THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 12 OF 1990

Parties:

Kenya Union of Commercial Food & Allied Workers
and
Kenya National Assurance Co. Ltd.

Issues in dispute:

1. Hours of work.
2. Annual salary increases.
3. House allowance.

THE Kenya Union of Commercial Food and Allied Workers shall hereinafter be referred to as the claimants and Kenya National Assurance Company Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 17th July, 1990, and relied on their written and verbal submissions.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 19th July, 1989, and duly signed by the parties was received by the court on 2nd February, 1990, together with the statutory certificate signed by the Labour Commissioner.

At the commencement of the hearing of this dispute, the parties informed the court that the only issues under consideration in this case are hours of work and house allowance, i.e. issues No. 1 and No. 3. Issue No. 2 hereof is covered under Cause No. 26 of 1990.

The respondents are a parastatal organization, incorporated under Cap. 486, Laws of Kenya, and a member of the Insurance Employers Group of F.K.E. They have also had a recognition agreement with the claimants, dating back to 1972. It is normally the group, comprising 15 members, which negotiates on behalf of its members terms and conditions of employment of their employees with the claimants; and only 10 out of the 15 are active members. The member companies have never negotiated individually and directly with the claimants.

The respondents are engaged in all aspects of insurance underwriting, and their total labour force is about 1,000 employees, out of whom 638 are unionizable and 512 of the said 638 unionizable employees are affected by this dispute.

This dispute arose over the non-implementation by the respondents of the Industrial Court Award No. 75 of 1987 in respect of house allowance and annual increment, and also over the alleged alteration of hours of work by them in December, 1986, from 38 to 40 hours working week.

On 24th, 27th and 28th February, 1989, the respondents' unionizable employees staged an illegal strike over the issues in dispute; but, at the intervention of the Ministry of Labour, a return-to-work formula was reached between the parties. Consequently, the Ministry of Labour appointed an investigation committee to look into the issues in dispute, and when the chief industrial relations officer forwarded the committee's findings and recommendation to the parties, no settlement was reached and the matter is now before the court for consideration.

The court fully realizes the important principles that are at stake in this dispute; and, in the circumstances, it has to reconcile them with the harsh economic realities and the Government directives. For this reason, the court would like to emphasize that each dispute before it is decided on its own special merits, after taking into account the historical background of the particular dispute, the nature of the industry involved, the level of remuneration achieved by the workers, the financial viability of the enterprise and a host of other very relevant points.

After serious consideration of the parties' submissions on this matter, the court, therefore, awards as follows on each issue:

1. Hours of work

On 11th December, 1986, the respondents' Managing Director, Mr. J. J. Mbaki, issued a circular No. GMA/13/165/86, in which he advised all members of staff of the Government's directive that, with effect from 15th December, 1986, the working hours would be eight (8) in a day, or 40 hours working week, i.e. from Monday to Friday. They must begin at 8 a.m. and end at 5 p.m., with a lunch break of one hour between 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. At the material time there was a two-year valid collective agreement in force between the claimants and the Insurance Employers Group of F.K.E., of which the respondents were a party, effective from 1st January, 1985, to 31st December, 1986. The claimants' stand was that, although they had expressed their willingness to start negotiations three (3) months prior to the expiry of the current collective agreement, they were not prepared to consider any change of the working hours from 38 to 40 hours working week during the lifetime of the agreement.

On the other hand, the respondents maintained that the Government had given them directives to harmonize their working hours in conformity with other public sectors in terms of paragraph 23 of circular No. 1/81, ref. No. OP.9/21/2A/IV/171 of 18th February, 1981, and circular No. 1/87, ref. No. OP.9/21/2A/Vol. 31/85 of 12th July, 1987, and accordingly they were not prepared to negotiate on the matter.

On the parties' written and verbal submissions, and the documentary evidence before the court, it is evident that although a simmering animosity existed between the parties since 1987, no formal report of a dispute was made to the Minister for Labour until the aforementioned illegal strike was sparked off in February, 1989, and a return-to-work formula reached. Consequent to a meeting held on 28th February, 1989, the respondents' Managing Director, Mr. J. J. Mbaki, wrote on 6th March, 1989, to the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Finance, on this issue, inter alia, as follows:

"Since 1st January, 1987, the hours of work were changed... This was done with the approval of the Board as it was felt that K.N.A.C. working hours should be in accordance with the Government practice as is applicable to the Civil Service and State Corporations. I may add here that Kenya

Reinsurance Corporation which is a member of the insurance group follows the above working hours. . . .

