 4th February, 1983, which reads:

"I write this letter to inform you that the labour officer came to our factory as it was said by the court. I informed you that the manager knew that he was to come through a telephone conversation, he stopped all the machines and left only one machine running. The manager told the employees to keep on cleaning the machines, walls window glasses of the factory. When the labour officer was inspecting the factory. No body was allowed to talk to the labour officer or to come near him by the manager. The labour officer came here at 3 p.m. when the factory closed at 5 p.m. we left him in the factory with our manager and the accountant until 6 p.m."

Leaving this aspect aside for the time being the court notes from the D.M.P.D. report that there has been a decline in the number of permanent employees from 44 in 1977 to 27 in 1982, but at the same time the engagement of casual workers has risen from 13 to 26 between the same period.

The D.M.P.D. also reveals that the respondents' firm has operated below capacity since 1978, and that 1982 had the lowest utilization of 12.1 per cent and forecast for 1983 was gloomy indeed unless there is an upsurge in demand from overseas markets.

As far as the financial position is concerned the respondents enjoyed profit earnings ranging between K.Sh. 715,475 to K.Sh. 7,863,555 in 1978 and 1979, respectively. The respondents have incurred losses in 1980 and 1981.

The workers' entitlement under the guidelines is on an average 20.4 per cent for the two year period. It is obvious that the claimants' demand of 30 per cent each year is way above the workers' entitlement under the guidelines and the respondents' offer of 6 per cent each year is 8.4 per cent less.

The court has very carefully considered all aspects of this dispute and has decided that all the items which are before the court except for that of general wage increase and house allowance, should stay at the level of the previous collective agreement and the new demands are rejected for the time being. On the issue of general wage increase the court awards that the workers should get a 10 per cent increase for the first year and another 10 per cent increase for the second year.

On the issue of house allowance the court awards that the workers should get an increase of 5 per cent on their current house allowance entitlement and another 5 per cent increase for the second year.

The court further rules that this award should be effective from 1st October, 1981, for a period of two years.

Given in Nairobi on the 7th March, 1983.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him an opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 75 OF 1982

Parties:

Drumcon (1973) Limited
and
Kenya Engineering Workers' Union

Issue in dispute:

Redundancy for eight manual workers in both drum and tinfilling sections.

DRUMCON (1973) LTD. shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and the Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 10th December, 1982, and 7th February, 1983, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 14th January, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 22nd July together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The parties are in dispute because the claimants are desirous of declaring eight manual workers in both drum and tinfilling sections redundant which move is strongly opposed by the respondents.

It is established that in March, 1977, the claimants had declared eleven employees redundant because they were facing sales reduction and due to the introduction of plastic containers instead of tin ones. The Division of Manpower Planning and Development analysis shows that the respondents have progressively reduced the number in employment from 36 in September 1977 to 17 in 1978.

There is a rather unsatisfactory feature of this dispute in that the claimants have not been very consistent in the number of workers they had wanted to declare redundant as on 19th January, 1981, they wanted to declare eleven (11) employees redundant, which figure they increased to 14 on 17th March which they again increased to 16 on 2nd September, 1981, and 21 days later they reduced it to 8.

During the hearing the respondents made a very valid point and that is that if the claimants are to continue in business they certainly need some labour force and if they were allowed to declare eight manual workers redundant out of nine then they will have to close down as they cannot operate with one.

The claimants have admitted that they employ casual workers from time to time with the claimants, maintaining that the casual workers were a regular feature of their operations. This is confirmed by the amount of money that is paid to these casual employees between September 1981 to August 1982. The court is satisfied that the claimants employ casual workers fairly regularly. Even the D.M.P.D. investigator established this fact. The court has taken into consideration the claimants' submission that they employ casual employees occasionally when there was work to be done.

The respondents have stated that since 1980 to the date of the hearing the claimants had lost seven workers either through retirement or resignations. This fact was not denied by the claimants.

The court has carefully considered this application by the claimants to declare eight of their employees redundant but is not satisfied as to its validity. The claimants should use workers from the drum section in tinfilling section when there is work there instead of employing casual workers. The court is of the view that the claimants should utilize their permanent staff fully rather than depend on casual workers. The court accordingly rejects the claimants' demand for declaring eight manual workers redundant. The court further directs that the claimants will be at liberty to raise the issue of redundancy after one year from the date of the court award if there is still need for it.

Given in Nairobi on the 9th March, 1983.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 100 OF 1982

Parties:

Railways and Harbours Union (K)
and
Kenya Railways Corporation

Issue in dispute:

Wrongful and/or unfair dismissal of Boniface Mulonzi Nzuki, teleprinter operator, contrary to staff regulation G. (13) (e).

