18. Title of post.—COMPUTER NETWORK EXPERT (P-5).

Title of project.—Integrated Information Centre of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (SAU/80/011).

Location.—Jeddah, Saudi Arabia.

Background.—In view of the rapid increase of revenues from oil, the Kingdom is undertaking a correspondingly rapid social and economic development aimed at improving the social and economic conditions of the country, and at raising the standard of living of the people. Meanwhile, the Government of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, having realized its moral and economic obligations towards other developing countries in general, and Islamic countries in particular, is taking the lead to assist the socio-economic development efforts of friendly countries so that a fair distribution of wealth and economic stability can be achieved and maintained. The level of financial assistance given by the Kingdom has been steadily increased to its present level of about 7 per cent of the gross national product (GNP).

As a result, increasing responsibility has been assigned to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MOFA) to develop and channel economic and financial co-operation with both developing and developed countries. In order to cope with these added responsibilities, the MOFA has been making great efforts to expand and improve its institutional capacity.

Having realized the advantages of introducing modern computer technology in fulfilling the routine work of MOFA, a computer department was created within the ministry, and a joint work team of MOFA and the University of Petroleum and Minerals' Data Processing Centre was set up to study the possibility of utilizing computer technology in MOFA departmental operations. A computerization plan for MOFA was prepared by this team accordingly. This was examined and commented on by specialists from Unesco and the International Telecommunication Union (ITU). The major aim of the computerization plan is to mechanize various routine operations of MOFA such as the payroll system, entry visa and passports, personnel management, inventory, financial accounting, files and archives and to provide the possibility for online data consultation and retrieval so that the speed and efficiency of such procedures might be increased.

In this plan, special emphasis is also placed on training Saudi nationals in the operation and maintenance of such systems, in line with the development objectives of the Third National Development Plan (1980-1985).

In view of the above, the Government of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has requested UNDP/Unesco assistance to plan and implement data processing technology in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The present project was thus prepared to assist the Government in accomplishing this challenging task. The scope of this project will cover aspects of hardware and softwares planning and implementation, as well as the data transmission links within and outside Saudi Arabia. Since the ministry now has no personnel specially trained for this new technology, a thorough and systematic approach is needed for the conversion from manual to computerized procedures, for the establishment of priorities of systems to be computerized, and for the creation of expertise within the computer department. Being aware of the size and the complexity of the project, the assistance of highly specialized international experts is requested both for the planning and implementation.

National character of the project.—Operational projects, benefiting from Unesco assistance, are national projects and it is up to the beneficiary country to assume responsibility for directing the project as well as ensuring its proper implementation. The national authority will also be responsible for the utilization of equipment including supplies and vehicles, as far as the activities defined in the project document are concerned. Consequently, the international specialists will carry out their mission under the guidance of the national authority. The specialists, as staff members of Unesco, are placed under the authority of the director-general of the organization and will answer to him for the manner in which they carry out their functions, and, in certain cases, they will be under the supervision of the chief technical adviser.

Functions.—Within the framework of the division of the general information programme of Unesco and in close co-operation with the chief technical adviser, the incumbent will advise on and assist in all aspects of the global network and interface problems to the computer centre of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The computer centre shall be the centre of the distributed data processing system, the full access to which shall be possible from the ministry offices in Taif and Jeddah, as well as from up to 120 embassies abroad connected to the ministry by a dedicated global network. In particular, the incumbent will:

- (1) Advise on interface problems between the global network and the central data facilities at the ministry.
- (2) Organize a team of national staff to design and operate data handling and data transmission task.
- (3) Establish liaison and co-operate closely with other departments of the ministry and Government agencies within the country and abroad.
- (4) Assist in planning the routines and capacity of the network.
- (5) Assist in specifying the equipment required.
- (6) Train ministry staff on the job with the intent of replacing himself and other foreign technical personnel.

Qualifications:

- (1) M.Sc. or equivalent in electronic engineering.
- (2) More than three years' experience in data processing systems design and management with extensive working experience in a responsible position on data transmission, including familiarity with telex equipment, interfacing computer equipment and other modules for date transmission on various types of carriers, message switching controllers, access methods and monitors.

Language qualifications.—Excellent knowledge of English.