We are the only parastatal which was working 38 hours per week as opposed to 40 hours."

The letter was copied to the Permanent Secretary/Secretary to the Cabinet and the Inspector of Statutory Boards, Office of the President. In his reaction thereto on 21st March, 1989, the Permanent Secretary/Secretary to the Cabinet stated in part as hereunder:

"It is surprising to note that the Kenya National Assurance staff have been working for 38 hours instead of 40 hours per week as it is the practice in other parastatals."

In his reply, on 26th April, 1989, the Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Finance, advised:

"...that K.N.A.C. staff should adhere to the working hours applicable within the Civil Service and other state corporations. K.N.A.C. should therefore adjust the hours accordingly."

On 7th July, 1989, the Inspector of State Corporations, Office of the President, also commented and recommended thus:

(a) Terms and Conditions of Service.—I would like to draw your attention to paragraph 31 of circular No. 1/87, ref. No. OP.9/21/2A/Vol. 31/(85) of 27th July, 1987, regarding the above subject which underscores . . . the desire of the Government to harmonize terms of employment for the public sector as a whole. . . .

(b) Unionizable Staff Terms of Service.—In connection with (a) above, while appreciating the prudence of collective bargaining in the public sector, such bargaining should be in keeping with paragraph 29 of the same circular and in keeping with specific guidance issued from the Inspectorate of State Corporations from time to time.

(c) Government Involvement.—Government involvement in the determination of salaries and terms and conditions of service in state corporations is because of the need to establish parity and harmony as envisaged by paragraph 31 of circular 1/87 referred to in (a) above. Since its participation in the tripartite agreement of 1984, the Government should no longer be regarded as an outsider in the determination of terms of service in the public sector.

Recommendations.—...in the interest of long-term industrial harmony in the public service, all the Kenya National Assurance Company workers including unionized workers should harmonize their working week with the rest of the public sector.

...The company should accordingly adjust its working week in line with the changes effected on 16th December, 1986, and apply 40 hours per week and 45 hours per week for clerical staff and subordinate staff respectively".

As stated hereinabove, the current valid collective agreement was to run for its full duration until 31st December, 1986, and it could only be varied during its lifetime on very special and exceptional circumstances. The respondents maintained that, although they were duty-bound to negotiate with and consult the claimants, they unilaterally altered the hours of work in accordance with the Government directives that they should not fall out of step with the rest of the public sector. After all, they contended, the collective agreement under review had only 16 days to its termination by effluxion of time.

The claimants countered that the Government directive should not have been issued when there was an existing collective agreement between the parties. They felt that such directives normally weaken the confidence between employers and trade unions to the detriment of the workers' interests. They accused the respondents of unilaterally and arbitrarily altering the working hours to the disadvantage of their members.

The respondents are a public organization with wider obligations than a commercial concern in a private sector; and, as a major investor in such an organization, the Government is, therefore, the dominant actor in matters relating to its efficient and profitable operations in order to bring it on a strict commercial principle, to a more rational accommodation with the rest of the economy. Indeed, the very survival of public corporations or parastatals in this country owe much to the Government on whose directives and regulations they revolve.

The court believes that the Government has power to mould the economic practices and operations of its institutions with a view to injecting some efficiency in them in order to meet the changing social and commercial needs of its people and also to secure the necessary services to them. Needless to say, but to deny the Government the right to regulate the business operations of public corporations or parastatals under its purview would be fraught with serious economic consequences to the country.

In the court's opinion, the directive pertaining to this issue was not intended to violate the parties' collective agreement, or to deprive the parties of their power to negotiate terms and conditions of employment of the employees. The Government, being familiar with the economic viability or otherwise of the respondents, was, primarily, the best judge of the necessity of such a directive. The mere fact that a court, or any party for that matter, may differ with the Government in its views of public policy, or holds views inconsistent with the propriety of a particular directive, affords no ground for judicial interference. The court, however, feels that the Government attention should be drawn to the fact that in order to avoid industrial unrests in the public sector, such directives must not conflict with existing collective agreements between employers and trade unions.

With these observations, and keeping in view the recommendations of the parastatals advisory committee, the court is satisfied that the 40 hours working week, Monday to Friday, or 8 hours per day, are quite fair, reasonable and inoppressive, and, in the circumstances, the claimants' demand of overtime payment with effect from 1st January, 1987, to date is rejected. However, the court awards that the respondents should make overtime payments, if any, to the affected employees for the period 15th to 31st December, 1986, only during which the parties' collective agreement which was in force at the time would have run to its full course.