THE Railways and Harbours Union (K) shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya Railways Corporation shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 3rd and 8th February, 1983, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 12th May, 1982, duly signed by both parties was received by the court on 8th October, 1982, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

This dispute essentially revolves around staff regulation G. 13 (e) in that whether or not it was properly applied in the case of Mr. Nzuki. This dispute was investigated by the Ministry of Labour and the ministry's findings and recommendation were released to the parties on 15th January, 1982, in the following terms:

"Investigation established that Mr. Nzuki had a habit of absenting himself from duty. He actually absented himself from 11th to 25th May, 1977 and although he collected the sick sheet on 14th May, 1977, he failed to present it to his superior within 48 hours as required by the staff regulation code. One would therefore be justified to believe that he did not attend the hospital at the material time. It is interesting to note that the sick sheet had not been duly signed by the doctor who treated him until 25th May, 1977, the day he reported back on duty and was told part II of the form had not been completed by the doctor. He later took it back to the doctor who signed for the off-duty backdating it to 14th May, 1977. The management were therefore justified in dismissing him from employment for absenteeism and deceit."

In view of the fact contained herein it is recommended that the management decision be upheld and the union's demand be rejected."

The claimants rejected the finding and the dispute is now before the court.

The facts of this dispute to a large extent are more or less agreed which in brief are that Mr. Nzuki had proceeded on four days' leave from 3rd May to 6th May, 1977, but he stayed away and did not resume duty until 10th May. He reported on duty on 11th May, 1977, and worked the night shift commencing at 00.00 hrs. the night of 11th May to 8 a.m. in the morning of the same day, i.e. eight hours' duty. He then remained absent on 12th, 13th and 14th May, 1977, when he then came for a sick sheet which was duly issued. On 26th May, 1977, he presented the sick sheet when he reported for duty. The respondents had, however, in the meantime treated him as having forfeited his appointment.

The sick sheet that he presented appears to be anything but genuine. To begin with when it was presented section 2 of the sick sheet had not been completed. Then there is an attempt to have it completed by backdating it to 11th May, 1977, but the interesting point is that the official Voi Hospital date stamp bears the date of 26th May, 1971! On page two of the sick sheet in section 3 the date is 26th May, 1977, and the official date stamp of the Voi Hospital again shows the date to be 25th May, 1971! The court has no hesitation in coming to the conclusion that it is a sickly attempt to cover this man's absence from duty.

The claimants have stressed that the respondents' officers superior to Mr. Nzuki at the Voi station knew that he was sick therefore there is no question of him being penalized under G. 13 (e) as having forfeited his appointment. This staff regulation reads as follows:

"G. 13 (e) an employee must not be absent from duty without permission or reasonable excuse and if he so absents himself for a continuous period of more than seven days he may be regarded as having forfeited his appointment with effect from the date of such absence. If such employee subsequently presents himself for duty he may, if the circumstances warrant such a course, be reinstated in the service and be permitted to resume duty, subject to such disciplinary measures as may be taken against him. An employee who is regarded as having forfeited his appointment under the provision of this paragraph will be deemed to have been dismissed in accordance with these regulations."

In the aforesaid circumstances the court has to determine if the respondents have applied this section correctly. The claimants referred to a letter written by the chief personnel manager to the chief traffic manager stating that since Mr. Nzuki had been issued a sick sheet by the Voi Hospital his whereabouts were known he should therefore be allowed to resume duty in accordance with the above staff regulation after the medical officer had completed his sick sheet. He further stated that for failing to present his sick sheet to his supervisor within 48 hours Mr. Nzuki should have been charged with violation of sick sheet regulations as laid down in the director-general's circular dated 15th June, 1971, and punished instead of forfeiture of appointment.

The court agrees with the respondents' submission that it would be dangerous to act on one isolated letter without examining all the correspondence on this matter. To begin with the court is satisfied that Mr. Nzuki's sick sheet was not completed by the medical officer. Or if it was that medical officer was extremely negligent and incompetent in his duties. The court, however, is inclined to believe that the sick sheet was never brought to the notice of the medical officer on duty at that time and Mr. Nzuki tried to manipulate the sick sheet through dubious means and got caught in the act.

The question arises that when an employee reports sick and then completely disappears without complying with the strict sick sheet regulations and is absent for more than seven days what are the respondents supposed to do under these circumstances? Should they wait for a person who claims to have been sick but who doesn't bother to inform his superiors within 48 hours as required, for him to report for work some two weeks afterwards and produce a fraudulent document which he claims to be genuine sick sheet? If the respondents were to operate in this manner they being one of the biggest employers in the country they would indeed be exposed to cases of severe indiscipline. The court finds that the person who claims to be sick should strictly comply with the sick sheet regulations and if he doesn't do so then he does so at his own risk and the respondents are at liberty to take a decision under staff regulation G. 13 (e) and consider such an employee as having forfeited his appointment.