Duration of appointment.—One year, starting as soon as possible, with possibility of extension.

International salary and allowances (P-5).—Net of national income tax—25 per cent payable in the currency of the duty station and the rest in a currency of the staff member's choice. Net base salary per annum: the equivalent of $33,319 ($30,776 if without dependents), post adjustment (cost of living, subject to change without notice), as of 1st June, 1981, the local equivalent of plus $23,183 ($21,420 if without dependents), assignment allowance: the local equivalent of $2,400 ($1,900 if without dependents), family allowances: each dependent child $450 (if there is no dependent spouse, this indemnity is not payable for the first dependent child). GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3907

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE No 5 OF 1981

Parties:

Kenya Management Staff Association

and

Kenya Posts & Telecommunications

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of J. Otianga.

INTERPRETATION APPLICATION

Ruling

The Court announced its award in the above dispute on 10th July, 1981 and made the following award:

"The Court awards that Mr. Otianga should be reinstated to his former employment with the Respondents with effect from 1st August, 1981 without any loss of service. The Court further awards in addition to Mr. Otianga's reinstatement that he should be paid one third salary for all the time that he was out of employment with the Respondents."

The Claimants have applied for the interpretation of this award and have alleged that the Respondents have not bothered to comply with the Court award because they have not paid him the sum of Sh. 50,658.40 made up as follows:

"Salary at Sh. 2,515 x ½ x 34 ...	28,503.40
House allowance Sh. 600 x 34 ...	20,400.00
Incremental credits Sh. 85 x 3 ...	255.00
Claims for bus fare during his case lunches allowance ...	1,500.00
	50,658.40"

They have further demanded the following five items which they maintained are part and parcel of the Court award:

"His leave of 90 days should not be forfeited. Leave facilities (travelling warrants and leave allowance) for all the period he has been out.

Conditions when in take on service and reinstatement.

The new salary reviews as from 1st January, 1981. He would have been promoted or entitled for the career by this time consideration should be taken into account."

The Claimants also asked the Court to impose a fine on the Respondents as laid down in the Trade Disputes Act for the non-compliance of the Court award.

The Respondents replied that they had already complied with that part of the award which required Mr. Otianga to be reinstated to his former employment. They admitted that they have not paid the claimants the sum of Sh. 50,658.40 demanded by them as their interpretation of the award was that the words "without any loss of service" do not mean or imply "without loss of allowances, benefits or pecuniary compensation for the period Otianga was out of employment" as the Claimants want to contend.

The Respondents produced a detailed computation of one third salary for the period 29th September, 1978 to 31st July, 1981 under which they stated that Mr. Otianga was entitled to Sh. 32,137.55 only less his tax liabilities.

Apart from this straightforward difference between the parties the Respondents stated that Mr. Otianga had left his place of work on 28th October, 1981 and is purported to have written a letter of resignation to the managing director on 29th October, 1981. They also alleged that he was already employed by another firm and that as a matter of fact when the Claimants had asked for his reinstatement they very well knew that he was already employed! They were very critical of Mr. Otianga and the Claimants and stated that they were not only dishonest to the Court but were attempting to obtain from the employer money far in excess of that awarded by the Court in its award.

The Court is very disturbed at the information that the Respondents gave to the Court re Mr. Otianga's behaviour and subsequent alleged resignation from his employment with the Respondents after the Court had awarded his reinstatement on a most vigorous plea made on his behalf by the Claimants. The Court would like to warn that if this sort of behaviour is not checked it will only lead to erosion of faith which the Court has in the parties that appear before it. The Court only hopes that this is a solitary case otherwise it would indeed be tragic.

The Court award is very clear in that in addition to awarding reinstatement of Otianga with effect from 1st August, 1981 without any loss of service the Court awarded that he should be paid one third salary for all the time he was out of employment with the Respondents. The Court made its award on the strength of the sworn testimony of Mr. Otianga that during the three years he was out of employment he had done only part-time jobs. For these reasons the Court awarded him only one third salary. The Court did not award him anything more than that.

The Court finds that the Respondents' interpretation of its award is absolutely correct and the Court upholds it. The Court directs that as soon as Mr. Otianga's tax liabilities are ascertained he should be given the sum of Sh. 32,137.55 being one third salary that he would have earned for the period 29th September, 1978 to 31st July, 1981 less his tax dues.