Finally, the court directs that the parties should observe and implement, in conformity with other public institutions, the 40 hours working week with effect from 1st January, 1987.

2. House Allowance

In Cause No. 75 of 1987, this court awarded an increase on the rates of house allowance as tabulated as shown below:

Grade	1st year (1987)	2nd year (1988)
Subordinate staff	310	340
Special subordinate staff	300	360
Clerical Grade III	440	480
Clerical Grade I	470	520
Senior Clerical Officer	570	620

The respondents' rates which became effective from January, 1987, stood as follows:

Grades	Sh.
Subordinate staff	550
Special subordinate staff	650
Clerical Grade II	800
Clerical Grade I	950
Senior Clerical Officer	1,150

The respondents have, however, denied this benefit to their employees on the ground that they were already paying higher rates of house allowance than what the other members of the Insurance Employers Group of F.K.E. were paying. Nevertheless, the respondents had agreed to adjust the rates of the employees' house allowance in accordance with the court's award during the second year of the parties' collective agreement. The adjustment was rejected by the claimants and felt strongly aggrieved on this matter.

In his letter referred to hereinabove, the respondents' managing director, Mr. J. J. Mbaki, maintained that the employees' house allowance were "far higher than what the court had awarded." He tabulated the rates payable to the employees vis-a-vis the court award, and suggested that the house allowance should be "frozen until the other members of the insurance group reached them." The Permanent Secretary, Ministry of Finance, supported him on this score.

The court would like to make it quite clear that, the payment of a house allowance to an employee, in addition to his monthly wage, represents a very important part of income to many workers. The respondents were and still are a member of the Insurance Employers Group of F.K.E.; and for this reason an award for, or against, the members of the group binds all the members and should equally be borne by them. The fact that they were paying higher rates of house allowance than the other members of the group is immaterial; and their assertion that they would freeze the employees' house allowances until the other members catch up with them is also of no consequence in this matter.

After careful consideration of the submissions by the parties, the court, therefore, finds that there is no justification by the respondents for denying this additional benefit to the employees; and, in the circumstances, the court awards that all the affected employees are entitled to the additional house allowances in terms of its award in Cause No. 75 of 1987.

In view of this weighty financial burden on the respondents the court directs that the arrears to date, amounting to Sh. 631,920 or thereabouts, should be paid in three (3) equal monthly instalments, with effect from 30th October, 1990, and thereafter on the 30th of each and every succeeding months until payment in full.

Dated the 12th October, 1990.

GAZETTE NOTICE NO. 5172

THE INDUSTRIAL COURT

CAUSE NO. 45 OF 1990

Parties:

Kenya Shoe and Leather Workers' Union
and Macquin Shoes Ltd.

Issue in dispute:

Dismissal of Stephen Muganga.

THE Kenya Shoe and Leather Workers' Union shall herein-after be referred to as the claimants and Macquin Shoe Limited shall hereinafter be referred to as the respondents.

2. The parties were heard in Nairobi on 26th June and 1st and 15th August, 1990, and relied on their written and verbal submissions. The respondents also called their factory administration manager, Mr. Simon Karanja Munyaka, to give evidence on oath.

AWARD

3. The Notification of Dispute Form "A" dated 4th August 1989, and duly signed by the parties, was received by the court on 8th March, 1990, together with the statutory certificates signed by the Minister for Labour and the Labour Commissioner.

The grievant was employed by the respondents on 2nd January, 1987, as general labourer, earning a salary of Sh. 800 and Sh. 200 house allowance per month. At the time of his dismissal in November, 1987, he had served the respondents for a period of about 10 months only.

The incident which led to the grievant's dismissal arose on 14th November, 1987, between 9.30 a.m. and 9.40 a.m. It is alleged that one foot of men's leather upper was found, on inspection at the main gate, hidden in some waste material which the grievant was carting away for disposal from the factory. When he was being questioned by the gate sentry about it, the production manager, Mr. Yusuf Quadir who came along, felt that the leather material was still useful. He, therefore, sent for the factory administration manager, who is a witness in this case; and, on arrival, the latter confirmed that the leather material was still of some use.

The senior shop steward, Mr. Mutiso, and his assistant were also called; and, after some lengthy discussion and arguments, the respondents finally agreed to treat the matter as closed if the grievant wrote a letter of apology to them. But, instead of writing the letter of apology, the grievant deserted or disappeared from his place of work from 14th until 17th November, 1987, when he brought a letter from the claimants' Mombasa branch secretary in which the latter requested for a meeting with the respondents on 20th November, 1987.

