NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT
CAUSE NO. 73 OF 1985

Parties:

Bakery, Confectionery, Manufacturing and Allied Workers' Union (Kenya)

and

Aurora Baking Company (1975) Limited
Interpretation Application Ruling

THE parties have sought the court's interpretation arising out of the court award in Cause No. 73 of 1985 on two items of night shift allowance and application of the award.

After hearing the parties' submissions, the court rules as follows on the two items:

Night Shift Allowance

The court rules that the respondents' interpretation is correct on this item.

Application

The court rules that its award applies to unionizable employees who were in employment at the time the court award was announced. As such, only Mr. Mutisya will benefit under the court award until the date he was promoted. The other two employees whose posts are non-unionizable are not entitled to benefit under the court award. The court notes that there is no dispute regarding the 30 odd other unionizable employees.

Ruling on application for payment of arrears in instalments.

The respondents have applied to the court to allow them to pay the arrears arising out of the court award in twelve (12) equal instalments commencing on 1st May, 1986, due to cash flow problems.

The claimants have bitterly opposed this application saying that it was a malicious application designed to punish the poor workers and pointed out that the respondents had not even implemented the wage increases awarded by the court from the date the court announced its award.

The court after carefully considering the parties' detailed submissions, rules as an immediate measure that the wages of all the workers should be adjusted at once to reflect the wage increases awarded by the court in its award so that they will get these increases with their April 1986 salaries.

The total arrears that are due to the workers are in the region of KSh. 106,515 and the court would like to recall that these are for the period 1st July, 1982 to 30th June, 1985. So when the 1985/87 agreement is negotiated, further arrears will fall due to the workers.

The court awards that the aforesaid arrears should be paid by the respondents to their employees in three equal instalments every two months commencing from the end of May and the second one at the end of July with the final payment at the end of September 1986.

Dated the 7th May, 1986.

CAUSE NO. 79 OF 1985

Parties:

Kenya Scientific Research, International, Technical and Allied Institutions Workers' Union

and

Sharma and Sharma, Certified Public Accountants

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Ambrose Adunga Opiyo.

THE Kenya Scientific Research, International, Technical and Allied Workers' Union shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Sharma and Sharma, Certified Public Accountants shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 3rd February and 21st March, 1986, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath.

Claimants.—Ambrose Adunga Opiyo.

Respondents.—Abhy Kumar Sharma.

AWARD

3. The Minister for Labour referred this dispute to the Industrial Court in accordance with section 8 of the Trade

Disputes Act which was received by the court on 26th July, 1985.

The grievant in this dispute Ambrose Adunga Opiyo was employed by the respondents as a messenger from 24th February, 1970 to 14th September, 1981. He was later promoted to the position of a telephone operator at a salary of KSh. 1,100 per month.

The claimants stated that the respondents seconded him to a family business namely Messrs. Sirichand Industries Limited to continue employment as they were unable to keep him due to financial difficulties experienced by them.

The claimants went on to say that Mr. Opiyo all along knew that the respondents were his employers as they continued to take the responsibility of deducting and paying his N.S.S.F. and other statutory deductions to the appropriate bodies. Mr. Opiyo further understood that all his fringe benefits would eventually be paid by the respondents when he would finally resign or be retired. Mr. Opiyo was asked to leave on 12th July, 1982, as his services were no longer needed when the firm of Sirichand Industries was placed under receivership in April 1982. Mr. Sharma did not clearly advise Mr. Opiyo his intentions as he vaguely told Mr. Opiyo that he would assist him to purchase a piece of land in his home area provided he can get one. He gave Mr. Opiyo transport fare of KSh. 200 to enable him to go home and look for land. Mr. Opiyo proceeded with the plans but did not succeed in obtaining such land. Later he returned to Nairobi and advised Mr. Sharma that it was not possible and therefore demanded to be paid his benefits as promised before.

Mr. Opiyo later discovered that Mr. Sharma had changed his mind and was not going to fulfil his promise. He then approached the claimants who took up the matter with the Ministry of Labour and the dispute came before the court.

The respondents agreed that Mr. Opiyo was in their employment for a period of 11 years and 6 months after which he was employed by Sirichand Industries Limited which was in fact a separate legal entity and responsible for its own affairs.

The respondents further stated that Sirichand Industries Limited was wound by the joint managers and liquidators on 21st May, 1982, with whom the claimants should have taken up Mr. Opiyo's claim. When Sirichand Industries Limited was wound up Mr. Sharma asked Mr. Opiyo to rejoin the respondents but he failed to do so. The question of any offer to secure to shamba was purely on an ex-gratia basis and it was neither a condition nor a term of employment agreement.