As far as Otianga's alleged resignation and the matters connected therewith are concerned they are not part and parcel of these proceedings and the Court would therefore not like to say anything else other than what is already stated in this ruling.

Dated the 14th December, 1981.

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT CAUSE NO. 47 OF 1981

Parties:
Kenya Management Staff Association
and
The Aga Khan Hospital

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Michael Muiruri.

1. The Kenya Management Staff Association shall hereinafter be referred to as the Claimants and the Aga Khan Hospital, Nairobi, shall hereinafter be referred to as the Respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 10th and 11th November, 1981, and in addition to relying on their written and verbal submissions called the following witnesses to give evidence on oath:

Claimants.—M. Muiruri.

Respondents:

J. K. Chepkwony.
A. Manji.
M. A. Jeraj.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 12th June, 1980, duly signed by the parties was received by the Court on 14th August, 1981, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

Mr. Muiruri joined the Respondents as a messenger in 1966 and rose to the position of chief cashier in 1977 by which time his salary had also increased to Sh. 2,848.35 p.m. In October, 1978, he was transferred to the creditors section as a credit clerk and his salary was again increased to Sh. 3,248.

On 24th July, 1979, he was served with a letter of suspension because of an incident which occurred on 21st July at about 11.30 a.m. when his car KNP 607 was used by way of hiding a tin of paint. He was suspended with pay pending further investigations with effect from 25th July. On 8th October, 1979, he was served with the following letter of dismissal signed by the Respondents' administrator:

"We have now completed investigation into the case in which paint stolen from the hospital was found being put in your car on 21st July, 1979. We regard this as gross misconduct and therefore dismiss you with effect from the date of this letter. You will be paid for the period of suspension from 25th July, 1979 to 8th October, 1979."

The Claimants reported a trade dispute to the Minister for Labour and an investigation was carried out. The Ministry's recommendation was that Mr. Muiruri should be reinstated without any loss of benefits or alternatively he should be paid 12 months' salary plus all his terminal benefits for the wrongful dismissal he has suffered. The Respondents rejected these and the dispute is now before the Court.

The Court after having heard the parties' submissions and the witnesses' evidence finds that there is no dispute on the following points:

(1) Mr. Muiruri through his sheer hardwork and good performance over the years rose from the position of a messenger to that of a chief cashier from where he was transferred to credit section with an increment. During all this time he had a clean record as no warning letters of any kind were produced against him.

(2) On 21st July, 1979, Mr. James Kiplangat Chepkwony, a watchman for the Respondents for the last 14 years, saw a cleaner pushing a trolley with a dustbin near the casualty ward. He watched the cleaner take the trolley to the parking place and stop near Mr. Muiruri's car. The cleaner then opened the boot of Mr. Muiruri's car and placed something wrapped in brown paper in it. Mr. Chepkwony went to the car and asked the cleaner to open the boot which the cleaner refused with the result that Mr. Chepkwony opened it himself and found that there was a tin of paint in the brown paper. The matter was then reported to the personnel section.

(3) The cleaner, Mr. Muiruri and a painter were either taken or asked to come to the police station where statements were taken from them. The police inquiries ended with the cleaner, F. M. Gitau, being charged for having stolen one tin full of white paint, the property of the Respondents. A District Magistrate III acquitted him.

(4) The Respondents then negotiated this cleaner's termination with the Domestic Union with the result that the cleaner resigned from their employment on 1st February, 1980, and was given 81 days' salary as terminal benefits on an ex gratia basis.

The Court having found the above facts established, now has to decide if the Respondents had any valid grounds for dismissing Mr. Muiruri for gross misconduct notwithstanding the fact that he was not charged with any criminal offence and that he was not even called by the police to give evidence against the cleaner in the criminal proceedings.

There is no dispute that the cleaner did place tin of paint which he was pushing in the trolley in Mr. Muiruri's car. Mr. Muiruri of course has denied any knowledge of what the cleaner did or that he had connived with the cleaner to steal this paint to use for painting a building which he was erecting in Murang'a.