During their informal meetings on 20th November, 1987, and 7th January, 1988, the parties failed to settle the matter, and the claimants, therefore, formally reported the dispute to the Minister for Labour on 25th January, 1988, in accordance with section 4 of the Trade Disputes Act (Cap. 234), laws of Kenya. The dispute was accepted by the ministry, and Mr. A. O. Ambenge was appointed to act as an investigator. Thereafter, on 26th July, 1989, the Chief Industrial Relations Officer released the findings and recommendation to the parties. The report was acceptable to the respondents, but it was rejected by the claimants and the matter is now before the court for consideration.

In the circumstances, the claimants prayed the court to set aside the ministry's findings and recommendation and award the grievant reinstatement to his job without loss of his rights and benefits. Alternatively, the grievant should be paid:

- (i) One month's salary in lieu of notice.
- (ii) Leave travelling allowance.
- (iii) Pro rata leave.
- (iv) Eight (8) days pay.
- (v) 12 months compensation for loss of employment.

The respondents finally submitted that the grievant misconducted and rendered himself liable to summary dismissal, and accordingly prayed the court to reject the claimants' case in total.

There is no dispute in this case that the one foot men's leather upper was found in the waste material which the grievant was carting away to the dustbin. The claimants maintained that such one foot of men's leather uppers were usually part of the waste material. This was denied on oath by the factory administration manager, Mr. Munyaka, and his denial has to be accepted by the court because no evidence has been adduced from the claimants to support their allegation. In fact the grievant was not able to give any or satisfactory explanation how the leather upper found its way into the waste material. There is also a very important point, and that is the opportunity which the respondents afforded the grievant to apologize in writing and the manner treated as closed. Instead of apologizing, after being supplied with a paper and a pen to do so, the grievant deserted his work on 14th until 17th November, 1987, when he showed up at the factory with a letter from the claimants' branch secretary. The respondents viewed the grievant's refusal to apologize and deserting his place of work as inconsistent with the standard conduct expected from a person engaged in such an occupation, thus constituted a reputation of the terms and conditions upon which he was employed.

The court notes that the grievant showed by his conduct that he could no longer command the respondents' confidence. He was accorded an opportunity to apologize, but he refused to do so; and, for this reason and considering his short spell of employment with the respondents, he was accordingly dismissed because his behaviour prevented them from being able to rely on him in the future.

In the circumstances, and on careful consideration of the parties' submissions and the evidence tendered on behalf of the respondents, the court is satisfied that the grievant was not victimized as alleged by the claimants. He has nobody to blame for his misconduct but himself; and in the premises, the court upholds the Ministry of Labour's findings and recommendation and finds that the grievant's immediate dismissal was justifiable.

Accordingly, the claimants' demands for the grievant's reinstatement or payment of terminal benefits to him are, therefore, rejected.

Dated the 23rd October, 1990.

Judge.

GAZETTE NOTICE No. 5173

THE TRADE MARKS ACT

(Cap. 506)

NOTICE is given that any person who has grounds of opposition to the registration of any of the trade marks advertised herein according to the classes may, within sixty (60) days from the date of this Gazette, lodge notice of opposition on form TM. No. 6 (in duplicate) together with a fee of KSh. 120.

Notice is also given that official objection will be taken under rule 21 (3) to all applications in which the specification claims all the goods included in any class unless the registrar is satisfied that the claim is justified by the use of the mark which the applicant has made, or intends to make if and when it is registered. Where an applicant considers that a claim in respect of all the goods included in a class can be justified it will save unnecessary delay in examining applications if a claim is filed simultaneously with the application, accompanied in appropriate cases by supporting documents.

The period for lodging notice of opposition may be extended by the registrar as he thinks fit and upon such terms as he may direct. Any request for such extension should be made to the registrar so as to reach him before the expiry of the period allowed.

Formal opposition should not be lodged until after reasonable notice has been given by letter to the applicant for registration so as to afford him any opportunity of withdrawing his application before the expense of preparing the notice of opposition is incurred. Failure to give such notice will be taken into account in considering any application by an opponent for an order for costs if the opposition is uncontested by the applicant.

Where it is stated in the advertisement of the applicant that the mark, upon its registration, is to be limited to certain colours, the colours are, as far as possible, indicated in the accompanying representations of the mark in the usual heraldic manner.

Representations of the marks advertised herein can be seen at the Trade Marks Registry, State Law Office, Nairobi.

Applications for registration in part A of the register are shown with the official number unaccompanied by any letter. Applications for part B are distinguished by the letter B prefixed to the official number.