The respondents, however, are willing to pay the grievant the severance pay of ten (10) days per annum for the 11 years period he worked for them amounting to KSh. 4,033.30.

The court notes that the respondents have complied with the court's directive that they should pay Mr. Opiyo a sum of KSh. 4,033.30 leaving a sum of KSh. 5,314.15 in dispute.

The court after hearing the evidence of both Mr. Opiyo and Mr. Sharma finds that Mr. Opiyo was employed by Sirichand Industries Limited which firm unfortunately went into receivership after which Mr. Sharma offered him a job as a registry clerk which he refused to accept as he preferred to go home. Mr. Sharma had toyed with the idea of buying a small piece of land for Mr. Opiyo and Mr. Opiyo went home to find the land but after three or four months came back with nothing tangible to report. Keeping all these points in view, the respondents having paid Mr. Opiyo a sum of KSh. 4,033.30, the court awards that they should pay him a further sum of KSh. 1,500 which would be an ex-gratia payment as Mr. Sharma had wanted to give Mr. Opiyo a fair deal.

Issues in dispute:

Dismissal of Mrs. Esther Ochieng.

Underpayment of Mrs. Esther Ochieng.

THE Amalgamated Union of Kenya Metal Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Marryat and Scott (Kenya) Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

Claimants:

E. Auma.
J. L. Apioyo.

Respondents:

M. A. Omolo.
J. N. Malwa.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 28th January, 1985, duly signed by the parties, was received by the court on 20th August, 1985 together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mrs. Esther Ochieng' according to the respondents, was employed by them from 6th March, 1973, on a part-time contract, working for two hours daily starting from 8 a.m., Monday to Friday. Her duties included cleaning the offices and making tea for the office staff of five. Thereafter she cleaned used utensils and tidied up the places as required. She worked in this capacity for twelve-and-a-half (12½) years without any warning.

In May 1983, her services were terminated following engagement of a better educated lady who could shoulder more responsibility. At that time, Mrs. Ochieng's age was advancing and she was not very literate, the respondents had no option but to dispense with her services. She then reported her case to the claimants who declared a trade dispute alleging that she was a full time employee and had been wrongfully dismissed and had been grossly underpaid. They claimed KSh. 58,581 from the respondents being the alleged underpayment. The respondents rejected all the demands.

The Ministry of Labour's finding and recommendation as conveyed to the parties confirmed that Mrs. Ochieng' was a part-time employee working for only two hours per day since her employment in 1972. The claimants had no proof of Mrs. Ochieng's underpayment, and the ministry recommended that the claimants' demands be rejected. The claimants rejected the ministry's finding and recommendations and the dispute is now before the court.

The claimants' main arguments were that Mrs. Ochieng' was never a part-time employee, she was in fact a full-time worker who was exploited by the respondents due to the ignorance of her rights. They pointed out that she regularly reported on duty at 8 a.m. and did the cleaning of the offices, made tea and then was sent out on different errands by the respondents which included delivery of letters, paying electricity and water bills, and collecting mail for the respondents. She had one hour lunch break daily and resumed work at 2 p.m. together with the others and left at 5.30 p.m. When Mrs. Ochieng's leave was due the respondents asked her to find someone to stand in for her. Similar practice was followed whenever she was unable to come to work for personal reasons. The claimants stressed that Mrs. Ochieng's increments were granted in accordance with the claimants' negotiations except that she never fully understood the contents of the vouchers she signed on pay day. In view of the volume of work she discharged daily, the claimants felt that she was seriously exploited and grossly underpaid for all the years she worked. After twelve (12) years service when she complained about her terms of service, the respondents terminated her services forthwith. Under these circumstances, the claimants demanded over KSh. 58,000 as underpayments and leave allowance. In addition, they demanded her reinstatement and full pay for the period she had been out of employment.

The respondents in their submissions reiterated that Mrs. Ochieng' was paid on hourly basis although she collected her total earnings at the end of each month. The contract between her and the respondents was fully explained to her and she fully understood it. She signed monthly for money due to her without question, and, when she was unable to attend to her official duties she produced a replacement and, at no time did she complain about underpayment or the hourly rate she was paid. Even her replacement never complained about work or pay. Mrs. Ochieng' and her replacements gladly accepted their dues monthly throughout her years of service with the respondents.

The respondents further gave an example of an Asian who had a contract with the respondents for cleaning the toilets only and was similarly paid monthly. In the case of Mrs.

Ochieng' she signed for having worked for two hours a day. The respondents refuted her assertion that she used to work the whole day which included duties of a messenger. They drew the court's attention to the fact that at no time since 1972 did the claimants raise the question of her underpayment with respondents. They wondered why she never raised the issue of underpayment with the claimants who had submitted in court that she was a silent subscriber to their union. Since Mrs. Ochieng' was introduced to the respondents by one of their own employees, the respondents failed to see her fear to direct her complaints to this employee who is well known to her husband, or to the claimants she claimed to belong to.