The Respondents had put forward a proposition that because Mr. Muiruri was building a house in Murang'a and because the painter and the cleaner were Mr. Muiruri's relatives that all three of them had acted together to steal the paint from the hospital in order to use it on Mr. Muiruri's building. They further suspected him of being the mastermind behind this conspiracy.

The Claimants have vigorously submitted that Mr. Muiruri was never connected with the alleged theft and that his dismissal was therefore wrongful and asked the Court to make an award in line with the Ministry's recommendation.

Leaving aside the evidence of all the other witnesses the Courts finds that the Respondents' witness Mr. Chepkwony was a truthful witness and the Court was impressed by his evidence. This witness's evidence remained substantially unshaken despite vigorous cross-examination. The material part of his evidence reads as follows:

"On 21st July, 1979, I can remember when I was on duty at about 11 a.m., Saturday, I saw a cleaner pushing a trolley with dustbin near the casualty. Mwangi was pushing. He pushed it to the middle of the car park and stopped. He opened the lid and took out a parcel in brown paper. Then he put it in Mr. Muiruri's car, in the boot. I went there and asked him what he had put there. I think he could not see me. I asked him to open the boot he refused then I opened myself. He then went to front door opened it and pretended he was cleaning it. I caught him in one hand and the parcel with the other and walked to record office. I met Mr. Muiruri in the corridor. He asked me what was the matter, I said 'he kept this in your car'. I started moving and Muiruri told me to leave Mwangi and Muiruri will give me something. Then I met Jeraj near the personnel office. I showed Jeraj the paint tin. Muiruri was also coming with us. When I showed Jeraj the paint Muiruri stayed behind. When the personnel officer came I showed him the paint. Personnel officer telephoned Parklands Police Station. The personnel officer then went to Muiruri's car. The boot was open, dustbin trolley was still there."

The Court has very carefully considered this whole dispute and whereas the manner in which the Respondents carried out their investigations and the evidence of their personnel officer was most unsatisfactory the fact still remains relying on Mr. Chepkwony's evidence that the cleaner placed the tin of paint in Mr. Muiruri's car and that subsequently Mr. Muiruri tried to persuade Mr. Chepkwony to leave the cleaner on the promise that Mr. Chepkwony would be given something by Muiruri for doing so. This piece of evidence given by Mr. Chepkwony is strong enough to make the Respondents lose confidence in Mr. Muiruri to remain in their employment in a responsible position in the credit section where he had moved only recently from the post of a cashier.

The Court, however, finds that the circumstances of this dispute did not warrant a summary dismissal and that the Respondents should have utilized their contractual right of handling him a normal termination with full benefits. The contract of employment between Mr. Muiruri and the Respondents provides in clause 12 (c) as follows:

- 12. This agreement may be terminated at any time—
 - (a) If 1 month's notice is given in writing by the employee together with the necessary refund or part refund of all monies paid by the Board covering the passage and baggage of the said employee and any other expenses which may have been incurred by the Board.
 - (b) By the Board summarily and without notice if the employee be guilty of insubordination, gross misconduct or gross negligence of duty or refusal to perform his duty or any lawful order given.
 - (c) By the Board by giving in writing to the employee one month's notice or by the Board paying to the employee month's salary in lieu of said notice."

The Court had no evidence before it that the Board took the decision to terminate Mr. Muiruri's service and in any case since Mr. Muiruri was not given one month's notice the Court finds that technically he has suffered a wrongful dismissal for which however, the Court feels he is not entitled to heavy compensation.

The Claimants produced as appendix 3 a document headed staff benefits in which in clause 1 under retirement benefit it is provided as follows:

"After 5 continuous years of service you will be entitled to 20 days pay for each completed year of service when you leave the hospital's employment. This benefit will be calculated as follows:

— x annual salary at termination x number of years
365 continuous service.

Staff whose services are terminated for misconduct will not be entitled to this benefit."

The Court having found that Mr. Muiruri's employment should have been terminated under his contract of employment awards that the Respondents should pay him one month's salary in lieu of notice, full pay for the month of October 1979, one month's salary by way of compensation, all earned leave and full retirement benefits as provided in the aforesaid clause.

Given in Nairobi on the 9th December, 1981.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 3909

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on Form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of Sh. 50.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the Registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the Registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the Registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.