The court has carefully considered all aspects of this dispute and concurs with the Ministry of Labour's finding that the management decision should be upheld. Mr. Nzuki clearly forfeited his appointment.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 1136

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE No. 103 OF 1982

Parties:
Kenya Engineering Workers' Union
and

Doshi and Co. Pipe Division Enterprises Ltd.

Issues in dispute:

- Basic minimum wages.
- House allowance.
- General wage increases.
- Casual workers.
- Effective date and duration.

THE Kenya Engineering Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Doshi and Co. Pipe Division Enterprises Ltd. shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on the 2nd February, 1983, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 29th June, 1982, duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 26th October together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

The respondents started their operations in 1980 as part of the trading company Doshi and Co. Hardware Ltd. They are involved in the manufacture of steel pipes and sections. There are several other Doshi enterprises along with the respondents with common directors.

The respondents have about 19 workers in their employment and this is the first collective agreement which is being negotiated between the parties and although originally there were quite a few items in dispute the parties were able to reduce to those which are now before the court.

The claimants have submitted that there was no reason why the respondents should not pay the same rates as their competitors like Brollo (K) Ltd., Kenya United Steel Co., Mabati Ltd. and Metal Box Co., as they were all involved in the same type of business and were members of the Association of Engineering Employers Group. They maintained that disparity in wages between competitors can cause serious problems as some firms can be driven out of business.

The respondents, however, maintain that since they were a new enterprise it would not be fair to equate them with older and well established firms. They were in desperate need of breathing space. They, however, pointed out that the engineering industry had two groups—major and minor.

The court notes that the claimants' demand on basic wages range from the lowest at K.Sh. 750 per month for technician, foreman, production and quality controller. As against this the respondents have offered a minimum of K.Sh. 500 and a maximum of K.Sh. 1,090.

In addition to this the claimants are asking for a 30 per cent wage increase from 1st January, 1981, and another similar increase from 1st January, 1982. The respondents have offered a general wage increase equivalent to 10 per cent of the monthly basic minimum wages for each employee's job classification for each year of the agreement.

The court notes that the parties signed a recognition agreement on 26th August, 1981, and it appears that the respondents are at present paying the statutory basic minimums. Since this is the first agreement between the parties it is somewhat difficult to work out the compensation to which the workers would be entitled due to the increase in the cost of living but since prior to this demand made by the claimants the workers were covered by an agreement signed by the Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers it would not be unfair to work out the cost of living increases and the workers' entitlement under the guidelines for the period between December 1979 to November 1981, or for the matter from January 1979 to December 1980. In the first case the workers' entitlement under the guidelines would amount to an average of about 19.3 per cent for the two-year agreement and in the second case to 17.3 per cent. The fact however remains that this is the first collective agreement.

After careful consideration of all the submissions the court awards that the basic minimum wages as at present should continue till the end of September 1983, after which the parties will be at liberty to revise them.

General wage increase

The court awards the following general wage increase:

- (i) With effect from 1st October, 1981, all the workers should get a wage increase of 15 per cent on their individual wages.
- (ii) With effect from 1st October, 1982, all the workers should get a wage increase of 12 per cent on their individual wages as at 30th September, 1982.

House allowance

The claimants' demand is that every employee should be paid a house allowance of K.Sh. 300 per month with the respondents offering an average house allowance of K.Sh. 115.

The court awards that the workers should get a 10 per cent increase on top of what the respondents have offered on the deconsolidated figure of house allowance as it appears on page 4 of their written submission with effect from 1st October, 1981.

Casual workers

The claimants made a very vigorous submission on this issue because they felt that the employers were really exploiting the workers by keeping them in casual employment for a number of years with the result that they were denied the fringe benefits.

The court notes that the I.M.P.D. economist found that there were 12 casual workers who had worked for the respondents for period ranging from one year to six years. This was ascertained from their employment cards. Some underpayments were also observed which, however, the respondents have offered to rectify immediately. In any case the senior labour officer in charge of that area should ensure that the workers are reimbursed all the underpayments that they have suffered. The court has decided to order the respondents to immediately convert the 12 employees who are named below with the years of service that they have rendered as casual to monthly employment and for future the court makes the following award in respect of casual workers:

Any casual employees working for the respondents for three consecutive months shall automatically qualify for permanent employment.

Name	Duration in years
Peter Kilele	3
James Mukhwana	3
Abdulla Myondo	3
Gabriel Obati	2
Gayni Ochieng	3
Dismus Omino	3
Mwidoru Mbovu	3
Humphrey Karisa	1
Bakari Ali	3
Mjomba Kishari	6
Hamisi Abdul	4
Boniface Odero	2

Effective date and duration

The parties are in agreement that the duration period of the collective agreement should be two years but on the effective date the claimants are demanding 1st January, 1981, and the respondents have proposed 1st December, 1981. Since the recognition agreement was signed on 26th August, 1981, the court has decided to award 1st October, 1981, as the effective date.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- (i) Signatures must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