It was pointed out that in the respondents' organization, there was no afternoon tea until 1984, but from 1979 to 1984 only morning tea was served. The respondents asked the court not to rely on Mrs. Ochieng's tea testimony as collaborated by the claimants' witnesses who usually replaced her during her absences due to sickness or when she was on leave. Both replacements of Mrs. Ochieng' were close relatives, one being her sister and the other her own daughter who worked for about three months when her mother was operated upon.

To begin with, the court has noted that Mrs. Ochieng' rendered a blameless service with the respondents. She received no warning and had her rates revised whenever the wages of the unionizable were reviewed.

The court has carefully examined the submissions made by both parties but has been particularly staggered with the sweeping statements from the claimants regarding Mrs. Ochieng's total ignorance of her rights from the respondents which took her over 12 years before realizing them. The court further noted that the claimants had a collective agreement with the other unionizable staff. The claimants have failed to convince the court with the reasons why the issue of underpayment was never raised at any time during their regular negotiations with the respondents. The fear of her being dismissed if she had asked for her rights cannot be substantiated because, essentially, this is why one is a member of a trade union to correct any unfair labour practices whenever they are detected. One interesting point was that Mrs. Ochieng' was introduced to the job by a member of staff who is a family friend and she could not have remained silent when there was something unjust being practised monthly, year after year, for a period of over 12 years. Although the claimants' witnesses supported Mrs. Ochieng' in their evidence, the court found the testimony of an external auditor to be more reliable and saw no reason why he had to lie to support the respondents.

The respondents have firmly refuted the claimants' submissions that Mrs. Ochieng' had been sent to deliver letters and collect mail, pay water and electricity bills and did other duties of a messenger besides her usual office cleaning and tea making for office staff.

In consideration of the evidence placed before the court, the court is satisfied that the respondents were not out to cheat Mrs. Ochieng' as the figures contained in the vouchers she signed agreed with what she took home. The court found nothing unusual with the way Mrs. Ochieng' was paid as she had every opportunity to raise any issue regarding her pay with the respondents as this was her right. This, Mrs. Ochieng' failed to do. She neither complained to the claimants to whom she paid her union dues secretly nor did she complain to the respondents' employee who had introduced her to this work. The court cannot find Mrs. Ochieng' ignorant of what she was paid monthly, because it could not have taken her over 12 years to realize that she had been underpaid.

The court after considering all the evidence before it finds that this is a speculative claim where the complainant was silent for a period of over twelve (12) years without saying a word about her grievance. The court rejects all her demands. The court, however, has noted that the respondents had offered to make an ex-gratia payment to her of KSh. 2,000.

The court keeping in mind the fact that the respondents have made this offer in recognition of her 12½ years service would like to increase this ex-gratia payment to KSh. 3,000 in full and final settlement of her claims and the court so awards.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS TO THE KENYA GAZETTE

THE following notes are for the guidance of persons submitting "copy" for inclusion in the Kenya Gazette, Supplements, etc.:

- (1) The Kenya Gazette contains notices of a general nature which do not affect legislation. They are therefore submitted to the Government Printer directly.
- (2) Legislative Supplement contains Rules and Regulations which are issued by the Central Government. Because of this they must be submitted to the Government Printer through the office of the Attorney-General.
- (3) Bill Supplement contains Bills which are for introduction in the National Assembly.
- (4) Act Supplement contains Acts passed by the National Assembly.

All "copy" submitted for publication should be prepared on one side of an A4 sheet no matter how small the notice or Act, each page being numbered, and should be typewritten with double spacing. Copy should be clear, legible and contain a minimum of alterations.

Particular attention should be paid to the following points:

- (i) Signatures must be clarified by means of rubber-stamping or typing the name of the signer in capital letters.
- (ii) Dates must be correct and filled in where necessary.
- (iii) Care should be taken to ensure that all headings to notices and references to legislation are up to date and conform with the Revised Edition of the Laws of Kenya

EXTRACT FROM THE CODE OF REGULATIONS, SECTION D—Kenya Gazette

"D.14.(1) Communications for the Kenya Gazette should reach the Government Printer not later than 12 noon, on Tuesday of the week that publication is desired. The Government Printer will not publish communications received after that hour until the next subsequent issue of the Gazette.

(2) It will facilitate work at the Press if Permanent Secretaries will forward Gazette notices to the Government Printer when ready."

It is emphasized that these notes are for guidance only, but it is requested that persons submitting copy for publication first satisfy themselves that such copy is complete in every respect.
